Backers of Dixon and Republican Ticket

(From day to day the Daily Bulletin will print in this column facts concerning individuals and organizations and supply information for the purpose of assisting the voters of Silver Bow county and the state of Montana in determining which of the candidates now asking for their suffrage are worthy of their support on Nov. 2. In this connection we call attention to the fact that the information supplied deals with a period after America entered the world war, in which about 70,000 young Americans gave up their lives, and in which about 17,000 were totally incapacitated for work, while at the same time there were approximately 17,000 new millionaires created in this country.)

While this pile was accumulating at Verdun, the profiteers backing the republican ticket in this county and state were piling up profits.

A Profiteer Candidate

J. L. CARROLL, candidate for county commissioner on the republican ticket—this man is ready to remove to San Francisco to live, but in the event of his election, he is willing to stay in Butte until his term expires—and cop the gravy.

Carlson's Record

GEORGE CARLSON, candidate for sheriff on "Flaming Coffee" John's republican ticket—In addition to having clubbed Mike Conway after Officer Brady had clubbed Conway until he was helpless, Conway afterwards dying, we add the following to Carlson's record:

He came to Butte in April, 1915, and started to work in the health department of Silver Bow county April, 1915. He quit work for the health department in May, 1916, during which time he drew one-half pay from the police department in Portland. He is a brother-in-law of Miller; Miller is a brother-in-law of Otto Simonson, county commissioner. Carlson started to work on the police force July 1, 1916; resigned from the police force March 8, 1919. He was found not guilty of having joined the police force without being sufficiently long in Butte, May 25, 1917; for the reason that he had gotten by for so long, the police commissioners, who had a responsive feeling for the sixth floor of the Hennessy building, thought they had better let him remain, although the metropolitan police law requires two years' residence. He was tried in June, 1918, for having left the police force without leave, during which time he was picked up by the police department in Portland, Ore. He was found guilty and suspended for ten days July 2, 1918.

Big Crowd Turns Out to Hear B. K. Wheeler, Gubernatorial Candidate; Given Big Ovation

Bozeman, Oct. 22.—The largest crowd ever gathered here last night in the municipal auditorium, in spite of a severe storm, to hear B. K. Wheeler, democratic candidate for Governor, discuss the issues in the campaign.

Mr. Wheeler aroused the crowd and received a great ovation when replying to the attacks of Senator Myers who spoke here last night to a much smaller gathering. Walter S. Hartman acted as chairman. Mr. Wheeler also addressed a large audience this afternoon, the meeting was presided over by Senator J. C. McCarthy.

Mr. Wheeler declared that the attacks that had been made upon him were directed by big interests that had been hostile to him for years and had persistently persecuted him because he had stood by T. J. Walsh for United States when Mr. Myers defeated Mr. Walsh. Referring to the trouble he had at Dillon, he said that the only reason he was not strung up at that time was that a

Copper Thugs Surround Theater and Copper Vermin Occupy Stage

The A. C. M. plot to duplicate the slaughter on Anaconda Road last April failed last night, due to the warning given the Wheeler supporters by the Bulletin. It had been planned, if a sufficient number of the Wheeler supporters and W. F. Dunn were present, to pull off a red flag stunt similar to the one worked here in 1914. J. F. Taylor, all-around stool-pigeon and the individual who conducted the play in 1914, had been imported from Seattle. The night and day shift of the city police force were required to be on duty last night at 7 o'clock.

The Washington state artillery—national guard—was held in readiness in Seattle—to be rushed to Butte after the killings. Two companies of troops at Camp Lewis were also held under orders.

A story was already written, to be sent out over the Associated Press, but—the plot failed. The victims failed to appear. The blood-lust of the gunmen who thronged the streets is still unsatisfied.

Now, let us see who occupied the platform, who had the ringside seats for the bloody festival that failed to materialize.

Here they are:

Harry Gallway—A. C. M. senator.
Jack Stewart, Helena—Company stool-pigeon.
Joe Fabian.
C. E. Maher—Insurance man.
Tom Lavelle—Taxicab magnate.
John V. Dwyer—A. C. M. attorney and fixer.
Jim Finlen—President of Silver Bow National bank. Owner of the "Robbers' Roost."

F. C. Walker—Chairman of the meeting. Frank Walker wants to be U. S. District Attorney and has asked B. K. Wheeler to use his influence in his behalf. Both ends against the middle.

Byron Cooney.

W. J. McMahon—A. C. M. engineer. Twice defeated for the legislature.
M. M. Donoghue—Defeated and discredited former president of the Montana State Federation of Labor. Company Tool.

Tim Crowley—A pioneer stool-pigeon.
P. J. Brophy—Profiteer, representing the Montana Development association.
M. J. Scott—Company physician.
Frank Boucher.

W. B. Daly—Assistant general manager of the A. C. M.
John P. O'Neill—"The Rimmer." Assistant general manager of the A. C. M.
Morris English—A simple-minded attorney who probably didn't know where he was.

Tom Grimes—Foreman of boilermakers for the A. C. M. Defeated for the legislature two years ago.

M. D. O'Connell—Scab contractor, representing the Associated Industries.
C. J. Kelley—President of the Daly Bank.
Dan Kelly—A. C. M. attorney. Fined $500 by Judge Bourquin for tampering with a federal jury.
Garfield Tonkin.

BRITISH RAILROAD MEN JOIN MINERS

(Special United Press Wire.)

London, Oct. 23.—It is believed here that the strike of the railroad workers, which was scheduled for midnight Sunday, in sympathy with the striking coal miners, may be prevented, although they voted to go out. They are facing serious dissension within their own ranks, due to the refusal of J. H. Thomas, their secretary, to lead such a demonstration. The situation has led certain officials to predict that the railway men will find means to induce the miners to reopen their case. There is belief in official circles that the transport workers, the third division of the Triple Alliance, would refuse to call a sympathetic strike. It is admitted that a dangerous situation has developed among dock workers. Employers are discharging thousands of men as a result of the coal strike. Great excitement prevails throughout the whole British nation.

RELATIVES BELIEVE M'SWEENEY DEAD

(Special United Press Wire.)

London, Oct. 23.—Relatives of MacSweeney fear he is dead, and that the officials of Brixton prison are suppressing the fact, according to a statement of his brother, Peter MacSweeney. Annie and Mary MacSweeney, sisters of the lord mayor of Cork, have joined their brother in the hunger strike. Their action followed their exclusion from Brixton prison by the officials who refused them permission to be at the bedside of their dying brother. MacSweeney's wife alone was permitted to remain. The home office later informed the United Press representative that the sisters were excluded from the prison on the grounds that they might interfere with the physicians who are feeding MacSweeney during the periods of delirium.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The weather forecast for the Pacific north-west states from Oct. 25 to the 30th predicts normal temperatures for that time.

WILSON TO MAKE ANOTHER LEAGUE OF NATIONS TALK

(Special United Press Wire.)

Washington, Oct. 23.—Wilson's next campaign statement on the league of nations will be delivered Wednesday to a delegation of pro-league republicans and independents headed by Hamilton Holt, according to announcement from the White House.

A. C. M. Minions Hear Myers

Speaking of the shooting of unarmed miners in the back on Anaconda Road on Bloody Wednesday by Roy Alley and his band of hired murderers, Senator Myers said last night:

"The people of this city were not interfered with." But this demonstration of lawlessness was broken up. It was the only way in which it could be made possible for men to go back to their work in peace and security."

You are for the freedom of Ireland, Senator? You said so last night with your tongue in your cheek. The grave of Thomas Manning, his widowed wife and his orphaned children in Ireland hurl the hypocritical lie back in your teeth.

I do not think, however, that in politics anyone should resort to falsification.—Senator Myers at the Broadway last night.

It has been said that I am to get a great sum of money for my part in saving this state from the Nonpartisan league.—Senator Myers at the Broadway last night.

Concerning the first statement of Senator Myers quoted above it can be said that on no American platform has a man ever appeared who showed as little regard for truth as Senator Myers.

Concerning the second quotation from the speech of the bribe-taking senator, let it be said that no one has accused him of taking money for the part he is now playing, and as far as this paper is concerned, we do not believe that the A. C. M. found it necessary to promise him a cent. We believe that it was necessary to tell the senator what the copper trust wished him to do and that he willingly complied with its wishes as he has done ever since he has been in public life.

It will be noted that in his published speech, this lackey of the vested interests does not dare to deny the published facts concerning his crooked record, but that he is content to hurl slanders and abuse at men who have passed through Gehsemane rather than sacrifice the principles for which they stand.

Senator Myers last night posed as a champion of Irish freedom in the face of the fact that he is on record in the senate as opposing every measure for Irish freedom as well as all measures for freedom for any interest except the railways and other profiteering corporations.

Senator Myers complained that he was being criticized for refusing to support the state ticket headed by B. K. Wheeler. No criticism of this sort has originated with the farmers and the workers. To a man, they are only too glad that Senator Myers has heard his master's voice and is out with a bitter denunciation of them and all they stand for. Were it otherwise, the farmers and wage-earners would desert the ticket in their thousands. They want nothing from Senator Myers, but his hatred and active enmity.

They want the people of Montana to know him for what he is; an advocate and condoner of mass-murder for profit, an apologist for the hired thugs of Roy Alley, an upholder of the murderers of the miners on Anaconda Road last April.

Listen to what this soft-handed, fat-paunched senatorial

Talented Educator Solves the Great Problem; Dr. Craighead Dies Suddenly in Missoula

Missoula, Oct. 22.—Dr. E. B. Craighead, former president of the University of Montana, died here of heart failure at 3:15 this afternoon. Dr. Craighead, one of the most widely known men in the state, was the editor of the Now Northwest and also the owner of the Billings Star.

Both during and after his service as president of the university, Dr. Craighead had been in the vanguard of the progressive movement in this state and his death is a severe loss to the farmers and wage earners in Montana, whose cause he had championed with remarkable ability. It is believed by his friends and relatives that his sudden death is largely due to the strain brought on by the strenuous manner in which he has participated in the present political campaign.

He is survived by his widow, a daughter and two sons, E. B. Craighead Jr. and Barclay Craighead.

Dr. Craighead was born in Missouri in 1861. He graduated from Central college in 1883. He took an A. M. degree from the University of Missouri and did post-graduate work in the larger eastern universities. He studied for some time in Leipzig and Munich. His first college educational work was done at the agricultural college of West Virginia. He was on the faculty of the University of Missouri from 1901 to 1904, when he was made president of Tulane university at New Orleans.

WIDELY DISTINGUISHED.

Bozeman, Oct. 22.—Chancellor E. C. Elliott of the Greater University of Montana, who is here, had this to say when informed of the death of Dr. E. B. Craighead:

"His wide and distinguished experience in many important positions eminently qualified him for that generous counsel which he was always ready to give. His winning personality, his breadth of sympathy and his sound scholarship, all combined to make him a vigorous influence wherever he might be. Montana has lost a faithful servant for the upbuilding of her citizenship."

"The news of Dr. Craighead's death comes as a distinct shock to his large circle of friends, especially those in educational work," said President Alfred Alderson of the Montana State college when informed of that event. "While president of the North Carolina Agricultural college, Toulare university, the state university of Montana and a member of the Carnegie foundation board he formed wide and pleasant acquaintanceships with college and university people. He was a man of broad training and a most interesting speaker and companion. His friends regret his sudden passing."
