

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS

Father has a meaning all his own

LOAN ME $1,000.00
Suppose an entire stranger said that to you. His offering you a high rate of interest wouldn't change your determination to play safe with that $1,000.
Yet what happens when questionable stock or bonds or other paper is offered? The glittering promises of big dividends, the marvelous opportunity to "get-rich-quick," the grand chance of a lifetime.
And that $1,000 is gone forever!
Man, man, be shrewd enough to look out for number one. Keep your hard-earned money. If you are ready to invest, we will help you place it where it will be safe.

ELECTION FRAUDS

session of the election returns from the night of election to the present time?"

"I think so. So far as I know, I left it to Vines and Crowley."
"So far as you know those returns are in the same condition now as when received by you as city clerk the night of election?"
"So far as I know they are. I left it to Vines and Crowley."
"That is all, Mr. Treacy."

Vines Had Keys.

Mr. Vines, assistant city clerk for two years, was called. He testified that he and Mr. Treacy only had keys to vaults. Crowley had none. No one could get access to vaults without permission of either Vines or Treacy. Night of election, when call from S-B announced completion of count, he sent out Jack Murray, the jitney driver, with Jimmie McCarty, the janitor man, who was standing around the office. They were gone about 20 minutes. When they got back with returns Crowley opened ballot box in the hall and took out the sacked ballots and carried them into the vault in the clerk's office.

All the election returns had ever since been in the custody of the clerk's office and except for the brief period when surrendered to the canvassing board, they had been accessible only to Mr. Vines and Mr. Treacy. This did not, of course, apply to the five ballot boxes whose contents had not been purloined by Mr. Crowley, because they were unsacked and hence difficult to carry. The ballots of these five precincts had of course found protection in the mayor's office the night of the election. The succeeding day, however, these five full cans, along with the 11 empty ones had been locked up in the basement vault.

Meyer Moves for a Count.

Attorney Meyer offers the ballots of 6-B in evidence. The move is opposed by Attorney Donovan and by Mr. Wheeler, counsel for Dunn.

It was argued for an hour. Attorney Wheeler makes a strong argument for disregarding the ballots because of the probability of their having been tampered with and hence valueless as a means of establishing the will of the people as expressed by the actual ballots cast at the election. He said the proof of fraud upon the part of the city clerk's office, in whose custody the ballots had been since election was so conclusive and indisputable in the matter of changing the tally sheets that it was absurd to expect that the criminals had not also fixed the ballots in the ballot boxes.

Attorney Meyer for Cuts, talked for half an hour in advocacy of a count. He did the best he could.

Judge Lamb ruled in favor of a count of 6-B and S-B, stating that it would do no harm to have the count, though he couldn't say whether it would have any effect upon the result of the contest. The judge was apparently curious to find out what had been done to the ballots.

The Ballot Count.

At 10 this morning in Judge Lamb's court, the count of the ballots from precinct 6-B and S-B was begun. The sack was still sealed, but it was apparent that it had been tampered with, because the string which tied it bore evidence of having been cut and retied. The count was completed before the noon recess. It returned 271 votes for Dunn and 478 for Cuts.

This afternoon at 2 the count of the ballots from S-B was commenced. It is proceeding as we go to press. The count of the ballots in this precinct as well as in the case of 6-B was objected to by Donovan and by R. K. Wheeler, counsel for Dunn and M'Carthy on the aforementioned grounds that fraud in the case of the tally sheets which have been in the same custody as the tally sheets, in the same condition as when deposited.

THE SLAVE MASTER REMOVED.

Circular No. 10 of the Associated Industries of Montana, alias Employers' association, congratulates itself as follows:

"We are glad to be able to advise that house bill 74 by Bent of Carbon, limiting the employment of women in certain industries to six days in any one week, was killed in the house."

How perfectly splendid. The hours of labor for women have been continued as heretofore and the good kind officials of the A. I. of M. are "GLAD to be able to advise" the same.

Six days work for women is not enough, they might get into mischief 'ye know, if they don't work seven. This, of course, does not apply to the wives and daughters of the officials and members of the A. I. of M.—they must rest and have time for culture. And this comes from an organization advocating "Americanism."—Montana Non-Partisan.

ernments in Russia and Hungary are being considered by the "big four." The allies, it is understood, are practically convinced that the situation in those two countries demands immediate attention and that some sort of an understanding with those two governments is as urgent as peace with Germany. Food shipments to Russia and Hungary and coal exportation to the latter will probably constitute the initial move of the allies to check the westward spread of bolshevism. Good order prevails. Hungarian leaders still lay stress upon the fact that their government is "communist," as distinguished from the Russian bolshevik system.
