DENIES PLEA IS MADE FOR DEBS' PARDON Socialist Party Says Neither it Nor Famous Prisoner Asked Wilson to Release "Well Beloved." (By the Federated Press.) Chicago, Nov. 13.—Referring to a dispatch in the Chicago Daily News of Nov. 6, under a Washington date line, asserting that President Wilson was inclined not to grant the application for a pardon for Eugene V. Debs, the national office of the socialist party yesterday issued the following statement from its Chicago office: "The socialist party has made no application for a pardon, and Mr. Debs has not. No one has been authorized to ask a pardon for Mr. Debs because to ask for a pardon would be to admit guilt, and Mr. Debs is guilty of nothing except refusing to bend his head to the hysterical madness of war time. Mr. Debs continued his work as a socialist speaker during the war, although it would have been safer for him to have ceased while hysterical mobs were assaulting and lynching men and women who stood by their honest convictions. "It has come to Mr. Debs and the socialist party again and again that a pardon for a crime, crying with its admission that the law was violated, would instantly cause the jail doors to swing open for Mr. Debs. Such an application would, however, negate the value of the example of Mr. Debs, in that such admission of guilt would be taken as a weakening of the position that the constitution is an operative law, and that we are in peace time; a yielding, likewise, to the Palmer-Hurston regime would properly be considered an abject surrender of principle. "The socialist party, acting with Mr. Debs' full knowledge and approval, has repeatedly demanded, not a pardon, but an unconditional release, not only of Mr. Debs, but of all men and women imprisoned for purely political actions. Such a general amnesty is a demand, not only of the socialist party, but of all self-respecting Americans, no matter what their political views. This demand has been made, and will continue to be made, until political opinions contrary to the prevailing views of the country are no longer considered prison offenses in America."

SURPLUS OF LABOR IN IOWA IS PREDICTED NOW (By the Federated Press.) Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 13.—There is almost certain to be a surplus of labor in Iowa during the coming winter, according to a statement made by Ambrose L. Ulrick, state labor commissioner. "Many large manufacturing plants throughout the state are closing down," declared Labor Commissioner Ulrick, "and many others putting their men on part time schedules. "Iowa, of course, is more fortunate than many states in the union. Agriculture is still the main industry here and it can be counted upon to swallow up a free percentage of labor released from other industries. Iowa is not yet a manufacturing state and there are not more than two or three cities here where any one industry can be said to dominate the town. "So there will not be the number of working men thrown idle that there would be in the eastern states. Moreover, the population of Iowa is too well distributed throughout the state to cause in any one center a labor situation approaching a crisis."

AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT TO BUILD MANY HOMES (By the Federated Press.) Sydney, N. S. W., (By Mail).—The Australian commonwealth government, being committed to the building of many thousands of houses for returned soldiers, has increased extensive sawmilling operations in the state of Queensland to supply the timber at low cost. This step was rendered necessary owing to the operations of the timber combine in Australia and the possibility of timber prices going even higher if the timber combine was allowed to control the market when the timber was required for building the soldiers' homes.

MORE TROUBLE EXPECTED IN WEST VIRGINIA SOON (By the Federated Press.) Washington, Nov. 13.—"Mother Jones, veteran organizer of the United Mine Workers, here on a tour from West Virginia, predicts that "war will break out" in that state between the coal operators and the organized miners, 55,000 strong, after Governor-elect Morgan takes office. Morgan is expected to encourage the breaking of union contracts by the operators in the well-organized fields, as a step toward a wholesale attempt to stamp out unionism. The miners are going to resist any attack upon their right to organize.

CO-OP BUYING BY DEMAND WITHDRAW BLACKS FRANCE MANY NATIONALS TO PARTICIPATE AT GENEVA

CO-OP BUYING BY DEMAND WITHDRAW BLACKS FRANCE MANY NATIONALS TO PARTICIPATE AT GENEVA (By DOROTHY WALTON.) (Special Federated Press.) Chicago, Nov. 13.—"It is my personal opinion that labor organizations throughout the country will begin to purchase direct from the farmers through co-operative societies," said Dr. E. F. Ladd, newly-elected senator from North Dakota on the Nonpartisan league ticket and member of the producers' committee of seven which met here. "The temper of this conference, which represents farmers' organizations all over the country and which was appointed last July to devise ways and means of reducing the cost of marketing farm produce and returning to the farmer a more equal share for his grain crops, shows that there are three problems facing it," said Dr. Ladd. "In the first place it must decide in the near future to sell a large share of its grains through one central exchange. "Secondly, there is the financial problem of moving the crops twelve months out of the year, which has not yet been met and which constantly baffles the farmer. "Finally it is conceded that an agency to keep the farmer informed as to the world needs, the world produce and the world crops is absolutely necessary. "Dr. Ladd said the effect of direct dealing between producer and consumer would be to eliminate organizations like the Chicago board of trade. He also flouted the contention of Grain Director Julius Barnes that co-operative buying and selling could not be carried on on a national scale. "The brains which have successfully worked out the local problem are perfectly capable of solving a national problem," he said. "C. E. Bayne, of the United Grain Growers of Canada, a co-operative organization, told of the success of his organization in saving from five to seven cents a bushel which formerly went to the middleman. He said that the success of terminal elevators beyond the local community had been demonstrated. The total business handled annually by the United Grain Growers association is in the neighborhood of $120,000,000. "The committee of seventeen adjourned Nov. 6 to consider the various phases of the problem they hope to solve and to ask 5,000,000 American farmers for their opinions on how to eliminate the middleman. Delegates from the various farmers' organizations will be sent to a final convention about Jan. 1 when the plans decided upon will be made operative."

MILWAUKEE MASS MEETING PROTESTS OCCUPATION OF GERMAN AREAS BY SAVAGE TURCOS IN FRENCH FORCES. (By the Federated Press.) Milwaukee, Nov. 13.—Resolutions calling on congress to take immediate action on insisting that the French withdraw half-savage African troops from the occupied portions of Germany were unanimously adopted in a mass meeting, in which the democratic administration and French military authorities were scored. Ernest Bruncken, charged that the French government made it a point not to send any Frenchman to German territory, but purposely collected semi-civilized troops from its tropical empire and sent them fresh from the jungles of Africa to be quartered among the Germans. "The French authorities forced the Germans to establish brothels and fixed the number of hours each woman was to remain in those places," said Bruncken. "Certain days each week are set aside for different companies. "Every day an observer may see long lines of these soldiers waiting their turn to enter these brothels as they would wait in line for their meals. "This matter calls for the action of organized religion," said the Rev. K. M. Chorowsky, of Oconto. "If German women are to be compelled to pay indemnity to satisfy Gallic revenge we are not going to acquiesce. "Mayor Daniel Hoan, who presided, termed the occupation of Germany with these accompanying outrages, the result of imperialistic rule. "These outrages are a direct result of imperialism," he said. "If the people of France knew what was going on they, too, would rise. "Mrs. Jessie Hardy MacKays, member of the advisory council, Women's Peace society, asserted that if the world were disarmed a condition such as this would not exist. "If the women of France knew of these conditions they would arise in a mass and demand the withdrawal of these troops," she said. "It is a crime to quarter these brutes among white women. They have not, like their white brothers, been educated to control their sex impulses, which makes it all the more horrible."

MAGANINI FREED IN FEDERAL COURT Jury in Castiglioni Case Still Out at Noon After Having Matter Before it Since Yesterday. The case of Anthony Maganini of Meaderville, who was tried before Judge Bourquin and a jury in federal court yesterday, charged with violation of the United States prohibition laws, was found not guilty. The jury returned a sealed verdict last night, which was opened this morning. U. S. District Attorney Patterson looked after the government's end of the case, while James Baldwin, of the firm of Wheeler & Baldwin, represented the defendant. The case of Dominick Castiglioni, also of Meaderville, charged with the same crime, is still in the hands of the jury at noon today, the jurors having had the case since yesterday afternoon.

PHILADELPHIA CONSIDERS PLAN TO RELIEVE HOUSING (By United Press.) Philadelphia, Nov. 13.—Municipal authorities here were considering a number of plans to relieve the housing shortage which is becoming aggravated by the unprecedented influx of immigrants. One plan would provide for construction of houses by the city, with municipal supervision. A canvass of the foreign sections showed that in nearly all cases houses built to roof one family were occupied by two and sometimes three families. This is a detriment to the health and well-being of the community, according to Dr. Furhush of the health department here. Experts figure that Philadelphia is short today 30,000 six-room houses. Builders claim that due to the high cost of materials and labor, more than $150,000,000 would be required to build the number of houses needed. Six thousand dollars is the average cost to construct a six-room house, according to contractors. During the first nine months of 1920, only 1,170 permits to build homes were issued, as against 9,503 for 1918, and 7,758 for 1916.

FRANCE MANY NATIONALS TO PARTICIPATE AT GENEVA (By United Press.) London, Nov. 13.—Fifty-one nations, large and small, and inhabited by peoples of every race, color and creed, will be represented at the first league of nations assembly at Geneva, Nov. 15. Chinese, Japanese and Arabs will rub elbows with Britons, Latins and Celts. French and English will be the medium of language through which business will be transacted, although many of the delegates will understand neither tongue. Of the nations represented at Geneva, 18, including the five dominions of the British group, became members of the league automatically through the coming into effect of the treaty of Versailles on Jan. 10, 1920. Eight other countries ratified the pact subsequently and are considered as charter members. Thirteen states, neutrals during the great war, are members through accession under invitations extended in conformity with the annex to the covenant. China, alone, derives her membership rights by virtue of being a signatory to the treaty of St. Germain. Eleven other countries, some of which have only de facto governments, have officially applied for membership. Their applications will be acted upon at the assembly meeting, as will be those of Germany, Austria, Hungary, and Bulgaria, if they are received officially before the date of the meeting. The only nations which will not be represented at Geneva, either officially or semi-officially, are the United States, Turkey and Mexico. The nations who were invited to become league members and who accepted are as follows: Argentine republic, Chile, Persia, Paraguay, Spain, Colombia, Venezuela, Norway, Denmark, Switzerland, Netherlands, Sweden, and San Salvador.

TUBISTS' NAME OF NEW ARTISTS' CULT IN LONDON (By United Press.) London, Oct. 15.—(By Mail).—A new group of artists is forming in London they call themselves "the Tubists." A picture painted for advertising purposes by Mr. C. R. W. Nevison, the famous artist, failed to pass the Underground Railway's official censor who is responsible for all those advertising posters which bedeck the platforms and carriages. The censor's job is to see that the advertising designs shall give no nasty shocks to the moral system of all those provincial grannies and country cousins who have occasion to travel on the subways. Nevison's picture was intended to advertise a new play which was recently produced by Miss Viola Tree, entitled "The Unknown." This play deals with postwar religious controversy and the poster advertisement depicted a crucifixion—but the glare on the cross, though somewhat vague and undefined, was undoubtedly that of a nude woman. "No," said the Underground Railway's official censor, "this cannot be!" and Nevison's picture was banned from London's "tubes," as the subways here are called. Such a good taste is exercised in keeping the "tubes" decorative, that the platforms and passages have become known as "the people's favorite picture gallery." Hence the "Tubists," who in their new school are vying with each other to succeed in satisfying the censor and "remain artistic, nevertheless."

CAUTION AGAINST FAKE ARSENIC SUBSTITUTES Health Service Tells of Steps Taken to Supply Pure Drugs to Sufferers From Maladies. Washington, Nov. 13.—The inclusion in the program of the all-America conference on the great red plague, which meets in Washington early in December, of a discussion of the use of sundry arsenic "substitutes" for arsenamine (salvarsan) in the treatment of the plague is highly commended by Surgeon General H. S. Cumming, of the public health service. "Medical officers of the service and others concerned," he said, "were especially cautioned to be alert against the use of arsenic preparations not belonging to the arsenamine group and were directed to use only the arsenamine produced by licensed firms under the rules and tests prescribed by the United States public health service. "Testing of these arsenic preparations is very necessary because of their poisonous nature. If not properly prepared, they may be deadly no matter how carefully they are used or what is almost as bad may be entirely worthless and may delude those who use them with ill-udged promises of a cure that cannot result. "Some of the unlicensed preparations that have been floated on the market were frauds pure and simple, containing no arsenic or other curative agent at all; but most of these were soon detected and their manufacturers punished. Many of those that are still being made result from efforts to circumvent the rigid tests required by the public health service for the protection of the public and to market substitutes which are sold with unwarranted claims as to their curative value. "Salvarsan (606) was devised by Ehrlich in 1910, after 605 unsuccessful experiments in trying to find a preparation of arsenic that would kill the germs in the patient's blood without also killing the patient. It was carefully protected by patents, taken out in Germany and elsewhere, that which enabled enormous prices to be charged for it. During the war inability to import it from Germany, where it was chiefly manufactured, caused the United States to seize the patent rights and to authorize manufacture in this country. "Candidates defeated in Canada are up again. (By the Federated Press.) Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 13.—S. J. REAL GLASSY SPOOKS STAY AWAY FROM OUIJA BOARDS (By United Press.) Chicago, Nov. 13.—If you would mingle with the elite of departed spirits, do not toy with the shades who use the ouija boards as means of communication, because, under ordinary circumstances, only the riff-raff of spiritism speak during sessions of the great American parlor game, was the warning given today by Miss Gail Wilson, trustee of the American section of the Theosophical society. She stands high in the councils of the theosophical world. "Only the low type of soul would make itself manifest on the ouija board," said Miss Wilson, who has given the subject much research. "A high type of spirit would not use such a crude and dangerous method. Why should a highly evolved spirit want to mingle among earth-beings when they are on a much higher plane. "Speaking in the slangy language of the earth, most of the spirits we get connected with on the ouija board lie like circus posters. "If you are looking for advice, it is far better to take it from a good living person than a bad dead one. No spirit can tell the future better than an ordinary earth-being. It's rare that a respectable spirit raps on the library table's either. "Miss Wilson holds that there are just a few cases on record of high-class spirits talking via the ouija board route, but these cases are so rare that they may be discounted."

ANGRY ATHLETES TO TELL WHAT THEY THINK OF OFFICIALS AT GATHERING BEGGINNING TOMORROW. (By HARRY L. FARREL.) (United Press Staff Correspondent.) New York, Nov. 13.—Putting the shot" seems to be one of the events left off the card for the annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic union in New Orleans Nov. 14, 15 and 16. Being an annual indoor get-together of the non-participating "athletes" of the nation, the "shot put" should not be listed, but from the rumblings among the athletes several big shots will be hurled in the direction of the organization. From an informal organization of the athletes formed during the Olympic games in Belgium this summer, a committee probably will be sent to the gulf city meeting to demand a thorough house-cleaning of the organization. "Nothing definite, however, has yet been announced by the committee of athletes which includes Norman Ross, champion swimmer; Ted Meredith, middle distance record holder; Dick Ramer, Walker and others. The athletes seek first the elimination of politics, which seethed at the Olympic games, and the inclusion of some business methods in the organization. They may also present the resolutions signed on the Princess Matoka, which severely criticized the Olympic committee and the A. A. U. Although this petition was presented in Antwerp, it was never recognized on the grounds that it was not "officially presented." Norman Ross, head of the athlete's committee, at that time sought to learn how it could be "officially presented" without avail. The business of the annual meeting will consist of election of officers and the awarding of 48 national championship medals for 1921. Contrary to the usual custom, the national senior track and field championship has been awarded to Pasadena, Cal., in advance of the meeting. This was done to allow the Pasadena committee to go ahead with elaborate plans for the "best meet in history," which is to be a feature of the annual "Tournament of Roses."
