

GERMANY'S POWER MUST BE CRUSHED, LONDON ATTITUDE

No Compromise While Militarism Makes Possible Further Dreams of Teutonic Supremacy.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Until Prussian militarism is crushed for all time, both on land and sea, England will refuse even to consider propositions of peace.

Were the war ended today, even though Belgium were indemnified and France relieved back Alsace-Lorraine, the great German fleet would remain as a menace to the peace of Europe.

Officials, from the King down, insist that the real cause of the war was the German dream of world power.

The Times today, commenting on the outlook, declares only peace concluded in Berlin and the dispersal of the German fleet will be acceptable to the British people.

DEFENDS HARBOR BILL

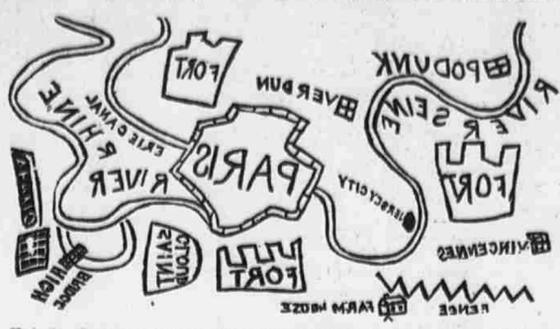

Senator Ransdell Says 300,000 Will Lose Job if Measure Fails.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—When the river and harbor appropriation bill was taken up in the Senate today, Senator Ransdell, of Louisiana, made vigorous defense of the measure.

Each dollar expended on improving waterways gives $2 in reduced transportation charges," said Senator Ransdell.

Senator Ransdell said that there was not a single unworthy or improper item in the bill, though some had greater merit than others.

MARK TWAIN'S OWN IDEA OF THE DEFENSES OF PARIS

Had the Germans possessed the war map, which accompanies this article, Paris would have been in their hands by now.

The map was published in the Buffalo, N. Y., Express, of which Twain was owner, on September 17, 1870, and Twain's description follows, together with some testimonials, even more enthusiastic than that of General Miles:

TO THE READER. The above map explains itself. The idea of this map is not original with me, but is borrowed from the Tribune and the other great metropolitan journals.

I claim no other merit for this production (if I may so call it) than that it is accurate. The main blemish of the city paper maps, of which it is an imitation, is that in them more attention seems paid to artistic picturesqueness than geographical reliability.

Inasmuch as this is the first time I ever tried to draft and engrave a map, or attempt anything in the line of art at all, the commendations the work has received and the admiration it has excited among the people have been very grateful to my feelings.

By an unimportant oversight I have engraved the map so that it reads wrong end first, except to left-handed people. I forgot that in order to make it right in print it should be drawn and engraved upside down. However, let the student who desires to contemplate the map stand on his head or hold it before her looking glass. That will bring it right.

The reader will comprehend at a glance that that piece of river with the "High Bridge" over it got left out to one side by reason of a slip of the engraving tool, which rendered it necessary to change the entire course of the River Rhine or else spoil the map.

I never had so much trouble with anything in my life as I did with this map. I had heaps of little fortifications scattered all around Paris, at first, but every now and then my instruments would slip and fetch away whole miles of battered and leave the vicinity as clean as if the Prussians had been there.

The reader will find it well to frame this map for future reference, so that it may aid in extending popular intelligence and dispelling the widespread ignorance of the day.

OFFICIAL COMMENDATIONS. It is very nice, large print. U. S. GRANT.

It places the situation in an entirely new light. BISMARCK.

I cannot look at it without shedding tears. BRIGHAM YOUNG.

It is very nice, large print. NAPOLEON.

My wife was for years afflicted with freckles, and though everything was done for her relief that could be done, all was in vain. But, sir, since her first glance at your map, they have entirely left her. She has nothing but convulsions, now. J. SMITH.

If I had had the map I could have got out of Metz without any trouble. BAZAINE.

ACTIVE JERSEY CAMPAIGN FOR SEATS IN CONGRESS

Leaders to Stress Need of State Tax Under Democrats. TRENTON, Sept. 14.—Republican leaders forecast victory for their congressional candidates at the November elections.

Mr. Bugbee, primed for a contest which, it is admitted, will be strenuous, in view of the luck that has fallen in the path of the Democrats with the outbreak of the European war.

It is known that Washington does not look altogether upon the coming election with the eyes of an optimist.

The party leaders are bent upon convincing the voters that the Underwood tariff bill, and not the general conflict in Europe, has been as much, if not more, responsible for the efforts the Democratic Congress is now making to get money under the pretext of a war tax to relieve the manufacturing and commercial interests of the country.

It is understood that Mr. Tumulty learned enough of the situation in his home county of Hudson to lead him to regard the opportunity for a Wilson walk-over in the congressional elections as not altogether certain.

The Progressive are displaying nothing more than a passive interest in the campaign, and even some of the leaders admit that a poor showing is to be expected at the polls this year.
