

MEMPHIS APPEAL

GALLAWAY & KEATING.

22 SECOND STREET.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Daily, one month, by mail, $1.00; one month, by express, $1.25; three months, by mail, $2.50; six months, by mail, $4.50; one year, by mail, $8.00; one year, by express, $10.00.

ADVERTISING: First insertion, per line, $1.00; subsequent insertions, per line, 50 cents; long advertisements, by special arrangement.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR MAYOR: HON. JOHN R. FLIPPIN.

SEND THE NEWS TO GRANT.

Two years ago Barbour Lewis telegraphed to Grant that John Loague, a Radical, had been elected mayor of Memphis.

He is now working day and night for the re-election of his Radical friend, and should Loague be re-elected he will send the news to Grant as a Radical victory and as an indication of the return of Barbour Lewis to congress.

Should Judge Flippin be defeated, Memphis is left to the Democracy. And will not such a conclusion, whether correct or not, work inconceivable injury to the cause everywhere? For this reason alone, if no better existed, every Democrat should on Thursday give his party nominee not only his vote, but a vigorous, active support.

A Radical victory on Thursday will inspire the party with a hope of success in future elections. This is no time for Barbour Lewis to have cause for the encouragement of Grant and Radicalism. The people of Memphis should take care to make the victory of reforms and the return of Barbour Lewis and Grantism so decisive that the blindest partisan will not be able to misunderstand their purpose.

Two years ago the Radical party in Memphis was defeated, and with the wreckage of an indignant people. What has it done since then that public opinion should be reversed? Is the same party, with the same corruptors and the same Barbour Lewis as its unscrupulous leader. There can be no objection to John R. Flippin. Is he not thoroughly identified with the city's best interests as a citizen of many years residence; as a tax-payer, and above all, a good citizen and an incorruptible judge? Can anybody doubt that he will make a safe mayor? No valid objections can be raised against him. We appeal to the tax-payers of Memphis, and to all persons interested in the good name of our city and its business property, to rally to the support of Judge Flippin.

The contractors, the placemen, and the world tricksters, who are anxious to faction their clutches deep into the pockets of tax-payers, are working for Loague with all the energy which the hope of gain inspires, and it is high time for good men to combine. The day of indifference, of quiet folding of the hands while the placemen are busy, of absenteeism from the polls while the incapables and the reckless are working for plunder, is over. The city of Memphis must be redeemed from the thrall of the Radical rule, from the clutches of the despicable ring which has appropriated out of all the offices, and are working for plunder instead of the great interests of the city.

BARBOUR LEWIS AND BARBOUR LEWIS. Barbour Lewis is endeavoring to array the colored population of this city against the white people in the approaching municipal election, by attempting to arouse their prejudices and inflame their passions. There should be no color-line in elections. Suppose he should succeed in electing Judge Flippin for mayor, of what value is no probability, how long would he last be identified? Who give those colored people employment, and aid them in business? Barbour Lewis and his race? If the colored people listen to the insidious teachings of Barbour Lewis, and place themselves in opposition to the great body of the white voters, what right have they to expect the friendship and support of the white people, whose rights and interests they will totally disregard? The language used by Ezekiel Henley, one of their own race, identified with them much more, in interest and feeling, than Barbour Lewis, is worthy of their serious consideration. We hope every colored man in the city will read his admirable address, and lay to heart his sincere, well-meant and earnest advice. If they will not, how will they not care for their own color? Listen to what he says:

Your interests and that of the white people are identical. Whatever benefits them will benefit you, and on the other hand whatever injures the colored people will injure you. Good, pure and economical government will benefit all races and all classes. If the white people are procedurally above and beyond the reach of the present law, the tendency to perpetuate its use in the fashion indicated will be more general than ever before, unless something is done to prevent it. Who will second the motion?—New York Christian Union.

We trust Mr. Lamar, when he gets back to his place in the house, will promptly offer such a resolution as is suggested in the above paragraph. The flag of the republic ought to be as sacredly above and beyond the reach of the present law, the tendency to perpetuate its use in the fashion indicated will be more general than ever before, unless something is done to prevent it. Who will second the motion?—New York Christian Union.

The New York Tribune says, in regard to the election of Mr. Lamar to the United States senate, that "it will do much to redeem his section from the unworthy position it has occupied in the higher branch of the national legislature since the close of the war. In the old times the south had in the senate men who commanded at least the respect of their northern associates by their brains, if not by their politics. Of late southern senators have rarely been above contempt. Mr. Lamar is a splendid exception to a reconstructed rebel. He fought us bravely, submitted honestly, showed in his manly eulogy on Charles Sumner how well he appreciated the virtues and comprehended the moral elevation of some of the leaders on the side that won our great conflict, and throughout his service in the house behaved like an honest man, a patriot and a capable legislator. We welcome the day when the south begins to place such men in her highest positions."

AND NOW COMES SICHES, memorable for his vindictive reconstruction of South Carolina; and he is the most unblinking rogue of them all. Recently, he accepted the salary of an agent of the Remington arms company, of New York, the burden of his complaint being that while he was United States minister to Spain, Norris, as the agent of the company, asked him to get a contract from the Spanish government for a certain, or uncertain, quantity of the Remington goods, he to receive from the company a liberal percentage—we believe all over four hundred dollars apiece for the arms. The contract was procured, but Norris disputes the terms. After this we must regard Siches as an innocent.

ANNOUNCEMENT. TO THE CITIZENS OF MEMPHIS. I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Mayor.

substantial business men of our city have requested me to do so. I have no ambition, save to faithfully serve my fellow-citizens and to complete the good work so happily begun during the past two years, of reducing taxation to the lowest figure possible, consistent with good government and fair and honest dealing with our creditors.

I appear as the candidate, not of parties or conventions, of rings or cliques, but of the people. By what I have accomplished in the past, my good fellow-citizens of all classes, can judge of the future. The debt of the city has been largely diminished; taxation has been immensely reduced, and heavy and grievous burdens lifted from the shoulders of the people. By a faithful continuation in this direction our city will become prosperous, commerce will flourish, and our population will steadily be increased; the condition of Memphis will soon be far superior to that of most other cities in our land. I am, as ever, for strict economy, a thorough accountability or every cent of revenue belonging to the city, and the most scrupulous care that it reaches the city treasury. I am against all jobs. I am for good streets in the future and good public schools, for honesty, integrity and fidelity in every branch of our city government, for impartial justice to every citizen, and for the welfare, the honor, and the lasting prosperity of Memphis.

Respectfully, JOHN LOAGUE.

LAMAR'S NOMINATION. There seems to be a general acquiescence in the nomination of Colonel Lamar by the Democratic caucus. The newspapers that favored other aspirants, with a magnanimity unprecedented submit to the behest of the party. The Memphis Gazette says: "In the nomination of Colonel Lamar to the office of Mayor, the legislature has given the country a proof of their disposition to encourage every honest and liberal approach in the direction of perfect sectional fellowship. The course and utterances of Lamar are well known in the north. They have been frank, honest, just, liberal and fraternal. His unanimous indorsement by the legislature shows that these sentiments are responded to and approved by our people. He will go back to Washington fortified and clothed with power for still greater achievements and still greater good to the State and the south, and the hearts and good wishes of Missisippians go with him."

HON. PETER TURNER. The Winchester Home Journal, in announcing the fact that the next Tennessee legislature will be called upon to elect two United States senators, says: "Copying this unbiassed and independent standpoint, we propose to offer the name of a man who would make us, surely, as good a senator as we could get from Tennessee, and we do it with the hope that some of our exchanges will speak out upon the matter, as they must do very soon. Peter Turner, at present one of our supreme judges, and a lawyer of eminent ability, is our choice for one of the two senators to be elected. His legal ability has been proved in the world. He will go back to Washington fortified and clothed with power for still greater achievements and still greater good to the State and the south, and the hearts and good wishes of Missisippians go with him."

NOTICES. NOTICE TO MERCHANTS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS OFFICE OF CITY TAX-COLLECTOR. Under a recent ordinance all merchants and commission merchants are required to pay a license of $2 per annum for each business establishment, on or before the 1st day of January, 1876. All who fail to take out their license immediately are liable to arrest for non-compliance without license.

NOTICE. STATE NATIONAL BANK OF MEMPHIS, TENN. STOCKHOLDERS ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED THAT AN ELECTION WILL BE HELD ON MONDAY, JANUARY 10, 1876, for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors for the ensuing year. The names of the candidates are: J. A. HAYES, Jr., Cashier; J. A. HAYES, Jr., Cashier.

NOTICE. THE undersigned is now prepared to sell his collection of rare and valuable books, in lots to suit purchasers, and at low prices. Many of them are suitable for presents for the holidays, or any other time. Catalogues are sent by telegraph promptly filled, and are requested to call and examine the collection. F. W. SMITH, 22 Second St.

GROCERS. OLIVER, FINNIE & CO., Wholesale Grocers.

UNDERTAKERS. G. H. HOLST & BRO.

UNDERTAKERS. JAMES FLAHERTY & SULLIVAN.

UNDERTAKERS. FURNAL UNDERTAKERS.

UNDERTAKERS. OLIVER, FINNIE & CO.

MEMPHIS APPEAL

GALLAWAY & KEATING.

22 SECOND STREET.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Daily, one month, by mail, $1.00; one month, by express, $1.25; three months, by mail, $2.50; six months, by mail, $4.50; one year, by mail, $8.00; one year, by express, $10.00.

ADVERTISING: First insertion, per line, $1.00; subsequent insertions, per line, 50 cents; long advertisements, by special arrangement.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR MAYOR: HON. JOHN R. FLIPPIN.

SEND THE NEWS TO GRANT.

Two years ago Barbour Lewis telegraphed to Grant that John Loague, a Radical, had been elected mayor of Memphis.

He is now working day and night for the re-election of his Radical friend, and should Loague be re-elected he will send the news to Grant as a Radical victory and as an indication of the return of Barbour Lewis to congress.

Should Judge Flippin be defeated, Memphis is left to the Democracy. And will not such a conclusion, whether correct or not, work inconceivable injury to the cause everywhere? For this reason alone, if no better existed, every Democrat should on Thursday give his party nominee not only his vote, but a vigorous, active support.

A Radical victory on Thursday will inspire the party with a hope of success in future elections. This is no time for Barbour Lewis to have cause for the encouragement of Grant and Radicalism. The people of Memphis should take care to make the victory of reforms and the return of Barbour Lewis and Grantism so decisive that the blindest partisan will not be able to misunderstand their purpose.

Two years ago the Radical party in Memphis was defeated, and with the wreckage of an indignant people. What has it done since then that public opinion should be reversed? Is the same party, with the same corruptors and the same Barbour Lewis as its unscrupulous leader. There can be no objection to John R. Flippin. Is he not thoroughly identified with the city's best interests as a citizen of many years residence; as a tax-payer, and above all, a good citizen and an incorruptible judge? Can anybody doubt that he will make a safe mayor? No valid objections can be raised against him. We appeal to the tax-payers of Memphis, and to all persons interested in the good name of our city and its business property, to rally to the support of Judge Flippin.

The contractors, the placemen, and the world tricksters, who are anxious to faction their clutches deep into the pockets of tax-payers, are working for Loague with all the energy which the hope of gain inspires, and it is high time for good men to combine. The day of indifference, of quiet folding of the hands while the placemen are busy, of absenteeism from the polls while the incapables and the reckless are working for plunder, is over. The city of Memphis must be redeemed from the thrall of the Radical rule, from the clutches of the despicable ring which has appropriated out of all the offices, and are working for plunder instead of the great interests of the city.

BARBOUR LEWIS AND BARBOUR LEWIS. Barbour Lewis is endeavoring to array the colored population of this city against the white people in the approaching municipal election, by attempting to arouse their prejudices and inflame their passions. There should be no color-line in elections. Suppose he should succeed in electing Judge Flippin for mayor, of what value is no probability, how long would he last be identified? Who give those colored people employment, and aid them in business? Barbour Lewis and his race? If the colored people listen to the insidious teachings of Barbour Lewis, and place themselves in opposition to the great body of the white voters, what right have they to expect the friendship and support of the white people, whose rights and interests they will totally disregard? The language used by Ezekiel Henley, one of their own race, identified with them much more, in interest and feeling, than Barbour Lewis, is worthy of their serious consideration. We hope every colored man in the city will read his admirable address, and lay to heart his sincere, well-meant and earnest advice. If they will not, how will they not care for their own color? Listen to what he says:

Your interests and that of the white people are identical. Whatever benefits them will benefit you, and on the other hand whatever injures the colored people will injure you. Good, pure and economical government will benefit all races and all classes. If the white people are procedurally above and beyond the reach of the present law, the tendency to perpetuate its use in the fashion indicated will be more general than ever before, unless something is done to prevent it. Who will second the motion?—New York Christian Union.

We trust Mr. Lamar, when he gets back to his place in the house, will promptly offer such a resolution as is suggested in the above paragraph. The flag of the republic ought to be as sacredly above and beyond the reach of the present law, the tendency to perpetuate its use in the fashion indicated will be more general than ever before, unless something is done to prevent it. Who will second the motion?—New York Christian Union.

The New York Tribune says, in regard to the election of Mr. Lamar to the United States senate, that "it will do much to redeem his section from the unworthy position it has occupied in the higher branch of the national legislature since the close of the war. In the old times the south had in the senate men who commanded at least the respect of their northern associates by their brains, if not by their politics. Of late southern senators have rarely been above contempt. Mr. Lamar is a splendid exception to a reconstructed rebel. He fought us bravely, submitted honestly, showed in his manly eulogy on Charles Sumner how well he appreciated the virtues and comprehended the moral elevation of some of the leaders on the side that won our great conflict, and throughout his service in the house behaved like an honest man, a patriot and a capable legislator. We welcome the day when the south begins to place such men in her highest positions."

AND NOW COMES SICHES, memorable for his vindictive reconstruction of South Carolina; and he is the most unblinking rogue of them all. Recently, he accepted the salary of an agent of the Remington arms company, of New York, the burden of his complaint being that while he was United States minister to Spain, Norris, as the agent of the company, asked him to get a contract from the Spanish government for a certain, or uncertain, quantity of the Remington goods, he to receive from the company a liberal percentage—we believe all over four hundred dollars apiece for the arms. The contract was procured, but Norris disputes the terms. After this we must regard Siches as an innocent.

ANNOUNCEMENT. TO THE CITIZENS OF MEMPHIS. I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Mayor.

substantial business men of our city have requested me to do so. I have no ambition, save to faithfully serve my fellow-citizens and to complete the good work so happily begun during the past two years, of reducing taxation to the lowest figure possible, consistent with good government and fair and honest dealing with our creditors.

I appear as the candidate, not of parties or conventions, of rings or cliques, but of the people. By what I have accomplished in the past, my good fellow-citizens of all classes, can judge of the future. The debt of the city has been largely diminished; taxation has been immensely reduced, and heavy and grievous burdens lifted from the shoulders of the people. By a faithful continuation in this direction our city will become prosperous, commerce will flourish, and our population will steadily be increased; the condition of Memphis will soon be far superior to that of most other cities in our land. I am, as ever, for strict economy, a thorough accountability or every cent of revenue belonging to the city, and the most scrupulous care that it reaches the city treasury. I am against all jobs. I am for good streets in the future and good public schools, for honesty, integrity and fidelity in every branch of our city government, for impartial justice to every citizen, and for the welfare, the honor, and the lasting prosperity of Memphis.

Respectfully, JOHN LOAGUE.

LAMAR'S NOMINATION. There seems to be a general acquiescence in the nomination of Colonel Lamar by the Democratic caucus. The newspapers that favored other aspirants, with a magnanimity unprecedented submit to the behest of the party. The Memphis Gazette says: "In the nomination of Colonel Lamar to the office of Mayor, the legislature has given the country a proof of their disposition to encourage every honest and liberal approach in the direction of perfect sectional fellowship. The course and utterances of Lamar are well known in the north. They have been frank, honest, just, liberal and fraternal. His unanimous indorsement by the legislature shows that these sentiments are responded to and approved by our people. He will go back to Washington fortified and clothed with power for still greater achievements and still greater good to the State and the south, and the hearts and good wishes of Missisippians go with him."

HON. PETER TURNER. The Winchester Home Journal, in announcing the fact that the next Tennessee legislature will be called upon to elect two United States senators, says: "Copying this unbiassed and independent standpoint, we propose to offer the name of a man who would make us, surely, as good a senator as we could get from Tennessee, and we do it with the hope that some of our exchanges will speak out upon the matter, as they must do very soon. Peter Turner, at present one of our supreme judges, and a lawyer of eminent ability, is our choice for one of the two senators to be elected. His legal ability has been proved in the world. He will go back to Washington fortified and clothed with power for still greater achievements and still greater good to the State and the south, and the hearts and good wishes of Missisippians go with him."

NOTICES. NOTICE TO MERCHANTS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS OFFICE OF CITY TAX-COLLECTOR. Under a recent ordinance all merchants and commission merchants are required to pay a license of $2 per annum for each business establishment, on or before the 1st day of January, 1876. All who fail to take out their license immediately are liable to arrest for non-compliance without license.

NOTICE. STATE NATIONAL BANK OF MEMPHIS, TENN. STOCKHOLDERS ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED THAT AN ELECTION WILL BE HELD ON MONDAY, JANUARY 10, 1876, for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors for the ensuing year. The names of the candidates are: J. A. HAYES, Jr., Cashier; J. A. HAYES, Jr., Cashier.

NOTICE. THE undersigned is now prepared to sell his collection of rare and valuable books, in lots to suit purchasers, and at low prices. Many of them are suitable for presents for the holidays, or any other time. Catalogues are sent by telegraph promptly filled, and are requested to call and examine the collection. F. W. SMITH, 22 Second St.

GROCERS. OLIVER, FINNIE & CO., Wholesale Grocers.

UNDERTAKERS. G. H. HOLST & BRO.

UNDERTAKERS. JAMES FLAHERTY & SULLIVAN.

UNDERTAKERS. FURNAL UNDERTAKERS.

UNDERTAKERS. OLIVER, FINNIE & CO.

MEMPHIS APPEAL

GALLAWAY & KEATING.

22 SECOND STREET.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Daily, one month, by mail, $1.00; one month, by express, $1.25; three months, by mail, $2.50; six months, by mail, $4.50; one year, by mail, $8.00; one year, by express, $10.00.

ADVERTISING: First insertion, per line, $1.00; subsequent insertions, per line, 50 cents; long advertisements, by special arrangement.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR MAYOR: HON. JOHN R. FLIPPIN.

SEND THE NEWS TO GRANT.

Two years ago Barbour Lewis telegraphed to Grant that John Loague, a Radical, had been elected mayor of Memphis.

He is now working day and night for the re-election of his Radical friend, and should Loague be re-elected he will send the news to Grant as a Radical victory and as an indication of the return of Barbour Lewis to congress.

Should Judge Flippin be defeated, Memphis is left to the Democracy. And will not such a conclusion, whether correct or not, work inconceivable injury to the cause everywhere? For this reason alone, if no better existed, every Democrat should on Thursday give his party nominee not only his vote, but a vigorous, active support.

A Radical victory on Thursday will inspire the party with a hope of success in future elections. This is no time for Barbour Lewis to have cause for the encouragement of Grant and Radicalism. The people of Memphis should take care to make the victory of reforms and the return of Barbour Lewis and Grantism so decisive that the blindest partisan will not be able to misunderstand their purpose.

Two years ago the Radical party in Memphis was defeated, and with the wreckage of an indignant people. What has it done since then that public opinion should be reversed? Is the same party, with the same corruptors and the same Barbour Lewis as its unscrupulous leader. There can be no objection to John R. Flippin. Is he not thoroughly identified with the city's best interests as a citizen of many years residence; as a tax-payer, and above all, a good citizen and an incorruptible judge? Can anybody doubt that he will make a safe mayor? No valid objections can be raised against him. We appeal to the tax-payers of Memphis, and to all persons interested in the good name of our city and its business property, to rally to the support of Judge Flippin.

The contractors, the placemen, and the world tricksters, who are anxious to faction their clutches deep into the pockets of tax-payers, are working for Loague with all the energy which the hope of gain inspires, and it is high time for good men to combine. The day of indifference, of quiet folding of the hands while the placemen are busy, of absenteeism from the polls while the incapables and the reckless are working for plunder, is over. The city of Memphis must be redeemed from the thrall of the Radical rule, from the clutches of the despicable ring which has appropriated out of all the offices, and are working for plunder instead of the great interests of the city.

BARBOUR LEWIS AND BARBOUR LEWIS. Barbour Lewis is endeavoring to array the colored population of this city against the white people in the approaching municipal election, by attempting to arouse their prejudices and inflame their passions. There should be no color-line in elections. Suppose he should succeed in electing Judge Flippin for mayor, of what value is no probability, how long would he last be identified? Who give those colored people employment, and aid them in business? Barbour Lewis and his race? If the colored people listen to the insidious teachings of Barbour Lewis, and place themselves in opposition to the great body of the white voters, what right have they to expect the friendship and support of the white people, whose rights and interests they will totally disregard? The language used by Ezekiel Henley, one of their own race, identified with them much more, in interest and feeling, than Barbour Lewis, is worthy of their serious consideration. We hope every colored man in the city will read his admirable address, and lay to heart his sincere, well-meant and earnest advice. If they will not, how will they not care for their own color? Listen to what he says:

Your interests and that of the white people are identical. Whatever benefits them will benefit you, and on the other hand whatever injures the colored people will injure you. Good, pure and economical government will benefit all races and all classes. If the white people are procedurally above and beyond the reach of the present law, the tendency to perpetuate its use in the fashion indicated will be more general than ever before, unless something is done to prevent it. Who will second the motion?—New York Christian Union.

We trust Mr. Lamar, when he gets back to his place in the house, will promptly offer such a resolution as is suggested in the above paragraph. The flag of the republic ought to be as sacredly above and beyond the reach of the present law, the tendency to perpetuate its use in the fashion indicated will be more general than ever before, unless something is done to prevent it. Who will second the motion?—New York Christian Union.

The New York Tribune says, in regard to the election of Mr. Lamar to the United States senate, that "it will do much to redeem his section from the unworthy position it has occupied in the higher branch of the national legislature since the close of the war. In the old times the south had in the senate men who commanded at least the respect of their northern associates by their brains, if not by their politics. Of late southern senators have rarely been above contempt. Mr. Lamar is a splendid exception to a reconstructed rebel. He fought us bravely, submitted honestly, showed in his manly eulogy on Charles Sumner how well he appreciated the virtues and comprehended the moral elevation of some of the leaders on the side that won our great conflict, and throughout his service in the house behaved like an honest man, a patriot and a capable legislator. We welcome the day when the south begins to place such men in her highest positions."

AND NOW COMES SICHES, memorable for his vindictive reconstruction of South Carolina; and he is the most unblinking rogue of them all. Recently, he accepted the salary of an agent of the Remington arms company, of New York, the burden of his complaint being that while he was United States minister to Spain, Norris, as the agent of the company, asked him to get a contract from the Spanish government for a certain, or uncertain, quantity of the Remington goods, he to receive from the company a liberal percentage—we believe all over four hundred dollars apiece for the arms. The contract was procured, but Norris disputes the terms. After this we must regard Siches as an innocent.

ANNOUNCEMENT. TO THE CITIZENS OF MEMPHIS. I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for re-election to the office of Mayor.

substantial business men of our city have requested me to do so. I have no ambition, save to faithfully serve my fellow-citizens and to complete the good work so happily begun during the past two years, of reducing taxation to the lowest figure possible, consistent with good government and fair and honest dealing with our creditors.

I appear as the candidate, not of parties or conventions, of rings or cliques, but of the people. By what I have accomplished in the past, my good fellow-citizens of all classes, can judge of the future. The debt of the city has been largely diminished; taxation has been immensely reduced, and heavy and grievous burdens lifted from the shoulders of the people. By a faithful continuation in this direction our city will become prosperous, commerce will flourish, and our population will steadily be increased; the condition of Memphis will soon be far superior to that of most other cities in our land. I am, as ever, for strict economy, a thorough accountability or every cent of revenue belonging to the city, and the most scrupulous care that it reaches the city treasury. I am against all jobs. I am for good streets in the future and good public schools, for honesty, integrity and fidelity in every branch of our city government, for impartial justice to every citizen, and for the welfare, the honor, and the lasting prosperity of Memphis.

Respectfully, JOHN LOAGUE.

LAMAR'S NOMINATION. There seems to be a general acquiescence in the nomination of Colonel Lamar by the Democratic caucus. The newspapers that favored other aspirants, with a magnanimity unprecedented submit to the behest of the party. The Memphis Gazette says: "In the nomination of Colonel Lamar to the office of Mayor, the legislature has given the country a proof of their disposition to encourage every honest and liberal approach in the direction of perfect sectional fellowship. The course and utterances of Lamar are well known in the north. They have been frank, honest, just, liberal and fraternal. His unanimous indorsement by the legislature shows that these sentiments are responded to and approved by our people. He will go back to Washington fortified and clothed with power for still greater achievements and still greater good to the State and the south, and the hearts and good wishes of Missisippians go with him."

HON. PETER TURNER. The Winchester Home Journal, in announcing the fact that the next Tennessee legislature will be called upon to elect two United States senators, says: "Copying this unbiassed and independent standpoint, we propose to offer the name of a man who would make us, surely, as good a senator as we could get from Tennessee, and we do it with the hope that some of our exchanges will speak out upon the matter, as they must do very soon. Peter Turner, at present one of our supreme judges, and a lawyer of eminent ability, is our choice for one of the two senators to be elected. His legal ability has been proved in the world. He will go back to Washington fortified and clothed with power for still greater achievements and still greater good to the State and the south, and the hearts and good wishes of Missisippians go with him."

NOTICES. NOTICE TO MERCHANTS AND COMMISSION MERCHANTS OFFICE OF CITY TAX-COLLECTOR. Under a recent ordinance all merchants and commission merchants are required to pay a license of $2 per annum for each business establishment, on or before the 1st day of January, 1876. All who fail to take out their license immediately are liable to arrest for non-compliance without license.

NOTICE. STATE NATIONAL BANK OF MEMPHIS, TENN. STOCKHOLDERS ARE HEREBY NOTIFIED THAT AN ELECTION WILL BE HELD ON MONDAY, JANUARY 10, 1876, for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors for the ensuing year. The names of the candidates are: J. A. HAYES, Jr., Cashier; J. A. HAYES, Jr., Cashier.

NOTICE. THE undersigned is now prepared to sell his collection of rare and valuable books, in lots to suit purchasers, and at low prices. Many of them are suitable for presents for the holidays, or any other time. Catalogues are sent by telegraph promptly filled, and are requested to call and examine the collection. F. W. SMITH, 22 Second St.

GROCERS. OLIVER, FINNIE & CO., Wholesale Grocers.

UNDERTAKERS. G. H. HOLST & BRO.

UNDERTAKERS. JAMES FLAHERTY & SULLIVAN.

UNDERTAKERS. FURNAL UNDERTAKERS.

UNDERTAKERS. OLIVER, FINNIE & CO.

MEMPHIS APPEAL

GALLAWAY & KEATING.

22 SECOND STREET.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION: Daily, one month, by mail, $1.00; one month, by express, $1.25; three months, by mail, $2.50; six months, by mail, $4.50; one year, by mail, $8.00; one year, by express, $10.00.

ADVERTISING: First insertion, per line, $1.00; subsequent insertions, per line, 50 cents; long advertisements, by special arrangement.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR MAYOR: HON. JOHN R. FLIPPIN.

SEND THE NEWS TO GRANT.

Two years ago Barbour Lewis telegraphed to Grant that John Loague, a Radical, had been elected mayor of Memphis.

He is now working day and night for the re-election of his Radical friend, and should Loague be re-elected he will send the news to Grant as a Radical victory and as an indication of the return of Barbour Lewis to congress.

Should Judge Flippin be defeated, Memphis is left to the Democracy. And will not such a conclusion, whether correct or not, work inconceivable injury to the cause everywhere? For this reason alone, if no better existed, every Democrat should on Thursday give his party nominee not only his vote, but a vigorous, active support.

A Radical victory on Thursday will inspire the party with a hope of success in future elections. This is no time for Barbour Lewis to have cause for the encouragement of Grant and Radicalism. The people of Memphis should take care to make the victory of reforms and the return of Barbour Lewis and Grantism so decisive that the blindest partisan will not be able to misunderstand their purpose.

Two years ago the Radical party in Memphis was defeated, and with the wreckage of an indignant people. What has it done since then that public opinion should be reversed? Is the same party, with the same corruptors and the same Barbour Lewis as its unscrupulous leader. There can be no objection to John R. Flippin. Is he not thoroughly identified with the city's best interests as a citizen of many years residence; as a tax-payer, and above all, a good citizen and an incorruptible judge? Can anybody doubt that he will make a safe mayor? No valid objections can be raised against him. We appeal to the tax-payers of Memphis, and to all persons interested in the good name of our city and its business property, to rally to the support of Judge Flippin.

The contractors, the placemen, and the world tricksters, who are anxious to faction their clutches deep into the pockets of tax-payers, are working for Loague with all the energy which the hope of gain inspires, and it is high time for good men to combine. The day of indifference, of quiet folding of the hands while the placemen are busy, of absenteeism from the polls while the incapables and the reckless are working for plunder, is over. The city of Memphis must be redeemed from the thrall of the Radical rule, from the clutches of the despicable ring which has appropriated out of all the offices, and are working for plunder instead of the great interests of the city.

BARBOUR LEWIS AND BARBOUR LEWIS. Barbour Lewis is endeavoring to array the colored population of this city against the white people in the approaching municipal election, by attempting to arouse their prejudices and inflame their passions. There should be no color-line in elections. Suppose he should succeed in electing Judge Flippin for mayor, of what value is no probability, how long would he last be identified? Who give those colored people employment, and aid them in business? Barbour Lewis and his race? If the colored people listen to the insidious teachings of Barbour Lewis, and place themselves in opposition to the great body of the white voters, what right have they to expect the friendship and support of the white people, whose rights and interests they will totally disregard? The language used by Ezekiel Henley, one of their own race, identified with them much more, in interest and feeling, than Barbour Lewis, is worthy of their serious consideration. We hope every colored man in the city will read his admirable address, and lay to heart his sincere, well-meant and earnest advice. If they will not, how will they not care for their own color? Listen to what he says:

Your interests and that of the white people are identical. Whatever benefits them will benefit you, and on the other hand whatever injures the colored people will injure you. Good, pure and economical government will benefit all races and all classes. If the white people are procedurally above and beyond the reach of the present law, the tendency to perpetuate its use in the fashion indicated will be more general than ever before, unless something is done to prevent it. Who will second the motion?—New York Christian Union.

We trust Mr. Lamar, when he gets back to