KERR WINS GAME

The Reds, the White Sox this morning prepared to repeat the performance. Upon their return from Cincinnati the Sox were a bit disheartened after losing two straight to the Reds. Kerr's star game yesterday in which he held the slugging Reds to three hits and shut them out without a score, however, caused a return of the old White Sox confidence and Gleason and his boys this morning predicted they would win again today.

Fans who have attended all three games gave yesterday's the palm for being the best of the series so far. Kerr's work on the mound was sensational and the work of Fisher for the Reds was up to championship caliber.

As contrasted with the three hits made by the Reds, off Kerr, the Sox only succeeded in making seven off Fisher. While Kerr pitched a half inning more than the two Red pitchers combined, he threw only one more ball than both Fisher and Luque combined. Fisher hurled 81 times and Luque 15.

Kerr pitched 3 1/2 strikes. Fisher pitched 28 and Luque pitched four. Kerr pitched 22 balls, Fisher 27, and Luque six. In the eighth inning Kerr pitched only eight times.

The figures given out on the attendance shows that there were 29,126 persons in attendance at yesterday's game. The total receipts were $99,589, of which the players receive $18,907.24; the clubs, $32,604.89 and the national commission, $3,958.96.

(Bulletin's Special Service.)

Chicago, Oct. 4.—The most sorrowful group of individuals in Chicago yesterday was the Cincinnati rooters' band, which, through an oversight on part of the rooters, was compelled to do its serenading outside the ball park. The Rooters' club, 500 strong, attended the game, but because of failure to provide admission tickets for the band, the musicians were compelled to stay outside the gate and sorrowfully watch the fortunate ticket owners pass through the wicket. They ascribe Cincinnati's failure to win to the lack of their inspiring music inside the grounds.

TICKET SCALPERS ARE JAILED BY UNCLE SAM

(Bulletin's Special Service.)

Chicago, Oct. 4.—Twelve men, charged with scalping world's series tickets, were arrested by internal revenue agents in downtown hotels and at the White Sox ball park. It is alleged the scalpers sold tickets for yesterday's game at profits as high as 800 per cent. One of the scalpers arrested is said to have realized $389 from a block of tickets which cost him only $49.50.

The charges filed against the men are for failure to register as ticket brokers. The federal war tax regulations permit scalpers to make a profit of only 50 cents on each ticket, all profit over that amount having to be divided with the government 50-50.

It is stated that a few scalpers, caught at the opening of the game with big blocks of tickets, disposed of their holdings at normal prices and in a few instances at a loss.

ship struggle.

The bleachers were jammed an hour before the opening of the game. The attendance was given as 34,363. Cincinnati backers were taking some hits at 6 to 5 with the Sox as favorites before the game today. There is said to be little betting on the series.

The Reds made four hits during the first five innings and Chicago only one. The Reds managed to make one more hit off Ciccotte's delivery. Chicago made three hits during the game.

"The railway men are not fighting the community. I have always done my best to avoid strikes. I did on this occasion. But those who wanted to fight labor rendered my efforts ineffectual. We are fighting for the lowest paid wage earners against a conspiracy to lower wages. If the wages of the railway men are reduced other trades will follow. This is only the first battle in the campaign and the government has thrown all its weight against the men.

"We all fought to free England. The railway men played their part in the struggle. We were promised an England worthy of our sacrifices. Is your fight as well as ours to obtain it. We want your help."

"The Sinn Fein has been suppressed by the English government, but it only seems to strengthen them. There were 20 Irish peasants killed by soldiers, and the police and the judges in all cases brought in a verdict of guilty, but as yet no sentence has ever been imposed. The soldiers and police are being eliminated by parties unknown."

"There are great numbers of idle men here, especially returned soldiers. These returned soldiers have what is known as an unemployment bureau and a small allowance weekly to keep them contented but there is a lot of discontent among them."

interpreter, is as follows:

"Oct. 2, 1919.

"For the sheriff or coroner. Please translate this copy. Yours truly,

"Charles J. Antilla, 1112 East Park Street, Butte, Mont."

"Finnish Language.—The best thing for me to do is die. My life in such shape I cannot live any more. I was trying to do the best I could for my family, but it looks to me that my wife cannot start a better life because Alexander Thompson has given her some kind of medicines—that this medicine has made her in the shape she's in right now. These medicines have made by wife keep going with Thompson so she cannot part from him any more, and that they will have to get me out of the way some way or other.

"Last February they was trying to get me as a partner for Thompson in the Black Rock mine and over there Thompson could do something to me that it would look like an accident, but I didn't go to work with him because I was wise to this and this Mrs. Hibbacka, 501 East Broadway and Alexander Rantanen in the same place and James Hill of No. 3 Parrot street, they know all about this.

"My wife has told them that this was their figurings. And Thompson last summer was watching behind the windows some nights (meaning quite a few nights) when he could get a chance. Also my wife has tried one time when I was working on the night shift and sleeping in the day time, started to burn the head and the doors were closed and she waited in the next room, but I woke up just as I was almost hoked, and I went into another room and my wife was sitting over there and she told me, 'Why didn't you stay in there, so that we could get rid of you?'

"She would leave the house at evenings and come back at 6 o'clock in the morning, drunk, and want me to go to work, and when I came home from work at night my wife would drink again, so she can't stand up. And so she told me she had a good time with Thompson and that with me she won't have as good a time as she would have with Thompson at all. Yesterday night she was angry from home all evening and when she came home and I asked her where she was, (interpreter can't make out just what she was) she would get the things some kind of drunk. She has been over to get some of it, but she's drunk anyhow. She used to go in saloon at 220 Garden avenue. They always sent a little girl over there to tell her that Thompson wants her. And some times there are some other drunkards there that also wants her over there. I been there twice to get my wife from there and I find her on the bed, asleep and drunk.

"All this life is the cause of my being this because I love my wife and I can't stand any more of this, because my heart is broke and will bleed blood, but I can't wait till my wife would get somebody to kill me. She told me last Friday night that I haven't got many more days to live any more and it looks to me that way last Saturday night, but they didn't quite succeed down there. My own children heard this last Friday night, what she told me about this thing.

"I wrote this when I was sober and in my right mind. I don't want anything else except when I get home from here (the interpreter presumes this was written in the mine) and once kiss my wife and tell my children good bye. That's all. (Signed) CHAS. J. ANTILLA.

Announcement has been made that the inquest into the deaths of Antilla and his wife will be held on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

STEEL COMPANY

"This gentleman (Judge Gary's) remarks about 'foreigners now,' that I know, 'are not well taken in view of that.'

"Do you charge that from 1909 on there was a steady increase of foreign workmen in the steel company's works?" asked Senator Walsh, democrat, Massachusetts.

"Yes, I do," Tighe answered.

Declaring that the present strike was preceded by universal demands for organization from steel workers, Tighe said about 100 new charters for local unions had been issued by his organization, but that he could not tell exactly how many men had joined for the strike. On Oct. 1, he said, 363,000 men were on strike.

"How many of those strikers cannot speak English?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

"To be frank about the matter, I think the largest percentage of them are foreign-born."

"I wouldn't be doing justice to my organization," Tighe concluded, "if I statements. The corporations have used the vicious element they complain of. I want to protest that neither our organizations nor the American Federation of Labor has any vicious element in it."

"Why could not the strike be delayed at the president's request?" asked Chairman Kenyon.

"Because there was a number of I. W. W. organizers among the men," said Tighe.

"If we had delayed they would have said that the American Federation of Labor could not do anything. They would have succeeded in calling some sporadic strikes anyway."

"Then, in the last analysis, the I. W. W. caused this strike," said Senator Sterling.

"Oh, don't take that view," Tighe responded. "If we had gotten a conference with Judge Gary we would have had something to show these men, that their interests were being protected, and could have held them on the job."

ANNIVERSARY OF KILLING OF NELSON

Just Two Years Ago Today Urner Nelson Was Killed and Neal Carr Was Shot by A. C. M. Gunmen.

Today was noted by many as the second anniversary of the killing of Urner Nelson and the shooting of Neal Carr by Zeko Savichevitch, said to have been in the employ of the Anaconda Copper Mining company as a gunman at the time. The double shooting occurred on South Arizona street on Oct. 4, 1917.

According to the testimony adduced at the trial, Nelson is supposed to have called Savichevitch a "scab," whereupon a quarrel ensued. It was testified that when Savichevitch drew a gun, Nelson ran down Arizona street with the former after him, firing as he ran.

It was shown that the first shot fired struck Nelson in the back, as fleeing man was in front of 433 South Arizona street. The second shot struck Neal Carr, an innocent pedestrian in the knees as he was walking past 435 1/2 South Arizona street. As Nelson already wounded, attempted to enter the Rainer cafe to escape his pursuer, it was testified, the third shot struck him in the breast, causing his death. A fourth shot went wild and struck the cafe window.

Nelson was rushed to the city emergency hospital, where he died. Carr spent nine weeks in a hospital suffering from the injury inflicted on his knee and then was on crutches for eight months.

Savichevitch was tried in April, 1918, in Judge Dwyer's court, but on his plea of self-defense, was cleared of the killing of Nelson and the shooting of Carr.

ROWE ABSOLVED OF BLAME FOR DEATH

The coroner's jury which sat at the inquest over the remains of Richard Rhoin, 6-year-old son of O. Y. Rhoin, returned the following verdict this afternoon:

"We find that the deceased came to his death from shock, hemorrhage and internal injuries, caused by being run over by an automobile driven by Maurice Rowe at the corner of First street and Utah avenue on the afternoon of Oct. 1. We further find that the accident was unavoidable."
