

"DAREDEVIL JACK" FALLS FROM FIFTH STORY; BREAKS LEG

Loses Grip While Climbing Chestnut Street Office Building in Sight of Crowd of 5000 Spectators.

Fingers, Chilled by Cold, Refuse to Serve Him and He Plunges From Lofty Height. Undaunted by His Terrifying Experience.

Five thousand breathless persons stood on Chestnut street between 19th and 11th today with their eyes fixed upon the 131-pound form of Jack Reynolds, known as "Dare Devil Jack," as it suddenly shot through the air after he had fallen from the fifth floor of 1011 Chestnut street, while crawling up the front wall of the building.

Lying in a semiconscious condition in the roof of the Philadelphia Business College, at 1017 Chestnut street, where he had fallen, Reynolds mumbled: "I'm hurt a little—sorry it happened. I'll try again."

Reynolds is in Jefferson Hospital, suffering from a fractured right leg, internal injuries and contusion of the head and face. Physicians declare that Reynolds must have escaped death through some miracle.

Recently Reynolds amused several thousand persons by performing all sorts of half-raising balancing stunts from the roof of the Widener Building, on South Penn Square, now in the course of construction. He seated himself in a cane-seated chair while 300 feet above the street. He rocked himself and amused himself in other ways.

WATCHED BY BIG CROWD. An audience composed of shoppers, merchants, brokers, crews of trolley cars, stenographers, standing at the windows of office buildings across the street, and others saw Reynolds when he started to climb up the front wall of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, and also saw his form for a while circling through the air. The cheering crowd suddenly became a silent one.

As is the case whenever Reynolds puts in an appearance in front of an office building on which he intends to amuse himself by climbing up to the roof, he is cheered and followed by boys. The same happened today when Reynolds put in an appearance in front of 1011 Chestnut street. Newboys forgot their newspapers. Shoppers stopped and watched the yellow-haired youth, who is 24 years old.

"Pretty cold on the hands, isn't it?" asked a young man attached to the United States Weather Bureau who happened to pass by.

"Cold weather can't feaze me," replied Reynolds.

CLIMBING UP WALL. Both sides of Chestnut street were lined with persons when Reynolds began to crawl. It wasn't his first crawl on the wall of an office building.

"Just like eating pie for him," said a newboy to the question of an elderly man who wanted to know whether Reynolds was in his right senses.

Cheers which could be heard for two blocks.

ATHLETIC AND PHILLY BASEBALL SQUADS AS THEY STARTED FOR TRAINING CAMPS TODAY

BALL PLAYERS HAPPY ABOARD SHIP; PRETTY GIRLS ENLIVEN TRIP

Phils and Athletics Sail for Jacksonville for Spring Training—Will Arrive in Florida City Early Monday Morning.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The Phillies and Athletics squads of baseball players sailed shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon on the Clyde liner Apache for Jacksonville, where the Athletics will train. The Phils will leave the Florida metropolis Monday morning for St. Petersburg, the camp selected by Manager Morgan.

The "bunch" were in high glee, which spirit was none dampened when they stepped the crowd of pretty girls that had taken passage on the Apache. Dode Pasternak, however, could not rid himself of the idea that possibly a German mine or submarine had managed to get this far away from his proper sphere.

Charley Ebbetts, Brooklyn Dodger manager, was on hand to give Wilbur Robertson a send-off.

The Phillies, led by Pat Moran and Bill Shettsline, took the New York express this morning at 9 o'clock, Grand Street Station. A fairly good-sized crowd was there to wish the National Leaguers bon voyage, but there was no demonstration.

The party includes: Manager Pat Moran, Business Manager Shettsline, catchers, Adams, O'Connor and Fish; pitcher, Mattison; infielder, Martin; Dode Pasternak, Fletcher, Weiser, William G. Weart, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Isaminger and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kingmore. The Philly players and camp followers go to St. Petersburg, across the bay from Tampa.

At North Philadelphia station the Athletics joined the Phil squad. Nearly an hour before time of departure members of Mack's team began to arrive at the station. Most of them had not seen each other since the last disastrous game with the Braves in the world's series. There were many greetings and expressions of hope for the future. The talk of the players as well as their friends who were there to see them off was largely on the subject of Frank Baker. It seemed to be

MARCY AND SHOEMAKER VIE FOR PENN'S STROKE

Eight Crews Under Coach Nickalls' Eye on River. Keen competition is being shown for the honor of stroking the University of Pennsylvania crew this year. This afternoon for the second time Shoemaker was again chosen to stroke the varsity eight, and Marcy set the pace for the junior crew.

Coach Vivian Nickalls has been using both men as stroke and expects to keep on alternating them until he learns which is the better man. Shoemaker was the regular stroke last year until he was stricken by typhoid fever. Then Marcy had the position and stroked the crew in sensational fashion at Poughkeepsie.

There were eight crews on the river this afternoon, Coach Nickalls boating two more freshman combinations. This makes four freshman crews and four varsity eights which are working daily. The work this afternoon was of the usual variety, the men going up the river and working out under the direction of Coach Nickalls, who followed them in a launch.

Penn Lacrosse Practice Starts. Candidates for the University of Pennsylvania lacrosse team began their preliminary training session this afternoon on the Old Museum field. The work is under the direction of Coach Lickens, the former Swarthmore star, and also coach last year. He is being assisted by Clarence H. Goldsmith, a member of the 1901 team.

Blandings May Quit Game. DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 25.—Pitcher Fred Blandings, who has been a member of the Cleveland club's twirling staff ever since he broke into the major league, is at his Michigan home while his team is speeding toward Texas. Blandings says he intends to quit baseball.

Corridors Signs With Cubs. CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Shortstop Red Corridors today signed a one-year contract with the Chicago Cubs, thus quitting reports that he would go to the Indianapolis American Association team.

SINS OF WOMEN RUN GAMUT OF SUNDAY'S WRATH AND SATIRE

Revivalist Attacks Race Suicide and Pleads for Home, Marriage and the Family as the Noblest Ideals of Mankind. "Little girls on the street, you just seem to be all feet. Don't you wear no 'chimmies' shirt? Don't you wear no petticoats? All you got no underclothes? What is going to keep you warm, when it's so cold? You wear no shoes, you wear no shoes. You will dress like mother Eve."

With the above verse "Billy" Sunday ridiculed present-day fashions while making a terrific attack on women's lack of Christian character in the tabernacle today, during his sermons before great audiences of "women only."

The recital of the verse brought a storm of applause and laughter from the multitude, and then the evangelist brought the faces of the women back to a serious expression when he charged that much of the wickedness in the world was due to the indecent, sartorial excesses that women indulge in.

As the result of the evangelist's two sermons, 20 women "hit the sawdust trails, 30 at the first meeting and 200 at the second.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the personal work done by Mrs. B. Dobson Altman in stimulating the trail-hitting. Up and down the aisles she went urging and exhorting women to take the evangelist's hand.

Now it was a poor old woman, uncertain whether to go up or not, and again a young girl whom she led down the sawdust trail. Working like a beaver, she stayed until the last call for trail-hitters.

THIEVES KIDNAP BANK PRESIDENT; GET $12,000

Bloodhounds on Trail of Culprits. Arrests Expected. HAVANA, Ark., Feb. 25.—Bloodhounds are on the trail today of two robbers, who kidnaped President J. E. Mitchell, of the Bank of Havana, late yesterday, after blowing the safe and getting $12,000.

Two men living near here are suspected and arrests are expected, according to the authorities.

COURT REFUSES BECKER'S APPEAL FOR A NEW TRIAL

Application Was Based on Affidavit by Negro Actor. NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Supreme Court Justice Weeks this afternoon denied the application of counsel for a new trial for former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, who is under sentence of death for the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

The application was based on an affidavit by James Marshall, a negro actor, in which he repudiated the testimony which he gave at the second trial of Becker.

HINDENBURG HURLS 350,000 MEN ON SLAV NORTH POLAND FRONT

Fresh Alignment Made to Check Offensive—Kaiser Shells Ossowitz—Czar Claims Galician Gain. Fierce Fray at Stanislaw. Admission is made by Petrograd that Marshal Hindenburg has massed 350,000 troops on the Poland front from the Bobr to the Vistula to meet a newly developed Russian offensive.

Official admission is made that the Germans are bombarding Ossowitz and are proceeding against Ostrolenka, on the Narew, their objective in this section. The Germans have forced a passage of the Niemen at one point, the War Office acknowledged, but it is asserted that Slav vanguards, moving from that river, have progressed a considerable distance toward the East Prussia frontier, indicating a movement to force a diversion of Teuton troops from present advantageous positions.

Petrograd dispatches are unanimous in asserting advantage in the Carpathians. Telegrams from various sources chronicle large movements in eastern Galicia, where Stanislaw is the centre of furious fighting. Reinvansion of Bukovina on the main Caserowitz railroad line is reported.

Gains by the British in the neighborhood of La Bassee and further successes of the French troops in the Champagne region are officially announced from Paris today.

CAMPAIGN OPENS TO DELUGE COUNCILMEN WITH FIRM DEMANDS

Executive Body of Citizens' Committee of 1000 Will Wage Fight Throughout City Until Councils Meet Next Thursday. A city-wide campaign to have business organizations and independent citizens in every ward in Philadelphia deluge their Councilmen with firm demands for co-operation in the fight for real rapid transit was begun today by the Executive Committee of One Thousand at a meeting in Director Taylor's office.

The committee determined to keep the issue squarely before the people, and will wage an open fight in every part of Philadelphia between now and next Thursday, when Councils will meet to consider the "jokers' ordinance now before them. Mass-meetings in every ward in the city soon will be arranged.

First. That the ordinance reported out by the Finance Committee be defeated. Second. That an ordinance, or ordinances, prepared in the customary and legal form and calling for the special election, be passed without delay.

In addition to the list of seven questions which every Councilman will be required to answer, the following were included:

MACK, A POOR SAILOR, LEAVES BY RAIL FOR BALL CAMP IN SOUTH

Athletics' Pilot Will Devote Work on New Pitching Corps—Practice Arrangements Upset by Absence of Frank Baker. Paradoxical as it may sound, yet it is true, nevertheless, that Connie Mack is rated as a great helmsman, but a bad sailor. Because of the latter the Athletics' pilot did not wish to risk a battle with the waves on the vessel which is now speeding on baseball road South. Connie prefers the train. He will leave in Jackson, Charles Bonbraman, Pat Bohon, Joe Graves, Baldwin and Roger Salmon, who were candidates last spring for Mack's pitching staff, will not be among those present this season. The youths who will take their places for tryouts are less known than the above quintet, but Mack hopes that they will show enough to justify his keeping at least three of them throughout the coming campaign in the American League.

It is possible that Mack may change his original plans of training. He stated some time ago that he would have McInnis and Baker with one team and Barry and Lajoie with the other. Of course, there isn't a chance that he will use Barry and Lajoie with different teams. They have never worked together and must get to each other. It will not be very difficult for two such masters of the bounding ball to get accustomed to each other. At the same time Larry, being somewhat slower than Collins, might cause Barry some inconvenience.

Now that Baker is not with the team, Mack will, no doubt, want Kaiser Kopf to work with McInnis and the other infielders. It is essential that the new infield develop into a machine before the teams get back to Philadelphia to open the spring series with the Phillies. However, Mack has not decided fully on his training policy since his plans were upset by Baker.

Lajoie intends to reach Jacksonville soon after the first squad. Larry is in good condition so far as health is concerned, but it takes him somewhat longer to get into playing shape now than it did when he was in his prime. He has made all of his arrangements to live in Philadelphia, and his family will be here when he comes back after the training season.

PENN BALL TEAMS PLAY BRISK FIVE-ROUND GAME

New Men Get Workout—Wallace's Pitching Noted. After being obliged to work indoors for two days on account of cold weather, the University of Pennsylvania baseball candidates took out on the temporary diamond at Franklin Field this afternoon and staged a brisk five-round game. Coach Roy Thomas gave several of his varsity regulars a rest and tried out more new men than heretofore. Team A, for which Wallace, last year's star freshman pitcher, did the twirling, had the better of the game and won by a score of 7 to 2. Wallace kept his hits well scattered and is doing better every day.

After the game Coach Thomas tried out several infield combinations and then gave the outsiders some practice in catching long flies. The two teams lined up as follows:

TEAM A. Infielders: 25, Hill, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

TEAM B. Infielders: 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

FOUR DARDANELLES FORTS RAZED BY GUNS OF ALLIES' WARSHIPS

Anglo-French Fleet Already in Straits, Paris Announces—One Fort Reported Manned by German Garrison.

Mine Sweepers Precede Vice Admiral Carden's Big Warships in Move Upon Constantinople and the Black Sea. PARIS, Feb. 25. It is officially announced that four forts at the entrance to the Dardanelles were destroyed in yesterday's bombardment by the combined French and British fleet. (Three had been previously reported destroyed.) The Allies' ships have entered the straits and mine-sweeping already has begun.

The Minister of Marine issued the following statement this afternoon: "The bombardment of the forts at the entrance to the Dardanelles at long distance range was resumed at 3 a. m. yesterday. This was followed by short range shelling. Four forts were completely destroyed, onearrisoned entirely by Germans.

"Mine sweeping in the straits has begun under the protection of the Allies' battle cruisers."

Preceded by mine sweepers, the allied fleet, under Vice Admiral Carden, has moved past and destroyed Turkish forts at the entrance to the Dardanelles and has begun shelling land fortifications on both sides of the strait, according to Athens dispatches today.

Twenty-five miles away the Turkish fleet is lying in Nagara Roads, the narrowest part of the waterway.

Official announcement that the outer forts of the Dardanelles have been reduced aroused great enthusiasm here. Military experts, however, made no effort to minimize the great obstacles still facing Carden's fleet before the warships can enter the Sea of Marmora and begin the bombardment of Constantinople. They must pass through a channel thickly strewn with mines and fight their way past an endless series of forts. Fifteen miles inside, the strait suddenly narrows to a width of 1 1/2 miles.

Reports from various sources, however, confirm yesterday's Athens dispatches that the Turkish Government has made preparations to abandon Constantinople. This is taken as an official admission that eventually the Allied fleets must force their way through the Dardanelles, bottle up and destroy the Turkish navy and drive one of Germany's allies from the war.

The allied fleet is under command of Vice Admiral Carden, and is the strongest aggregation of warships on the allied side with the exception of the British home fleet. It comprises vessels of all classes, including submarines and destroyers, and has a strong detachment of aeroplanes in the convoy, by the aeroplanes snip Ark Royal. The strongest units under the British flag are the battle cruiser indefatigable, which carries 12-inch guns, and the battleships Agamemnon, Cornwallis, Vanguard and Triumph. Under the French flag are the battleships Suffren, Calais and Bouvet. Together these vessels can throw a weight of metal that even the strong Turkish defenses could not resist unaided.

The forts previously reported destroyed are two at Seddul Bahr, on the north, and one at Kum Kaleh, on the south, or Turkish side.

TURKS DECLARE FLEET'S SHIPS RETIRED FOLLOWING ATTACK. CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 25. The Ministry of Marine announced today that the Dardanelles forts for seven and a half hours yesterday were bombarded. It issued the following statement: "Ten armored ships bombarded the entrance to the Dardanelles yesterday from 10 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Observers of the bombardment state that some of the ships were damaged by the return fire from the Anatolian forts.

"After their bombardment, the hostile ships retired in the direction of Tenedos. "One of the ships was of the Agamemnon type."

STEAMSHIP MONGOLIAN STRIKES AN ICEBERG. Allan Liner in Distress 400 Miles Off Cape Race. ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Feb. 25.—The Allan liner Mongolian, with nearly 200 passengers aboard, hit an iceberg, stove in a plate and is in a disabled condition, with her first hold full of water, about 90 miles off Cape Race, according to wireless advices reaching here this afternoon.

The Red Star liner Stephano is racing to the aid of the disabled ship, and was last reported about 100 miles away.

General Passenger Agent Bradley, of Montreal, stated this afternoon that the Mongolian could keep afloat indefinitely, if only the first hold was full of water, as the compartments in
