

BENNY KAUFF ASKS REINSTATEMENT—MANY SPORTING EVENTS IN PHILADELPHIA TODAY

MACKS VS. SENATORS IN THREE-GAME SERIES; PENNOCK DUE TO HURL

Washington Here Today for Battle With Athletics—Griffith's Pitchers Going at Top Speed. Johnson May Pitch.

Clark Griffith's Senators make their first appearance of the season in this city today and, with his pitching staff in wonderful shape, the Washington leader expects to have smooth sailing in the three games here.

The Athletics gave the Senators a great battle in the recent series in Washington, but the wonderful pitching of Johnson, Boehling and Ayres gave the Nats three victories. Herb Pennock was the only Mack twirler to turn in a victory, and for this reason he will be assigned the pitching burden today.

Between Pennock and Wyckoff the main burden of the Athletics' pitching will fall for a few more weeks, at least, as Shawkey, Bressler and Bush have all been too erratic to be of much help.

CONNIE MACK AFTER FORDHAM STAR THIRD BASEMAN

Contract Reported Offered to Carroll to Report June 1.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Connie Mack's interest in the Fordham-Holy Cross baseball game, which he witnessed yesterday at Fordham Field, was concentrated on Carroll, the Maroon third sacker.

POLO SEASON OPENS TODAY WITH MATCH AT COUNTRY CLUB

Aiken Tigers Meet Randolph's Point Judith Four in First Clash at Bala—Earl Hopping in Charge of the Tigers.

What promises to be the most successful local season in polo starts today when the Aiken Tigers meet P. S. P. Randolph's Point Judith four in the first match of the special tournament for cups presented by the Philadelphia Country Club.

Earl Hopping, who will manage the local season, and devote such time as he can afford to coaching the younger element, will lead the Aiken four, which will be made up of Hopping, E. F. Brooke, Jr.; Captain J. R. Lindsey and A. P. Perkins.

RECEPTION FOR TINKER AT NEWARK

NEWARK, N. J., May 6.—Joe Tinker, manager of the Chicago Federal League Club, will bring his team here for a series of games with the Newark Federals this week.

MAYER VS. COOMBS IN BALL FRAY TODAY

Phillies Open 3-Game Series at Ebbetts Field—Dodgers Confident of Victory.

BROOKLYN, May 6.—Pat Moran's Phillies make their first appearance of the season at Ebbetts' Field this afternoon and a large crowd should turn out, as the Phillies have always been popular here.

In 1913 Brooklyn twice started the Phillies on losing streaks that cost them first place, the second putting Doolin's team completely out of the race.

Following this event, the contest for the Morison Cup, at present held by the Country Club, too, starts with virtually the same teams entered.

The Philadelphia Country Club, as a team, has been playing in California all winter, and for that reason should retain possession of the Woodcrest and Morison trophies.

Wilmington Golf Match Tomorrow

WILMINGTON, Del., May 6.—It was announced today that the golf match between the Wilmington Country Club and the team of the University of Pennsylvania, which was postponed from Saturday last, would be played on Friday afternoon.

Davis House Wins Mile Relay

LAWRENCEVILLE, N. J., May 6.—Davis House won the interhouse mile relay here yesterday, covering the distance in 3 minutes and 55 seconds, while the undefeated, undefeated team of the University of Pennsylvania, which was postponed from Saturday last, would be played on Friday afternoon.

"BUNNY" BRIEF'S NAME IS TONY GRETKAWSKI

After the exposure of Leopold Hoernachmeyer, alias Lee Magee, manager of the Brookfeds, developed that several major league ball players are playing under assumed names, believing that their own names would not look so well in print or would be so hard to pronounce that they would never become popular idols.

A fan from Traverser City, Mich., writes that "Bunny" Brief, the new first baseman of the White Sox, has been deceiving the public in a conspicuous manner. This fan says that he has known "Brief" all his life and that his real name is Tony Gretkowski, and he also tells how he came to be known as Brief.

When one of Tony's older brothers went to a factory to apply for a job about the time "Bunny" was in knee trousers, he was asked his name, and when he said Gretkowski, the boss was staggered and decided he could not be bothered with such a name about the place. He liked the appearance of the lad, however, and brief the timekeeper to "make it Brief," meaning to cut the name down to Gret or something else that would answer the purpose.

The timekeeper would Brief, and all the boys of the town, and of them, have been known as Brief since that day. In Traverser City "Bunny" is known as "Chi," because from the time he learned to play ball he was always talking about playing with Chicago. Now he is with the White Sox and making good in great style.

MOORE TO PLAY DE ORO

Billiardists Will Contest in New York for Championship Trophy.

NEW YORK, May 6.—George W. Moore and Alfred de Oro will contest their match for the three cushion carom billiard championship in the concert hall of the New York Theatre on the nights of May 17, 18 and 19.

According to previous announcement, competitors for the championship trophy were to have been 200 points. The billiard room keepers of Chicago, who managed the tournament held there in March, have advised that they decided on the lesser number. By mutual consent a champion and a challenger may play more than 150 points. Moore won the champion in the Chicago tournament.

Willard Joins Wild West Show

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 6.—Champion Jess Willard has abandoned his tour because of his financial failure. The fighter will join a wild west show here Sunday.

Achtol Wins Dee Stakes

CHESTER, Pa., May 6.—The Dee stakes of $500 was won here today by F. H. Wise's Achtol. Pasopart ran second and Brown Ronald third. This is the 103d year this race has been run.

Crack Colonial Nine of Leiperville

C. H. S. CANNOT MEET YALE

Petition of Crews for Meet Suddenly Refused.

At a meeting of the Supervisory Committee on High School Athletics, held yesterday afternoon, the petition of the Central High School, asking permission to send its crew to New Haven in order to race the Yale freshmen was refused.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock, the Crimmon and Gold second eight will race the West Philadelphia High School second eight over the Henley course, this being the first scholastic race of the season.

TENNIS COMPETITION PROVING SUCCESSFUL AMONG LOCAL SCHOOLS

Much Interest Displayed in Interscholastic Circuit. Penn Charter, Northeast and Episcopal Athletes Playing Well on Courts.

Today's Scholastic Schedule

BASEBALL: Brown Prep at Norristown High School. Northeast High vs. Frankford High at West Philadelphia High Fresh. Germantown High Fresh at Southern High Fresh.

CRICKET: Central High School at Penn Charter. The Episcopal Academy tennis representatives.

TENNIS: Episcopal Academy at West Philadelphia High. Penn Charter at Camden High School. De Laney School at Swarthmore Prep.

Tennis is the runner-up sport to baseball at several high schools and academies in this vicinity. The interscholastic tennis association, including Central High School, Northeast High School, West Philadelphia High School, Camden High School, Swarthmore Prep, Penn Charter, Episcopal Academy and Germantown Academy, has proven a successful circuit thus far.

The teams entered in the campaign aspiring for the championship have been playing for two weeks and will continue with three and four matches weekly until May 25, when Camden High School and Germantown Academy play the final game scheduled.

Paul Charter is leading the league. Northeast High has a corking combination of racket wielders. Shelton, Whitaker, Ott, Wears, Cook, Frest and Gilliam have been showing up in splendid shape.

Unless Manager Balli, of Central High School's crew, succeeds in arranging a race for the Crimmon and Gold eight with the University of Penn freshmen, the Broad and Green streets oarsmen will not appear in crew competition until the American Henley Regatta, on the Schuylkill, May 22. The Central High rowers were sorry to learn of the cancellation of the race with Yale's fresh this week, because of the faculty's objection to the event.

RECEPTION FOR TINKER AT NEWARK

NEWARK, N. J., May 6.—Joe Tinker, manager of the Chicago Federal League Club, will bring his team here for a series of games with the Newark Federals this week.

LAGGING SPIRIT OF NEWFEDS REVIVED BY SCHAEFER'S WIT

Ex-Senator Draws Salary as Comedian, Not Player—Pans Griffith for Releasing Him and Keeping Such a "Dub" as Walter Johnson.

Shortly after "Germany" Schaefer was let out by the Washington Senators last winter, "Germany" and Charles Weegman, owner of the Chicago Feds, had a little confab.

"I'd like to have you on my team," said Weegman. "I have no objection," said "Germany." "What salary would you want?" asked Weegman.

"Six thousand dollars a year—and a three-year contract," answered Schaefer, never cracking a smile. Weegman nearly collapsed, but recovered in time to say:

"Why that demand is exorbitant. You are about through as a ball player and you wouldn't be worth that to me as a coach." "You seem to forget, sir, that I'm a comedian," answered Schaefer. "Richard Carle, Clifton Crawford, Raymond Hitchcock and those other altered comedians got $5000 a month for their work. I am asking you for a mere $6000 for six months—just a matter of $1000 a month."

"But I can't see the wisdom of paying out $6000 for an almost through ball player," answered Weegman. "Look here, Mr. Weegman," said Schaefer, in a burst of confidence. "I ain't asking you for $6000 for my services as a ball player. I'm asking that for my services as a comedian. And, lemme tell you, for $6000 you get a rare bargain, because I'm as funny as h— when I get started."

Weegman didn't sign up Schaefer, but the Newark Federals did—and it was a fine investment. Schaefer's unflinching humor has kept the team in excellent spirits. Whenever the men seem on the point of getting fretful or depressed Schaefer comes to the fore and lets loose some side-splitting remarks that save the day.

Furthermore, Schaefer has broken into the line-up quite regularly so far, and has played a great game in the outfield. He always was a star fielder—and always will be. And he has been hitting as well as he did when he was in his prime. He is not so fast on the bases as he was earlier in his career, but he has shown up as a valuable man to have around for utility work, for Schaefer can play the outfield as well as the infield.

Schaefer is a drawing card. Already he has won the hearts of the Newark Beachers and hundreds of them go daily to the park not so much because they want to see the ball game, but because they want to see Schaefer perform a few of his antics. Schaefer never goes to bat without getting a roar of greeting from the fans and he never fails to respond to those greetings with a waving of his hand or a wave of his cap.

Schaefer has figured in many thrilling plays in his long career, and has been dolled by the fans for many years, but he never got a greater ovation than he did in Newark last Sunday when he hit raved the way for a Newark victory in the 14th inning of a nip-and-tuck battle.

Schaefer, commenting on his being let out by Clarke Griffith, of the Senators, said: "I used to think Grif had wonderful judgment, but I think differently now. How can I think otherwise? You know he had to stretch. That meant that he would have to let some of his men go. And he let me out and kept such duds as Walter Johnson, Clyde Milan and Eddie Foster."

"Ain't that convincing proof that his judgment is punk?" Red Sox Release Two Rookies PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 6.—Pat Haley, a catcher, and Walter Reub, a utility player, today were obtained from Boston American League by Providence of the International League.

PUBLIC LEDGER Sports Magazine

The Seven-Day Encyclopedia of Sports and Recreation

This big supplement brings everything that's latest in the realms of athletic contest and scientific pastime right before you every Sunday. An unusually attractive and interesting contents greets Ledger readers next Sunday.

"Playing the Third Base Bag"

By GEORGE M. YOUNG

The Ledger's veteran baseball writer has a hunch that the guardian of the third cushion has the hardest job on the diamond. He gives you his reasons for thinking so, along with some third-sack logic and notable successes and "otherwise." A mighty good story for fans who want to know the reason for everything.

"Why the Middleweight Limit Is 158 Pounds"

By WILLIAM H. ROCAP

"Wasn't always thus, as the 'hopes' of bygone days who worked in kid gloves and bare knuckles can tell you. But the reason for the all-important additional four pounds has puzzled many a ring devotee. Next Sunday Wm. H. Rocap tells just why these particular sixty-four ounces are sixty-four ounces.

"Billiards in France and America"

By FREDERICK S. HOVEY

Even with the imposing array of records, American billiard supremacy is continually menaced or toppled; in fact, France has long enjoyed the bulge on Uncle Samuel with a crop of cue artists that refuse to be out-run. Frederick S. Hovey's article is a collection of interesting information on the subject.

Honus Wagner's Real Greatness

By GEORGE E. McLINN

McLinn has dug up some important facts concerning Wagner's efficiency with the bat and gives his one reason why the peerless stick artist's performance may never be equaled. Also a fan-to-fan discussion of six batters who have the only chance at present to threaten Wagner's wonderful record.

Tennis

Paul W. Gibbons cites instances where brains and knowledge often beat out brawn and endurance. You'll likely play a better game after reading "Tennis, a Game for the Veteran."

Photo Features

You know about where the big leagues stand by seeing the page of baseball managers' faces. The progress of the game is told in a two-page photo-story by the facial expressions of a thirty-third degree fan.

Motorboating

Better get E. H. Rosenberger's advice on "Stocking a Motorboat" before the water joyride. Tells you the proper food to carry, necessary equipment and how to be prepared for any emergency.

Special Trap Shooting Stories

"Busting Records as Well as Clay Pigeons," by Samuel Wesley Long, is an entertaining account of the Traverser Island Tournament—another championship meet which proved that "highest scores" are short lived. "Women CAN Shoot," by F. W. Wilson, gives due credit to woman's skill at the traps. The author visited the de Nemours Club and satisfied himself that gun kicks don't bother sportswomen in smashing the blue rocks.
