LUMBERJACKS ON STRIKE MAKE BIG GAINS

Publicity Committee of the Strikers Issues Statement of Conditions. Bosses Worried.

The following, under date of Thursday, has been received from the publicity committee of L. W. U. C. No. 500, at Spokane:

"The lumberjacks' strike is still on. This strike started three weeks ago, and was caused by the company raising the board 25 cents a day and making a charge of $1 a week for blankets. The lumber industry of eastern Washington, Idaho and Montana is practically at a standstill. Only a few 'japs' are working. Pickets are on the job night and day in all the lumber towns.

"A few days ago the lumber barons held a meeting which lasted two days. At the end of this meeting the Spokane papers announced they had decided to employ no more L. W. U. men even if they had to be content with a decreased output. Ninety per cent of the lumberjacks in this section are organized in the L. W. U. so if the L. W. U. are employed it will mean that production will be cut to 10 per cent of normal. There is an active demand for lumber and prices never were so high. The lumber barons are in business to make profits. If they were to employ no more L. W. U. men they would cut 90 per cent off their profits.

"The one thing, above all others, sacred to business men is their profits. To suppose that they would deliberately kill their own profits is ridiculous. As long as the demand for lumber is good and prices are high, they will speed up production. They think they could make bigger profits by employing workers who are not members of the L. W. U., hence their efforts to get rid of the organization, but the L. W. U. has got too firm a hold on the lumber industry to be shaken off. The lumber barons will have to be content with the profits produced by the L. W. U. or they will see 90 per cent of those profits vanish altogether. But the situation would be much worse than this. Practically all the real lumberjacks belong to the union. The 10 per cent unorganized are not efficient workers.

"It would be impossible to run a camp profitably with 10 per cent of a crew, even of good lumberjacks; much less with green hands.

"The lumber barons also omitted to explain how they are going to eliminate the L. W. U. There is no outward or visible difference between an L. W. U. and another man. When the strikers go back on the job, if the demands are not conceded the intermittent strike and the job strike will be used. The companies know this and it is causing them much uneasiness.

"It seems they are unable to find a way out and after discussing the question for two days they are unable to offer any better solution than the one above mentioned which anyone cognizant of the facts knows to be utterly impracticable and impossible.

"Early in 1917 these gentlemen announced their intention of keeping all L. W. U. out of the camps but after nearly three years there are more L. W. U. in the camps than ever before.

"The lumber barons are on the horns of a dilemma. No wonder they are perplexed. They want workers but not workers of sufficient intelligence to be union men. The only available workers are union men. To employ these means decreased profits. Not to employ them means no profits at all. Their delay in deciding to choose the least of the two evils shows they feel their hold on the lumber industry slipping and have not the courage to face the inevitable.

SCHOOL BOARD HAS CHANGED ITS MIND

The school board is trying to back out of its deal for property on South Main street, owned by John Powers. The board last spring wanted the ground as a part of the area upon which erection of a new high school was contemplated. A commission allowed Powers $14,000 for his land and building. Powers appealed to the district court from the appropriation of the commission. A jury granted Powers $18,000. Now the school board has changed its mind and no longer wants the property. Saturday attorneys for the school district asked for dismissal of the whole proceeding. Attorney Joe Binnard, in behalf of John Powers, resisted dismissal. Judge Lamb took the matter under advisement.

CONSUMERS' OPEN INDOOR MART

Venture of Local Anti-Profiteer Organization of the Women, Shows Excellent Results at Start.

Members of the Consumers' league are expressing great satisfaction with the initial success of their indoor public market, opened last Saturday morning in the building at 120 South Main street. All of the stall centers were well patronized Saturday and the patrons expressed their pleasure at being able to purchase supplies under shelter from the cold blasts.

The league officers assert that the new indoor market is not in opposition to the city curb market, but rather is in conjunction with that enterprise. It was stated that the indoor market will continue to assist the curb market in maintaining a low standard of prices for foodstuffs throughout the winter.

Among the products that were on sale at the Consumers' league indoor market last Saturday were children's and ladies' shoes, meats of all varieties, fruits and vegetables both from the Bitter Root and Jefferson valleys, bread and pastry, brooms, groceries, sea foods, dairy products and eggs.

ELECTION CASES TO BE HEARD NOVEMBER 3

Charles Treacy, John J. Vines and Jeremiah Crowley will be placed on trial in the criminal court of Silver Bow on November 3, on the charge of perpetrating frauds in the city election of last April. The cases were set Saturday by Judge Lynch. The trials are all set for the same date.

RANCHER LOSES RIGHT EYE

As the result of injuries received when a frozen twig was broken from a branch and propelled with force into his right eye, John Brown of Three Forks yesterday underwent an operation for the removal of the injured eye at a local hospital. Brown was injured while entering his barn during a storm.

STREETS ON WHICH CHILDREN CAN COAST

Children will be allowed to coast without interference by the cops, if they will confine their sports to certain streets designated yesterday by Chief of Police Jerry Murphy.

"Coasting is splendid recreation and it is not necessary for the children to go out of the city to enjoy it, if every one will co-operate to make it safe," the chief said.

Streets on which coasting or sleigh riding will be allowed are:

Dakota, south from Galena to Iron street.
Albany street, south from Galena to Crystal street.
Quartz street, Crystal to Alabama, west.
Excelsior street, south from Park street.
Atlantic street, south of Park street.
Oklahoma street, from Park street, south.
Grant street, from Park south.

CHILDHOOD SWEETHEART SEARCHES FOR HER EMIL

Sixteen years ago in Vermland, Sweden, Miss Alma Peterson and Emil Johnson were playmates. Then both came to the United States, but at different times. Saturday Miss Peterson, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Ellen Miller, as chaperon, arrived in Butte in search of Emil, whom they had been led to believe was employed here as a carpenter. Since then the police department and the reporter staff of every newspaper in town have been searching assiduously for Emil. Several Emilis have been produced, but in each case he was the wrong one.

SOUZA EXPERT WITH GUNS AS WELL AS WITH BANDS

Practically all of the civilized world is familiar with Lieut. John Philip Souza, the band leader, and hundreds have given imitations of him when leading his band. Many also know that he is a composer of operas, words and music, has written some splendid books and that he has composed more than 100 successful marches. But only his friends know him when he puts aside his uniform and becomes a plain American citizen, ready for any fun or frolic. He is a lover and student of nature, and passes weeks every year "out in the wilds" with his horses, his dogs and his guns.

"Always treat animals like friends, and not like slaves," is his motto, and if you are desirous of argument just dispute his assertion that the greatest of all recreations are the companionship of a good horse and a faithful dog, a dependable gun, followed by a chat with a pretty girl.

Mr. Souza has become one of the best trap shooters in the country, and his home at Port Washington, L. I., is littered with the trophies he has won.

Lieutenant Souza and his world-famous band will be heard at the Broadway theater on next Thursday evening under the auspices of the Butte post of the American Legion.

R. R. PRESIDENT SEES AND KNOWS IT ALL

President Robert S. Lovett of the Union Pacific railroad and a number of other leading railroad officials arrived in Butte Saturday evening in a special train of seven cars. According to the carefully detailed story in the morning papers, Judge Lovett went to bed at 5 o'clock Saturday night, arose at 6 o'clock Sunday morning, read the morning papers before breakfast at 7 a. m., and then proceeded at once to make a tour of the railroad station and yards of Butte. It was claimed that Judge Lovett walked some four miles through the snow in the course of his jaunt. After completing this feat, Judge Robert S. Lovett, president of the Union Pacific Railroad company, again boarded the special train of seven cars and departed with his party over the O. S. L. in the direction of Pocatello, Ida.

The morning papers state that Judge Lovett, in the course of his walk yesterday morning, attained a detailed knowledge of the railroad business in Butte. They also state that Judge Lovett feels complete confidence in the ability of the Washington officials to secure an amicable and satisfactory adjustment of the presently threatening situation in the labor world.

JOB ARE SOUGHT FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS

Many Butte employers have received lately communications from Edwin C. Wemple, western district director of the secretary of war. The letters are appeals to the employers to find jobs for the returned service men of high technical training who have recently come back from the army more or less broke. Mr. Wemple says: "A great many men are now calling for help who have never before been placed in the position of having to look for a job. Many of these men are men of pride, whom it hurts to ask anybody for assistance."

Mr. Wemple earnestly urges the employers of Butte to save these men of high technical training and sensitive natures from the embarrassment of having to look for a job. In the meantime millions of men and women rustle daily for jobs at the gates of mines, mills and factories. To assume that the highly trained have a monopoly on pride or that their stomachs gnaw more distressingly, when unfed, than the bellies of the unskilled, is perhaps a natural conclusion for Mr. Wemple to reach, but that it is a mistake many workingmen and workingwomen will maintain.
