NEW YORK.

Arrest of Butler. New York, August 19.—Deputy Sheriff Taylor, of Memphis, arrested yesterday with a requisition from Gov. Senter, George R. Butler, charged with embezzlement. Gov. Hoffman declined granting a warrant for his surrender until a copy of his indictment found by the Grand Jury, which is en route by mail, is received.

ETHERIDGE.

He Speaks at Dancyville to a Large Crowd. He Does not Favor Wholesale Repudiation. He Claims the Late Canvass was not for Universal Suffrage. He Promises to Stand by his Pledges to the Negro.

Special Dispatch to Memphis Appeal.] BROWNVILLE, TENN., August 19, 10 p.m.—Etheridge spoke to-day at Dancyville to about twelve hundred people. More would no doubt have been present but for the intense heat. About half the number were women and children. His speech was an hour and three-quarters long, and was very diffuse, consequently I will not attempt a synopsis by telegraph. He opened with a brilliant historical resume, showing that attempts to force a Government or religious system upon a people have ever been odious, and have always been successfully resisted and overthrown. He passed thence to the decay of public virtue, and among his scathing historical particulars he administered his to Andy Johnson by referring to the trial of Mrs. Surratt and reciting the ineffectual prayers of her daughters for mercy. On the subject of the public debt he said that history showed that no great public debt had ever been paid, but that while he believed in judging the future by the past, he thought it possible for this country to pay its debt, and he would have to be under a totally different management and regime. As for repudiation, he would not declare himself for it, except as an extreme measure, the last resort and argument when all others had been tried. He prophesied that in less than two years, however, repudiation would be the doctrine announced from every forum by candidates for office. As himself he would make no promises. He had seen, he said, a little newspaper article stating he was for repudiating Brown's bonds; he was for repudiating those illegally issued, and nothing more. At present he advised the sale of such railroads could not pay the interest on their bonds to some one who would take them in payment. To the blacks he said that the white people would prove those Radicals who said they would take away the rights of the negro. As for himself he would not go back on any promises that he made them. He had promised them if they assisted his people in their rights which they were deprived, he would guarantee them, the negroes, their, and he wanted to stick to his pledge. He declared the issue of the late canvass not to be enfranchisement of the negro, but the re-franchisement of the white man. He took the ground that Senter's great majority was given by the negro, which he argued showed the negro in favor of the enfranchisement of the white race. He told the negroes, however, that they must not attempt to go to Congress and demand a new constitution, or to think they can govern this country; if they do they would be very mistaken. He favored Chinese immigration to a certain extent, but did not commit himself fully. He urged the union of all old parties under the Democratic standard, addressing himself especially to the old Whigs present. The speech was received with very little enthusiasm—there being scarcely a demonstration from beginning to end of it. It was followed by an excellent barbecue, which was applauded. P. L. J.
