

COURT HOUSE VETO OVERRULED BY ONLY ONE VOTE

Select Council Disregards Mayor's Objections to $400,000 Expenditure for New Building.

CITY LOAN ITEMS PASSED BY COUNCILS

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Includes Philadelphia General Hospital, West Philadelphia water supply, etc.

Select Council this afternoon concurred with the action taken in Common Council last Thursday and passed over the Mayor's veto the ordinance to condemn property at 21st and Race streets for the courthouse for the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Divisions of the Municipal Court.

The Mayor's veto was over-ruled in Select Council by the bare 20 votes required. President Harry C. Ransley, of Select Council, cast the deciding vote.

The loan bill was passed without any change in the apportionment made by Council's Finance Committee last week.

It became known that Director Cooley, of the Department of Public Works, has been for some time negotiating for the purchase of the property at 21st and Race streets, chosen by the Municipal Court for its permanent location as a site for the proposed courthouse.

During the Reburn administration $1,000,000 was appropriated for the construction of a new courthouse on the site at 21st and Race streets.

The Mayor advocates acquisition of land adjoining the House of Detention at much less cost. He asserts that if the land is acquired for the Municipal Court the responsibility for blocking the convention hall project will rest upon Councils, as it had been planned to locate the convention hall on the site now chosen by the Municipal Court.

CONVENTION HALL SITE. It became known that Director Cooley, of the Department of Public Works, has been for some time negotiating for the purchase of the property at 21st and Race streets, chosen by the Municipal Court for its permanent location as a site for the proposed courthouse.

During the Reburn administration $1,000,000 was appropriated for the construction of a new courthouse on the site at 21st and Race streets.

The Mayor advocates acquisition of land adjoining the House of Detention at much less cost. He asserts that if the land is acquired for the Municipal Court the responsibility for blocking the convention hall project will rest upon Councils, as it had been planned to locate the convention hall on the site now chosen by the Municipal Court.

GIRL FOUND UNCONSCIOUS ON EDGE OF LONELY WOODS. Accuses Man of Luring Her There on Threat of Death.

MILLVILLE, N. J., Sept. 22.—Charged with attacking Miss Christina Millen, the 16-year-old daughter of William Millen, of West Millville, Jacob Ghano is in jail here. The girl was found by three bicyclists near midnight, unconscious, on the edge of the lonely woods which skirt the State road in North Millville. Young Ghano was fanning her with his hat. An automobile was called and brought the girl and Ghano to the office of a physician. Ghano was then locked up and the girl was taken to her home in a comatose state.

Today Miss Millen told incoherently that she met the man on threat of death and had been lured to the lonely spot and attacked.

GERMAN WIRELESS RUINED. Last of Pacific Stations, on Nauru Island, Reported Destroyed.

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 21.—The German wireless station on the island of Nauru is reported to have been destroyed by a British naval force. If this report is true it is believed that the Germans are left without a wireless station in the Pacific.

THE VITAL QUESTION. A Chicago business man, with many relatives, some of whom were well-to-do but grasping, recently sought the services of his lawyer to draw up his will. When, after much labor, the document was completed, the client asked: "Have you fixed this thing as I wished it, light and strong?"

"I have done my best," said the lawyer. "Well," continued the client, "I want to ask you another thing—not professionally, however. As a friend, and man to man, do you think stands the best chance of getting the property when I am gone?"

DEBUTANTE HUNTERS AND BLUE-BLOODED HOUNDS TAKE PRIZES

Society at Bryn Mawr Show Pays Homage to Well-bred Dogs and Splendid Horses.

Little as the deer he runs to earth, tough as straight and strong as a sapling oak and lines that speak of the scouter's skill, free this the wind about his crown today, his Majesty, the Hound.

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] BRYN MAWR, Pa., Sept. 22.—Well-bred debutante hunters and blue-blooded hounds took first prizes today at the 20th annual Bryn Mawr Horse and Hound Show at the polo grounds.

Ponies from Charles E. Cox's Willbrook Farms at Malvern and beagle hounds from Wheatley Kennels at Houslyn, N. Y., featured during the afternoon.

Out of the four classes of dogs pedigreed, the Wheatley Kennel entrants captured three first prizes, and of the eight classes of horses, the Willbrook ponies took four first prizes.

In the middleweight hunters and jumpers a New England horse, of whom much was expected, lived up to its owner's hopes and galloped away with a blue. This was a Henry Higginson's Easter Sunday, from South Lincoln, Mass.

Robert L. Gerry, of New York, a judge in the saddle horse class, took fourth place with Hunterly.

In the 2-year-old and under ponies in hand class two Willbrook Farm entries ran away with the first and second prizes. These were Robert L. Gerry's and Kathleen Millburne's. The latter was favorably entered yesterday. Broadlawn Farm, of Broadlawn Farms, a possession of Samuel M. Vauclain, was awarded three prizes.

Four ponies whose names were not given, but which were bred at Willbrook Farm, were awarded the blue in the pony herd class.

Wheatley Kennels took first prize in the beagle hitches in couples class with Wheatley Charity and Wheatley Charming. The second went to a pair from Somerset Kennels, whose names were withheld.

Chondalough, from Glen Riddle Farm, jumped to victory and captured first prize in the heavy-weight green hunters' class. Ballyheathers, another Glen Riddle entry, took second place.

Children riding ponies under saddle made so large a list of entrants that the class was divided into two parts. The winner in part one was Lark, ridden by Little Francis Powell, who can usually be counted on to win a blue in any class at any horse show.

Another pony belonging to the child took second prize in part one. This was Tommie, Miss Emily Clothier's Merryflea was awarded third place.

At 10 o'clock many left the boxes and scattered for the green of the club houses, to witness the opening of the hound show, while many, fearing to cope with the intense heat of the sun, dispersed even their boxes for shady and protected corners. Children again enjoying their last outing before the school days, formed a percentage of the spectators.

Few of the debutantes put in an appearance during the morning, the majority tending luncheon and arriving in the early afternoon.

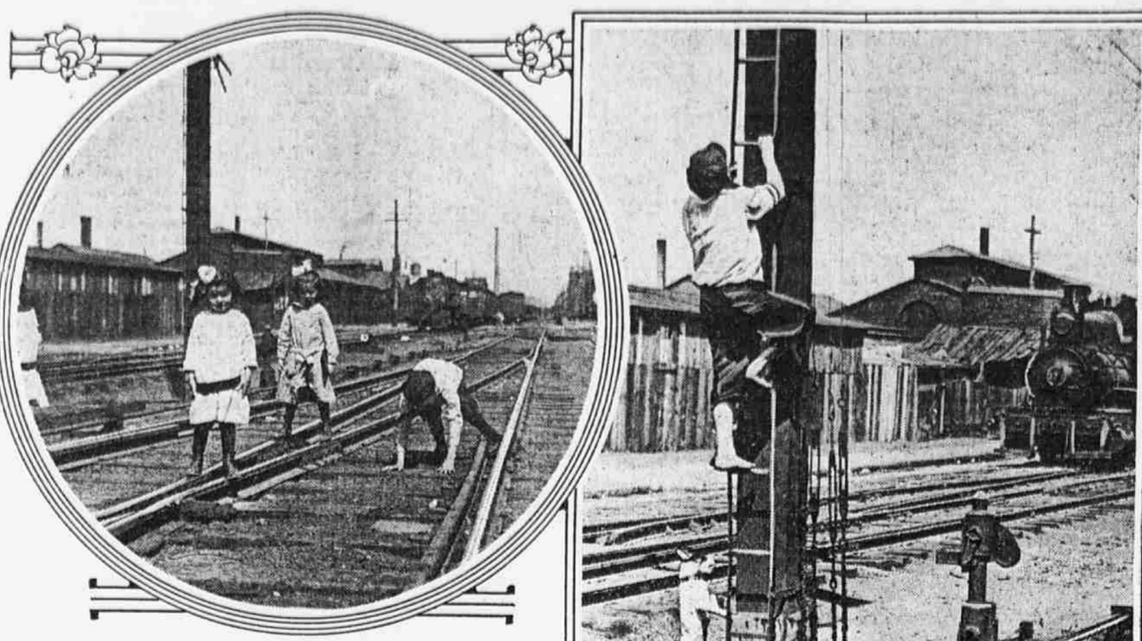

Miss Helen Ellis, who promises to be one of the most noted of this season's debutantes, attended the morning session accompanied by her father, Wm. Struthers Ellis. Over a silver white frock Miss Ellis wore a beautiful pale blue silk sweater and with this a soft Panama hat.

Miss Mary Crozier Page entertained during the morning in her box Miss Charlotte Riddle Williams and Miss Elkins Brunner. The latter was becomingly attired in a new pink lingerie frock and sailor hat of black velvet. Miss Page and Miss Williams wore linen skirts and blouses with all-white hats.

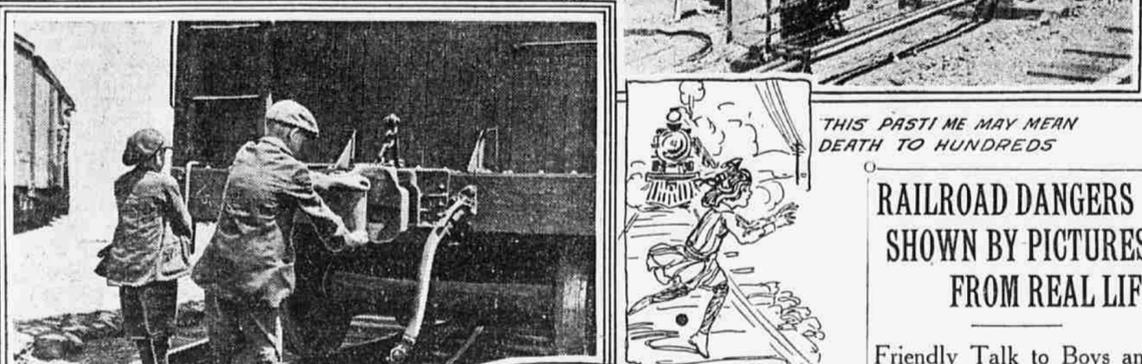

Mr. and Mrs. John K. Valentine were among the fortunate whose box was completely in the shade, and with their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Gerry, of New York, they remained there throughout the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ashton were among the early arrivals of the day. Mrs. Ashton appearing in an attractive costume, composed of a white silk over-

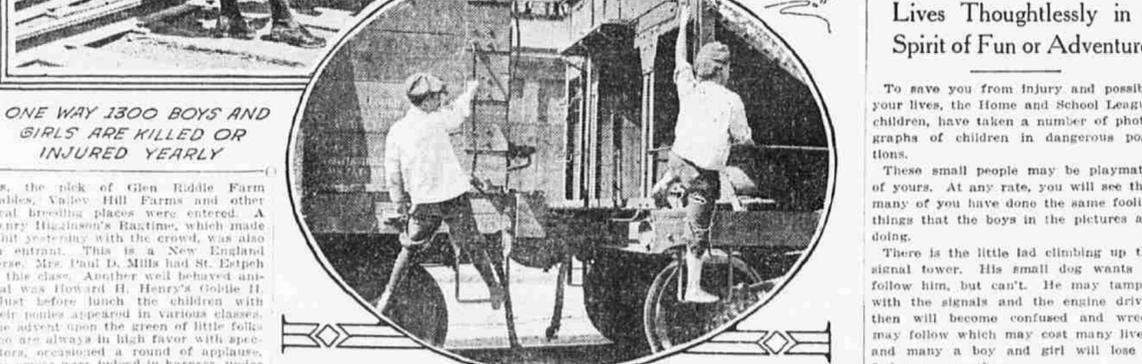

DON'TS FOR CHILDREN TERSELY TOLD BY THE CAMERA

BOY'S FOOT CAUGHT BETWEEN RAILS

ONE WAY 1300 BOYS AND GIRLS ARE KILLED OR INJURED YEARLY

A SUDDEN JOLT MEANS DEATH HERE

DISCARDED SUMMER GARB REAPPEARS AT THE SHOW

Beautiful Weather Delights Visitors to Outdoor Event.

BRYN MAWR, Pa., Sept. 22.—Another bright, clear and beautiful day greeted the horse lovers this morning who thronged to the Bryn Mawr Polo Club to attend the second day's exhibition of the Bryn Mawr Horse Show.

Miss Isabelle Vannamaker, who is among the prize winners, wore a particularly pretty sweater of a soft shade of old rose.

During the morning hours an almost uniform attire is selected by the majority of the visitors, consisting of white linen skirts and the sheers and daintiest of lingerie blouses, while a Panama or soft hat of some description shades the eyes.

The color scheme introduced with the introduction of a gay silk scarf or sash, while the coloring shows all the soft shades of the season.

There were many to lunch at the club-house. The tables were set under huge Japanese parasols, while the orchestra played nearby. An interesting party at one table included Mrs. Harry Wain Harrison, Mrs. A. J. Angelo Devereaux, Mrs. Howard H. Henry and Mrs. Alexander Brown. Mr. Harrison wore one

TRAIN ENDS LIFE OF DALLAS, $20 CLERK, SUED FOR $50,000

Death under the wheels of an elevated train at the 60th street station in full sight of his wife and several hundred persons this morning ended the financial troubles of John J. Dallas, of 1548 North 62d street, the former bookkeeper who was being sued for $50,000 by the L. P. White Company, jewelers, of Ninth and Chestnut streets. Dallas fell beneath the train in such a way that both suicide and accident theories are tenable.

Dallas and his wife were on their way to Norristown for the second day of the equity suit. They were walking slowly along the platform of the 60th street station of the elevated. As a westbound train drew into the station Dallas stepped to the edge of the platform and turned until his back was to the rails. Then he toppled over. Two cars passed over his body, virtually cutting him in half.

Mrs. Dallas turned just in time to see her husband's body dropping over the edge of the platform. The next instant the train shot past her. She became hysterical and was taken to her home by witnesses. The mutilated body was taken to the Homeopathic Hospital morgue.

FALL SEEMED DELIBERATE. Men and women who saw Dallas fall to his death from the eastbound platform say that his fall seemed to have been deliberately planned. They declare he gauged the distance carefully so that his body would fall directly over the far track where he could not escape the wheels. The heavy train was under brakes at the time and was slowing up. Owing to its weight the motorman had not the slightest chance to prevent the killing.

DALLAS FACED TWO CHARGES. Two different actions were under way against Dallas, one the equity suit and the other on criminal charges. He was under a total of $5000 bail on the charges of attempting to blow up the jewelry office where he had been employed, and embezzlement. It is believed that the fear of facing these criminal charges led him to take his life. A desire to soften the blow to his wife is thought to have made him try to make his death look like an accident.

Judge Aaron L. Swartz, at Norristown, decided at 10:50 o'clock to continue the case against Mr. Dallas to give time for further action. Counsel for Mr. Dallas intimated that the hearings would go on, and that another defendant would be substituted. The Court was notified by the Evening Ledger of Dallas' death and the fact that his body had been taken to the morgue of the Homeopathic Hospital. It was learned today that Dallas may have been in the city from Ardmore to the most modest residence in 62d street to reduce expenses at the advice of his counsel, after he had declared that he had no money. He also sold his automobile, Mr. White testified that Dallas told him he had no money, but he is said to have carried $50,000 life insurance, and that he was worth $30,000 in addition.

Some of the witnesses from this city swore that the train that killed Dallas had not been stopped at Norristown after traffic was resumed, unaware that the man ground to death under the wheels was Dallas.

The equity case against Dallas to recover $50,000 was alleged to have been started last spring at Norristown, but after one day the court adjourned for the summer. Immediately by Dallas and were rejected as unsatisfactory.

Dallas was a bookkeeper in the employ of the jewelry firm. The testimony of the jury was brought out that apparently on nothing but his small salary, $30 a week, he lived in sumptuous style in Ardmore and owned an automobile.

THE WEATHER. Official Forecast. WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. For Eastern Pennsylvania: Fair tonight, slightly warmer in north portion Wednesday increasing cloudiness and somewhat lower temperature; moderate south winds.

For New Jersey: Fair tonight; Wednesday increasing cloudiness and somewhat lower temperature in the afternoon. The eastern area of high barometer has decreased rapidly in size and energy and the low pressure in the northeastern portion of the country. The center of the western depression has moved northeastward from these like depression to Mexico, causing showers in the western Mississippi Valley area, followed by a rapid fall in temperature. The change has been in progress over Iowa, Minnesota, Iowa and Kansas.

U. S. Weather Bureau Bulletin. Observations made at 8 a. m., Eastern time.

Table with 4 columns: Station, Rain, Wind, and other weather data for various locations.

of the most attractive gowns of the day, fashioned of pale gray chiffon. It was figured with violet and pink flowers, while the skirt was of dull yellow silk.

Mrs. William J. Clothier returned shortly after luncheon and entertained in her box during the afternoon Miss Euzenia C. Lay, Mrs. Alfred D. Devereaux, Mrs. H. H. Ellison, Jr., and Miss A. Beatrice Geyelin.

Edward B. McLean, of Washington, who has a large number of entries, put in his initial appearance this afternoon. Mrs. McLean's absence from the show this year is a disappointment to her many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cary Rumney, of Glenhead, L. I., who are visiting the John R. Felix, were guests in their box during the afternoon.

Mrs. Stanley Reese returned in the afternoon in a white lingerie frock piped with pale blue. With this she wore a black hat trimmed with gray flowers. She was accompanied by her two little sons.