TIN AND SLATE ROOFING

SUPERCEDED BY THE USE OF

WEST'S PATENT GALVANIC CEMENT.

THIS Cement, by its non-conduction and galvanism, prevents metal roofs from rusting and decomposing; and renders them impervious to heat and cold better than anything ever invented for slate, roofs, or for covering over old shingles or metal roofs of any kind. The weight heretofore attached to cement roofs is avoided by the use of this material, it being much lighter than tin or shingles. It is adapted to all kinds of houses, flat or steep roofs. Its appearance is like slate, beautiful slate for the rich palace or the humble cabin.

The Patentee, having secured the right to the State of Tennessee, is now prepared to cover old or new roofs of any description, or to repair old roofs that leak around the chimneys, gutters, &c., at short notice; and will also sell rights to territories, by counties or towns, on reasonable terms. The attention of architects, builders, and the public generally, is invited to this article, as something better than anything before known, for cheapness and durability, it being fire and water-proof.

W. S. BENNETT, Proprietor.

Office in J. L. Morgan's Architectural Rooms, No. 10 Walker's block, Memphis, Tennessee, where samples may be seen; or address Box 577 post office.

Of the many testimonials I have, I will here submit but one:

To Whom it may Concern.

This is to certify that I have had West's Patent Galvanic Cement on the roof of my store, which heretofore leaked badly; but since the application at this Cement it has been perfectly water-proof. I can recommend it to the public for all roofing purposes, and believe it to be a permanent fixture against fire and water.

JAMES BOYD, No. 172 Main-st.

Memphis, July 18, 1856.

Having examined samples of West's Patent Galvanic Cement for Roofing, and having a knowledge of the material used in said roofing, we have no hesitation in saying that the above said roofing one of the best that has come under our observation, and would cheerfully recommend it to the public, it being fire and water-proof.

THE SPHEREOTYPE.

THE latest and by far the most important improvement in the art of taking pictures from life. This picture known as the SPHEREOTYPE, which is not only new and unlike any of its predecessors, but greatly superior to all. The Spherestype is proof against TIME, and is NATURE in the truest sense. The perfection of expression and distinctness has no equal—in fact the illusion is such that the pictures, or image, seems suspended in air, entirely independent of the back ground.

For this picture we have the exclusive right for Memphis. Specimens can be seen in our Gallery, where pictures are also taken in the various styles now in use.
