

MEMPHIS APPEAL

THURSDAY, MARCH 18, 1875.

JUSTICE TO THE NEGRO.

The civil rights bill was passed, not for the benefit of the colored race, but for partisan purposes. It was supposed that the passage of the bill would inaugurate a war of races in the south, and that the Radical party would profit by such a contest.

POWDER-MILL EXPLODED.

Two Men Killed Dead, and Several Others More or Less Injured—Immense Destruction of Property.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 16.—The Austin powder company's mills, located near the canal, five miles south of this city, blew this afternoon with a series of terrific explosions. The works, which were composed of ten or twelve buildings, were completely demolished.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

A St. Louis telegram panned out three times Tuesday.

Eleven prisoners escaped from the jail in St. Louis Sunday.

William's chandlery in Philadelphia burned Saturday night.

The Beecher trial is still in progress in the Brooklyn city courts.

Telegraph lines in Utah have been demolished by snowstorms.

Four of the Black Hill miners arrived in New York Saturday.

The steamer Republic, from Liverpool, arrived at New York Tuesday.

The steamer Hermann, from Bremen, arrived at New York Saturday.

The steamer City of Brooklyn, from New York, arrived at Queenstown Monday.

Little Cottonwood canon was rendered impassable Tuesday by two immense snowdrifts.

The United States steamer Pensacola, with King Kalakaua on board, has arrived.

A telegram from Cleveland, Ohio, says that no fears of high water there, either, are Mr. Afe's, the district attorney, followed in favor of the prosecution.

He spoke of the new era, the bow of promise, storm-clouds, etc., but did not cite any decisions except the case of Luther versus Borden.

Case held that the political department of the government having recognized a certain state government, the judicial department of the general government would not interfere.

The distinction was thin, but thin as it was he had to make it.

Luther versus Borden. This amounts to an admission not only that the civil rights bill was a political measure, but that every case under it is a political case.

Of course everybody knows that this is true, but the wonder is that a district attorney should admit it and actually argue it in court.

Only a new era has dawned upon our jurisprudence when such an argument is gravely and solemnly made by a district attorney. Mr. Clayton then followed, concluding the argument for the defense.

He cited several authorities for the position taken, including a recent decision made in the District of Columbia, winding up by quoting the eloquent language of Mr. Justice Miller, in concluding the decision of the slaughterhouse cases and paying a glowing tribute to the supreme court of the United States.

At the conclusion of Mr. Clayton's argument the court took an hour's recess, at the expiration of which, Mr. Dimmick, after the proceedings had been concluded, discharged the prisoners. Mr. Dimmick evidently regarded the law and his duty. This is the first case under the civil rights bill, and it will be seen from the report of the proceedings, resulted in an ignominious failure. All similar proceedings will share the same fate. We refer to this case simply to show to these colored people, who are hunting for an opportunity to make money out of the whites, that they will be disappointed.

CAPTAIN CLAY RICE.

There has been much unnecessary badinage in the local columns of the APPEAL about the Rice-M'Dowell imbroglio. We wish it distinctly understood that the APPEAL is not a party to the contest, and we especially desire that it be known that the Army in publishing the general news and developments in regard to this case, has intended no reflections upon Captain Clay Rice. We have known him from boyhood, and a nobler, better man never lived. He served for four years in the Confederate army, and was a true soldier on the march and in the deadly hal of battle. He surrendered and accepted his parole with honor unimpaired. Since that time he has been a useful and reliable citizen. He has been clerk and captain of first-class steamboats on the Mississippi river. In those positions his popularity has been unbounded. His gentlemanly deportment and suavely manners made him a universal favorite on the river. Circumstances, and his great popularity made him sheriff of Lincoln county, Arkansas. In the discharge of his official duties, he was forced to kill a desperado who resisted his official duties, and the grand jury of his country justified his action. Captain Clay Rice is connected with the most accomplished and elegant families of Tennessee, and is beloved on that account as well as his own. He is by na-

VEILING.

A convention between Cabrera and the Alfonsis is published. By its terms the Carlist towns, districts and provinces, situated within a month may retain all the special and local privileges enjoyed before the war, and any appointment to civil or military office, approved by our own policy, insurance will be accepted and confirmed by the Alfonsis.

THE DAYTON HOUSE.

The Dayton house, in Gloucester, Massachusetts, a large three-story wooden building, was destroyed by fire Monday morning. Most of the furniture and personal effects of the boarders were burned, and so rapid was the spread of the flames that the occupants of the building escaped with great difficulty.

THE ITALIAN MURDERERS.

St. Louis, March 16.—Angelo Russo, one of the Italians arrested yesterday at Belleville, Illinois, for the murder of Francisco Palermo, made a statement to the chief of police this morning to the effect that he and the other four were sentenced to kill them; that he came up, and drew two revolvers and began firing on them. Antonio, Calabro and Santo Mallo returned the fire. Russo then ran away and claims not to know whether any other shots were fired. He also stated that Palermo had threatened to kill them; that he was looking for them when they were waiting for Palermo, and that they expected to see a fight. There is no doubt but that these men are the murderers of Palermo.
