NEEDLE TRADES ORGANIZE IN O. B. U.

Combination of Unions Expected to Strengthen Their Forces in Order to Fight Employers.

(By the Federated Press.)
New York, Dec. 20.—The Amalgamated Clothing Workers are facing the clothing manufacturers in a final fight, with the combined support of 400,000 needle trades workers behind them. The Needle Trades Workers' alliance has just been formed by the federation of the Amalgamated, the International Ladies' Garment Workers, the Journeymen Tailors, the United Cloth Hat and Cap Makers and the International Fur Workers' union.

A pledge of "unqualified support" was given to the Amalgamated in its fight against the installation of piece-work and reduced wages, proposed by the clothing manufacturers as part of an attempt to bring back the "sweat-shop system." This resolution does not mean that a strike of all needle trades will be called, according to Benjamin Schlesinger, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers.

Each member of the alliance will preserve its autonomy, but the combination of unions is expected to strengthen the power of any union during a strike crisis, to do away with duplication in organizing, and to spread the sense of industrial unity among the workers.

Although the Clothing Manufacturers' association has not yet completed the piece-work system which it intends to put into operation in the shops, more than a dozen manufacturers have already locked out their employees who have refused to accept piece-work. The locked-out shops normally employ 24,000 workers.

OHIO OFFICIALS DENY HAYWOOD FREE SPEECH

Cincinnati Mayor Refuses to Allow I. W. W. Chief to Speak. Meeting Is Held, Nevertheless.

(By NICHOLAS KLEIN, Staff Writer, the Federated Press.)
Cincinnati, Ohio, Dec. 20.—Two men spoke here Sunday night, within a mile of one another, and each had a message. One of them, Wm. D. Haywood, was here to speak at Central Turner hall, which was rented for his meeting a few days before his arrival. Mayor Galvin stationed police about the place and Haywood could not approach it. It was thought that Mr. Haywood was safely out of the city and the matter forgotten, but he turned up a few nights later and spoke at Brotherhood hall to about 35 of his friends and followers who came secretly in ones and twos and held their "meeting." Mr. Haywood appealed to those present to give financial help to the families of the men in prison for political or industrial offenses who were suffering, as he said, for the very necessities of life.

About a mile away from this hall, in the finest hotel Cincinnati boasts of, Hotel Staton, owned by the Tafts. There the Rotary club had as its guest Hon. Theodore Burton of Cleveland, former U. S. senator from Ohio and recently elected a member of the lower house of congress. His subject was: "The Present and Future Industrial Outlook." While the members were must come down from the dizzy gressman-elect said in part: "We are enjoying a fine luncheon, the conditions to normal conditions. However reluctantly we may face the facts, wages must be reduced." He was wildly cheered.

After the meeting Mr. Burton left in his private car for Cleveland and Mr. Haywood took the 11 o'clock train for Dayton, Ohio.

SWEDISH-RUSS ALLIANCE IS EXPECTED

Professor Lomonosoff Arrives in Sweden to Complete Arrangements for Resumption of Trade.

(By the Federated Press.)
Stockholm.—(By Mail.)—Professor Georges Lomonosoff, formerly in charge of the transportation division of the Russian Soviet bureau at New York, has arrived here with plenary powers from the Soviet government to conduct negotiations with Sweden relative to the composition of the proposed trade delegation.

Lomonosoff, besides being sent on this special mission, has been placed in general charge with full powers of all negotiations affecting the Russian railway system, both in its relations to Europe and the United States. His authority is coequal to that of a people's commissary.

It is expected that Lomonosoff's presence here will now definitely lead to the establishment of trade relations between Sweden and Russia.

EFFICIENCY USED TO DRIVE MEN OFF JOB

Peace Time Work Occasions Much Trouble in Ranks of Numerous Private Owners.

(By the Federated Press.)
Dayton, Ohio, Dec. 20.—The dismissal of two employees, prominent for their labor activities, from the Rock Island arsenal has stirred labor groups in the Tri-Cities.

The trouble dates back to the organization of the Workers' council, of which both employees and arsenal officials were members. Of this council, the important part was the Arsenal Orders branch, which functioned successfully to secure, from other departments of the government, orders to continue the operation of the arsenal on articles needed in time of peace. All this met the opposition of the private manufacturers, especially in the Tri-Cities, the Arsenal branch found itself handicapped in every way, orders ceased to come in, the cry that a Soviet had been organized in the arsenal was raised, and a wholesale dismissal of employees began.

The recent dismissal of two employees is said to be the most flagrant of a series, in which efficiency records were juggled to bring about the removal of some who had been too active in seeking to keep the force employed through the efforts of the Arsenal Orders branch.

It is reported that two officials from Washington will conduct an investigation into the charges brought by labor, and that, due to the handicap placed on those who still retain their jobs at the arsenal, their side of the case will be fought largely by those who have already suffered the loss of their positions.

The congressman of the Second Iowa district, Harry E. Hull, is reported to be supporting the dismissed employees.

MASTER MASONS WORKING TO SPLIT BUILDING TRADES

(By the Federated Press.)
Detroit, Mich., Dec. 20.—Mason contractors, though favoring co-operation with other building trades employers, voted, at a convention here attended by representatives from 31 cities, to ask the bricklayers' unions throughout the country to withdraw from building trades' councils.

Speakers to the resolution said the bricklayers' and plasterers' international union already had voluntarily condemned the sympathetic strike, a declaration denied emphatically by Fred W. Palliser, secretary of the Detroit Building Trades council.

"I was a delegate to the international convention of that organization in October," he said, "and no such action was taken or has been taken since."

The resolution adopted at the contractors' convention pictures the building trades council as an evil to the industry and a cause for public prejudice against it.

WORKERS DROWN IN RIVER.

35,000 UNEMPLOYED IN THE CITY OF MILWAUKEE

(By the Federated Press.)
Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 20.—Labor men place the number of unemployed in Milwaukee at 35,000, while Harry Lippart, manager of the government public employment office, places the number at 25,000 to 30,000. The labor men place the unemployment in the state at 80,000.

"It hasn't reached the maximum yet," was Lippart's comment, when asked if unemployment still was increasing. He said that in some industries shorter hours were being worked to prevent wholesale discharges.

In a bulletin issued by the state industrial commission, statistics, presented from 211 establishments, with 78,000 employees, or more than a third of the factory workers of Wisconsin. The period covered runs from July to October, inclusive. The number employed, the report shows, has been steadily decreasing since last February and the decrease has been more abrupt since July. The number employed in October was over 10 per cent less than in February. The total wages have also hit the toboggan.

The department stores, which usually placed orders for extra Christmas help, failed to do so this year, according to Lippart.

Close to 1,000 shoe workers in the larger plants in the city are out of employment, indications being that

TO TRAIN BUTTE WORKERS AS VOCATIONAL TEACHERS

In an effort to train trade mechanics in school administration in order that they may be able to act as instructors in vocational schools in trade and industrial centers, classes will be started tomorrow evening in the school administration building, beginning at 7 o'clock, according to a telephone communication to The Bulletin this morning from G. B. Edwards of the state board of vocational education.

The state board is co-operating with the federal board of education, according to Mr. Edwards, who declares there is a great scarcity of skilled mechanics who also are competent to train others.

NOTICE.
