BANDITS ROB MAIL CAR OF $75,000

(Special United Press Wire.) Quebec, Sept. 18.—Several posses are scouring the district south of Montmagny, 50 miles south of here, in an effort to find the five bandits who stole $75,000 from a mail car on the ocean liner which left Montreal last night. The train was leaving Halifax station, when five masked men ordered the clerk to hold up their hands and then bound and gagged them. They secured the bags containing the money and left the train at the next station.

HAS MET 20 PRESIDENTS

When President Wilson shook hands the other day with Mrs. H. W. Somers, wife of General Somers of Civil war fame, he was the twentieth chief executive of the United States to whom she had been introduced. Mrs. Somers made her debut at the White House on the arm of Daniel Webster when William Harrison was president. The aged lady declares that since that time she has attended many of the social functions given by presidents and that she was intimately acquainted with many of the executives. Washington has been her home for 90 years. Despite her advanced age she is very active and in the stormiest or hottest weather can be seen among her wards—the poor.

MERESSA CASE GOES TO JURY

Fred Wyman Goes to Trial Tomorrow—Charged With Lewd and Lascivious Conduct.

The case of Emille Meressa, on trial for the murder of David W. Thomas, the watchman at the Tramway mine, went to the jury late this afternoon. The trial was brought to a quick close, because the numerous witnesses which had been summoned for the defense, some of them from outside the state, were not called. The defendant, represented by Attorneys Tim Nolan and John F. Eurigh, decided to make no defense at all. The prosecution rested late yesterday afternoon. Instructions to the jury and arguments of counsel have consumed all of today. Fred Wyman, charged with lewd and lascivious conduct toward a child 11 years old, will go on trial tomorrow. Wyman, himself, is a man close to 60 years of age. He was charged in a justice court with a similar offense a year ago, but was dismissed for lack of evidence. It is said that the offense of which he is at present charged, was committed in the same building as the one a year ago—in the one instance in the basement, and in the other on the top floor.

Should Be Careful. Every spring in Venice the question arises: "Shall the bathing suits be censured?" They were discussing the matter at the Woman's club the other night and one prim member said: "Really, I do think that the present costumes are rather undecent. I know they are better for swimming and all that, but you never know who sees you under the water, with all these submersibles about."

An Ever' thing. Martha, who is about ready to finish her kindergarten, had seen the circus parade, and, at dinner, was telling her father of the wonderful sights. "An' pappi, I saw one of those grea', great big potamusins; an' a whole lot of shepherds (pappa's questions developed she meant leopards) an' white mens; an' some elephants playin' crack the whip, hol' of each other's tails; an' ever' thing in the world."

TO LET GUARDS

(Continued from Page One.) for refusing to meet with the union leaders to discuss the affairs of its employees. These reasons are along the line given the union leaders in New York several weeks ago, when Chairman Gary refused to meet a committee representing the unions. The letter added that "it is the settled determination of the United States Steel corporation and its subsidiaries that the wages and working conditions of their employes shall compare favorably with the highest standards of propriety and justice." "The men are going out and I can see nothing now that will stop them," declared Chairman Fitzpatrick of the steel men's committee, as the heads of the 24 unions went into conference this morning. The meeting today, Fitzpatrick said, was not to discuss as to whether there would be a strike, but to lay out a program and to establish strike details. When asked as to how many men would respond to the call for a strike, Secretary Foster of the committee said: "I am not making any estimates, but you can bet we will have a quorum."

INSIDE THE ENEMY'S

(Continued from Page One.) remarkable demonstration was turned into a painful incident, when a group of irreconcilables, widely scattered in the galleries at the rear continued shouting with loud voices. Their remarks could not be made out in the general din. Mayor Rolph tried for 20 minutes to get the attention of the crowd, but failed. The police could not reach the troublesome men due to the great jam. Finally the "buck was passed" to President Wilson, who was introduced. Mr. Wilson did not try to speak for a considerable period. He then started against the handicap the din keeping his voice from reaching the third row in the crowd. He gradually overcame the handicap and before his speech was half done he had the close attention of the vast throng. The president made public the questions of the San Francisco Association for the League of Nations and his answers thereto. He denied that under the league foreign countries can order American troops to foreign countries and said the league would have a powerful effect in causing the final restoration of Shantung to China. He said there was nothing in the covenant to compel America to support England in case of a revolt in Ireland.

UNDERPAID WORKERS

(Continued from Page One.) assistance is given to the small salaried citizen, either in lower living costs, or higher returns, that the New York charities would be swamped with demands from a class of applicants never before seen inside the doors of the department. "The subject of pity these days is not the down-and-outer who is forced to ask charity," said Coler. "It is the respectable family man working in our offices, in bank departments, the clerks in big businesses. We can cite a large number of cases where these men, who must keep up appearances in their work, are being gradually forced to the limitation of public charity. "It sounds incredible that a man earning $1,400 annually should be forced to give up one of his children. But that is the case. Rents, food costs, prices of everything made it a positive necessity in this case to put that child in an institution. "There are very few cases on our records for appeals for assistance from skilled manual workers. These trades have made their demands felt and are receiving commensurate wages. It is the clerk and office man who give us our problem. "The issue has reached the point where I cannot understand why some of these underpaid employes do not join the manual trades."

GABRIEL D'ANNUNZIO

the destruction of the city in case resistance becomes futile. NO AMERICANS THERE. Rome, Sept. 18.—The republican party has passed the following resolution in regard to Capt. Gabriele d'Annunzio's coup at Fiume: "The temporary liberators of Fiume were carried away by noble impulse rather than political calculation. They thus deserve the sympathy of the nation, although it is an illusion to consider the accomplished fact of the occupation of Fiume as final." Contrary to an official statement from Fiume saying that "an American contingent, together with the British, embarked," there was no American military contingent stationed in Fiume or nearby, according to statements made today by Col. Mervyn C. Buckley, American military attaché, and Brig. Gen. Evan M. Johnson, a newly arrived attaché at the embassy.

CITY ISOLATED.

London, Sept. 18.—Fiume has been isolated from the world by the Italian government, which is apparently taking steps to meet the situation that has arisen through the action of Capt. Gabriele d'Annunzio in taking possession of the city and forcing allied and Jugo-Slav forces to leave. The veil of the censorship was drawn yesterday, and since that time little has been learned of events in the city. It is understood here that the Italian government intends to institute a blockade of Fiume in an effort to starve out the insurgents who seized the town under command of Gabriele d'Annunzio.

ORGANIZED IN VENICE.

(Special United Press Wire.) London, Sept. 18.—The plot which resulted in Gabriele d'Annunzio's seizure of Fiume, was organized in Venice, according to advices received here. The prefect of Venice has been dismissed. Due to the isolation of Fiume little news is reaching the outside world. Six regiments of artillery, it has been learned, were about to join the ranks of the raiders but returned to their barracks upon advice of their officers.

miles in Nueces bay, towing and carrying the unconscious form of her 9-year-old brother Ted with her. A movement has been launched to secure for her the Carnegie hero medal. To her the feat was a matter of course. "Why, what else should I do?" she asked. "I couldn't leave him to drown and go on alone, could I?" Esther and Ted were swept into the tidal wave when their home was carried away during the height of the storm Sunday. The boy was hit by a piece of debris and rendered unconscious. The girl seized him just as he started down and began her battle with the wind and waters. She and her brother were finally washed ashore on the opposite side of the bay, where they were found Monday by rescue parties. The temporary morgue opened in the Corpus Christi courthouse has been closed and all bodies now are being carried directly to the cemeteries, where they are buried with simple rites by waiting clergymen. Pieces of clothing, jewelry and other keepsakes found on bodies of the victims are being preserved and filed with the county recorder in the hope they may later be of use to relatives and friends as a means of identification. A military airplane circled over Corpus Christi and over Port Aransas yesterday afternoon and reported that many bodies could be discerned at Port Aransas, but that a landing was impossible because of the high water. The death toll is estimated by many to be between 300 and 400. The arrival of a relief train from Houston last night brought more workers and supplies. The rain yesterday held up scouting the beach for bodies, but it is believed the clearing weather today will relieve the suffering.

NEED ASSISTANCE.

Austin, Tex., Sept. 18.—Rockport and Port Aransas suffered tremendous damage and need outside assistance immediately, according to delayed appeals from those cities received today by Gov. W. E. Hobby. Three lives were known to have been lost at Rockport, one at Aransas. The governor announced that a re-

The appeals came to the governor in two telegrams, dated 8 p. m., Sept. 16, and said 75 per cent of the dwellings at Rockport had been completely wrecked, Port Aransas practically destroyed and Aransas Pass badly wrecked, with half the population homeless.

CLOTHING NEEDED. (Special United Press Wire.) Aransas Pass, Tex., Sept. 18.—More than 3,000 refugees have been crowded into this village with a normal population of 300 since Sunday night. Supplies are low and suffering is acute. Housing facilities are inadequate and clothing and blankets are needed immediately. The railroads have been washed away and heavy rains have rendered land travel almost impossible. The town of Port Aransas is demoralized. Many of its inhabitants literally drifted into this village on the crest of the tidal wave.

ARRIVES IN PORT AFTER PERILOUS TRIP

(Special United Press Wire.) San Francisco, Sept. 18.—Her topmasts carried away by storms and manned by a crew weakened by lack of food, the schooner Jewett is in port after a 164-day journey from Sydney. A half sea biscuit and water made up the daily ration of Captain Olsen and his crew of 12 for the last 35 days of the trip. Terrific storms carried away the topmasts two weeks out of Australia. With provisions running low the Jewett ran into Marshall Islands, but owing to starving conditions there, with many people dying of hunger scant supplies could be secured.
