$7-A-WEEK GIRLS PLIGHT OF MANY PRISONERS IS BAD ONE

Duluth Union Manufacturing Company Pays Help so Little They Are Unable to Live on Wages.

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 4.—Claiming that they cannot live on $7 a week the girls in the Duluth Union Manufacturing company have gone out on strike. The members have formed a solid picket line and up to yesterday only two scabs had been able to get through. A plucky fight is put up by the underpaid girls and they have determined to stick till their demands are granted.

With the overall craze these garments went up to an abnormal figure, but the bosses are not satisfied with the large profits of the present, and have made changes to sweat the girls to add to them.

Miss Ruth Williams, member of the grievance committee, said today that the pickets had been instrumental in turning away about 20 girls and that as far as the strikers know only two got past them and those two were accompanied by members of the firm. "We propose to stay out," said Miss Williams. "A minimum of $16 is not too much to ask. All of the girls are experienced and can earn more by piece work than they have been doing. The shift that the firm made has made it impossible for the girls to make more than $7 or $8 per week and, although they have told us that they would pay a minimum of $11, they were not doing it. We have taken the union label from the firm."

H. Gordon, a member of the firm, said that they had decided to operate on an open shop basis from now on.

When the police tried to interfere the girls buttonholed the cop and put some pertinent questions to him:

"You went out with banners not long ago and asked for higher wages, did you not? You wanted to better your condition, was not that your object?"

The cop nodded. "Well, did we interfere with you when you went out to demand a little increase for yourself? Did we try to stop you then? Instead we cheered you and told you we hoped you would succeed. Isn't that right?"

Again the policeman agreed. "Why don't you help us now and cheer us just as we did when you wanted better conditions? All we ask is a living wage. Do you think that is wrong?"

The cop smiled and turned to go, and the girls looked back and said, "Well, good luck to you."

Organization Formed to Make Lot of Political Victims Easier While in Vile Jails.

In addition to the central conference for amnesty to political prisoners in America, the organization composed of the principal trade unions of the country and who speaks in the name of all organized labor, there has been active in the field of relief for the political and industrial victims in the United States, an organization known as the "Political Prisoners' Defense and Relief Committee," with offices at 857 Broadway, doing its work in a quiet, unostentatious and helpful manner. Just recently this committee has sent out a touching appeal to the public which we gladly reproduce below:

"To never get a letter, a dollar or a word of cheer from a human being in five years—besides being in prison all that time—could anything be more revolting, and horrible to think of? Then to have a little group of people appear, to write you a letter a week and send you $5 a month. "To be a prisoner and never warm enough during any winter, and then a group of people appear and ask what you want most in the world for Christmas, and you answer a warm blanket—and get it. "To be dying of consumption in prison—contracted, there—and unable to ask anyone outside with interest enough to have you transferred to save your life—and then to have a group of people appear and have you transferred to a more healthful prison and seek to have you pardoned."

To all political and industrial prisoners in America, mostly the unknown, the Political Prisoners' Defense and Relief Committee, 857 Adel, secretary, 857 Broadway, New York city, write letters every week and send $5 a month and packages where prison rules allow, and special packages for Christmas, and help prisoners in other ways. This committee has also helped in the defense of many cases, which could not get help otherwise. This committee also fortunately has no payroll and no cost to pay, everything being voluntary. The three cases mentioned above are typical of hundreds of others which this committee has helped. Until all political and industrial prisoners of the nation and states are freed, those who can should make some contribution to this committee.

PROPERTY CONFISCATION IS STUNT IN MEXICO.

(By ROBERTO HABERMAN.) Mexican Staff Correspondent for Federated Press.

Mexico, Oct. 14, (By Mail).—Confiscation of property as a means of getting justice is becoming an established custom in Mexico. The 2,000 striking campesinos of the Hacienda de la Huercas in the state of Michoacan confiscated the entire property, one of the most productive ranches in Mexico, when they saw strikebreakers brought to the hacienda. The president sent special delegates to report on the situation and they found that the lands had belonged to the workers, all Indians, under the old Spanish grants. The government has taken no other action in the matter, and it is problematical whether it will. The peasants are heavily armed with modern rifles and ammunition which they kept after their demobilization from the army of the last revolution.

HYPOCRISY OF GO AFTER CIGAR MANUFACTURERS FOR ACTS EMPLOYERS IS CITED

Editor of Seaman's Journal Shows up Attitude of the Bosses on Preventing Education of Young Slaves.

San Francisco, Nov. 4.—The hypocrisy of anti-union employers who talk "Americanism" is shown by Editor Scharrenberg of the Seaman's Journal, who discusses the "Better American Federation," which has replaced other anti-trade union movements in southern California.

This group of employers declare that compulsory education should not be extended beyond the fourteenth year. They say:

"The vast majority of children finish the eighth grade or grammar school at the end of their 14th year. Unless they are intending to follow some vocation, requiring a superior education, there is not practical wisdom in extending their school period by compulsion beyond that. As a matter of fact, it is unwise, and results frequently in a handicap rather than an advantage in their future advance."

This plea for child labor is supplemented by a demand that women be permitted to do night work, and that male workers be permitted to produce their full capacity, regardless of hours.

"There you have it, boys, in a nutshell," writes the labor editor. "If anybody, man or woman, wants to work 24 hours a day—by heck, it's their fundamental right! And the self-styled 'better Americans' are going to see to it that there is no interference by labor unions. "But it was ever thus. And were it not for the saving sense of humor one would almost be warranted to, lose his temper. "Happily in the long run, the plain people can always be depended upon to see through the mask of these exploiters of Americans."

SYLVIA PANKHURST SAYS JAIL HOLDS NO TERRORS

(London Daily Herald Cable to the Federated Press.)

London, Nov. 4.—Sylvia Pankhurst defying the magistrates who sentenced her to six months imprisonment on the charge of trying to stir up sedition in the British navy by publishing "The Workers' Dreadnought" told the court:

"You cannot frighten me by any sentence. The ideas that I am teaching may be startling to you, but I was brought up by a socialist father. She went on to describe the misery which exists among her neighbors in the east end of London, especially

GO AFTER CIGAR MANUFACTURERS FOR ACTS

Attorney General of Florida Charges Makers Limiting Production to Control Industry.

Tallahassee, Fla., Nov. 4.—In papers filed in the state supreme court, Attorney General Swearingen asks the court to cite Tampa cigar manufacturers and have them answer why their corporate powers should not be annulled.

These quo warranto proceedings affect scores of employers who are attempting to destroy cigar makers' unions in that city. The attorney general charges that the manufacturers have organized an association for the purpose of limiting cigar production and controlling the industry.

Tampa cigar makers have been on strike for five months. The employers have attempted to victimize 300 shop committeemen and 13,000 suspended work. The industry is paralyzed because of the employers' refusal to negotiate a settlement and the move by the state attorney general is expected to uncover coercion and intimidation methods against employers who want industrial peace.

PREDICTS TERROR REIGN IN REGION OF VILNA SOON

(Staff Writer, the Federated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 4.—Probable, early resumption of war between the Poles and Lithuanians and the report of a reign of terror introduced under Polish control with tortures, extortion, and beating and killing of priests, was the news in a cablegram to the Lithuanian legation here today.

The Poles are now concentrating troops at Vilna, where troop trains and ammunition are reported as daily arriving from Poland. General mobilization is proceeding in Lithuania to restore independence. The government fears a Polish advance on the new capital at Kovno. It denies that any Germans, as reported by the Poles, are reinforcing the Lithuanian troops.

NAVY USES LEG-IRONS ON MINOR OFFENDERS

(By the Federated Press.)

Milwaukee, Nov. 4.—That officers of the United States navy, which is conducting a recruiting campaign at present, still make a practice of putting in leg irons sailors who have committed minor offenses was revealed here.

This became known with the finding of a pair of sawed-off leg irons in Juneau park, the identification of these irons as navy property by officers of the revenue cutter Tuscarora, and the statement to the police that two sailors, one held a prisoner, are missing from the ship.

The irons baffled the police for 24 hours. Today, however, officers of the revenue cutter identified them as those with which William Allen was outfitted in the brig of the ship.

RAILWAY SHUTS LOSING LINES IN BROOKLYN

Receivers' Request Granted by Court After Public Service Commission Orders Traffic Continued.

New York, Nov. 4.—Federal Judge Mayer has granted the request of the receiver of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company that operation on nine lines of that system be indefinitely suspended because they are losing money.

The public service commissioner ordered the receiver to operate the lines for the public convenience. This order has been set aside by the court.

Trade unionists call attention to the federal court's oversight of "the public's convenience" a stock phrase when workers say they are losing money and possibly tie up the street car system that wage increases may be granted. In that case injunctions, police and strikebreakers are forthcoming.

In the present case the public is given less consideration than in strike times for no attempt is made to operate the cars. The corporation makes a complete tie-up by suspending operation, because it says it is losing money.

The local press treats the affair as "a business proposition," and all hands, from the court down, forget their strike time war cry.

BREAK OCCURS OVER PLAN TO FORCE OPEN SHOP IDEA

(By the Federated Press.) Milwaukee, Nov. 4.—The first open break between Milwaukee labor and industry as a result of the tendency on the part of employers to use unemployment and the general business depression as a means to reduce wages and break union standards became known with the lock-out of the metal polishers force of the Milwaukee Gas Specialty Co.

According to Frank Oakley, business manager of the Metal Polishers' union, the lockout followed the refusal of the men to submit to a 10 per cent wage reduction.

"Metal polishers are engaged in a highly specialized trade, and it is highly significant that skilled labor be being submitted to the first attempt at wage reduction," Oakley said. "The scale paid was 95 cents an hour."
