MUCH PROGRESS IN REID CASE

The Former Mrs. Buss Tells of Reid's Attentions to Her While She Was With First Husband.

Things moved along very fast in Judge Lynch's court yesterday in the case of Herbert George Buss, charged with extorting money from John E. Reid, the Melrose merchant, by means of threats to expose his alleged relations with the defendant's then wife at the time of the occurrences.

After Mrs. J. E. Reid, wife of the complaining witness, and Ed Tate, a rancher near Melrose, had been placed on the stand the state rested.

Attorney Joe Griffin outlined to the jury what the defense expected to prove. It was that Buss and his then wife took up a homestead near Melrose and traded at Reid's store. Reid began to show Mrs. Buss many attentions, promising her cash and bonds if she would leave her husband and come to him.

Publicity Not Wanted. The attorney claimed that Reid went with Buss and Randolph to the hotel willingly and himself asked for the use of the parlor. When they were there Reid asked Buss what he wanted.

Some Letters Written. Prior to that time Reid's only advantage had been to try to guess her. He had written her a number of letters, which her mother had destroyed.

Why He Needed a Lawyer. Lawyer—Are you aware, sir, that what you contemplate is illegal? Client—Certainly. What do you suppose I came to consult you for?—Boston Transcript.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL TO HELP GARDENERS

The Butte Women's council, composed of delegates from the 25 various women's clubs of Butte, met last Tuesday at the Women's club building.

It is proposed to work Butte into six districts and place a competent propaganda expert over each district to boost the project.

Mrs. Christie's idea, however, in applying such a nice patriotic little name to bottomless gravel, camouflaged by three inches of black dirt, was to link up in some vague way the stability of the republic with the raising of lettuce in Butte.

WONDERFUL

tained by the cessation of the present policy of non-intercourse with soviet Russia, and by the establishment of material and intellectual intercourse.

Russia is now prepared to purchase in the American market great quantities of the following commodities commensurate with the needs of 150,000,000 people: Railroad supplies, agricultural implements and machinery, factory machinery, tools, mining machinery and supplies, electrical supplies, printing machinery, textile manufactures, shoes and clothing, fats and canned meats, rubber goods, typewriters and office supplies, automobiles and trucks, chemicals, medical supplies, etc.

Russia is prepared to sell the following commodities: Flax, hemp, hides, bristles, furs, lumber, grain, platinum, metals and minerals.

The Russian government, in the event of trade being opened with the United States, is prepared to place at once in banks in Europe and America, gold to the amount of two hundred million ($200,000,000) dollars, to cover the price of initial purchases.

To insure a basis for credits for additional Russian purchases in the United States, I suggest that detailed negotiations with my government will evolve propositions fully acceptable for this purpose.

I am empowered by my government to negotiate for the speedy opening of commercial relations for the mutual benefit of Russia and America, and I shall be glad to discuss details at the earliest opportunity.

STODDEN TALKS TO ROTARIANS

Intimates That "Thinking" Portion of Labor Recognize Interest of Mining Companies.

"I want co-operation from all the constructive elements in the city, but not dictation from anyone," said Mayor-elect William T. Stodden in a talk before the Butte Rotary club at the Butte Grill yesterday.

Mr. Stodden stated that he was conscious of the fact that the laboring people compose a large part of the population of Butte, but stated that they should bear in mind the fact that the mining companies and business interests are also important factors in the welfare of the community.

Mutual satisfaction was expressed that Butte, in her Diogenes search, had at last found an honest man.

GLAD TO LEAVE

The veteran labor leader had expected to spend the night aboard the ship, which did not dock until this morning, but came back on the cutter with immigration officials when informed by two of his sons that his wife was ill and that he should see her as soon as possible.

When Mr. Gompers set foot in the darkness on the concrete of Battery pier, he asked: "Is this terra firma or a bridge?"

Mr. Gompers refused to discuss his mission abroad, but said he might make a statement soon. He said that on the way over the labor delegates had received by wireless an invitation to attend a luncheon to be given in their honor Saturday by the national civic federation.

Other members of the commission who came with Mr. Gompers were James Duncan, Frank Duff, William Green and Maj. George L. Berry.
