A Typical South African Store.

O. R. Larson of Ray Villa, Sundays River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa, at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle to an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railway station and about twenty-five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within radius of thirty miles, to many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's remedies. All testify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is perhaps sixty. Of these, within the past twelve months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by A. R. Kane, druggist.

HORSE SENSE.

Here are a few quotations worth reading:

If a horse could speak, he would say:

Don't hitch me to an iron post or railing when the mercury is below freezing. I need the skin on my tongue.

Don't leave me hitched in my stall at night with a big cob right where I must lie down. I am tired and can't select a smooth place.

Don't compel me to eat more salt than I want by mixing it with oats. I know better than any other animal how much I need.

Don't think because I go free under the whip I don't get tired. You too, would move up if under the whip.

Don't whip me if I get frightened along the road, or I will expect it next time, and may be make trouble.

Don't trot me up hill, for I have to carry you, the buggy, and myself, too. Try it yourself some time. Run up a hill some time with a big load.

Don't say "whoa" unless you mean it.

Don't make me drink ice cold water, nor put a frosty bit in my mouth.

Stricken With Paralysis.

Henderson Grimett, of this place, was stricken with partial paralysis and completely lost the use of one arm and side. After being treated by an eminent physician for quite a while without relief, my wife recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and after using two bottles of it he is almost entirely cured.—Geo. R. McDonald, Man, Logan county, W. Va. Several other very remarkable cures of partial paralysis have been effected by the use of this liniment. It is most widely known, however, as a cure for rheumatism, sprains and bruises. Sold by A. R. Kane.

The NEWS office rather knocks them all out on sale bills, horse bills and fine job printing. We would like to have the farmers compare our sale bills with those printed at other offices. We not only have the type and material, but we get in the artistic touches cross roads printers do not possess. There are lots of better printers than we in the printing business and some of them may be George Washington's, but the farmer who wants a sale bill or jack diploma does not care for patriotism, morality or the sunbeam sort of christianity. He wants good, wholesome artistic work in clear type, white paper good ink and skillfully displayed. And that's the sort of work we do at the NEWS office.

I am satisfied that Teethina (Teething Powders) have saved more children than all the doctors put together. I have recommended Teethina when the doctors gave up the child, and it cured at once.

The excitement incident to traveling and change of food and water often brings on diarrhoea, and for this reason no one should leave home without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by A. R. Kane.

GET THE BEST.

When you pay out your good money you of course want the best of what you are purchasing. When you want an auctioneer to sell your goods you should secure the services of the best, because the success of a sale depends altogether on the salesman.

Wm. T. Hartley, the boss auctioneer, officiated at nearly 100 sales last season and everyone of them was a grand success.

Mr. Hartley has had experience; he has the confidence of the buying and selling public and that is the reason he leads in his line of business.

Now, remember, if you are going to have a sale, see Wm. T. Hartley, leave all the details in his charge and your sale will be successful.

ALL KANSAS SHOULD HELP.

The Kansas Immigration Bureau desires the help and co-operation of the people of Kansas in inducing their friends in other states to secure homes and investments here. Every citizen can assist in this good work and help in the upbuilding of Kansas by writing to friends in other states, requesting them to correspond with the Kansas Immigration Bureau, Topeka, Kansas, for information about the state's wonderful resources and unequalled advantages in all lines of agriculture, horticulture and stock raising. The Kansas Immigration Bureau will be glad to furnish this information to all who are seeking new homes or investments. Have your friends in other states correspond with the Kansas Immigration Bureau and assist in the good work of spreading the wonderful story of Kansas throughout the United States.

It is reported here that Representative A. M. Jackson, of the Third Kansas district, has selected Mr. Burk, editor of the Galena Times, as his private secretary. If the rumor is true, Representative Jackson is doing the wise thing by appointing a newspaper man as his confidential assistant for many reasons. It is becoming a very popular thing for congressmen to appoint newspaper men as their secretaries, who can practically look after the "news bureau" end of the work and see that their congressional doings are well published among the constituency.—Washington correspondence in the Topeka State Journal.

Speaking of the advantages of some towns along the Frisco System, the Joplin Globe of Wednesday has the following to say: "The Frisco is also showing Galena and Baxter many favors. These two towns are really getting more by the introduction of the new time card than any cities on the line. Not only will they receive the benefit of the new train to the southwest, but two trains which formerly went by way of Carl Junction to Columbus and on to Wichita will now pass through Galena and Baxter. By this change the road will get the advantage of two good towns which will contribute greatly to the business of the road. The distance from Joplin to Columbus by way of Carl Junction and by the way of Baxter is about the same."

The Reading Record says that an old man driving a team to a covered wagon stopped at Cowden's barn last Friday to feed his team. He was a rusty looking old codger and from the looks on his physiognomy one could tell he was soured on something. A few questions drew him out and the sour spot was found. He said that years ago when Kansas was broke up on account of grasshoppers he was a well-to-do farmer in an Eastern state and contributed grain and fruit to aid them, and now he was in dire circumstances and traveling through this same country, and the same farmers that he sent grain to, would not even let him water his team or let him eat at their table. The old man (possibly 75 years old and alone) seemed to be deeply touched to think that the Kansas farmers were not as generous as he. Possibly the very same farmer that refused this old man water and a meal, owes his success to this man. This is something to think about.

The husband deserves just as good meals as the wife knows how to cook. The wife deserves everything the husband can give her to make her cooking easy.

"I had long suffered from indigestion," writes G. A. LeDeif, Cedar City, Mo. "Like others I tried many preparations but never found anything that did me good until I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Old People Have Their Troubles.
Mr. Francis Little of Benton Harbor, Mich., is over eighty years of age. Since 1865 he has been troubled more or less with indigestion and constipation and has tried almost everything in use for those ailments. Last August he began using Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and was soon feeling much better. In a recent letter he says, "I have used three boxes of the Tablets and now think I am well." These tablets improve the appetite and invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. For sale by A. R. Kane, druggist.
