Rye Bread at Etter's Bakery.

T. J. Morrow was laid up the fore part of the week with throat trouble.

Farmers call at postoffice book store for your rural free delivery mail boxes.

Dad Adams is going to Kansas City to visit his nephew, Tod Sloan, the famous jockey.

A good road to the mines is a necessity. Put up liberally when the soliciting committee calls on you.

The electric road company is soon going to ask for a franchise in Galena. After that is secured the road will be built.

FOR SALE—Good Kimball piano—first class condition—Cheap for cash. Apply to T. C. Moore, at The Baxter State Bank.

Burt Lyon, Dr. Wherritt, J. Frank Walker, P. Chrisman and others, from the Joplin Country Club, were here Sunday looking for a site for their club house.

Geo. Stewart came up from Cleveland, Oklahoma, Friday evening to visit relatives. From here he went to Southwestern Colorado, where his father has bought a ranch.

Owners of vacant property in Baxter Springs were certainly born when the sign was in the hog, judging from the greedy prices they ask for some of their vacant lots.

Say, Mr. owner of Vacant Property: It will pay you in the long run to sell some of your property very cheap—or give it away—if the party taking it will agree to improve it by building on it.

E. W. Dow is getting ready to build his telephone line from this city to Quapaw, via the Sunny Side, Dark Horse, Old Abe and Mission mines. It will reach every important locality in the district by the time it is completed.

Clayte Puterbaugh went over to Joplin Sunday to see his friend, Abe Henderson, who is laid up with rheumatism. Mr. Henderson is at St. Louis hospital in Joplin and is getting better. For a few days he was in a very bad fix.

Miss Nellie Register was married at her home near New Almelo, Kansas, to Mr. Frank Scott. Miss Register is a niece of Mrs. L. O. Gray, and made quite a lengthy visit with her aunt here last summer, during which time she made many warm friends.

The successful miner who has a big lease on mining land usually gives away a part of it on the same terms he gets it at in order to get the land developed. Owners of vacant property in Baxter Springs should take a hint, and not try to get rich in a moment.

We are in receipt of an invitation to attend the commencement exercises of the St. Louis College of Pharmacy. The invitation was sent us by Claude C. Bacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bacon, former residents of this city. Claude is a member of the graduating class.

Miss Alice Wallace, daughter of Geo. Wallace of this city, has returned from Big Horn, Wyoming, where she has been teaching school. About 18 months ago Miss Wallace was badly hurt by being trampled upon by a tame elk, and it is feared she is crippled permanently.

We know some people are going to get warm under the collar—choleric in fact—because we take a stand against an advance in prices on vacant property at this time, but we have taken the stand—and we'll fight it out along that line. Owners of vacant property in this city are simply hoggish. There is no milder word that will fit the case.

Fifteen hundred dollars will be needed to make a good wagon road down through the mining district. Now, are the heavy property owners and wealthy men of Baxter Springs going to donate liberally, or will the money come from the "small fry," as is usually the case? The road must be made, and if the "big fellows" won't donate liberally, let the "little" fellows go ahead and build the road anyhow. Don't let the "big fellows" stand in the way.

WALLPAPER!

Our new stock of 1905 patterns is in and ready for your inspection. It is the largest in the county and we discount the prices of all competitors.

Frank Hemstreet returned Tuesday evening from Hot Springs. He reports Jim Chew as improving in health.

The surest way to kill off the growth of a town is for the owners of vacant property to ask almost prohibitive prices for it.

My Easter Hat sale nearly cleaned up my stock, but I have new goods in, now, including the prettiest hats ever shown here. MRS. IDA SMITH.

L. M. Perkins returned Tuesday evening from a visit to his son, Ira, at Sapulpa. He will leave tomorrow for a business trip to New York.

W. B. Townsend, the humorous lecturer of the Modern Woodmen of America, will be at the opera house Wednesday evening, May 3. Admission free. Go hear him, and laugh.

There are not less than 1000 dogs in Baxter Springs. But Marshal Jarrett is collecting dog tax these days, and the city treasury is going to contain more money or there is going to be fewer dogs.
