CORRESPONDENCE

WORK FOR THE WORKLESS

To the Editor of the Evening Ledger: Sir-The Highway Commission and the assistants holding civil service certificates seem to be remiss in their duty in not insisting upon immediate repairs and in most cases new sidewalks. This would give employment to idle men in that line of work. The tenants pay large rents, but are powerless to persuade the landlords to renew the much needed sidewalks. The Highway Department can compel the owners to do the work at once. This would not willing hands to work. The private charities are doing all they can with limited means. There is also much other private work that could be pointed out, as well as all street repairs having bad and dangerous footways that need repairs that could also, which I hope some other reader will point out. Hon. John Skelton Williams has stated that it is necessary for the public to purchase luxuries and indulge some extravagance to provide the vast majority of the workers steady employment. Actual necessities would require only two days per week to produce. It has been pointed out that a large class of practical business and professional men, as well as mechanics, were given a civil service examination, and none of them obtained an average sufficient to obtain employment in a public occupation. So let laymen and statesmen take hold of these problems and help our idle brethren by the use of ordinary common sense. Philadelphia. READER.

"A FRIEND OF MINE, OLD BOY"

To the Editor of the Evening Ledger: Sir-I would like to commend your paper on cartoon on editorial page of December 30, captioned "A Friend of Mine, Old Boy, Must be a Friend to Mine." This is certainly a clean, unbiased piece of work, from which all petty political partisanship is eliminated, and will do a world of good in the right way. I would that some of your contemporaries would cut politics from their news items and confine their petty political bias to the editorial page, where it belongs. W. F. D. Philadelphia.

A WORLD IN ITSELF

To the Editor of the Evening Ledger: Sir-The idea of an elevated railroad seems to me to be most opportune. What is necessary will admit of no question. Personally, it has taken me at various times 40 minutes or quite that long from Frankford to Market street. The people of Philadelphia should not forget that they have a problem which needs to be solved and a line of elevated road for 80 squares north of Market street and 90 squares south of Market street, running on 22d street or 3d street, to accommodate the half million or more of mill and other workers of Kensington and Richmond, to say nothing of the great population which is so dense along the same lines of residence to Porter street. An elevated road on the lines proposed should not and would not in any way injure or retard the other lines of "subway" transportation. Philadelphia, like London, is a world in itself and covers a great area, so much so that its very development is an injury unless it is supplemented by adequate facilities of speedy transit. JAMES H. BAUM. Trenton, N. J.

NORTH PHILADELPHIA

Mrs. Russell Wilson, of 124 North Park avenue, will entertain at "500" this afternoon. The game will be followed by a buffet luncheon. The guests are Mrs. Ralph Jackson, Mrs. John B. Guff, Mrs. Frank Miskey, Mrs. Rex Stackhouse, Mrs. Frederick Wagner, Mrs. Horace T. Wagner, Miss Irene Fagley, Mrs. Robert Barlow and Mrs. Merrill Shriver.

Lowensbury, Mrs. Clifford Wright, Mrs. Oscar Thomson, Mrs. William S. Duffield, Mrs. Edward Smith, Mrs. Louis Bailly, Mrs. H. Gibb and Mrs. Edward Sithens.

Miss Elsie Widmer, of 2553 North 39th street, entertained at ten yesterday in honor of Mrs. C. Lewis Widmer. The guests included Mrs. May E. Ebbels, Miss Anne M. Coleman, Miss Elizabeth M. Owen, Miss Nana Wilson, Lawrence M. Connelly, John Dray Keenan, Lewis C. Widmer, Howard M. Reynolds, Daniel R. MacGregor and La Roy Gengler.

Mrs. Gertrude E. Kelly, of 2121 North 15th street, gave a children's party on Saturday afternoon in honor of Ridway A. Cooke.

NORTHEAST PHILADELPHIA

Miss Betty Lindig, of 391 Kensington avenue, has returned to her home after spending the holidays in Lewisburg, Pa.

Miss Clara Young will entertain the members of her sewing circle at her home, 3127 Weymouth street, tomorrow. Her guests will include Clara Seigel, Lillian Miller, Mabel Steeles, Ella Stevenson, Alice Kordits, Iris Brown, Edith Thomas and Helen Woodmier.

The La La Club will hold its next meeting Thursday at the home of Miss Flo Schoppe, 310 Weymouth street. Those present will be Bertha Belden, Frances Hackell, Rebecca Korman, Gertrude Wills, Martha Simon, Myrtle Mertz and Flo Schoppe.

Mrs. B. N. Faunce, of 1423 East Montgomery avenue, will entertain at luncheon tomorrow.

Dr. Nathaniel Winkelman is spending his two weeks' leave of absence from the Allegheny General Hospital, of Pittsburgh, at the home of his parents, 6705 Rising Sun avenue. Doctor Winkelman is one of the honored graduates of the Central High School, of this city.

FRANKFORD

Mr. and Mrs. William Lunn, of 1812 Unity street, have had as their guests over the holidays Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Harding, of Townsend's Inlet, N. J.

Morris F. Jones, of 1509 Foukrod street, has left for West Virginia, where he will remain the remainder of the winter.

ICE-COVERED STREETS

To the Editor of the Evening Ledger: Sir-While the water department is now prohibiting the dripping from hydrants which has been used in order to protect them from freezing, subsequent bursting and flooding large areas with wasted water, would it not be well for it to direct attention to the great waste occurring in such places as 5th and Tasker streets, Tasker street, below 2d, and in Fernon street between Front and 2d streets. Last winter there was a dangerous bank of ice maintained all winter at 5th and Tasker streets. On Tasker street below 2d the street was covered with ice from the curb to the car tracks, and on Fernon street ice covered almost the whole street. As a result, in each case water was permitted to run over sidewalks. In each locality this winter the same conditions are apparent since the cold spell-and there is no doubt they will continue all winter unless measures are taken to stop them. C. H. F. Philadelphia.

NOT THE WILSON TARIFF ACT

To the Editor of the Evening Ledger: Sir-The headlines on the articles in the EVENING LEDGER, "Year Marked by Political Upset in Pennsylvania," says "Republican restoration came with landslide that showed condemnation of Wilson tariff act." It does not appear so to the writer. Penrose stood for nothing except the tariff, and yet he is a minority Senator by 26000 votes. Congressman Michael Donohue was literally "browned off" in the Kensington district, which is probably the strongest district in Pennsylvania for the higher tariff. Mr. Donohue's course in Congress when he voted against his party on the Underwood bill, and in his speeches for re-election, when he made protection the paramount issue, was of no avail. His neighbors voted against him for an unknown quality. No, Mr. Editor, it was not the tariff, which defeated the Democratic party in Pennsylvania. Congressman Palmer made local option his platform, spoke for it and labored for it and went down to defeat for it, for 20,000 Democrats voted for Penrose and run. If there was ever an honorable defeat that was, and today Palmer and his party is stronger in the hearts and minds of the people of Pennsylvania than Penrose is in his debauchery-bought victory. RYERSON W. JENNINGS. Philadelphia.

AGE OF THE CENTURY

To the Editor of the Evening Ledger: Sir-I was grieved to see Sykes' beautiful cartoon on New Year's Day marred by the inexcusably erroneous caption, "You're Fifty Today." The 20th century is not yet 15 years old. It was only 14 on January 1. If 65000 will only start at the beginning of the century he will discover where his error began. The year did not start with the year 1900. That year was the last of the 19th century and the new century began on January 1, 1901. G. W. D. Princeton, N. J., January 5.

ARMENIAN RED CROSS

To the Editor of the Evening Ledger: Sir-We have read in your paper about "Turkish Woman as Nurse." I would like to say that you have made a mistake. There are not any Turkish Red Cross nurses-there are all Armenians. MINAS TATIGIAN. Philadelphia.
