CUBA'S GENERAL STRIKE SPREADS Havana Street Cars Stop; Cooks Out; "American Invasion" Proving a Sore Spot in Labor's Ranks.

Havana, March 6.—The general strike in Havana gained momentum yesterday and spread rapidly to interior cities. There is no indication of a settlement of the trouble, but it is believed that President Menocal so soon as he reaches the capital will endeavor to act as arbitrator in an effort to bring the tie-up to a quick finish. Today in Havana an occasional street car was in operation. Otherwise traffic of every description remained paralyzed. The cooks in several of the large hotels and restaurants struck this afternoon and patrons found great difficulty in obtaining their evening meals. Detectives reported a leaflet was being distributed among the strikers in which the Cuban Veterans of Independence are accused of having remained silent and impassive before the "invasion of the national territory by American soldiers," and inciting the workers to "punish the guilty ones" and to seize and distribute the merchandise on docks and in warehouses and to fraternize with Cuban soldiers, their brothers, who "also are victims of tyranny."

H. S. SEMESTER ENDS; PUPILS REPORT TODAY

Promotions Delayed by Flu; Girls' Exhibit; Pins Selected.

Students of the Butte high school concluded their studies for this semester with the final examinations yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Promotions have been delayed this year by the flu epidemic, which prevailed in this city. Nevertheless, the students have worked hard, studied diligently, and attended school every other Saturday, so in a measure have partly made up for lost time. Students have been directed to report at the school tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock to receive report cards and to ascertain the grades credited them for their work. A gymnasium exhibit is being given by the girls at the high school gymnasium this afternoon, at which a large attendance of parents and friends is expected. Junior class pins and rings have been selected by this class, and will be ordered immediately. Those on the class pin committee are: H. Reynolds, chairman; Robinson Booth, Alice Davonport, Mable Winchester and Ellis Spurner.

W. F. DUNN HAS

(Continued From Page One.) power away from the mayor at a recent meeting when a real investigation might have been staged. You know Nepper and Cutts headed an anti-strike committee and have already returned their franchises, but it is a national problem and not a Butte problem. "F. W. Bacon is a new recruit in the cleansing and reforming work, but an old-time and well-known member of the bar, now engaged in mining, a man of family, a man who secures large sums of money from eastern capitalists to invest in Montana projects, a home owner and a splendid citizen from every angle you might judge him, Mr. Bacon made a clean-cut address, calling attention to many serious conditions that have confronted this city, morally and financially, since Lewis J. Duncan went out of office, not only under the present administration, but also the carry-over burdens from the Charles Lane administration. His paper was entirely ignored by the central committee present. No remarks were made with reference to same, no action taken on his suggestions. "Charles Juttner, also on the platform, was then called on for a speech. The chairman stated that Mr. Juttner would tell the people assembled, especially the ladies, and there were a few present, about municipal statistics, whatever they are. Mr. Juttner never approached his subject within 200 miles. He made a fourth of July speech and then launched into a tirade against the farmers who were organizing for relief from the political and financial autocrats that have bound them down. "He told about the rising farmer movement over in eastern Montana. Of course, this speech had nothing to do with municipal politics, and that is exactly what he was supposed to do, to throw as many as possible off the track, although many foolish people present thought he had forgotten his subject. He did get near home once by stating that something must be done to beat 'Dunn.' He drew our attention to the fact, and I will quote him as nearly as possible: "Ladies and gentlemen, remember that the bolshevik idea is not confined to the working class, for I am here to tell you that Dunn carried the best west side home precincts in the last election. "He said it was a vote of protest against existing conditions and must be guarded against. So the way it is to be guarded against is this way: "The meeting was then thrown open to an expression of views from persons present. Several well-known and honorable gentlemen rose to their feet, but the chairman saw fit to recognize Mr. C. W. Nepper, ignoring really representative men looking toward a better city government, whether it be of one party or the other, whether a democratic form or an autocratic form. Just so it bordered on decency. "Nepper said we were assembled there to nominate a man for mayor and that he wished to present the name of a gentleman that he had agreed upon and he wanted it distinctly understood that no other nominations should be made for this office. "J. M. Hinkle took the matter out of the hands of Nepper, as he was getting badly mixed up, and things were then arranged satisfactorily to those most concerned, much to the astonishment of all present. The mayor, Mr. Tom Stodden, then arose, and I call him mayor, as he said when he sat in the mayor's chair (there did not seem to be any doubt in his mind about it) he would not be able to give the city a good, business-like administration, as this was not in his line, but he would hire a business man to do the work for him. "Of course, we are always talking about cutting down expenses—but we don't mean it. We can just as well have two mayors as not. Some sniffling was heard and a man over next to Nepper arose and said it was absolutely unnecessary to have a business man as mayor, that the city had gotten along for years without a business administration and it could continue to do so with Tom Stodden in the chair. Mr. Nepper then walked around through the few assembled and said a word here and there. Malcolm Gillis smiled upon him, and every person that Nepper approached made some speech about electing American citizens for the office of mayor. "Nepper forgot to mention, and also did Juttner, that Dunn is the real, sin-pure American running for office as mayor. He was born in this country, has two brothers in the army in France, believes in free speech and a few other American methods of running affairs for the common people. "Mr. Dunn is running on the

HOW ABOUT A LOCAL MARKET

Asks Freudenstein. Popular Alderman Brings Up Subject Parasites Wish Kept Where It Is.

Alderman Lou Freudenstein last night at the meeting of the city council, brought up the question of having taken up locally the bonds voted at a city election two years or so ago in regard to a city market. Despite efforts of the past, the only thing accomplished was the securing of the vote of the people favoring a public market to cost about $15,000 to be built with a bond issue. Last night Alderman Freudenstein reviewed the corpse to the extent of having a committee of three appointed by Mayor W. H. Maloney to take up the city market proposition with the labor organizations of the city, with other bodies and with individuals. Mayor Maloney named on the committee Aldermen Hagen, McKeon and Selfridge. A petition was presented to the council in regard to the extension of the paving on Excelsior avenue, from Granite street to 120 feet north of Caledonia street, and the date for filing of protests set for March 31. The aldermen also went into the question of the much discussed encroachment on South Arizona street. The question was entered into briefly. The question of Public Works Ellis stated that nothing could be done in the matter for a month. Asked if notice had been served on property owners, he said, "Yes, about 50 times." He felt, however, that better weather conditions should be taken into consideration if the city wanted to do away with the alleged encroachments in that district. If the encroachments are forcibly removed by the city now, he said, there would be left nothing but a mud puddle. There were dug up from the echoes of committee meetings large numbers of technical points pertaining to the standing of the Falconer & Shay Salvage company, Falconer and Shay as individuals, and other matters pertaining to the present handling of the garbage and ashes of the city. However, City Attorney Toole managed to explain the details such as they are constituted to the extent that the meeting was not unduly prolonged.

democratic ticket, but I shall vote for him in the primaries and for election, for the very reason that after a few had taken a fall out of the present mayor and all previous democratic administrations, they then delivered the veiled ultimatum that they would prefer Maloney in the chair and would fuse with the democrats if necessary in order to keep Dunn out. Because why? Well, I will tell you why. Because a clean, decent city government for the people and of the people, with laws administered, would lead to a cleaner and better county government in two years, and this must be guarded against. "The skeletons in the closet of city and county administration must not be exhibited, otherwise the people would know, and knowing is a dangerous thing. "Mrs. T. A. Grigg gave Mayor Maloney a clean bill of health, completely whitewashing the previous statements. She recited a most splendid ballad to Butte, Best in the West, Where the Whistles Toot, in Dear Old Butte."

"Evidently things got too raw for the Rev. Dr. Wolfe, for when some one asked him for a few remarks—this was after all the 'central committee' work had been pulled off—he said, 'You would not like to hear from me; I might say things you would not like,' and ended by paying his respects to Mayor Maloney. "I took the dust off today and circulated around and got an expression from those present, both men and women, omitting the 'central committee,' and in not one instance did they register anything but disgust and content for the entire proceeding, just when the republican party had an opportunity of securing votes of the best people in the community and of putting a man in the chair of pure ability and integrity in these trying times and with the city so financially embarrassed from previous administrations."

BACHELOR CAFE OPENS ITS DOORS

Charles F. Craft, for the past three years manager of the Butte grill, announces that the new cafe he is to open at 8 East Broadway will be completed and opened for business tomorrow morning, not today as was formerly announced. The delay is owing to the late arrival of equipment. This place will be known as the Little Bachelor cafe, and Mr. Craft has selected as his motto, "Quality, Speed and Cleanliness." Mr. Craft plans on running his place on a short-order plan, but will also carry a full line of goods that will enable him to prepare any order his patrons may desire. Another feature of the cafe will be hot waffles. The owner will himself make these, and guarantees their quality to be above reproach.

FIRE ON SOUTH MONTANA STREET

Fire of mysterious origin broke out in the basement of a home at 14 South Montana street last night and before extinguished did damage estimated at $400. The building is owned by Joseph Cary. The first floor of the house was unoccupied, and two men roomed on the second floor. One of the latter was a coal stove, but the fire started in the basement and could not be traced to this source.

BABICH ON STAND IN UZELIC TRIAL

Complaining Witness Gives Jury His Version of Assault Case.

Emil Babich, whose body he alleges was penetrated by two bullets from the revolver of Raide Uzelic now on trial in the court of Judge Jeremiah J. Lynch for first degree assault, was the principal witness for the state after the selection of a jury, which work was completed yesterday at noon. The assault with which Uzelic is charged, it is alleged took place in the East Butte saloon at Meaderville on Nov. 8, 1918, and was the outgrowth of words between the complaining witness and the defendant. Babich declared on the stand that on his return from work on the day on which the alleged shooting occurred Uzelic insisted on taking hold of him, roughly. He shook him off and bought a drink at the bar, after which, he stated, Uzelic called him a "greenhorn," whereupon he "slapped him in the face." Uzelic then left the room, said the witness, and returned with a revolver with which he began shooting his first shot missing, by the second taking effect in his arm and passing through the fleshy part of his body. Babich tried to escape behind the bar, he testified, but Uzelic followed him, while he lay upon his face upon the floor as though he had been killed, he said and shot him a second time. The witness stated he spent several days in the hospital and for some time after was incapacitated for work. Dr. H. D. Kietler of Murray hospital explained to the jury the nature of Babich's wounds, consisting of a shot through the arm and another through the back. Steven Melibich, who was in the saloon when the shooting took place, described the scene in much the same way as Babich.

SHERIFF'S RAID GETS 4 GAMBLERS

Louis Knutson, said to be the proprietor of a soft drink place at the northeast corner of Main and Mercury streets, and three other men giving the names of John Kane, Swan Swanson and Carl W. RAY COLBERT FACES CHARGE OF MURDER

Is Placed Under $10,000 Bonds and His Trial Is Set for March 18.

On evidence which developed during the trial of James Colbert, convicted of murder in the second degree for the killing of Patrick Foley on the afternoon of Dec. 5 last, his brother, Ray Colbert, who was in his company at the time of the shooting, yesterday was arrested, charged with murder on a warrant issued at the instance of County Attorney Joseph R. Jackson. It was shown by the evidence of James Colbert as a witness in his own behalf at the trial which concluded Tuesday night, as well as by that of Ray Colbert, himself, appearing in his brother's defense, that he was with the former on a visit on the day of the murder to the rooms of Patrick Foley, who later was shot to death. James at the time representing himself to be an officer of the United States secret service, and that the two were together when the shooting took place on the corner of Park street and Thornton avenue. Both testified that after the tragedy, the murderer handed the revolver to Ray Colbert, who disposed of the weapon. When arraigned before Judge Jeremiah J. Lynch yesterday Ray Colbert pleaded not guilty and was placed under bonds of $10,000. His case was set for trial March 18. Freedom and democracy on paper are like the shells of an empty egg.
