LABOR DEMANDS
ALL SCHOOLS

Educational Resolution Just Adopted at Southport,
Urges Free Medical Advice and Treatment.

London, Eng.—The labor conference held at Southport adopted a lengthy resolution on the subject of education which is given in full below. In regard to head (c) it should be noted that while the "adequate free medical advice and treatment" asked for in the resolution is merely to be "placed within the reach of all," there is a widespread belief among the working classes that such treatment, when available, would be voluntary only in name, that is to say, the pressure put upon individuals to accept medical treatment would for all but a few persons of exceptionally decided views, amount to compulsion. It is scarcely possible to talk over this question with villagers and laboring men and women in towns without hearing of instances of the practical enforcement of surgical and other treatment considered necessary by doctors in regard to school children. Should the labor party succeed in forcing the government to adopt this recommendation, any such proposed legislation would need the fullest safeguards for the rights of individuals and for even-handed administration. The text of the resolution is as follows:

"This conference views with alarm the increasing local expenditure necessary to maintain an efficient system of education; first, because the burden is most severely felt by the wage-earning class; second, because of the excessive local charges, there exists the danger that educational efficiency will be sacrificed in order to save the rates—and demands that the whole cost of education be borne by the imperial exchequer upon all members of the labor party, by working through their organizations, to use every effort to secure—

(a) That all state-supported schools and colleges shall be under full public control.

(b) That all grades of education be free from the primary school to the university.

(c) That a secondary education be placed within the reach of every child by a non-competitive system of maintenance scholarships, sufficiently liberal to enable every child who can reach a certain degree of efficiency to remain at school longer than the present system allows.

(d) That an adequate number of training colleges be provided by the state affiliated to the universities in order to secure the most liberal education for the teachers of the nation's children.

(e) This conference demands the complete restoration and democratic administration of the valuable misappropriated educational endowments, and calls upon the government to make an inquiry into the educational endowments.

(f) This conference further urges, as a means of checking the diseases which result from widespread physical deterioration, that adequate free medical advice and treatment be placed within the reach of all, by publicly supported and controlled hospitals and dispensaries.

(g) That the employment of children of school age be completely abolished, and that no training of a militarist character be allowed in state-supported schools, but that adequate recreative facilities be provided in connection with all schools, and also welcomes the compulsory attendance during the daytime at continuation classes for all children up to the age of 18; but is further of opinion that these continuation classes should combine general with complementary education, suitable to the various occupations in which the young people are employed.

(h) That it be an instruction to the executive committee of the party to formulate these proposals in a bill to be laid before parliament during the next session.

(i) That this conference instructs the executive committee to call the attention of the government to the large number of children who were withdrawn from schools in agricultural areas before reaching the leaving age, and placed to work on the land; and that the government be asked to provide special education for such children, in order that the lost period shall not prove a handicap to them through life."

CASE IS DISMISSED AGAINST FRANK MASON

Man Making the Charges
Against Colored Soldier
Fails to Appear.

Sergeant Frank Mason, the wounded colored soldier, who has been appearing on the stage throughout the west as a stinger, was dismissed by Justice Buckley's court yesterday for lack of any appearance of the prosecution.

Mason was arrested in Billings on a complaint sworn out by H. W. Bascom, who alleged that Mason had been his partner in a vaudeville stunt and had made off with their joint earnings.

Mason was brought back to Butte for trial, but Bascom failed to show in court, and the dismissal followed.

Mason served in the United States army for 15 years. He was one of the Americans who survived the massacre by the Mexican soldiers at Carrizal three years ago, when only 15 ranks out of 85 got away from the Mexicans. He also served with credit in Europe, receiving a citation for bravery from the British army, the Croix de Guerre from the French, the Distinguished Service Cross, and the Legion of Honor medal from the United States government.

Right of collective bargaining.
Right of wage earners to be represented by representatives of their own choosing in negotiations with employers.

Freedom of speech, of the press and of assemblages.
Right of employees to organize and bargain collectively.
Minimum eight-hour day with one day of rest in each week and with a half-holiday on Saturday encouraged and overtime discouraged.
Payment of a living wage.
Women to receive the same pay as men for equal work.

Prohibition of labor for children under 18 years of age.

A national conference board was proposed to provide for the systematic review of industrial relations and conditions, the board to consist of an equal number of representatives of employers and workers.

Prohibition of all immigration for at least two years after the declaration of peace and at such times thereafter as there may be abnormal conditions of employment, so that no time would immigration be permitted to exceed the nation's ability to Americanize the incoming foreigners.

Takes Exception to Issue.

Dr. Charles W. Elliot, president emeritus of Harvard university, a representative of the public, took vigorous exception to the injection of the strike issue into the conference and denounced the group method of procedure because, he said, it promotes combat over "old conditions."

Declaring that the substitution of confidence for distrust, of good will for enmity, of co-operation for antagonism, between capital and labor, are the fundamental necessities involved in the solution of present industrial problems, John D. Rockefeller Jr., a representative of the public, presented a resolution providing recognition of the principle of representation in industry under which the employer shall have an effective voice in determining their terms of employment and their working and living conditions.

A plan for readjustment of labor disputes, said to have the approval of President Wilson, was included in the proposals of the public group.

It would provide for joint board of employers and employees in each industry, and for a general board appointed by the president to adjust appeals from these boards, and, in event the general board failed to arrive at a unanimous decision for an umpire to be selected, either by unanimous choice of the general board, or by lot from a standing list of 20 persons named by the president. It is understood that this plan would not interfere with any system of joint wage conferences now in existence, unless, or until, the failure to agree in such a conference made a strike or lockout imminent.

A resolution classifying the parties involved in consideration of problems before the conference was presented by Paul L. Peiss of the public group. It provided that the two general divisions should be as follows:

Union labor, government employees, public utilities, unorganized labor, and general unorganized labor in one group, and capitalists, managers, government representatives, farmers and the general public the other.

Capital Wants Open Shop.

Declaring for the open shop, delegates representing capital, proposed a code of industrial relations to the national industrial conference today. "No employer should be required to deal with men, or groups of men, who are not his employees, or who are not chosen by men among them," says the report.

A recess of one hour was taken by the conference, so that the central committee of fifteen could decide what report to make on the labor group's proposal for arbitration of the steel strike. The committee is deadlocked over its reports. Chairman Chadbourne wanted an adjournment until Tuesday, but President Gompers of the American Federation, blocked it.

HOME-GROWN POTATOES FOR CITY GURB MARKET

Notwithstanding the severity of last summer's drought, Mr. Dan Madden of Basin Creek grows potatoes without irrigation, which will compare in size and quality with the best. He brought into Butte yesterday a sackful, ranging in weight from one pound to two pounds and nine ounces. They are of the Early Rose variety. Madden says that he has two acres of them this year and will have a great deal more next season.

MUST COVER COAL HOLES.

An ancient ordinance requiring the covering of iron coal hole covers with matting, canvas, burlap or other material to prevent accidents to pedestrians during the frosty weather has been dug up by the city engineer's office and, according to announcement of the city officials, will be enforced. It is stated that neglect on the part of property owners to cover their coal holes with some non-slippery material during the winter has been the cause of numerous accidents in the past and a number of damage suits against the city.

WORKERS ARE OPPOSED TO INTERVENTION

Peaceful Solution in Interest of Workers Is California Demand.

Efforts to provoke war with Mexico are condemned and congress and the people of the United States urged to use all the powers at their command to bring about a peaceful settlement of differences with Mexico, in resolutions adopted by the San Francisco labor council. The resolutions say:

"Whereas, There is a persistent and widespread campaign carried on by certain financial and property interests to enthrall this country into war with Mexico; and

"Whereas, The organized workers of the two republics at the Pan-American congress held on July 7, 1919, pledged themselves to a mutual understanding of their respective problems; and

"Whereas, The workers have from times immemorial been the chief sufferers from war, and after war are left to bear the burdens incurred through war, whether after defeat or victory; and

"Whereas, The American Federation of Labor at the Atlantic City convention went unequivocally on record in favor of the League of Nations to the end that all international disputes may be settled by conciliation or arbitration and the final abolishment of wars between nations therefore, be it

"Resolved, By the San Francisco Labor council, in regular session, that we join with the Pan-American Federation of Labor in urging upon congress and the people of the United States to use all the powers at their command to have the differences between this country and Mexico settled in a peaceful way, and that the working people of both countries co-operate to that end; and be it further

"Resolved, That we most emphatically condemn the efforts of big business and other elements of our people to provoke war with Mexico."
