

ABOUT WOMEN.

Anna Bishop is contemplating a farewell tour of the United States.

Maine's bragging of a matron, in her seventeenth year, the mother of four children.

Deprived of her tr—r—s in New Orleans, Mrs. Dr. Walker has sought concealment in the city of Texas.

Three of the wives of men employed in the City of Boston have consoled themselves by remarrying.

A "Christian Association of the Women of Louisville" is to be organized for the relief of indigent females.

Madame D'Hericourt has delivered an address in Farwell Hall, Chicago, on the position of women in the church during the first five or six centuries of its history.

Eight oil paintings have arrived in New Orleans from Rome, the handiwork of General Magruder's daughter, Miss Kate Magruder, and Mrs. Dr. Henry R. Magruder. Both have resided in Italy for a number of years.

A young lady who was captured by the Indians in 1849, when she was only three years old, and was just discovered her relations in a rich Virginia family.

No explanation is given as to the reason why the English ladies lately reported to have been expelled, and the statement that the Pope himself gave the order is confirmed. It seems they may not have been expelled. The affair is highly mysterious.

Miss Cary, the young contralto who is receiving many praises in Europe, is Miss Annie L. Cary, of Boston. Miss Cary is a native of Georgia, and daughter of Nelson H. Cary, M. D. For two or three years past she has been in Europe to study in public on many occasions throughout the New England States.

The lady professors of Vassar College are letting their lights shine in public, as well as before their students. Miss Professor Mitchell is lecturing in public and writing for Hours at Home; "Miss Professor Doctor" Elizabeth A. Avery is writing for the Christian Union, and Mrs. Professor Aldrich M. Powell is becoming a contributor to the new Standard magazine.

Fatti threw the staff of the Paris opera into consternation a few evenings ago by announcing that she was sure she had been attacked by the small-pox. Luckily for the music-loving world, it turned out to be a false alarm. As the American Register delicately phrased it: "Upon the report of the medical staff of the theater it was proved that our fair countryman's alarm arose from those disagreeable harlequinings of the face which form now and again upon the human forehead to remind us that we are but mortal."

The Woman's Advocate expresses an Olive Logan view of the dress question. Our dress reformers are working against those dear, delightful accessories of dress, with a view to deprive every one. Ought they not to remember that "fine feathers make fine birds?" Strip the bright plumage from our birds of society, and what would you have left? Who wants to see a procession of gray-coated bipeds? Who wants to see a procession of "irrespective of age, sex or color?" We have said this so much when speaking of "rights" that there is danger of claiming too much, "irrespective of sex," etc.

Mrs. Mentia Taylor writes to the Woman's Journal: "It is very difficult for Americans to reach the standards in the path of an English woman. We are of a conservative nature—at every step conservative prejudice asserts itself. We are breaking down these prejudices. Women are lecturing in various parts of the country—in Scotland, in Newcastle, in Shields, Lynn in Norfolk, in Brighton, in Greenwhich, and in several towns in the north. At the meeting we held in London on the 20th of last month, at the Hanover Square Rooms, I took the chair, and Miss Taylor (sister of the late Miss Mrs. Grose, Mrs. Fawcett, and Miss Hare) all spoke. I will send you a report which is just what you need. Mrs. Taylor was the speaker of the meeting, and I think you will agree."

A correspondent of the German "return" paper, Dr. J. G. G. G., gives the following interesting account of European life. It is generally supposed in this country that the Germans are the most industrious and thrifty of the world: "Family life gets every day looser with us. Men spend their leisure time in public houses, and women associate with the lowest and roughest, and women more silly. In the south of Germany a man usually associates with his family. The same here on the Rhine. All the time I have been here, I have been invited out to most women, outside of my own talking staff. Two of my female friends have particularly talented husbands, but they cannot prevail on them to spend an evening at home. If I call in the daytime and meet them by accident, all very well. Do not imagine this to be domestic happiness. They have their own ways, and cannot alter. But this separation of the sexes in all that concerns public life and culture is a sad sign. If women had more self-esteem, they would not stand this treatment."

Annie Brewster, in a recent letter from Rome, says: At Florence, last September, a project was formed for a national exposition of works of female labor. Some of the most distinguished persons in the city have consented since the movement was made to join on the committee. Prince Poniatowski is President of one committee, and Princess Poniatowska is Vice President of the Female Council. The committees have asked and obtained the support of the government. The Minister of Agriculture and Commerce has offered his patronage and counsel. All the precepts and synods have been applied in order to have their help in forming sub-committees throughout the kingdom. The hope is, that through this movement national industry shall receive important services from the activity and intelligence of Italian women.

Sound Ethics.

The New York World of Wednesday in an article headed "The Ethics of a Nauseum," in the course of which it reads: "Society is a very severe lesson for its part in the disgusting drama, quoted in the preceding column, the comments following: 'Finally, brethren,' said the chief of the apostles, 'whosoever things are, whosoever things are honest, whatever things are true, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, if there be any praise, think on these things.' This is perhaps one of the most beautiful ethical exhortations that ever fell from the pen of inspiration. It is founded on the tendency of the mind to grow into the likeness of what it habitually contemplates and dwells upon. Manners are cultivated by intercourse with refined society; taste, by familiarity with the best models in art and literature; morals, by companionship with the pure and good; heroism, by the great examples of nobleness; sanctity, by meditating on the beauty of holiness.

Somebody states that $50,000,000 have been sunk in journalistic enterprises in New York city, and we have no doubt it is true. Yet, in the face of this statement, men can be daily encountered who are anxious to "start" newspapers.

PRESBYTERIAN.

Second Day's Proceedings of General Assembly Sitting at Louisville.

Compiled from the Louisville Courier-Journal.

On the first day of the meeting of the General Assembly nothing of interest beyond organization transpired.

On the second day (Friday last) the Moderator, after an extensive religious services, announced the standing committees.

A communication from a minister of the Presbytery of Cherokee inquiring into the propriety of relinquishing his ministerial office was referred to the Committee on Bills and Ordinances.

Rev. Dr. J. J. Lyon stated that a memorial from the Synod of Georgia, in relation to a university, would be presented to the Assembly, and he wished that it, together with all other papers upon the same subject, be made a special order of business for the 21st, 22d, and 23d of October.

The Executive Committee of Publication presented their ninth annual report, which they extend to the following statistics: "The receipts from the sale of books have been $21,214.77, from subscriptions to the Children's Friend $1,000.00, from contributions by the churches $341.90, balance on hand at last report $2,416.66, total $24,972.27. To be paid to account for $3,577.30. In the meantime, our expenses for stock have been $22,384.96, for printing Children's Friend $1,000.00, for other contributions including salaries, rent, postage, insurance, stationery, etc. $1,144.00. This leaves a balance in the treasury of $1,487.31. Bills payable by the committee on the first of May are $1,414.77, which sum deducted from the balance on hand leaves a total cash balance of $362.54 over and above the claim resting on the committee. So that we have now the pleasure of Dr. Palmer, the report which has rested on us for three years has wholly disappeared, and that there is a small cash balance on hand, and that we are enabled to meet our existing contracts, and to prevent the likelihood of present embarrassment."

In addition to the books, $21,214.77, and receipts on account of the Children's Friend, $1,000.00, donations of books and tracts have been made the past year to the amount of $1,144.00. The total cash balance of $362.54 over and above the claim resting on the committee. So that we have now the pleasure of Dr. Palmer, the report which has rested on us for three years has wholly disappeared, and that there is a small cash balance on hand, and that we are enabled to meet our existing contracts, and to prevent the likelihood of present embarrassment."

A large number of overtures from Presbyteries, praying for a change of boundaries, for facilities for the statistics, etc., etc., were received, read and referred to the appropriate committees.

An overture relating to the new Book of Church Order and Discipline brought Rev. Dr. J. J. Lyon to his feet with a motion to dispense with the reading of it at this time, and that they be referred to a special committee of five to be appointed by the chair.

The Moderator said he regarded this committee as a very important one, and that he believed it would be the most vital importance to the Assembly and to the church. He therefore respectfully asked the Assembly to refer this matter to a special committee of five to be appointed by the chair.

Rev. Dr. Palmer thought that the Assembly ought not to act precipitately in a matter of this kind, and therefore moved that the committee be referred to a special committee of five to be appointed by the chair.

Rev. Dr. Robinson suggested the propriety of allowing the committee to receive outside information and to judge of its reliability; also allowing volunteer commissions, who choose to make an informal report, to do so in writing.

Rev. Dr. Hopkins said that the Assembly could get no legal information outside of certain prescribed channels. Any information which might be derived from outside sources would be of no value, and could not be admitted. He understood that to be the decision of the Moderator, and it was certainly according to custom and law.

Rev. Dr. Lyon said that he fully concurred in the remarks of Dr. Hopkins. He did not think the Assembly could take this step without impugning upon dangerous ground.

The motion of Dr. Robinson was rejected.

The Chair then announced the following:

Committee on the Book of Discipline: Rev. Dr. B. M. Palmer, D. D., Rev. J. A. Lyon, D. D., Rev. Stuart Johnson, D. D., Dr. W. L. Prine, Mr. J. L. Campbell.

NORTHERN METHODIST CHURCH.

Sabb Judgment Made on Dr. Lannahan, of the Book Concern.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

New York, May 28.—The preliminary steps toward the ecclesiastical trial of the Rev. Dr. Lannahan, Jr., agent of the Methodist Episcopal Book Concern, of which I telegraphed you on Wednesday last, have been taken, and taken in an unexpected way. It seems that the two or three hundred acting as leaders of the book room ring, after the result of fair play which the presence of the bishops at the trial would be certain to insure to the accused, determined to inflict what punishment lay in their power before any legal check to it should be applied. The members of the Book Concern were summoned by telegraph in hot haste to assemble in New York to consider the charges against Dr. Lannahan, and on probable cause, decree his official suspension pending the trial.

The committee met yesterday morning in secret session. Five or six charges with twenty or thirty specifications were submitted against Dr. Lannahan and considered by the committee, but without any conclusion being reached. Another session was held to-day, some fifteen or twenty in number, and it is understood to have been expressed as to the expediency of issuing an order of suspension, but this is thought to be only by-play, and when the proper time comes the ring-masters will bring their men to the point and accomplish the purpose for which they were brought together.

The suspension was undoubtedly determined upon before the meeting was called, as certainly has been ascertained by the members of the committee who were present before the trial, and who heard a particle of the evidence. There is a great deal of indignation at the unanimity with which the press of the country sustain the minority and denounce the ring; but it is thought by Methodists here, as well as by the public generally, that the committee are not taking a course which will tend to change public opinion or commend their own policy of purpose to public confidence.

Drowned.

LOWELL, MASS., May 22.—A son of Martin Gallagher, eight years old, accidentally drowned in this city yesterday.

Faustian in Boston.

BOSTON, May 22.—The Fenians of this city are holding meetings nightly and intimate that the raid on Canada is soon to take place. Recruits and money are plentiful.

Label Sell.

DAVENPORT, May 22.—The libel suit of Thomas S. Flude, ex-treasurer of Scott county, against the Davenport Journal, claiming $1,000, has been closed, the defendants admitted the libel but plead mitigation and justification. The jury gave a verdict of $100 for plaintiff.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Bill to Enforce XVth Amendment.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bill which passed the Senate at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, after a continuous session of eighteen hours, to enforce the XVth Amendment, is of such a stringent character that it is not acceptable to the supporters of the original measure which passed the House, and when it is taken up a non-concurrence will be moved. One of the remarkable features of the bill is contained in the eighth section, which gives the U. S. Marshal power to call the courts into session in any State or Territory to assist them in case of resistance. The Republican members of the House declare that this provision is unconstitutional, and that the Constitution that they will not vote for it.

Assault of Foreney.

Foreney promised an assault on the Republican Senators by the Judiciary Committee of the Senate. The article appeared to-day, and fully denounces them personally and politically, declaring that they are sympathizers of the rebels of the South and associates of the Whomans of the North, but fails utterly to refute the conclusions of the addressal committee. The Whomans of the North, Governor Bullock to influence the vote of the Senate against Bingham's amendment. The other Republican members of the Judiciary Committee, not in the pastural work, were engaged in the work of the church, many, by paying the above mentioned sums for himself, establishing a claim for $20,000, which he has increased one-fourth, whether it be $100 or $300.

General Jordan ex-Cuban commander, is in the city. He had an interview with several members of the Executive Council, and succeeded in obtaining a promise that an important resolution would be introduced in the House which would give the Cuban people a right to the grant of belligerent rights to Cuba by this Government.

Rev. Dr. Palmer, the report which has rested on us for three years has wholly disappeared, and that there is a small cash balance on hand, and that we are enabled to meet our existing contracts, and to prevent the likelihood of present embarrassment."

In addition to the books, $21,214.77, and receipts on account of the Children's Friend, $1,000.00, donations of books and tracts have been made the past year to the amount of $1,144.00. The total cash balance of $362.54 over and above the claim resting on the committee. So that we have now the pleasure of Dr. Palmer, the report which has rested on us for three years has wholly disappeared, and that there is a small cash balance on hand, and that we are enabled to meet our existing contracts, and to prevent the likelihood of present embarrassment."

A large number of overtures from Presbyteries, praying for a change of boundaries, for facilities for the statistics, etc., etc., were received, read and referred to the appropriate committees.

An overture relating to the new Book of Church Order and Discipline brought Rev. Dr. J. J. Lyon to his feet with a motion to dispense with the reading of it at this time, and that they be referred to a special committee of five to be appointed by the chair.

The Moderator said he regarded this committee as a very important one, and that he believed it would be the most vital importance to the Assembly and to the church. He therefore respectfully asked the Assembly to refer this matter to a special committee of five to be appointed by the chair.

Rev. Dr. Palmer thought that the Assembly ought not to act precipitately in a matter of this kind, and therefore moved that the committee be referred to a special committee of five to be appointed by the chair.

Rev. Dr. Robinson suggested the propriety of allowing the committee to receive outside information and to judge of its reliability; also allowing volunteer commissions, who choose to make an informal report, to do so in writing.

Rev. Dr. Hopkins said that the Assembly could get no legal information outside of certain prescribed channels. Any information which might be derived from outside sources would be of no value, and could not be admitted. He understood that to be the decision of the Moderator, and it was certainly according to custom and law.

Rev. Dr. Lyon said that he fully concurred in the remarks of Dr. Hopkins. He did not think the Assembly could take this step without impugning upon dangerous ground.

The motion of Dr. Robinson was rejected.

The Chair then announced the following:

Committee on the Book of Discipline: Rev. Dr. B. M. Palmer, D. D., Rev. J. A. Lyon, D. D., Rev. Stuart Johnson, D. D., Dr. W. L. Prine, Mr. J. L. Campbell.

NORTHERN METHODIST CHURCH.

Sabb Judgment Made on Dr. Lannahan, of the Book Concern.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

New York, May 28.—The preliminary steps toward the ecclesiastical trial of the Rev. Dr. Lannahan, Jr., agent of the Methodist Episcopal Book Concern, of which I telegraphed you on Wednesday last, have been taken, and taken in an unexpected way. It seems that the two or three hundred acting as leaders of the book room ring, after the result of fair play which the presence of the bishops at the trial would be certain to insure to the accused, determined to inflict what punishment lay in their power before any legal check to it should be applied. The members of the Book Concern were summoned by telegraph in hot haste to assemble in New York to consider the charges against Dr. Lannahan, and on probable cause, decree his official suspension pending the trial.

The committee met yesterday morning in secret session. Five or six charges with twenty or thirty specifications were submitted against Dr. Lannahan and considered by the committee, but without any conclusion being reached. Another session was held to-day, some fifteen or twenty in number, and it is understood to have been expressed as to the expediency of issuing an order of suspension, but this is thought to be only by-play, and when the proper time comes the ring-masters will bring their men to the point and accomplish the purpose for which they were brought together.

The suspension was undoubtedly determined upon before the meeting was called, as certainly has been ascertained by the members of the committee who were present before the trial, and who heard a particle of the evidence. There is a great deal of indignation at the unanimity with which the press of the country sustain the minority and denounce the ring; but it is thought by Methodists here, as well as by the public generally, that the committee are not taking a course which will tend to change public opinion or commend their own policy of purpose to public confidence.

Drowned.

LOWELL, MASS., May 22.—A son of Martin Gallagher, eight years old, accidentally drowned in this city yesterday.

Faustian in Boston.

BOSTON, May 22.—The Fenians of this city are holding meetings nightly and intimate that the raid on Canada is soon to take place. Recruits and money are plentiful.

Label Sell.

DAVENPORT, May 22.—The libel suit of Thomas S. Flude, ex-treasurer of Scott county, against the Davenport Journal, claiming $1,000, has been closed, the defendants admitted the libel but plead mitigation and justification. The jury gave a verdict of $100 for plaintiff.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Senator Schuyler, of the Cuban Legion, publishes a card, warning persons against purchasing certified, fraudulent bonds of the Cuban Republic, and declares that they were issued by enemies to damage the cause of the Cubans.

James O'Connell entered Philip Stephenson's saloon, early this morning, and assaulted him, and was arrested, and on leaving the police station a man by the name of Thomas Conroy made a desperate lunge at Stephenson, swearing he would kill him. He, too, was arrested, and taken to the police station.

A policeman, late on Friday night, having heard screams, hurried to No. 12 pier, East river, and found a woman struggling with four men. He seized two of them. The woman broke away, rushed to the river, fell overboard, and sank instantly. The other two men held on to the pier.

They were arraigned yesterday. It is supposed they were endeavoring to outrage the woman, and important developments are expected. The police are endeavoring to establish and identify the drowned woman.

During the dense fog yesterday a ferryboat collided with a schooner. Twelve persons were seriously injured. The schooner was damaged.

The annual festival of the German Workmen's Union commences to-night, with addresses and musical entertainments, and continues till Saturday at Jones' Woods. The trades association composing the procession will parade through the city.

There are twenty-five daily newspapers now published in this city, of which fourteen are issued in the morning, eleven in the evening, and one in the afternoon. The circulation of the newspapers is large, and the quality of the printing is excellent.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army. The boats were loaded with provisions, and the crews were taken prisoner.

St. Louis, Mo., May 22.—Four quiet and little boats, which were on the river, were captured by the Union Army.