SEATTLE MAN WRITES LETTER

Encloses a Clipping and Also Asks a Few Questions Besides; Clipping Will Be Found on First Page.

The following comes from J. A. Burke of Seattle:
 Editor Bulletin:
 An enclosing a clipping from the Seattle Times, with a want ad that speaks for itself. Is it possible that the ravages of the flu have so demoralized Butte's working girls that the head of a big department store had to come all the way to Seattle to get them? Am not sure who this bird is but think it is the manager of Hennessy's, who is also a member of the chambermaids of congress. Also notice that the "Whiner" very graciously advocates the paring down of living costs, so naturally suppose they will get their own home in order first. Seattle and Baltimore are conceded to be the two highest cities in the United States, still you may ride 20 miles on the street cars here and the fare is only 5 cents. Electricity is 5 1/2 cents per kilowatt for the first 45 watts consumed, after which it is 2 1/2 cents per kilo, with a minimum charge of 50 cents per month.
 Just thought I would mention these in passing. Yours for democracy and a square deal.

MATTHEWS ASKS FOR MILK DEPOT

City Physician Urges Railway Express to Establish a Central Receiving Station in Butte.

A central receiving station for milk shipped into Butte is advocated by Dr. W. C. Matthews, city physician, in a letter sent to the headquarters of the American Railway Express yesterday.
 Dr. Matthews advocates the establishment of the express company of a refrigerator where all milk shipped into Butte will be unloaded. He hopes to have, at a later date, a bacteriologist who will test all milk received here before it is distributed to dealers.
 In this way Dr. Matthews expects to establish control of one of the greatest sources of disease among children in the community. Butte, distant from dairy localities, obtains most of its milk supply through express transportation. Dr. Matthews believes the establishing of such a station would prevent the theft of milk and milk cans, which has bothered local dealers recently.

SPORT NEWS HERE and THERE

WILL DEMPSEY WHIP THE "BIG CHEESE?"

The question amongst the fight fans today is will Jack Dempsey whip the "big cheese" Jess Willard? We will not be at all surprised if he should. He has two big factors in his favor, namely youth and ambition. And he is in the pink of condition. That he will give Jess Willard a lot of bother has been the first and general estimate of Jack Dempsey's ability in the fist game. He is a strong, young fellow, well put together, and has a strong pair of legs, good arms and a body of exceptional symmetry. And with all these we are not afraid in the least for the outcome. What the sporting public wants when a challenger throws down the gauntlet is a prompt and active movement by our champion to meet the pretender, and this the "big cheese" has at all times failed to do. It would afford us great pleasure to see his downfall at the hands of any one.

SPORT GOSSIP.

The Pacific Coast league permits teams to train one month before the season opens. The opening date is April 8 and most of the clubs will start the preliminary work March 10, which falls on Monday.

Tacoma baseball fans have not given up their hopes of getting a franchise in the Pacific Coast league, and now are reported as having made an offer for the Sacramento franchise that they think will be considered.

By the way, what has become of those Coast League writers who predicted that President Al Baum would be ousted from office? Baum is on the job merrily as ever. Some of his critics were said to be prompted in their campaign against him because he called them hard for not doing their work as official scorers, for which they were paid.

Carl Walters, who played first base for Spokane in the P. C. L. league last season, has been signed for a trial by the Portland Pacific Coast League club. Walters is a product of the Spokane semi-pro field. When baseball suspended last summer he went into a shipyard, where he made a great record as a ball player.

Among erring players restored to good standing by the national commission last week were Outfielder Oscar Pelsch and Catcher Byrd Lynn of the Chicago White Sox and Pitcher Luane Heams of the Boston Braves. In each case the player's application had the endorsement of his club. The war is over.

Manager George Stallings of the Boston Braves has decided to give Pitcher Hugh McQuillan a full trial this spring and with that idea in mind has arranged with the Worcester club that he may retain the pitcher until the 15th day of May. If he is kept after that an agreed price will be paid for his release.

Both Chicago clubs heard favorably from their first basemen last week. Fred Merkle notified the management of the Cubs that he had decided not to retire just yet, and Chick Gandil informed the management of the White Sox that while California looks good to him he prefers to play under Kid Gleason.

Walter Holke, now employed by the Bethlehem Steel company, paid a visit to New York last week to see John McGraw, but the manager of the Giants was not in. Holke wants a decision in his case made early, as the steel corporation asks to know if he is to be a permanent employee or return to professional baseball.

YOUNG FOLKS AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Adele Cullen entertained a number of her friends at a party at her home, Friday, the occasion being her tenth birthday. Games and music furnished the pleasure of the afternoon.

At 6 o'clock a lovely luncheon was served, the table being decorated beautifully in st. Patrick's colors. The following were present: Fernanda Sylvian, Orrin Shoemaker, Patricia Henderson, Beth McArthur, Margaret Walsh, Regina Harrington, Lulu Higgins, Alice Franklin, Kathryn Kahoe, Elizabeth O'Donnell, Shirley Herzig, Adele Cullen, and Eugene Cullen.

ROBBING PETER TO PAY PAUL

City Finds Man Who Will Loan Money to Cash Warrants; Bankruptcy Temporarily Averted.

Butte city warrants will be cashed today at the city hall. H. E. Ervin, treasurer of the Falconer-Shay Salvage company, stated last night upon his arrival in the city from California. Mr. Ervin is on his way to Harlowton, where he is building a business block and theater to cost $100,000.

"I am prepared to take the city's paper from all employees holding it at par value and continue to do so for an indefinite period," Mr. Ervin said. "I am ready to add the Falconer-Shay Salvage company by cashing the warrants of its employees, and I consider the city paper of other departments a safe investment."

Mayor Maloney, several members of the city council, as well as policemen and six members of the engineering department are holding two months or more salary warrants, and a number of these officials said last night that they would take advantage of the offer of Mr. Ervin today.

Other city officials, except firemen, whose warrants were cashed by local institutions last month, have depended largely on brokers, who have discounted city paper at an alarming rate.

"Our financial troubles appear to be at an end," said Mayor Maloney, discussing the situation.

HENNINGSEN FIRM IN BAD

Notorious Butte Outfit Is Charged in Idaho With Being a Combination in Restrain of Trade.

Daise, Ida, March 1.—The Henningesen Produce company of Butte, A. P. and W. P. Henningesen, officers and directors, are held for trial in the creamery combine case before the federal district court, and the indictments against the other co-defendants, the Hazelwood Creamery company, the Schallinger Produce company, the Klock Produce company, as companies, and R. A. Goudhue and Carl Schallinger as managers, are dismissed.

This was the order of Judge Frank S. Dietrich today, following extended argument on a motion to dismiss, which has been on trial for several days.

Unfair competition and formation of a combine in restraint of trade are charges in the complaint.

G. O. P. WANT A CANDIDATE

For President in 1920; Are to Meet in a Few Days; Borah and Johnson Being Favorably Considered.

(Special United Press Wire.) Washington, March 1.—Progressive republicans will meet within a few days to consider whom they will back for the presidency in 1920, Senator Kenyon today announced.

House and senate progressives will attend the meeting besides a few leading progressives not in congress. The time and place has not been definitely decided. The gathering, however, probably will be soon after adjournment of congress and likely will be held either in Chicago or Washington, Senator Kenyon said.

In addition to discussing what man they will get behind for the 1920 campaign, progressives will formulate a legislative program upon which they will seek action upon at the coming congress.

Political gossip has named Senators Borah and Johnson as possibilities for the regular republican nomination in 1920. Both progressives and leaders of the little group in the senate are holding the balance of power in organizing that body for the next session.

Third party talk is not encouraged by the progressives and some of the most influential frankly discourage it.

PIPE FITTERS SEEK MEETING PLACE
 We are informed that the Pipe Fitters Union No. 710 are about to rent the old court room of Justice Dorin. They state that it will also be the meeting place of some other well known unions. This should prove a nice meeting place, especially for the smaller unions. There is a large room they intend to use for meetings, then there are three small rooms to be used as an office for the different business agents.

No man can work with any degree of surety in employment and sense the fact that there is a job seeker outside the gate whose family is threatened by poverty because of his enforced idleness. He knows that the man outside is forced to underbid him for his job. Both men must have the opportunity of earning wages or both are subjects of charity. It can't be otherwise. The man on the job is no more independent than the man who is watching for the chance to take it at less wages because of enforced idleness.—Motorman and Conductor.

YANKEE MOVIE MAN HALTED BATTLES

By FRANK J. TAYLOR.
 (United Press Staff Correspondent.) Berlin, Feb. 3.—(By Mail.)—Battles between Spartacus rioters and government troops in the principal streets of Berlin had to stop several times to enable an American movie man to set up his camera.

The movie man was a chap in uniform who had been taking reels of the battle front in northern France. He followed the Yankees into Coblenz, and then set out for Berlin to complete his series of pictures there. He arrived just in time for the January fighting.

Eyewitnesses tell with amazement how this movie man took his reels of revolutionizing in Berlin. Perhaps his most daring feat was to get the details of the machine gun engagement in Wilhelmstrasse from both angles.

The movie man started out cranking it off from the Brandenburger Gate side of the street, near Unter den Linden. It was a pitched battle and machine gun bullets were raining horizontally and both ways. From his position on the second story of a hotel the Yankee got the government end of the action extremely well.

Then he decided to take the other side. Shouldering his camera he walked out into the street between the two forces. Noticing his American uniform, both sides stopped firing, while the American leisurely crossed the street and set up his camera. When he got behind it, the shooting began again.

Another time he was cranking his camera from a second story window overlooking a lively engagement, when the Spartacans noticed him. They thought he was operating a machine gun, and a rain of bullets whizzed around him. He finished his picture and moved the camera out.

The Yankee movie man has a charmed life, according to people who saw him.

THIS STATUE IS APPROVED BY THE UNITED STATES

(By United Press.) With the Third Army of Occupation, Feb. 4.—(By Mail.)—In a public square near the confluence of the Moselle and the Rhine in Coblenz stands a monument erected by Napoleon while on the march toward Russia. After Napoleon's disastrous retreat the Russians entered Coblenz. Instead of razing the monument and the Russian general added with exquisite irony, the inscription in French, "Seen and approved by me, Jan. 1814." When the American doughboys entered Coblenz, a field kitchen outfit was parked around the base of the monument. With keen appreciation of the situation, some doughboy went the Russian general one better and added in chalk, "O. K. 13th U. S. Infantry."

LEO BENS HURT IN AUTO SMASH

One Rib Broken and Spine Injured When Two Machines Come Together on Wyoming Street.

Leo Bens was badly hurt in an auto smash last night while on his way home from arranging for his brother's funeral. He was traveling west on Mercury street, when a heavy machine traveling at a high rate of speed down South Wyoming, struck the car which he was driving and made a wreck of it. The other machine then made its getaway. Bens sustained a broken rib on the left side and also an injury to his spine. He was rushed to the emergency hospital and treated by Dr. Maillet. He was later taken to his home and is reported resting easy this morning.

Witnesses to the affair state that the man who drove the car that did the damage has the Buick auto agency in this city.
