

ESTABLISHED 1840.

CLOSING RATES Yesterday of cotton and gold: New York cotton, 11 1/2. Memphis cotton, 10 1/2. New York gold, 110 1/2.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES. For Memphis, Tenn., on Monday, September 18, 1876. For Tennessee and the Ohio valley, northeast wind, partly cloudy, cooler weather, possibly followed by falling barometer, and higher temperature.

OBSERVATIONS YESTERDAY. Wind: S.W. Force: 3. Bar: 30.00. Therm: 74.00. Humid: 70.00. Rain: 0.00. Direction: S.W. Force: 3. Bar: 30.00. Therm: 74.00. Humid: 70.00. Rain: 0.00.

The anticipated visit of Napoleon IV to this country has been indefinitely postponed.

The North German Gazette, of Berlin, regards the Turkish conditions of peace as a challenge to the powers.

A Madrid dispatch says that William M. Tweed and William Hunt will be embarked at Coruna for Cuba, at prisoners next Thursday.

The latest news from Governor Porter is to the effect that he is making an effective canvass and gaining upon his opponents everywhere.

At Salt Lake yesterday, W. J. Williams was held in five thousand dollar bonds charged with complicity in the recent express robbery.

Colored Democratic clubs are being formed in every part of South Carolina, and the prospect of Democratic success in November grows brighter every day.

Hon. W. E. Smith, the present member of congress, was renominated unanimously for the same position at Thomsville, Georgia, on the thirteenth instant.

Brownsville this year received 16,194 bales of cotton as compared with 10,077 last year, and shipped to this city 13,071 bales as compared with 9,322 last year.

The trial of Lee, concerned in the Mountain Meadow massacre, was resumed at Salt Lake yesterday. The testimony taken last week was on the charge of the crime of murder on Lee.

Orders have been issued at Washington to thoroughly disinfect all naval vessels on the north Atlantic coast, and to keep them isolated from merchantmen.

The Indiana "Cuckoo" members included in a mass-meeting at Terra Haute yesterday. Speeches were made by Anson Wilcox, A. J. Hunter, Samuel P. Carey and A. M. Smith.

A check in the internal revenue bureau, who has secretly made a report, reports that Rufus B. Hayes never paid a single dollar to the government on account of income tax.

The Nashville Banner, of Friday, says Governor Many has not withdrawn from the gubernatorial race, but will resume his canvass next week, commencing at Smithville.

The New York Times says the Republican party has a strong interest in defeating Ben Butler. It says he "shall" not return to congress, for the reason "that while he would return as a Republican he is not a Republican."

Hon. O. R. SINGLTON, representing the fourth congressional district in Mississippi, was warmly received by his constituents on the occasion of his return here, a few days since. He will shortly enter upon the campaign, which he will prosecute vigorously.

The London Times of yesterday says that Mr. Gladstone's letter on the Bullion bill, and the development he has made, is "a foreign office should continue to resist the popular wishes, his demand for an extension of parliament may speedily become that of the country."

The United States grand jury, at Jefferson City, Missouri, has found indictments against several persons for complicity in the war-time frauds during Governor Woodson's administration. Among the names is John D. Crafton, jr., son of Dr. Adams J. General Crafton, who was clerk to the governor.

We received by telegraph yesterday a lengthy account of the movements of the advance guard of Crook's column as the Yellowstone, the terror of which is that the great Indian fighter encountered a band of "hostiles," fought them for a few hours, then withdrew and hastily sought shelter under cover of the Black Hills. The Indian campaign is a dead failure.

FRATERNIZATION should be the order of the day in all parts of the south. The Mobile Register points the way when it tells that Captain McKeever, of the Second United States Infantry, who has long commanded the post of Mobile, before leaving for another field duty, was presented by the officers and privates of the First Alabama Regiment with a gold medal as a souvenir.

The particular attention of our readers is directed to what Senator Alcorn says in another column touching the "bad situation and prospects" of the State. It is an unusually interesting reading, and, in our opinion, will challenge the thoughtful, many of whom have for some time been apprehensive of just such a revolution as he thinks possible.

The great European powers are pressing Turkey to make peace, and it is believed in England that she is more than anxious to be present. She does not offer her assistance with her dignity to offer her assistance as she is in the way of terms, and she waits on the powers to suggest a modification. As the London Times, of yesterday, says: "It remains for them to indicate how far they will go in their assistance, and Turkey will rightly have a leg to stand on."

new chapter of her history if she should resist their united cohorts."

The Baltimore Sun says of Mr. Hoxley's address on "University Education," delivered on Wednesday at the Academy of Music, that city, before the students and professors of the Johns Hopkins university, that it was a vigorous presentation of an interesting subject, and was marked throughout by the holding of an expression and thoroughness of treatment, which he so eminently distinguished. Mr. Hoxley will in a few days deliver a course of lectures in New York upon the "Direct Evidence of Evolution."

NASHVILLE, September 16.—The Democratic convention nominated F. H. Cahill, a former Federal officer, for the senate; R. E. Thompson, of Wilson, John Overton, and M. M. Brien, jr., for John Overton for the house. The convention adjourned at 11 o'clock, and no more representatives to be nominated.

Associated Press Dispatch.—NASHVILLE, September 16.—The Democratic convention today nominated Colonel F. P. Cahill for State senator from Davidson county, and John Overton as a colonel in the Federal army, a native of Ohio, and before the war connected with the Cincinnati Dispatch.

HUMBOLDT. Results of the Democratic Primary Elections—Colonel G. W. Day the Man.

Special to the Appeal.—HUMBOLDT, TENN., September 16.—The primary election for Democratic county representative came off to-day. Eight districts are heard from and give Colonel G. W. Day, of Humboldt, a majority of two hundred and three. Much enthusiasm prevails here. Humboldt gave Day a solid vote of four hundred and fifty-three. His friends worked hard for him, prominent among them being H. H. Hays and C. W. Wheeler, who were free transportation to all voters and to the polls.

BOLIVAR. The 61st Time Barbours on Tuesday Next—All Classes on the Qui Vive for Governor Harris's Victory.

Hon. Casey Young, Our Very Popular Candidate for Congress, Expected to Open His Campaign on the Occasion.—From an Occasional Correspondent of the Appeal.

BOLIVAR, September 15.—Next Tuesday will be a big day for Old Helder. Being the day appointed for Governor Harris's election, the young people are determined to give the great Tennessee statesman a fitting reception, and to that end are preparing on a grand scale to give an immense barbecue. That will be immense is guaranteed by the fact that the young people are placed in the hands of Messrs. Lee Carrington, our popular mayor, and Col. A. J. Hunter, who are leading a band toward aiding these two gentlemen in making it what our paper has heard three times in the Bolivar Herald, "the Bolivar Herald's feast." The presence of the "children" of that staunch old Democratic town, the Bolivar Herald, is expected to give color to the occasion, and we would be glad to have you attend. Besides the speech of Col. A. J. Hunter, we expect Casey Young, our nominee for congress, and C. W. Wheeler, the nominee for florid bar, to be present and address the multitude. It is in attendance. The Bolivar Herald, our Ex-Governor Harris, and I hear "that a movement is on foot to urge the "children" to give an special "children's" dinner in front here quite a reversal of opinion in the minds of our colored population, so that colored Tilden and Hendricks clubs are talked of. Our young fellow-citizens George W. Hardin, Esq., who is a sub-elect of this county and will visit every district in the county in the interest of the national reform ticket. No better selection could have been made than Mr. Hardin, who is one of our rising young lawyers and will devote himself to the work intrusted to him. The Bolivar Herald, who would have four or five hundred young men service in the cause of Democracy, and is keeping up a red-hot fire into the ranks of the colored people, and is keeping up a red-hot fire into the ranks of the colored people, and is keeping up a red-hot fire into the ranks of the colored people.

Special to the Appeal.—SPRING HILL, MAURY COUNTY, September 16.—Major W. J. Byrnes spoke here today to the colored people, who gathered in large numbers to hear him and paid him the closest attention. To you, my colored friends, I wish to make a few remarks. I wish you to know that I am not here to give you any new law, but I am here to give you some of the things that you have done for yourselves. I have toward them the most kind feelings, and I have toward them the most kind feelings, and I have toward them the most kind feelings.

Special to the Appeal.—The following is the August report for Georgia and Florida, as published in the Savannah Daily News, of September 11, 1876. To the Officers and Members of the Savannah Cotton Exchange.—Your committee on information and statistics for the month of August, and the following report for the month of August, condensed from the report of the National Cotton Exchange, GEORGIA.

Seventy-nine replies from 67 cotton-planters date from August 23 to September 21. The weather the past month has been very favorable, and it has been in favor of picking than last year. It has been very favorable, and it has been in favor of picking than last year. It has been very favorable, and it has been in favor of picking than last year.

FRATERNIZATION should be the order of the day in all parts of the south. The Mobile Register points the way when it tells that Captain McKeever, of the Second United States Infantry, who has long commanded the post of Mobile, before leaving for another field duty, was presented by the officers and privates of the First Alabama Regiment with a gold medal as a souvenir.

The particular attention of our readers is directed to what Senator Alcorn says in another column touching the "bad situation and prospects" of the State. It is an unusually interesting reading, and, in our opinion, will challenge the thoughtful, many of whom have for some time been apprehensive of just such a revolution as he thinks possible.

The great European powers are pressing Turkey to make peace, and it is believed in England that she is more than anxious to be present. She does not offer her assistance with her dignity to offer her assistance as she is in the way of terms, and she waits on the powers to suggest a modification. As the London Times, of yesterday, says: "It remains for them to indicate how far they will go in their assistance, and Turkey will rightly have a leg to stand on."

Special to the Appeal.—The following is the August report for Georgia and Florida, as published in the Savannah Daily News, of September 11, 1876. To the Officers and Members of the Savannah Cotton Exchange.—Your committee on information and statistics for the month of August, and the following report for the month of August, condensed from the report of the National Cotton Exchange, GEORGIA.

Seventy-nine replies from 67 cotton-planters date from August 23 to September 21. The weather the past month has been very favorable, and it has been in favor of picking than last year. It has been very favorable, and it has been in favor of picking than last year. It has been very favorable, and it has been in favor of picking than last year.

FRATERNIZATION should be the order of the day in all parts of the south. The Mobile Register points the way when it tells that Captain McKeever, of the Second United States Infantry, who has long commanded the post of Mobile, before leaving for another field duty, was presented by the officers and privates of the First Alabama Regiment with a gold medal as a souvenir.

The particular attention of our readers is directed to what Senator Alcorn says in another column touching the "bad situation and prospects" of the State. It is an unusually interesting reading, and, in our opinion, will challenge the thoughtful, many of whom have for some time been apprehensive of just such a revolution as he thinks possible.

The great European powers are pressing Turkey to make peace, and it is believed in England that she is more than anxious to be present. She does not offer her assistance with her dignity to offer her assistance as she is in the way of terms, and she waits on the powers to suggest a modification. As the London Times, of yesterday, says: "It remains for them to indicate how far they will go in their assistance, and Turkey will rightly have a leg to stand on."

Special to the Appeal.—The following is the August report for Georgia and Florida, as published in the Savannah Daily News, of September 11, 1876. To the Officers and Members of the Savannah Cotton Exchange.—Your committee on information and statistics for the month of August, and the following report for the month of August, condensed from the report of the National Cotton Exchange, GEORGIA.

Seventy-nine replies from 67 cotton-planters date from August 23 to September 21. The weather the past month has been very favorable, and it has been in favor of picking than last year. It has been very favorable, and it has been in favor of picking than last year. It has been very favorable, and it has been in favor of picking than last year.

FRATERNIZATION should be the order of the day in all parts of the south. The Mobile Register points the way when it tells that Captain McKeever, of the Second United States Infantry, who has long commanded the post of Mobile, before leaving for another field duty, was presented by the officers and privates of the First Alabama Regiment with a gold medal as a souvenir.

The particular attention of our readers is directed to what Senator Alcorn says in another column touching the "bad situation and prospects" of the State. It is an unusually interesting reading, and, in our opinion, will challenge the thoughtful, many of whom have for some time been apprehensive of just such a revolution as he thinks possible.

The great European powers are pressing Turkey to make peace, and it is believed in England that she is more than anxious to be present. She does not offer her assistance with her dignity to offer her assistance as she is in the way of terms, and she waits on the powers to suggest a modification. As the London Times, of yesterday, says: "It remains for them to indicate how far they will go in their assistance, and Turkey will rightly have a leg to stand on."

Special to the Appeal.—The following is the August report for Georgia and Florida, as published in the Savannah Daily News, of September 11, 1876. To the Officers and Members of the Savannah Cotton Exchange.—Your committee on information and statistics for the month of August, and the following report for the month of August, condensed from the report of the National Cotton Exchange, GEORGIA.

Seventy-nine replies from 67 cotton-planters date from August 23 to September 21. The weather the past month has been very favorable, and it has been in favor of picking than last year. It has been very favorable, and it has been in favor of picking than last year. It has been very favorable, and it has been in favor of picking than last year.

FRATERNIZATION should be the order of the day in all parts of the south. The Mobile Register points the way when it tells that Captain McKeever, of the Second United States Infantry, who has long commanded the post of Mobile, before leaving for another field duty, was presented by the officers and privates of the First Alabama Regiment with a gold medal as a souvenir.

The particular attention of our readers is directed to what Senator Alcorn says in another column touching the "bad situation and prospects" of the State. It is an unusually interesting reading, and, in our opinion, will challenge the thoughtful, many of whom have for some time been apprehensive of just such a revolution as he thinks possible.

ALCOHN. The Great Republican Leader and Senator of Mississippi interviewed as to the Political Situation and Prospects.

He Gives His Views and Opinions Freely and Unreservedly, and Thinks We Shall Have a Revolution if Tilden is Elected.

Learning that Senator Alcorn, of Mississippi, was in town yesterday, on his way home from the east, where he had been to place his children at school, an Appeal reporter was detailed to interview him and ascertain his views upon the political situation and prospects.

The senator, as our readers know, is bold and outspoken, and although a partisan, can and does often speak his mind more freely than his fellow-Republicans in New York and his own State of Mississippi, making THE STARTLING DECLARATION that if Tilden is elected he will have no objection to the electoral vote of Mississippi, may have a revolution in which the stability of our government will become involved.

THE INTERVIEW. The senator says that at the present time the political outlook in Mississippi is very favorable for the Democratic party, but that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

He says that he is not at all sanguine as to the result of the election in Indiana and Ohio next month. He believes that if the Republicans carry the two States, the Republican party will have secured a majority in the Senate, and that the importance of their position will be increased, and that they will be able to work with more hope and vigor than they have heretofore.

YELLOW-FEVER. Ravages of the Dreadful Scourge in Savannah—The Mortality Still High and Weather Bad for the Sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

SAVANNAH, September 15.—Total fatalities from yellow fever, reported by the Savannah Board of Health, for the week ending September 13, making a total of 107. The mortality is still high, and the weather is bad for the sick.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT. A regular meeting of the F. M. A. and G. O. S. of A. of Memphis, Tenn., was held on Saturday, September 16, 1876.

A regular meeting of the F. M. A. and G. O. S. of A. of Memphis, Tenn., was held on Saturday, September 16, 1876. The following resolutions of condolence and respect were adopted:

A regular meeting of the F. M. A. and G. O. S. of A. of Memphis, Tenn., was held on Saturday, September 16, 1876. The following resolutions of condolence and respect were adopted:

A regular meeting of the F. M. A. and G. O. S. of A. of Memphis, Tenn., was held on Saturday, September 16, 1876. The following resolutions of condolence and respect were adopted:

A regular meeting of the F. M. A. and G. O. S. of A. of Memphis, Tenn., was held on Saturday, September 16, 1876. The following resolutions of condolence and respect were adopted:

A regular meeting of the F. M. A. and G. O. S. of A. of Memphis, Tenn., was held on Saturday, September 16, 1876. The following resolutions of condolence and respect were adopted:

A regular meeting of the F. M. A. and G. O. S. of A. of Memphis, Tenn., was held on Saturday, September 16, 1876. The following resolutions of condolence and respect were adopted:

A regular meeting of the F. M. A. and G. O. S. of A. of Memphis, Tenn., was held on Saturday, September 16, 1876. The following resolutions of condolence and respect were adopted:

A regular meeting of the F. M. A. and G. O. S. of A. of Memphis, Tenn., was held on Saturday, September 16, 1876. The following resolutions of condolence and respect were adopted:

A regular meeting of the F. M. A. and G. O. S. of A. of Memphis, Tenn., was held on Saturday, September 16, 1876. The following resolutions of condolence and respect were adopted:

A regular meeting of the F. M. A. and G. O. S. of A. of Memphis, Tenn., was held on Saturday, September 16, 1876. The following resolutions of condolence and respect were adopted:

A regular meeting of the F. M. A. and G. O.