

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

WASHINGTON, July 1 a.m. For Tennessee, the Ohio valley and the lake region, falling rain, southerly winds, moderate, generally cloudy weather and rain or snow.

The jury could not reach a verdict in Beecher's case. The public have. The public everywhere outside of Plymouth church believe him guilty.

The Nashville cotton exchange furnishes this morning additional and gratifying evidence that the growing cotton and other crops promise an abundant yield.

The proceedings of the inter-State educational convention, now in session at Chattanooga, will prove of interest to all who are friends of popular education. They will be found in another column.

COLONEL JAMES E. BAILEY, of Clarksville, who is a candidate for the United States senate in room of Mr. Cooper, has accepted an invitation to address the citizens of Washington county at Johnson, August 9th, on the industrial interests of that section of the State.

The Beecher trial is over. The jury failed to disagree and have been discharged. Plymouth Church and Beecher are happy. But the end is not yet. There will be another trial of Beecher, and trials of Tilton, of Tracy, of Moulton, of Sherman and others, and we shall have the fifth relished and served up with all the original nastiness. But that, let us hope, will be some months away.

A CIRCULAR informs us that the executive committee of the National Grange meets in Washington to-day, for the purpose of determining where the headquarters of the latter shall be located. It will also consider the proposition received from the Grange societies of Great Britain, relative to the establishing of an international system of exchange between these societies and the granges.

The Jackson Courier tells us that Ex-Governor Whitfield was buried with the rites of the ancient and honorable order of the Masonic brotherhood. He was born in Albemarle county, Georgia, December 1, 1791, and had, therefore, reached the ripe old age of eighty-four years. He served his day and generation faithfully. In all the relations of life he was exemplary and faithful and true. He bore his part in the war of 1812, and when he came to reside in Mississippi he was called by the people to serve them in high positions of honor and authority for a time in the executive office, in virtue of his position as president of the senate. His death has severed another link which connected the memories of the glorious past with the realities of the present and the hopes of the future.

The trustees of the Southwest Baptist university, at Jackson, Tennessee, held their first annual meeting in Jackson this week. On the first of July, the university college, the academic department and law school were established, and the following faculty elected, viz: Rev. Dr. William Shelton, D. D., president. In the academic department, John G. Dupree, A. B., principal. In the law school, Rev. William Shelton, D. D., professor of natural science; G. W. Jarman, A. M., professor of ancient languages; E. C. Tully, A. M., professor of mathematics; R. W. Jones, A. B., professor of English literature. In the law school, Judge T. J. Freeman, Judge Howell E. Jackson and General A. W. Campbell, professors. The commencement exercises were very creditable, and the prospects of the new and only university in West Tennessee are quite hopeful.

NOTHING can be more gratifying than the warm and generous reception given the American republic by the people of Dublin. The ancient capital of Ireland has fairly collapsed her old renown by the hospitalities and attentions showered by her people upon our countrymen. The representative of Queen Victoria, the mayors of London and York, as well as of Dublin, the general and other officers of the army, civil and military, of every grade, dignitaries of all the churches, the Protestants and the officers and fellows of Trinity university—all and all have vied in what was no doubt a labor of love, illustrating with a wealth of generosity no where else possible, the far-famed hospitality of Ireland. The people were, of course, all enthusiastic, and greeted the stars and stripes with stormy cheers, and Americans, whether of the shooting party or not, were made to feel that they were in the home of their friends. And this is that the friendships of nations, as of sections, are cemented and brotherly love perpetuated.

The Central Catholic is the name of a paper published at Indianapolis, of which Dr. Rogers, formerly of this city, is the editor. It is an organ of the Catholic church, and is destined to take high rank among the journals which are the expositors and defenders of that profession of faith. The editor, indicating his methods and purposes, says:

Some of our readers would prefer a circulating and apologetic course in the midst of the dangers which threaten our churches, and we have not the editor of the Central Catholic, an American by birth, whose ancestors and kindred watched the thirteen colonies with their own eyes, a convert to the Catholic faith, who, twenty-five years an Episcopal clergyman, and studying these dark questions in the library of the Vatican, saw the same errors, errors which are now near his blood and a thousandfold more certain, and peace, remain silent and simply lay for quarters at the hands of a misapprehended and injured man. Our paper may, in my own country, and will strike down, if I can, the misapprehension that strikes my neighbor. It is impossible to move against Dukk, Indians and misapprehensions successfully by scientific means.

Fayetteville Democrat: Judge Walker might in a few days since some specimens of his present crop of wheat, rye and timothy, and we were sure the assertion that they cannot be beat in the State. We hope the judge will send specimens to Little Rock, to contest for exhibition at the centennial.

BEECHER.

The Agony Over—The Jury Come into Court and Agree that They Cannot Agree, and are Discharged.

A New Trial to be Moved for, and a Change of Venue by Beecher's Counsel—The Jury and Mrs. Beecher.

Moulton's Card and the Leader-Price Suit—Jury Rumors—Scene Last Night in Plymouth Lecture-Room—Beecher's Talk.

New York, July 2.—The Beecher jury falling sick, have been discharged. The jury stood nine for Beecher to three for Tilton. The courtroom was densely packed.

Early this morning the jury in the case of Theodore Tilton against Rev. Henry Ward Beecher breakfasted and then proceeded to the courtroom. It was impossible for them to agree. The judge returned answer that he would be at the court at ten o'clock, and would read for counsel and communicate with the jury at that hour. His honor then stepped into his private room. There were then ten men in court, nearly as many as in the courtroom, and the judge returned to the courtroom at ten o'clock, and the jury was then discharged.

THE BEECHER TRIAL IS OVER. The jury failed to disagree and have been discharged. Plymouth Church and Beecher are happy. But the end is not yet. There will be another trial of Beecher, and trials of Tilton, of Tracy, of Moulton, of Sherman and others, and we shall have the fifth relished and served up with all the original nastiness. But that, let us hope, will be some months away.

A CIRCULAR informs us that the executive committee of the National Grange meets in Washington to-day, for the purpose of determining where the headquarters of the latter shall be located. It will also consider the proposition received from the Grange societies of Great Britain, relative to the establishing of an international system of exchange between these societies and the granges.

The Jackson Courier tells us that Ex-Governor Whitfield was buried with the rites of the ancient and honorable order of the Masonic brotherhood. He was born in Albemarle county, Georgia, December 1, 1791, and had, therefore, reached the ripe old age of eighty-four years. He served his day and generation faithfully. In all the relations of life he was exemplary and faithful and true. He bore his part in the war of 1812, and when he came to reside in Mississippi he was called by the people to serve them in high positions of honor and authority for a time in the executive office, in virtue of his position as president of the senate. His death has severed another link which connected the memories of the glorious past with the realities of the present and the hopes of the future.

The trustees of the Southwest Baptist university, at Jackson, Tennessee, held their first annual meeting in Jackson this week. On the first of July, the university college, the academic department and law school were established, and the following faculty elected, viz: Rev. Dr. William Shelton, D. D., president. In the academic department, John G. Dupree, A. B., principal. In the law school, Rev. William Shelton, D. D., professor of natural science; G. W. Jarman, A. M., professor of ancient languages; E. C. Tully, A. M., professor of mathematics; R. W. Jones, A. B., professor of English literature. In the law school, Judge T. J. Freeman, Judge Howell E. Jackson and General A. W. Campbell, professors. The commencement exercises were very creditable, and the prospects of the new and only university in West Tennessee are quite hopeful.

NOTHING can be more gratifying than the warm and generous reception given the American republic by the people of Dublin. The ancient capital of Ireland has fairly collapsed her old renown by the hospitalities and attentions showered by her people upon our countrymen. The representative of Queen Victoria, the mayors of London and York, as well as of Dublin, the general and other officers of the army, civil and military, of every grade, dignitaries of all the churches, the Protestants and the officers and fellows of Trinity university—all and all have vied in what was no doubt a labor of love, illustrating with a wealth of generosity no where else possible, the far-famed hospitality of Ireland. The people were, of course, all enthusiastic, and greeted the stars and stripes with stormy cheers, and Americans, whether of the shooting party or not, were made to feel that they were in the home of their friends. And this is that the friendships of nations, as of sections, are cemented and brotherly love perpetuated.

The Central Catholic is the name of a paper published at Indianapolis, of which Dr. Rogers, formerly of this city, is the editor. It is an organ of the Catholic church, and is destined to take high rank among the journals which are the expositors and defenders of that profession of faith. The editor, indicating his methods and purposes, says:

Some of our readers would prefer a circulating and apologetic course in the midst of the dangers which threaten our churches, and we have not the editor of the Central Catholic, an American by birth, whose ancestors and kindred watched the thirteen colonies with their own eyes, a convert to the Catholic faith, who, twenty-five years an Episcopal clergyman, and studying these dark questions in the library of the Vatican, saw the same errors, errors which are now near his blood and a thousandfold more certain, and peace, remain silent and simply lay for quarters at the hands of a misapprehended and injured man. Our paper may, in my own country, and will strike down, if I can, the misapprehension that strikes my neighbor. It is impossible to move against Dukk, Indians and misapprehensions successfully by scientific means.

Fayetteville Democrat: Judge Walker might in a few days since some specimens of his present crop of wheat, rye and timothy, and we were sure the assertion that they cannot be beat in the State. We hope the judge will send specimens to Little Rock, to contest for exhibition at the centennial.

EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION.

First Day's Proceedings of the Inter-State Convention of Teachers, Superintendents and Principals of Schools.

Seven States Represented—Large Delegation from Tennessee—Opening Address by Prof. Harris, of St. Louis.

An Able Argument for Public Education—Debate Participated in by Leading Gentlemen Present—The Next Day's Program.

Nashville Union and American. CHATTANOOGA, June 30.—Perhaps no convention in the history of Tennessee was so important as that which met in Chattanooga yesterday, and is still in session here to-day. It is the inter-State convention of teachers, superintendents and principals of schools. It is a large attendance of teachers and educators from almost every section of the country.

Dr. Lindsey was elected temporary chairman, and D. H. Rainey, editor of the Tennessee Journal of Education, temporary secretary. Dr. Lindsey thought the permanent secretary should be from some other section of the State. Dr. Lindsey thought the permanent secretary should be from some other section of the State. Dr. Lindsey thought the permanent secretary should be from some other section of the State.

THE DELEGATES. Alabama—G. A. Woodard, Selma. Georgia—J. N. Bradshaw, president of the convention, and J. B. Covington, A. J. Robert, principal of Hill academy; B. Mallon, superintendent of public schools; De La, Atlanta; A. S. Tompkins, president of Cherokee Baptist female college, Rome; Mrs. E. E. Caldwell, teacher in the public schools; P. H. Green, Kentucky—Mr. J. Davis, Home and Lewisville. Missouri—William T. Harris, superintendent of public schools, St. Louis.

THE DELEGATES. Tennessee—Dr. J. B. Lindsey, president of the convention, and J. B. Covington, A. J. Robert, principal of Hill academy; B. Mallon, superintendent of public schools; De La, Atlanta; A. S. Tompkins, president of Cherokee Baptist female college, Rome; Mrs. E. E. Caldwell, teacher in the public schools; P. H. Green, Kentucky—Mr. J. Davis, Home and Lewisville. Missouri—William T. Harris, superintendent of public schools, St. Louis.

THE DELEGATES. Tennessee—Dr. J. B. Lindsey, president of the convention, and J. B. Covington, A. J. Robert, principal of Hill academy; B. Mallon, superintendent of public schools; De La, Atlanta; A. S. Tompkins, president of Cherokee Baptist female college, Rome; Mrs. E. E. Caldwell, teacher in the public schools; P. H. Green, Kentucky—Mr. J. Davis, Home and Lewisville. Missouri—William T. Harris, superintendent of public schools, St. Louis.

THE DELEGATES. Tennessee—Dr. J. B. Lindsey, president of the convention, and J. B. Covington, A. J. Robert, principal of Hill academy; B. Mallon, superintendent of public schools; De La, Atlanta; A. S. Tompkins, president of Cherokee Baptist female college, Rome; Mrs. E. E. Caldwell, teacher in the public schools; P. H. Green, Kentucky—Mr. J. Davis, Home and Lewisville. Missouri—William T. Harris, superintendent of public schools, St. Louis.

EDUCATIONAL CONVENTION.

First Day's Proceedings of the Inter-State Convention of Teachers, Superintendents and Principals of Schools.

Seven States Represented—Large Delegation from Tennessee—Opening Address by Prof. Harris, of St. Louis.

An Able Argument for Public Education—Debate Participated in by Leading Gentlemen Present—The Next Day's Program.

Nashville Union and American. CHATTANOOGA, June 30.—Perhaps no convention in the history of Tennessee was so important as that which met in Chattanooga yesterday, and is still in session here to-day. It is the inter-State convention of teachers, superintendents and principals of schools. It is a large attendance of teachers and educators from almost every section of the country.

Dr. Lindsey was elected temporary chairman, and D. H. Rainey, editor of the Tennessee Journal of Education, temporary secretary. Dr. Lindsey thought the permanent secretary should be from some other section of the State. Dr. Lindsey thought the permanent secretary should be from some other section of the State. Dr. Lindsey thought the permanent secretary should be from some other section of the State.

THE DELEGATES. Alabama—G. A. Woodard, Selma. Georgia—J. N. Bradshaw, president of the convention, and J. B. Covington, A. J. Robert, principal of Hill academy; B. Mallon, superintendent of public schools; De La, Atlanta; A. S. Tompkins, president of Cherokee Baptist female college, Rome; Mrs. E. E. Caldwell, teacher in the public schools; P. H. Green, Kentucky—Mr. J. Davis, Home and Lewisville. Missouri—William T. Harris, superintendent of public schools, St. Louis.

THE DELEGATES. Tennessee—Dr. J. B. Lindsey, president of the convention, and J. B. Covington, A. J. Robert, principal of Hill academy; B. Mallon, superintendent of public schools; De La, Atlanta; A. S. Tompkins, president of Cherokee Baptist female college, Rome; Mrs. E. E. Caldwell, teacher in the public schools; P. H. Green, Kentucky—Mr. J. Davis, Home and Lewisville. Missouri—William T. Harris, superintendent of public schools, St. Louis.

THE DELEGATES. Tennessee—Dr. J. B. Lindsey, president of the convention, and J. B. Covington, A. J. Robert, principal of Hill academy; B. Mallon, superintendent of public schools; De La, Atlanta; A. S. Tompkins, president of Cherokee Baptist female college, Rome; Mrs. E. E. Caldwell, teacher in the public schools; P. H. Green, Kentucky—Mr. J. Davis, Home and Lewisville. Missouri—William T. Harris, superintendent of public schools, St. Louis.

THE DELEGATES. Tennessee—Dr. J. B. Lindsey, president of the convention, and J. B. Covington, A. J. Robert, principal of Hill academy; B. Mallon, superintendent of public schools; De La, Atlanta; A. S. Tompkins, president of Cherokee Baptist female college, Rome; Mrs. E. E. Caldwell, teacher in the public schools; P. H. Green, Kentucky—Mr. J. Davis, Home and Lewisville. Missouri—William T. Harris, superintendent of public schools, St. Louis.

HOME TELEGRAMS.

The Fourth of July will be celebrated at Omaha, Nebraska, to-day.

The steamer Federalist, from Antwerp, arrived at Philadelphia yesterday.

The boy-murderer will be hung, the governor of Massachusetts having returned to the state.

The entire village of Madison, Jefferson county, Nebraska, was totally destroyed by a tornado on Saturday. The village was situated on a hill, and the tornado struck it from the north, and all that remained of the village was a few ruins.

The address of Prof. A. W. Harris, a leading educator, was given at the convention. He spoke of the importance of public education, and of the need of a more liberal and practical system of education. He said that the people of this country were not doing enough for their children, and that the government should take more interest in the education of the young.

THE DELEGATES. Alabama—G. A. Woodard, Selma. Georgia—J. N. Bradshaw, president of the convention, and J. B. Covington, A. J. Robert, principal of Hill academy; B. Mallon, superintendent of public schools; De La, Atlanta; A. S. Tompkins, president of Cherokee Baptist female college, Rome; Mrs. E. E. Caldwell, teacher in the public schools; P. H. Green, Kentucky—Mr. J. Davis, Home and Lewisville. Missouri—William T. Harris, superintendent of public schools, St. Louis.

THE DELEGATES. Tennessee—Dr. J. B. Lindsey, president of the convention, and J. B. Covington, A. J. Robert, principal of Hill academy; B. Mallon, superintendent of public schools; De La, Atlanta; A. S. Tompkins, president of Cherokee Baptist female college, Rome; Mrs. E. E. Caldwell, teacher in the public schools; P. H. Green, Kentucky—Mr. J. Davis, Home and Lewisville. Missouri—William T. Harris, superintendent of public schools, St. Louis.

THE DELEGATES. Tennessee—Dr. J. B. Lindsey, president of the convention, and J. B. Covington, A. J. Robert, principal of Hill academy; B. Mallon, superintendent of public schools; De La, Atlanta; A. S. Tompkins, president of Cherokee Baptist female college, Rome; Mrs. E. E. Caldwell, teacher in the public schools; P. H. Green, Kentucky—Mr. J. Davis, Home and Lewisville. Missouri—William T. Harris, superintendent of public schools, St. Louis.

THE DELEGATES. Tennessee—Dr. J. B. Lindsey, president of the convention, and J. B. Covington, A. J. Robert, principal of Hill academy; B. Mallon, superintendent of public schools; De La, Atlanta; A. S. Tompkins, president of Cherokee Baptist female college, Rome; Mrs. E. E. Caldwell, teacher in the public schools; P. H. Green, Kentucky—Mr. J. Davis, Home and Lewisville. Missouri—William T. Harris, superintendent of public schools, St. Louis.

ADDITIONAL RIVER REPORTS.

FAYETTEVILLE, July 2.—Night—River rising slowly, with 3 feet 8 inches water in the channel. Weather cloudy and cool.

CHATTANOOGA, July 2.—Night—River rising slowly, with 12 feet 9 inches in the channel. Weather cloudy and pleasant.

MEMPHIS BUILDING AND SAVINGS ASSOCIATION. THE MEMPHIS BUILDING AND SAVINGS ASSOCIATION, organized in 1852, has the honor to announce that the annual meeting of the association will be held on Monday, July 27th, at 10 o'clock, at the Chamber of Commerce.

CONSTABLE'S SALE. Saturday Morning, July 3d, at 10 o'clock, A. M. H. STODOLAR, Constable. The Furniture, Bedstead, Groceries, &c.

WHEAT. WE will pay the highest cash price for Wheat. Bunches furnished on application. 222 Front Street.

ST. PETER'S ORPHAN ASYLUM. PICNIC, JULY 5, 1875. A telegram from London says that the British government is still slowly improving. The steamships Cornwall and Scythia, from New York, and Ohio, from Baltimore, arrived at New York yesterday.

JAMES PARK. A telegram from Bern says the national council has voted twenty-five thousand francs to defray the expenses of the representation of Swiss provinces and industries in the Philadelphia centennial exhibition.

ARKANSAS NEWS. Russellville has a telegraph. Ozark has cavalry-militia drill. Arkansas has fifty-two newspapers. Arkansas has twelve lawyers and eight doctors. Ozark is enjoying badly, despite the warm weather.

S. VENDIG'S 226 Main St. WILL OFFER GREAT BARGAINS THIS WEEK IN STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS!

S. VENDIG, 226 Main Street, Sole Coleman's CELEBRATED ROSA CONCHA CIGARS. Reduced to 25¢ per Hundred.

R. L. Cochran & Co. LUMBER, DOORS, Sash and Blinds. Office and Yards, Fort Washington 31

FURNITURE, CARPETS, ETC., AT COST. In order to reduce our stock previous to our annual stock-taking in July, we will sell FURNITURE, CARPETS, ETC., AT COST FOR CASH.

STOCK COMPLETE IN EVERY DEPARTMENT. BRYSON & CAMP, 228 MAIN STREET, 228.

CHICKASAW IRON WORKS. RANDLE, HEATH & LIVERMORE. PROPRIETORS. NO. 98 SECOND STREET, MEMPHIS.

COOK & HEATH'S Improved Fall Cuffs, Doors and Windows. All kinds of Machinery, Pumps and Repairs. Orders collected and promptly executed. Cash paid for old Iron, Brass and Copper.

ADDITIONAL RIVER REPORTS.

FAYETTEVILLE, July 2.—Night—River rising slowly, with 3 feet 8 inches water in the channel. Weather cloudy and cool.

CHATTANOOGA, July 2.—Night—River rising slowly, with 12 feet 9 inches in the channel. Weather cloudy and pleasant.

MEMPHIS BUILDING AND SAVINGS ASSOCIATION. THE MEMPHIS BUILDING AND SAVINGS ASSOCIATION, organized in 1852, has the honor to announce that the annual meeting of the association will be held on Monday, July 27th, at 10 o'clock, at the Chamber of Commerce.

CONSTABLE'S SALE. Saturday Morning, July 3d, at 10 o'clock, A. M. H. STODOLAR, Constable. The Furniture, Bedstead, Groceries, &c.

WHEAT. WE will pay the highest cash price for Wheat. Bunches furnished on application. 222 Front Street.

ST. PETER'S ORPHAN ASYLUM. PICNIC, JULY 5, 1875. A telegram from London says that the British government is still slowly improving. The steamships Cornwall and Scythia, from New York, and Ohio, from Baltimore, arrived at New York yesterday.

JAMES PARK. A telegram from Bern says the national council has voted twenty-five thousand francs to defray the expenses of the representation of Swiss provinces and industries in the Philadelphia centennial exhibition.

ARKANSAS NEWS. Russellville has a telegraph. Ozark has cavalry-militia drill. Arkansas has fifty-two newspapers. Arkansas has twelve lawyers and eight doctors. Ozark is enjoying badly, despite the warm weather.

S. VENDIG'S 226 Main St. WILL OFFER GREAT BARGAINS THIS WEEK IN STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS!

S. VENDIG, 226 Main Street, Sole Coleman's CELEBRATED ROSA CONCHA CIGARS. Reduced to 25¢ per Hundred.

R. L. Cochran & Co. LUMBER, DOORS, Sash and Blinds. Office and Yards, Fort Washington 31

FURNITURE, CARPETS, ETC., AT COST. In order to reduce our stock previous to our annual stock-taking in July, we will sell FURNITURE, CARPETS, ETC., AT COST FOR CASH.

STOCK COMPLETE IN EVERY DEPARTMENT. BRYSON & CAMP, 228 MAIN STREET, 228.

CHICKASAW IRON WORKS. RANDLE, HEATH & LIVERMORE. PROPRIETORS. NO. 98 SECOND STREET, MEMPHIS.

COOK & HEATH'S Improved Fall Cuffs, Doors and Windows. All kinds of Machinery, Pumps and Repairs. Orders collected and promptly executed. Cash paid for old Iron, Brass and Copper.