

Evening Illustrated Ledger

TUESDAY
March 9, 1915

PERSONS, PLACES AND SCENES PROMINENT IN THE NEWS OF A WORLD'S DOINGS DAY BY DAY

A FOOTBALL PAIR ABROAD IN THE BASEBALL SEASON
"Bill" Hollenback and "Ernie" Cozzens, famed in Penn's football annals, depicted just as the EVENING LEDGER camera man caught them sauntering debonairly down Chestnut street on a fair and springlike day.

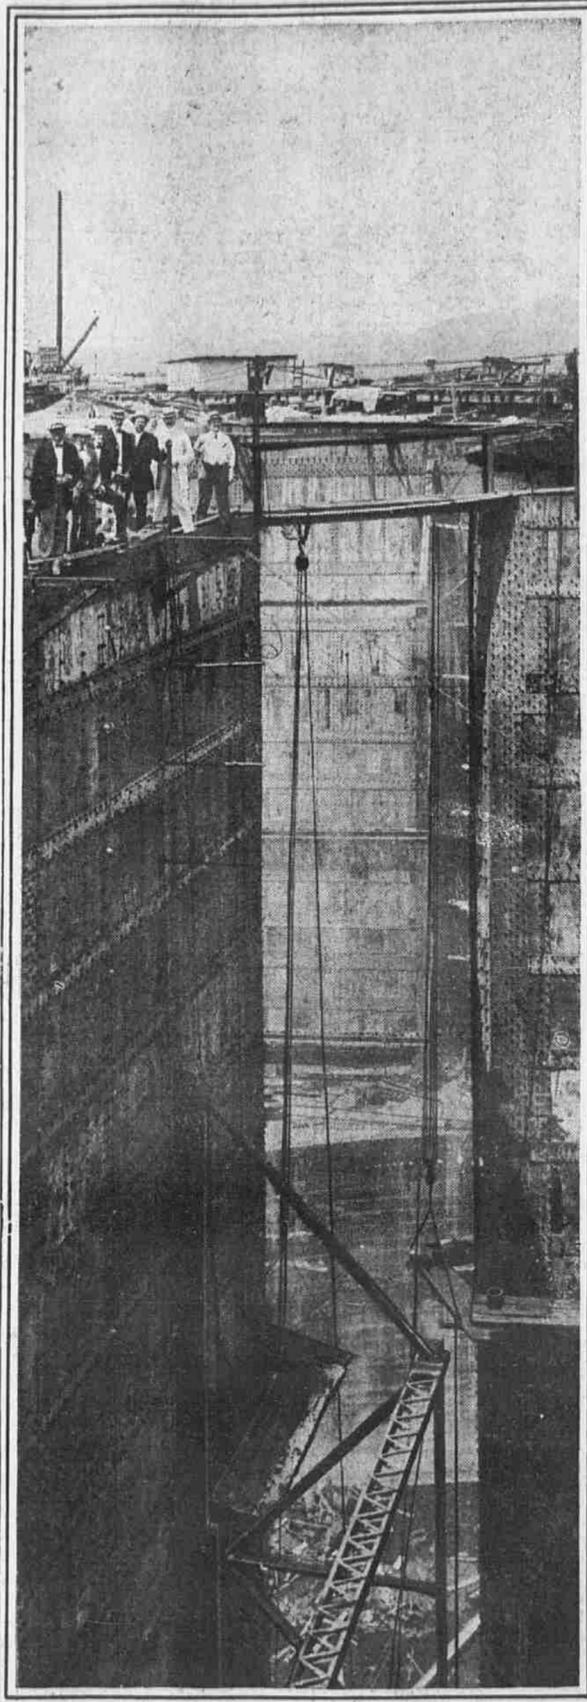

Photo by Brown & Dawson.
GATUN LOCKS OF THE PANAMA CANAL
A striking photograph, giving, as it does, an idea of the size and impressiveness of these giant doors between the Atlantic and Pacific.

WATCHDOG OF THE FINANCIAL DISTRICT
Frank Cannon is a veteran sleuth whose business it is to keep suspicious characters on the right side of the deslin in the uptown financial district.

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.
AH! THE LADIES LOVE HIM SO!
Here is "Butch" McDevitt, Wilkes-Barre's "millionaire for a day," as he arrived in Boston in search of a wife. The Hub's fairest were on hand to do him honor.

A DAVID OF MODERN FRANCE
Prudent Marino has been made a sergeant-fourrier at the age of 14, following his exploits at the front, chief of which was the killing of a German officer.

LADY BEATTY
She was a Chicago girl. Now, as the wife of the young Admiral who has twice triumphed over the Germans, she is one of the first ladies of England.