COMING BACK TWICE

Kid Gleason Isn't Big, and He Was No Great Shakes as a Big League Pitcher, but He Has Reached the Top Rung on the Baseball Ladder.

HAMILTON TELLS HOW THE "KID" DID IT

(Herewith is presented the first of a series of 12 installments of "Coming Back Twice," the life story of the new manager of the Chicago White Sox. The others will appear from day to day in the Bulletin.)

Probably the title is wrong, for as a real matter of fact, Kid Gleason came back three times and each time made a success of the job. But his two comebacks, first as a ball player and then as a manager, are the ones that form the diamond setting to his rough life and are the ones with which the public is mostly concerned.

Clarence Rowland as manager of the White Sox. He isn't a big man, this Kid Gleason. He is only an average sized human being, but wrapped up in his average sized body are steel springs.

He confessed to the writer a short time ago that he didn't have one of himself and that he didn't remember when a decent one had been made. "Somehow I just never had it done," he said. "You know how those things are."

KILLED IN TRENCHES OF MONTANA OCTOPUS

William E. Knuth Succumbs to Injuries Received. Was Well Known in Montana as Expert Gem Cutter.

William Edward Knuth, 48, died at a local hospital yesterday afternoon of injuries received shortly before noon at the Badger State mine. He had been employed as a pinner at the mine for the past seven years, and yesterday, when a leak was reported in the water column of the shaft, he started to repair it.

Mr. Knuth was well known in this city, as well as in Helena, where he formerly resided. He was an expert cutter of sapphires, rubies and garnets, and when the sapphire boom was on several years ago he had his own lapidary establishment. He was interested in several sapphire beds near Phillipsburg.

Looks Like Britt.

Minneapolis, Feb. 5.—Frankie Britt of New Bedford, Mass., out-boxed and outfought Matt Brock of Cleveland in a 15-round bout here tonight. The referee awarded the fight to Britt on a foul in the ninth round, but after considerable argument the fight was allowed to proceed at Britt's request.

The contest was decidedly unsatisfactory. There was little fighting for the first seven rounds and much clinching. In the ninth round, after Brock seemingly had struck Britt low, the fighters were ordered to their corners and policemen entered the ring. The announcer, at the request of the referee, declared Britt was on a foul, and as the crowd began leaving the arena it was announced that the contest would be continued.

Reno Being Groomed?

Carson City, Nev., Feb. 5.—An amendment to the Nevada boxing law which would allow 25-round contests was introduced in the assembly of the Nevada legislature yesterday. This is the first step on the part of the state to bring the Willard-Dempsey fight to Reno. It is thought by members of the legislature and others interested that the bill will pass with a high license clause for all contests. Under the present boxing law 10 rounds is the limit.

MORRISON WOULD "USE" THE RETURNED SOLDIERS

Washington, Feb. 5.—Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, told the house rules committee that if unemployment continues to increase it may be necessary to use returning soldiers from France to preserve order. POOR EXCUSE IS BETTER THAN NONE

Paris, Feb. 5.—The American Federation of Labor delegation, headed by Samuel Gompers, stated yesterday they had refused to attend the international labor conference at Berne because the delegation had been instructed by several of the American labor organizations to present their demands to the peace conference, which already has in view international legislation projects and is not likely to be influenced by the Berne convention.
