FRENCH IMPERIALISTS

wireless to Warsaw for them, but refused, how nothing more was heard from Warsaw till Aug. 7, when it was arranged that the meeting should take place on the 9th.

"At the appointed hour," he said "the member of the military command, Piatokoff, was present on the Siedlitz road as agreed. Having waited for an hour and a half, Comrade Piatokoff wanted to return, but a Polish officer offered to go to Siedlitz to seek the delegation. Next day the officer returned, declaring that he was unable to discover the delegation.

"The same morning Piatokoff sent out an automobile, but no delegation was found. Later on the same day, the Red army took Siedlitz, found the Polish peace delegation, and sent it to Minsk.

"Obviously Poland avoided a meeting. The Polish policy seems to consist in compelling us to occupy Warsaw, which latter event must be in the opinion of Poland and all who back her, create a favorable situation for entente military intervention.

"Then the Polish government will talk our annexationist and imperialistic intentions, in order to create pretexts for intervention.

"It is quite obvious that the Polish government would not have ventured such a hazardous provocation had it not behind it at least one great power. It is not difficult to find out which. It is not England, whose government, for reasons we shall not discuss, takes an interest in coming to terms with Russia. Behind white Poland's back stands France.

"The French government will by no means allow the establishment of peaceful relations by Soviet Russia with Poland and with other countries, for it would unavoidably lead to the fall of the present French government, the most blind, most covetous and most dishonest of all the world's governments.

"The French government hating nothing to lose. Recently the French parliament made a discovery that four billions, allocated to the restoration of France's northern departments were spent for Russia's devastation.

"The French government resembles a gambler who, once a loser repeatedly doubles the stakes in the hope of winning back all.

"Millerand and Poch, infringing all obligations and scorning the last remnants of decency, freight with sea-lanes for Wrangel ships destined for the repatriation of war prisoners. These gentlemen, however, play too fool a game.

"We, before the toiling masses of all countries, Poland's and France's first of all, declare that Russia desires peace on the basis of (1) full integrity of Poland, and (2) of serious guarantees that Poland will not once more become a military instrument of the French plutocracy.

"The Polish government would long ago have consented to peace but for France. France desires no peace. France is willing to draw the Russian people into war with Soviet Russia. Let the workers of France know if let them restrain their government."

BOYCOTT UPHOLD BY FEDERAL JUDGE

Strike and Boycott Are Legal Weapons of Organized Labor, Is Hand's Decision

(By the Federated Press.)
New York City, Sept. 10.—Use of the sympathetic strike and boycott as weapons by organized labor in its battles with capital is upheld as legal in a decision handed down here by Federal Judge Augustus N. Hand. He denied in this decision the extension of a previous injunction restraining the Old Dominion Transportation company from refusing to accept for shipment merchandise delivered to their piers by non-union trucks.

The temporary injunction was granted originally on a test case by the merchants' association, which, sorely hit by the boycott instituted by the union teamsters of the city, resorted to every means to compel the Old Dominion Transportation company to accept goods delivered by non-union men. As their counsel, they employed Walter Gordon Merritt, long noted as an efficient anti-labor union lawyer.

Judge Hand maintains in his decision that neither the Lever act, the Sherman anti-trust law, the Clayton act nor the boycott laws of the teamsters' union and the transportation company.

In seeking the injunction, the complainant had alleged that there was a conspiracy between the Old Dominion company and the union teamsters not to handle his goods when he delivered them to the pier by way of non-union truckmen.

To the Irishmen of Butte and Friends of Irish Freedom:
In looking over some old Bulletin I glanced at some resolutions passed by them, and to the average intelligent Irishman it is an amusing, on James Larkin, while one of their members was the chief persecutor, sometimes called prosecutor, was the chief fink in sending Larkin where he is today through British influence in the courts of the republic. But to the average intelligence it seems that a few of these politicians of C. P. W. for 24 hours hangs around Andy Davis' gold storage corner, acting as stoops, imagine that those resolutions will get those liberty-loving people up in the air as of old. It reminds me of days gone by when we would hold a great celebration on the 17th of March. We would have all the shift bosses, foremen and all other slave drivers of Irish lineage passing resolutions to free Ireland and, to aid and behold, who you were free for that whole day. But, say, when you went up to C. P.'s hot box on the morning of the 18th, what was the result of your freedom? Twenty cars or so on top, my boy—that's all. And last but not least, the Standard and Whiner would have those resolutions under his big headlines.

I could write columns on this subject, but the space in the Bulletin is too valuable at this time for me to take up any more. Remember, resolutions never got anything for the Sein Finn—direct action got it, and I want to see how many clean-cut Irishmen are in Butte that will donate a five-spot, half to the Larkin defense and half to the Bulletin Paper Fund. Just stop and get your hands off the thing and see what the Bulletin has done for you in a short space of time, and it isn't rightly started on to continue and ease my mind on you Irish people who have been so easily led by the snakes of O'Rourke type. If there is anything in this or anybody else from president to dog catcher, do not blame the Bulletin, but come to me. I am responsible for it as a Sinn Fein. My wording is not very good, but I assure you resolutions will never make me imagine I am free from the tyrant here or in Ireland. Send your donations to the Bulletin. My will be honestly taken care of. My country is the world and my flag is a human one of the workers of the world in one solid, compact body.

Yours for the emancipation of them,
TOM BONES.

SAMMY IS FOR THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

(By the Federated Press.)
Columbus, O., Sept. 10.—"Any man who opposes the league of nations is a traitor to his country," President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, told a small-sized crowd at a Labor day meeting here.

In saying this, he trod upon many toes here, for the organized workers of Columbus include numberless men and women who are strongly opposed to the Wilsonian league.

Gompers recommended the election of Cox as "a progressive against Harding, who is a reactionary." He gave credit to Cox for getting the Ohio compensation act passed.

CROWD SHOWS

for the league came the profound statement, "If the nations of the world do not pay their war debts, then the civilization of the world will be in danger."

When mention was made of free speech and assemblage, the governor again generalized. He asserted that he was for free speech, but failed to state his attitude regarding Gove Debs, imprisoned under the Wilson regime for exercising the right of free speech, and refused a pardon by that same administration.

By the time the governor had finished, many of his audience had "exposure" of the republican "conspiracy" to buy the presidency.

Following is the list of questions, only one of which mention was made by the candidate, and none of which were answered:

1. In the event of an army of Soviet Russia should invade British India, would you recommend that the United States extend military aid to any aid, to Great Britain to "preserve against such external aggression the territorial integrity" of the British empire?
2. What is your attitude toward the present British government in Ireland, and the methods employed by it against the people of Ireland?
3. Do you favor continuing the present blockade against Russia?
4. Are you opposed to paying to the soldiers of the late war a sum sufficient to compensate them for wages lost during their period of service in the military and naval forces of their country?
5. Are you opposed to pardoning political prisoners of the type of Eugene V. Debs?
6. Do you favor the repeal of the espionage law and other repressive war legislation?
7. What is your attitude toward the policy of maintaining private armed forces and spy systems as now practiced by several large corporations in the United States?
8. Are you opposed to the use of the injunction in labor disputes as was done in the coal strike in the fall of 1919?
9. Are you in favor of the methods lately pursued by Attorney General Palmer and Postmaster General Burleson?
10. Are you opposed to the legislative program of the Nonpartisan league or labor league, a statement of which is hereby enclosed?

PRESSMEN MAKE GAINS.
