BAIL IS WANTED WITHOUT FAIL FOR THE MEN WHO ARE IN JAIL

Hundreds of workers are literally rotting in the jails of this country because of their activity in the cause of labor.

Some of the prisoners have escaped by death, others are dying, many have contracted tuberculosis and other loathsome diseases.

A Bail and Bond Committee was elected to systematize the work of collecting bail and a nation-wide drive has been started to secure the loan of cash.

Sums of Five Dollars and up are accepted as loans, and all cash, Liberty Bonds or property is tabulated in triplicate.

Only those who have been proved loyal and trustworthy are being sent out as collectors.

Bail will be used to release specified persons where that is desired, but otherwise the release will take place by a blind drawing of names.

No necessity exists for argument. Your duty is clear. If your ears are not deaf to a call from your class, if you feel that an injury to one is an injury to all.

THEY ARE WILLING TO GIVE THEIR LIVES FOR YOU! ARE YOU WILLING TO LOAN YOUR DOLLARS TO THEM?

Send all cash, checks and bonds to John L. Enodahl, Secretary of Bail and Bond Committee, Box W, Ballard Station, Seattle.

Property schedules should be filed with Attorney Ralph S. Pierce, Room 607 Central Building, Seattle.

LUMBER TRUST

tion of our system of organization. This in spite of the fact that our mail has been tampered with and our members have been obstructed and intimidated by gunmen of the lumber trust and every obstacle put in our way while trying to notify the workers that the strike vote had been carried.

One of the most encouraging features of the strike is the great spirit that prevails. Letters coming from the workers in all parts of the strike district express their determination to fight and our demands are granted.

The lumber barons have struck a blow at democracy in the northwest but have been headed off by thousands of lumberjacks, many of whom only recently fought on the battle fields of France to uphold the principles of the democracy that they hypocritically despise and scoff at.

Even the most ignorant of the workers can't be any longer fooled in believing that democracy exists or could exist where such autocrats as the lumber barons are in control.

The fact that the capitalists have been in control for hundreds of years and have not brought real democracy about is good and sufficient and ample evidence that they don't want it.

Please publish this article and oblige.

PETROGRAD IS AGAIN

government unless saved by the coming of winter, is considered imminent here with the receipt of reports that on practically every Russian front the enemies of the bolsheviks are meeting with victory.

The bolshevik forces are estimated to number only between 300,000 and 600,000 and are fighting desperately to the last ditch.

The fighting is proceeding on a scale of distances hitherto unprecedented in history.

The A. B. C. of the Plumb Plan

What Is the Plumb Plan?

It is a plan for the public ownership and the democracy in the control of the railroads.

Who Has Endorsed it?

The two million organized railroad employees of America; and the American Federation of Labor, approving the principle of government ownership.

How Does It Propose to Buy the Roads?

By leasing government bonds which to pay for the legitimate private interests in the railroad industry.

How Does It Propose to Operate the Roads?

By a board of 15 directors, five named by the president, to represent the public; five elected by the operating officers; five elected by the classified employees.

Does This Mean Government Operation?

No; it is operation by a board in which those having the responsibility have also the authority. It is superior to government operation because it prevents control by an inefficient bureaucracy; and is true democracy since it gives the men engaged in the industry a voice in its management.

What Becomes of the Surplus?

After operating expenses are paid, and fixed charges are met, including the interest on outstanding government securities, the surplus is divided equally between the government and the men. The employees' portion is to be divided between the managerial and classified employees, the former receiving double the rate received by the latter class.

Is This a Bonus System?

No, it is giving those who increase production a share of the results their increased effort has produced; and this share is theirs for as long as they are actually in the service, and is not forfeitable.

Why Do Operating Officials Receive the Larger Rate of Dividend?

Because it serves as a greater stimulus to the group with the most responsibility. And since the operating officials would lose dividends if wages were increased it acts automatically to prevent collusion between labor directors and the operating directors to outvote the public's directors.

Is This the Only Protection for the Public?

No, the rate-making power remains with the Interstate Commerce Commission, and if wages were raised so high that rates had to be increased, the commission could refuse to change them, and shippers might appeal to the courts for redress.

Does This Difference in Dividends Create Hostility Between Officials and Men?

No, because without harmony between them neither group can earn dividends. An official in working for his own dividend is working for the dividend of his subordinates, for one cannot gain unless all gain.

Does the Plan Assure a Decrease in Rates?

It provides that when the government's share of the surplus is 5 per cent or more of the gross operating revenue, rates shall be reduced accordingly. For instance: If the entire surplus one year is $500,000,000, and this is 10 per cent of the gross operating revenue, the government receives $250,000,000. And because this is 5 per cent, rates are decreased 5 per cent.

What Does the Government Do With its Share of the Surplus?

It invests it in improvements and extensions, thus adding to the value of the railroads without adding to the fixed charges. It retires the outstanding bonds, thus reducing the fixed charges. Ultimately the public has its railroad service at cost.

Does the Government Pay for All Extensions?

No, the community benefited must pay if it can; if it is able to pay all, the building of the extension is obligatory. If it only pays part, the government pays the remainder, but only makes the extension as it deems wise.

How Are Disputes Between Officials and Men Adjusted?

By boards, to which the operating officials elect five members and the men, five members. In case of failure to reach an adjustment, the case is appealed to the directors.

Who Determines the Rate of Wages?

The board of directors.

Who Supervises the Purchase of the Roads?

A purchasing board, composed of the interstate commerce commission and three directors of the new government corporation, one director from each group.

Who Decides the Value of the Private Interest in the Railroads?

The courts. It is a judicial question, and is to be answered only after an examination of the charters of the existing companies, the laws under which they were created, and the manner in which the company has lived up to its charter and these laws.

Will the Public Have to Pay for Watered Stock?

No. The public will probably pay less than two-thirds of what the railroads claim as their value.

Are There Other Savings?

Yes, the public can obtain the money to purchase the lines at 4 per cent, whereas the public is now charged rates to guarantee the roads 6 1/2 per cent on their money. The saving on the present capital account of the railroads would be about $490,000,000, and on an honest valuation would be nearly twice this sum.

Why Is It Called the Plumb Plan?

Because it was conceived by Glenn E. Plumb, general counsel for the Organized Railway Employees of America.

What Can You Do to Help its Realization?

Join the Plumb Plan league (lodge membership, $10 a year; individual membership, $1, payable to Treasurer, Plumb Plan League, 447-453 Main St., Washington), talk with your friends, and write your congressman. It is the only association to secure public ownership that has the endorsement of the organized railroad employees.

Who Is Eligible to the League?

Every one who believes that democracy in industry is the solution of the railroad problem.

How to Get Behind the Plumb Plan for Railway Ownership

The bill drawn by Glenn E. Plumb and backed by the 14 railway brotherhoods and many other progressive organizations, providing for the public ownership, democratic control and efficient operation of the railways, has been prepared and will soon be presented in congress.
