

INDICATIONS.

For the Ohio valley, the weather, fair and cool, with a tendency to backing to southerly winds, stationary or very barometer.

The credit of the bill for the settlement of the State debt passed the house yesterday by sixteen majority. It will doubtless pass the senate, and receiving the signature of the governor, the State will be freed from the burden of the debt.

The coupon notes for the settlement of the debt will be issued and delivered over to the creditors, who will willingly have settled for sixty-four. The coupon notes of the bill in the history of legislation, and will sink all those, especially of the Democratic party, who give their assent to it. It argues a contempt for the will of the people more extraordinary than was ever advanced on the strength of the most advanced of States, in that it proposes to pay the debt by means of future taxation, and deny any expenditure of the State for any purpose. This is an outrage the people will not forget and cannot forgive.

What member of the legislature is there who can give a decent excuse for refusing to secure to the people an opportunity to vote upon the question of a final settlement of the State debt?

HAWKINS will not strengthen himself with his party nor elevate himself with the people by the removal of Trousdale and Killbuck. No State was ever more disgraced than this by the removal of its best men. They were faithful and earnest, and had all the energy and capacity requisite for their places.

The Western States Chronicle, published at Florence, in this State, puts this startling and gloomy heading to the news of the assassination of the late Emperor Alexander II: "Glad tidings to our patriots! All hail to the patriots who strike to free!" Texas has evidently a warm side for the nihilists.

JAMES GORDON BENNETT, if he continues on the line he has been following for some time, will get himself and probably his country into trouble. He is bringing his paper and employees into contempt in Europe by hiring hands for a season and leaving working places, a thing never before attempted by any reigning monarch. Such exhibits set the common people to thinking.

The new French loan was taken fifty times over, English financiers alone taking $250,000,000, or 1,250,000,000. And this is due to the fact that no matter what changes in government or how frequent the revolutions, the credit of France is maintained by succeeding governments, which acknowledge the obligations of all their predecessors.

On Monday last the work of demolishing the buildings on the corner of Gravier and Carondelet streets, New Orleans, was begun preparatory to the construction of a new cotton exchange which is proposed to be a large and handsome building, and, as the Picayune says, "will fitly represent the grandeur and importance of this splendid and progressive organization, which is the property character of the backbone of New Orleans."

The Mississippi Planters association, which is in the city of New Orleans, next, proposes holding an exposition in New Orleans in 1882. Referring to the good already accomplished by this association, the Picayune predicts that the time is not far distant when it will be "second to no similar enterprise in the United States, and is convinced its work will result in immense benefit to the south."

Dr. J. L. M. CURRY, the agent of the Peabody fund, promises that if our State will do its part toward the maintenance of the State normal college the trustees of the Peabody fund will certainly do theirs. It is a matter of very great interest to the State, as it is a very large sum of money which will be used for the education of its children. Well sustained State institutions of learning have always contributed largely to the progress and prosperity of the people, and the legislature should make it a primary duty to provide for them by liberal appropriations.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun states that the Democrats, while they still have in this city the support of their committees gave Malone no championship, and as a rule put him in inconspicuous committees. And he adds that "when their list of committees was made up several years ago there was a good deal of feeling in this city, and the friends picked out for themselves and their parties. Friends by the sub-committee, but then General Malone have made things even, so far as the Democrats are concerned, and they could all fall on each other's necks and weep together without one jealous pang."

It is now positively predicted by the Washington Herald that the passage of an appropriation and a funding bill, another declaration of the Monroe doctrine with a view to frighten DeLasey from the Isthmus of Panama, the passage of a bill for the suppression of polygamy, the investigation of alleged frauds in southern Louisiana, and the passage of a bill to amend the act relating to the sale of land, are the first among all the nations of the earth, was never so conspicuously displayed as in this act of magnanimity, at the very moment when she was contemplating the destruction of the republic of the Transvaal, an enemy equal to that with which she destroyed the Zulus and ended Cetywayo's power. If she would only display Cetywayo's magnanimity toward Ireland, the world would have a noble people happy, strong, and free, and a noble people would be added to the list of the nations of the earth.

The question of an extra session, More than Likely, will be Decided in the Negative—Confirmation of Henry G. Pierson as Postmaster of New York.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The senate today confirmed the nomination of Henry G. Pierson as postmaster of New York.

A board of officers has been appointed to examine the accounts of the military service of the late General Grant. The board will report to the committee on the subject of the late General's military service.

The appropriation for water and gas for the public buildings has been found insufficient. The committee on the subject of the public buildings has reported that the appropriation is insufficient to meet the requirements for the balance of the year.

Some disappointment was expressed here today by the anti-Grant Republicans at the statement of the character of nominations for New York and Illinois.

Secretary Kirkwood today received a letter from H. D. Trousdale, commissioner of Indian Affairs, tendering his resignation and requesting a reassignment to another position.

The cabinet was in session two and a half hours today, and the subject of calling an extra session of congress was thoroughly canvassed. Protests from several commercial associations were received, and the cabinet was in session until ten o'clock.
