TO WED AT HOTEL

Miss Graff Will Be Married to Charles Rutter Morris Tonight at Aldine

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Hazard Graff, daughter of Mrs. Charles Felton Graff, and Charles Rutter Morris will take place at 6 o'clock this evening at the Aldine Hotel.

Miss Graff, who will be given in marriage by her mother, will wear a handsome gown of shimmering white satin, made with a court train and elaborately trimmed with seed pearls. Her lace veil, a family heirloom, will be held in place with orange blossoms, and she will carry a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

The matron of honor, Mrs. George Elias Stewart, of Washington, D. C., was gowned in yellow satin and lace, and the maid of honor, Miss Grace Battles, will be gowned in gold cloth, and will carry shower bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums and ferns. The bridesmaids, Miss Mary H. Freeland and Miss E. Irvine Graff, will wear dainty frocks of yellow crepe meteor, trimmed with yellow lace, and they will each carry an armful of yellow chrysanthemums.

Lieutenant Commander William Norris will attend his brother as best man, and the ushers will be T. Monroe Dobbin, Carroll W. Simon and Lieutenant Clarence McGill, all of this city.

The ceremony, which will be witnessed only by the immediate families and a few intimate friends, will be performed by the Rev. W. H. Graff, an uncle of the bride, who will be assisted by the Rev. J. Thompson Cole, rector of St. Paul's Church, Ogontz. The ceremony will be followed by a large reception at 7 o'clock, after which the bride and bridegroom will leave for an extensive wedding trip, and will be at home after the last of December at 1105 South 46th street.

Mrs. Graff, mother of the bride, will wear a very handsome gown of silver brocade.

MATINEE MUSIC CLUB

Initial Meeting of the Season Was Very Largely Attended by Members.

The opening of the season of the Matinee Musical Club at the Roosevelt, Chestnut street above 20th, Tuesday afternoon was marked by the attendance of most of the members. Mrs. Frederick T. Abbott, the president, made an address in which she outlined the policy to be pursued by this flourishing organization. An endeavor will be made to bring about a closer social acquaintanceship of the members and one of the means of promoting social activity will be in a series of five dances to be given during the season.

Following a luncheon to members of the Hospitality Committee and the officers of the club, with Mrs. Halbert Gillette as hostess, the concert was given and later there was a reception. Mrs. Edward Philip Lynch was in charge of the musical program. Mary Miller Mount was at the piano. One of the particularly enjoyable offerings was the singing by Viola Brodbeck of the air for soprano from Thomas' "Hamlet," "A vous vous, mes amis." Dorothy Johnston Baseler, the harpist, contributed Donbo's Ballade and Faure's Spanish Dance. The principal number was that devoted to the Liza Lehmann song cycle, "In a Persian Garden." The cycle was sung by Edna Harwood Baugher, Mabel Cochran Addison, Paul Volkman and Donald Redding. Clara Yocum Joyce sang "O mio Fernando," from Donizetti's "La Favorita," and the program also had Ella Leland Goiz, Alma Grafe, Nina Prettymann Howell and Grace Graf in an able playing of Haydn's quartet in D major.

- Another debutante who will be entertained at luncheon will be Miss Susan B. Ingersoll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Ingersoll. Mrs. Robert Benedict, of Devon, will give the affair in Miss Ingersoll's honor. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Chew will entertain a number of debutantes and younger men at the Rabbit in honor of Miss Mary Evelyn Chew.
- The largest affair of the day will be the dinner-dance which Mr. and Mrs. James Hancock will give at the Acorn Club in honor of their niece, Miss Caroline Ives Brinton and Miss Anna Binney Brinton, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Farver Brinton, and Miss May Brinton, daughter of Binney Brinton. The club-rooms will be beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, corn husks and chrysanthemums. About 500 of the debutantes and younger dancing men will attend.

THE DRAMA

ELIZABETH NELSON In "A Pair of Sixes"—Adelphi.

THEATRICAL BAEDEKER

ADELPHI—"A Pair of Sixes," farce by Edward Pepp. Two business partners shoot a cold hand, the winner to retain the business, the loser to become his body servant for a year. Maude Eburne infinitely funny as a slavey. BROAD—"The Song of Songs," new play by Edward Sheldon. Variations on Sudermann's novel, with scenes in this country.

FORREST—"Sari," charming operetta, with Miss Hales and Irene Fowlowals. A good plot, better music, an excellent company—and Miss Hales just bewitching.

GARRICK—"The Debutants," new musical comedy, with book by H. B. and R. B. Smith and music by Victor Herbert. Delightfully diverting, entrancingly engaging music by Victor Herbert. Hazel Dawn a subjugatingly beautiful heroine.

KEITH'S—Blanche Ring in a musical sketch. "Oh, Papa," and Adele Richtig.

LITTLE THEATRE—Excellent revival of Sheridan's "Rivals."

LYRIC—"The Whirl of the World," the New York Winter Garden spectacle, Willie Howard tickles the funny convolutions of your brain; Eugene, his brother, catches with songs.

WALNUT—Return of "Within the Law," Catherine Tower convincingly portrays Mary Turner, who is unjustly sentenced to prison, but finally triumphs.

her youthful years. The roles essayed by Miss Daily extend from Shakespeare's heroines down to Topsy in "Uncle Tom's Cabin." She was starred for two seasons in a play called "Molly Dawn." The organization was of that calibre referred to as a "turkey troupe," and played not only the regular "one-night stands," but the "half-night stands," which means that it frequently made two towns in one day. The scenery was carried in a single trunk.

One village visited was located on the top of a hill. There was another village in the valley below. When the question of transportation came up the manager of the show, instead of paying for a wagon to carry the trunks, had them lowered by ropes over the hill and pressed the actors into service to drag them the rest of the way to the town hall.

Clifton Crawford has been engaged for the leading male role in the musical comedy called "Potenblut," which the Messrs. Schubert are producing, with Miss Emma Trentini as star.

During her vaudeville engagement in Washington this week Henrietta Crossman will produce for the first time a peace play called "Thou Shalt Not Kill."

When Martin Harvey comes to New York to begin his American tour he will present the plays, "The Breed of the Freshams," "The Only Way," "The Taming of the Shrew," "Oedipus Rex," "Pelaeus and Melandae" and "Hamlet."

"Peg o' My Heart" has been presented for the first time on the London stage at the Comedy Theatre. Laurette Taylor is appearing in her original role. Others in the cast are A. E. Matthews, Erle Norwood, Percy Ames, Violet Kemble-Cooper and Helen Ferrers. The production is under the direction of Archie Butt.
