

NIGHT EXTRA

Evening Ledger

NIGHT EXTRA

VOL. I—NO. 60

PHILADELPHIA, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1914.

COPYRIGHT, 1914, BY THE PUBLIC LEDGER COMPANY.

PRICE ONE CENT

Allies Rout Foe From Aisne Trenches—Russians Trap Germans Grangers for Clean U. S. Senate—Man Confesses Killing Boy

SCENES AND EVENTS IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY

CAPTAIN CLIME—Swarthmore. DIAMOND—Lafayette halfback. CAPTAIN CAREY—Haverford.

TWO OF LEHIGH'S BEST AT A BIT OF PRACTICE
Hoban kicking from Cahall's placement.

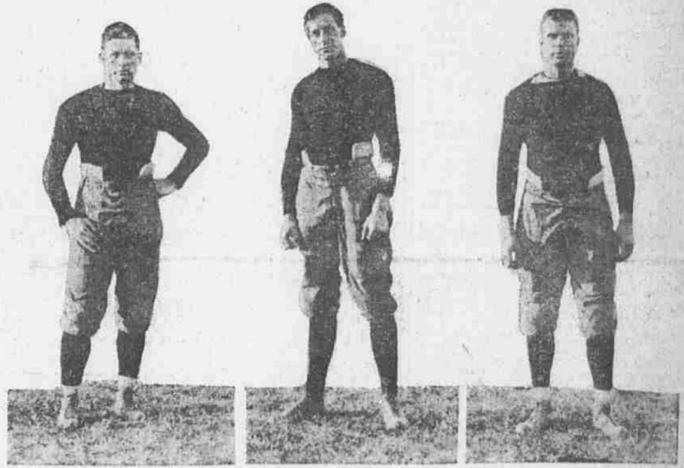

KIRK—Haverford halfback.

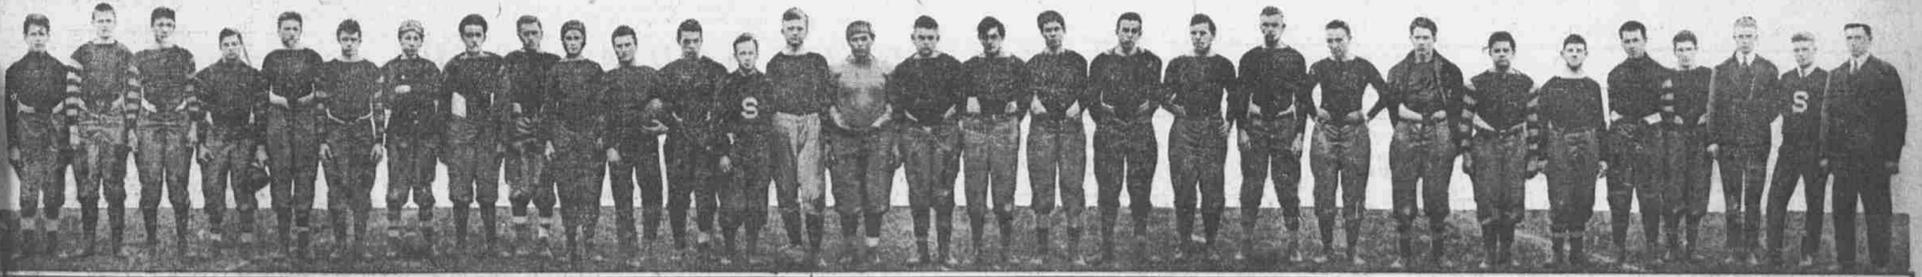

RAMSEY—Haverford fullback.

One of the biggest events in Pennsylvania athletics takes place today when the Maroon and White mixes with the Brown and White
LEHIGH UNIVERSITY'S CHARGING FOOTBALL TEAM AND A TRIO OF LAFAYETTE MEN WHO WILL TRY TO THROW THEM BACK TODAY

Left to right—Furry, fullback; Gulick, left tackle; Maxfield, right tackle

SWARTHMORE'S FOOTBALL SQUAD LINED UP IN A ROW IN PREPARATION FOR GREAT CONTEST FOR SUPREMACY WITH HAVERFORD TODAY

CHEERFUL DELEGATES ON WAY TO SESSIONS OF AMERICAN SPECIALTY MANUFACTURERS' CONVENTION NOW BEING HELD IN THIS CITY

From left to right, are C. V. Dean, of Harrisburg; John R. Hubb, of Williamsport; C. P. McFarland, of Los Angeles, and S. R. Cooner, of Harrisburg. Next come George Nowland, of the Philadelphia firm of Peis & Co., wearing a broad smile, and President Louis Bunkel, carrying a cane. He is one of the nattiest dressers attending the convention. Proceeding, the tall man with the prominent watch chain is C. A. Wiley, another Philadelphian, accompanied by D. O. Everhart and E. W. Floyd, of New York, who are enjoying their after-lunch cigars on their way back to the Bellevue-Stratford, where the sessions are being held. An Evening Ledger photographer ambushed them as they took the air in a stroll down Broad street. The association is composed of men who manufacture and deal in such things as foods and drugs and other articles necessary to or contributing to human welfare.