

ESTABLISHED 1840.

The manufacturers of the District are a unit in their opposition to the fifty-cent act.

Billy Moore, the warrior among women, who makes war on defuncts and helps widows.

The mechanics of the District are opposed to the Taxing-District Commission indorsing the fifty-cent act.

The Tenth Congressional District is disgraced until its present cowardly representative is removed.

This fifty-cent act is an abomination in the sight of all classes of the people of the Taxing-District.

If the Council takes up the fifty-cent act to-morrow it should be voted unanimously against its further consideration.

The merchants of the Taxing-District—wholesale as well as retail—are opposed to the Council in forcing the fifty-cent act.

The New York Herald still clamors for the recall of Lowell. President Arthur will never yield to a growing public sentiment in that direction.

The interviews published in the APPEAL should be conclusive evidence to the Taxing-District Council that the people do not want to have anything to do with the fifty-cent act.

ARTHUR is said to be an independent and chivalrous man, always deferential to women. If he had his place in the government service.

JAMES CLAY and Judge Elliot make the day of the Taxing-District Council as to the fifty-cent act very plain. If they would save the people from litigation and from manumises and themselves from destruction, they will vote against it.

The fifth section of the fifty-cent act connects the Taxing-District with the sixth section of the "Flippin compromise act" and by this the courts are compelled to Taxing-District to pay all the outstanding mandamus against the city of Memphis.

Mr. MELVILLE, of Georgetown, D. C., the only surviving grandchild of Thomas Jefferson, is in favor of the removal of the remains from Monticello to the grounds of the University of Virginia—the institution which has finally called the child of his old.

The Nashville Dealer is right; it should never be forgotten that the allegations which so falsely connected Cook and Meigs with the case of the late Republican ensign of Cocking who were willing to destroy a woman if they could thereby blacken the man who stood in their way.

The Egyptian obelisk is very rapidly disintegrating as a result of the variable climate of New York and the severe and sudden changes from heat to cold. In order to preserve it it is proposed to take it down and replace it in the great hall of the museum, just opposite, heightening the roof to make room for it.

EX-CONFEDERATE senators, representatives, governors and judges, soldiers and sailors are high in the government service, and not a word is said against them. Billy Moore could not read the paper, but he could read the decisions made, hence his war on the grand-daughter of General Andrew Jackson, the hero, one hour of whose life was worth the republic more than the whole life of any official Republican of whom we have any record.

The New York Times of Monday published twenty-one columns of answers sent to the question it asked of 100 editors of the rural districts in Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina and Texas. The question was: "Are the Southern people still solid for the Democratic party?" The answers were in the affirmative in the great majority of instances, but a few, notably the one from the editor of the Memphis Appeal, were in the negative.

ENGLAND is greatly excited over the news from the gold coast, brought by Captain Burt and Commander Cameron. The former stated that on landing he found women washing sand for gold and earning from fifty cents to $4 a day. They found gold spangles about the entire coast and were making money as fast as they could.

The night session was taken up entirely with filibustering tactics, no quorum voting. Finally Mr. Callahan withdrew, and he had given that he would call the previous question.

Several Democrats (defiantly)—Call it Mr. Reed [me]—and if this matter plagues some one it is not the fault of this.

Mr. Randall—Oh, we have passed the bill. Mr. Reed—You are still growling under the yoke. The House then, on motion of Mr. Callahan, adjourned.

HOAR TO HILL. A GRACELT TRIBUTE TO THE GERMANY SUFFERER.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Last Thursday Senator Hoar M. A. Knapp, Addressing the Senate, presented a memorial from the German sufferers from cholera, and read as follows: "Your associates in the House have decided to submit a resolution at the first opportunity which will recall the attention of the speaker in relation to the cholera epidemic in the German Empire."

Another protest. PROPOSED RESOLUTION NOT TO BE PERMITTED BY THE DEMOCRATS IN THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The Democratic members of the House have decided to submit a resolution at the first opportunity which will recall the attention of the speaker in relation to the cholera epidemic in the German Empire.

Special Correspondence of the Appeal.

GALENDERS, TENN., May 28.—The thrasher crop here was much lighter than in former seasons. The quality, however, is about about half that of last year. The receipts at the hands of a few comparatively few dealers, however, is not so abundant as was to be expected.

A Cold-Blooded Victim. SOUTH-WEST, Tenn., May 28.—Thomas Egan, wife-murderer, upon being sentenced yesterday to be hanged June 10th, coolly supplemented the sentence with the blasphemous of "Amen. I guess I can stand it."

Killed for Being Too Intimate with Another Man's Wife. LOUISVILLE, May 30.—Ed Herndon fatally shot his wife on Monday morning at a saloon at Bowling Green. One year ago Herndon discovered that Hogan was criminally intimate with his wife.

A Jump to Death. CHICAGO, May 30.—While an express train on the Illinois Central railroad was coming down the track at a speed of about thirty-five miles per hour, Miss Katie Donovan jumped from a car, alighting on her face and sustaining a mortal wound which she died this morning. She is thought to have been insane.

The Body of a Woman Found. ST. LOUIS, May 30.—The body of a woman, who mysteriously disappeared from here on the afternoon of the 18th instant, was found this morning in a ditch at the foot of Miller street and Carondelet avenue. The body was found in a ditch. There were no marks of violence, and she had not been outraged.

Another of the Catechising Fiends on the Hill. CATECHISING, Ky., May 30.—The trial of Ellis, for the murder of the Gibbons family, is in progress. The evidence is strong against the conviction of Neal and Craft, was the principal feature of the trial. A large interest has been taken in the trial, and it is not believed the testimony can be found in any other trial.

The Death of a Demon. PROMA, Ill., May 30.—The body of a woman, who mysteriously disappeared from here on the afternoon of the 18th instant, was found this morning in a ditch at the foot of Miller street and Carondelet avenue. The body was found in a ditch. There were no marks of violence, and she had not been outraged.

Developments in the James Case. KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 30.—Notwithstanding the fact that the James case is a long one, there are absolutely no developments in the James case. The case is still in the hands of the court.

Hostile Apaches. And Renegades Causing Great Uneasiness About Leadville. CHICAGO, May 30.—The Tucson Star publishes the following: "Leadville, May 28.—A prospector from Leadville, who has been in the mountains, evidently awaiting an opportunity to make a report on the progress of the hostiles, reports that the hostiles are in the mountains, and they have attacked several ranches in the valleys, and stock have been driven into the mountains. Two herds have been killed, and the ranchers in the Ogden and San Andre mountains have become alarmed. The hostiles are still in the mountains, and they are being daily augmented by renegades from Arizona, New Mexico and from across the border. It is reported that the hostiles are more numerous than at any other time since the outbreak."
