MAYOR LOSES BIG CHANCE FOR PEOPLE

Refuses to Use Authority and Buy Car of Spuds for Sale to People. Lets the Profiteers Buy Them.

Potatoes are selling this morning in local stores at $3.40 per hundred. Frank Madison from the Bitter Root valley has a car of potatoes on the tracks in Butte. He has paid the freight from the valley. The spuds are here. He had tried to sell them at $2 per hundred. He made the rounds of the commission houses. They would not buy, even at $3. Lutey would not buy them. The Ryan Fruit company refused to buy them. They said they already had four carloads of potatoes on hand.

The question of the city of Butte buying these potatoes at $2 per hundred, and selling them directly to the consumer on the market, was taken up with Mayor Stodden. The mayor said that he would like to buy them, but was not quite sure of his authority to do so. Mr. Madison stated his willingness to accept Butte city warrants for the potatoes. It was called to the mayor's attention that the city council some time back gave him authority to buy food for the city market in carload lots. However the mayor could not see his way clear to buy spuds in carload lots, because he thought that he was only authorized to buy government stores. The council resolution, however, really gave him authority to purchase supplies in carload lots, either from the government or from other sources.

Mayor Stodden advised the farmer from the Bitter Root to truck his carload of spuds immediately to the city market, dump them in the middle of the street, stick up a big sign, "Spuds $2 per hundred," and begin to take in the coin. The mayor felt sure that the people of Butte would buy the farmer's carload before night.

Madison didn't take the mayor's advice. He didn't have to. As soon as the dealers knew that he would put them directly before the consumers at $2 per hundred, one of the dealers bought the whole carload. These same spuds will now be sold to the people at $2—plus the dealer's profit.

WORKERS TO HAVE

try," an arsenal orders branch has been established in the ordinance department here to obtain orders from other governmental agencies. An advisory committee of employees' representatives is included in this branch, who "actively assist in figuring cost when bidding for work."

Official reports to Secretary Baker assert that the result has not only been greatly increased efficiency and contentment among the manufacturing workers, but also a reduction in manufacturing costs. Two examples cited are orders for mail locks, formerly costing $45 per thousand, but produced at Rock Island for $38, and an order for azimuth optics at price reduced from $55 each to $29.75.

It was learned tonight that the system would be extended to other departments of the Rock Island arsenal and it found successful would be placed in operation at all United States arsenals. Development of the new system of management, said, grew out of the situation immediately following the signing of the armistice when it became apparent that the operating force would be reduced for lack of work, but the necessity for a change had been foreseen even before the war. "A condition of antagonism and distrust" had grown prior to the war between the management and the workmen, according to a memorandum submitted by the employees' committee as a result of the intended reduction of so-called scientific management methods, and the men finally found their only recourse was to place a deliberate limit on production.

On the outbreak of war, however, it was said, the men voluntarily removed these limits, insisting only that piece work prices should not be reduced without their consent. Instances are cited of the men receiving working orders in places and starting lunch hours in order that an order "which had been figured very closely" might be filled.

In a letter to Secretary Baker, R. L. Cornick and James L. McCort, employees' representatives on the arsenal orders branch, summarized the result as follows: "Primarily, the employees say they no longer feel like mere employees, simply bent on holding down a job quite apart from their conception of life, for no other purpose than the securing of wages, the only ends means available to them for securing the necessities and perhaps a little of the better things of life. They are beginning to see that they are on their way toward becoming partners in a large enterprise, that is manufacturing useful things for their government.

"It is our conviction, more now than ever before, that before long the opportunity will be ripe for us to secure outside talent in the form of competent management, engineers and production experts to advise us as workers what we can do to help improve things, what the management can do, and finally what we and the management can do jointly."

London.—So as not to disqualify ex-soldiers whose war service just puts them outside the age-limit, the London county council will permit candidates for municipal employment to deduct war-service from their actual age.

PERSONAL TAXES RAISED, SAYS TREASURER

Puckett Issues Statement Explaining Change in Assessments—Expects Taxpayers' Wrath.

"Owing to the fact that the assessed valuation of taxable property has decreased $17,900.09 and the net proceeds of sales have fallen off $15,000,000, it is absolutely necessary an increase of 11 2/3-10 mills on all taxable property in Silver Bow county," said County Treasurer C. T. Puckett, in an interview this morning.

"The personal property tax for 1919 was framed under the old 1918 law, a custom that has been followed out in the treasurer's office for many years in the past, because of the statute regulating this collection.

"The part it reads as follows: 'The personal property tax is collectible and due at the treasurer's office following the assessment and distribution, and the treasurer must collect the taxes by seizure and sale of any personal property owned by the person or persons against whom the tax is assessed.'

"Under the new tax law," said Mr. Puckett, "and figured under the 1918 levy by me, there was due the county of Silver Bow $114,068.24 for 1918 personal taxes. Of this sum I have collected to date $93,438.68. The increased levy on this property will give the county $48,190.66 to be added to the original 1918 levy, and a total of $142,629.30 of personal taxes for the year 1919.

An increase of $23,912.25 over the 1918 personal, which totaled $139,817.05. If it were not for this increased levy on personal property alone, the county would figure $25,147.11 off in its collections.

"There are many property holders in Silver Bow county who have paid their taxes under the old levy who, when I send a card from my office asking them for this increase, will become very wrathful and it will probably take lots of explaining to convince them I have nothing to do with this raising of levy or abatement of same after made, but merely to make the distribution due to make sure that the county receives every dollar as prescribed by law after it has been made and to convince them that they must pay this tax or forfeit their holdings.

"In order to facilitate the work of this office, I am sending a personal letter to each and every taxpayer in the county."

MORRISSEY STAR WITNESS NOT PRESENT

Trial of Gunman Continues Until Tuesday Morning. C. L. Johnson First Witness Called Saturday.

The trial of former chief of Detectives Edward Morrissey on the charge of impersonating an officer, which trial is the result of an expose in the Bulletin of the discredited gunman's recent actions, was continued Saturday afternoon and tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. The continuance was granted on request of Morrissey's attorney who stated that the two witnesses on whom the prosecution relies to clear him had not yet reached Butte from Boston.

C. L. Johnson, the man whom Morrissey is alleged to have illegally "arrested" at the Bennett hotel on the night of Aug. 18, was the first witness called for the state. Johnson told of the entrance of Morrissey and his companions into the hotel lobby and of how Morrissey displayed a gun when Johnson demanded that he show his authority. He told of being forced to accompany him in which he was driven to the county jail and incarcerated there for 24 hours and how he was kept in jail 12 hours before being released.

Mrs. Agnes Bradley, proprietress of the Bennett hotel; Mrs. Edythe Hightower, night clerk, and B. F. Shuppen, a merchant policeman, who were present when the "arrest" was made, corroborated Johnson's testimony. Sheriff John K. O'Rourke, Chief of Police Jere Murphy, and Mayor Stodden all testified that Morrissey's action was without their authority. Night Jailer William Zeigler told how Morrissey brought Johnson to the county jail and told the jailer that the arrest had been made for "the city."

It is believed the two witnesses from Boston whom Morrissey seeks are the two men who accompanied him on the night of Aug. 18. If they are, it is probable they will be arrested upon their appearance in Butte and also charged with a crime similar to that on which Morrissey is being tried. Warrants have been issued for their arrests on charges of impersonating officers.

JAPAN IMPROVES PLAN FOR TRAINING ARMIES

(By United Press.)
Tokyo, (By Mail.)—Lieutenant-General Takaya, minister of war, is carrying out various plans for the improvement of technical branches of military services. The authorities have decided to raise the status of the military, artillery and engineering school and rename it the military technical university. This, with the military university, which is an institution for officers in active service, principally dealing with tactics, will be the highest military training establishments in the empire.

The military artillery and engineering school has so far been confined to the artillery and engineering services, but when extended, into technical university, students selected from among those serving in any branch of the army—infantry, cavalry, artillery, engineers, and commissariat—will be admitted and taught the technical side of military matters. A new system will be adopted whereby the students of science or engineering in the imperial universities who are to do service in the army in the future will be given school expenses by the military authorities.

EVERYMAN'S CLUB TO HAVE HOUSEWARMING

McNulty, who is secretary and treasurer of the Butte Carpenters' union, will speak on "Labor Questions of the Day." A moving picture show, featuring Harry Carey in "Hell Bent," will make an important part of the program, and everything is absolutely free.

BODY OF LAWYER FOUND IN CREEK

Robin Cooper, Murdered by Unknown Man. Police Believe He Is Victim of Blackmail Plot.

(Special United Press Wire.)
Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 1.—The body of Robin Cooper, who was convicted of murdering United States Senator Carmack, but who was later pardoned, was found in a Richmond creek near Nashville. He had evidently been murdered as his skull was crushed. Cooper drew $10,000 from a bank the day he started for a ride in an automobile with a stranger. The police believe he was a victim of a blackmail plot.

The automobile belonging to Cooper was found here Saturday with the front and back seats covered with blood. Cooper, who was a young attorney, was found guilty in 1908, along with his father, of murdering United States Senator Carmack, who was shot to death in Nashville.

The young attorney was last seen when he was out in a car with a stranger Thursday night. When the machine was found it had all the lights burning. Farmers living near the spot where the machine was found claim to have heard shots Thursday night.

FEDERATION WILL EXAMINE ALL FACTS

A. F. of L. Council Decides to Take No Stand on the Plumb Plan at the Present Time.

(Special United Press Wire.)
Washington, Sept. 1.—President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor has announced that the executive council decided the federation shall take no stand now regarding the Plumb plan. A sub-committee has been created to examine all facts and obtain advice from all who can contribute and later report to the executive council on the entire matter.

LOVETT DOESN'T LIKE PLAN.
New York, Sept. 1.—The Plumb plan is an effort to Russinize the American railroads and apply them to the soviet system, according to Judge Lovett, head of the Union Pacific system. In an interview with the United Press, Lovett characterized the plan as an assault upon American institutions, which would mean to railroad employees as well as citizens, fail to understand, he said the American people rather than the railroad owners, would suffer the most if the plan was attempted.

TUBERCULAR MEAT

for the past two years. But the objectionable features of the old bill were left out in the new one. As Alderman Silver put it in his talk Saturday night, "the teeth have been taken out." In other words, the provisions of the old bill which would practically have put all the butchering firms but Hansen's out of business were put away entirely, while the new vital section was added which completely strips the further sale of tubercular meat in Butte.

That this provision met with the unanimous approval of the council and the audience which crowded the clubhouse was made apparent by the applause which greeted Alderman Silver's speech, when, in reply to Dr. Gunn's suggestion that the section was in contravention of the state law, Silver arose and stated that the police power which resided in every municipality empowered the city to pass such a law for its own protection.

Dr. Gunn had stated that "much of the best meat is tubercular meat," and the audience which crowded the clubhouse was made apparent by the applause which greeted Alderman Silver's speech, when, in reply to Dr. Gunn's suggestion that the section was in contravention of the state law, Silver arose and stated that the police power which resided in every municipality empowered the city to pass such a law for its own protection.

Upon the motion of Alderman McKee, the bill was read three times and passed unanimously. In addition to preventing the sale of tubercular meats, the new ordinance will require all the butchering plants about Butte to install cement floors and to maintain a high standard of cleanliness. Thirty days are allowed for the installation of the improvements. All plants will hereafter be under the constant supervision of a city inspector.

Kill Closing of Small Stores.
The council bill, No. 746, which would have required the closing of all stores, both little and big, except during the regular business hours of regular business days, was voted down unanimously.

City Market Bill Postponed.
The council bill, introduced by Alderman Freudenreich, to provide for the appointment of a city market master and the regulation of the market, was brought up, but consideration of the measure was deferred till the next regular council meeting next Wednesday night.

Bills providing for the issuance of bonds to finance 15 new improvement districts, which have recently been formed, were passed without opposition.

Upon the motion of Alderman Wilson, it was decided that bids for the collection of ash and garbage should be advertised for. The bids are to be in by Sept. 17.
