FIGHT FANS NOW CLAMORING FOR LOUISIANA-WILLIAMS BOUT

Young Bantam's Work Still Liked Despite "Raw" Coaching in Brandt Clash—Coffey Wants Only $10,000 for Fight. Other Ring Notes.

Philadelphia fight fans want to see another Kid Williams-Louisiana bout. Despite the fact that Louisiana was beaten by Dutchman Brandt, considered a third-rate bantam, at the Olympia Club last Monday night, and his foul tactics incidentally lost more than half of the friends he made the night he dropped Champion Williams in the same ring, followers of the flat fight are still as anxious to witness the bantam boss in action in the 34-foot ring with Philadelphia's leading contender for the Baltimorean's laurels.

Kinside fans who saw Louisiana make his vain attempt to knock out his opponent so inferior as the Brooklyn Dutchman, know well enough that he did not fight his own battle. Had the clever youngster displayed his usual tactics of outboxing his opponent, Brandt would have received one of the best facings ever handed a fighter.

However, when Louisiana came within an ace of knocking out Kid Williams, his handler acquired the opinion that he was a knockout artist. It was a lucky overhand right punch that spilled Williams to the floor. Against Brandt, Louisiana was instructed to fight for a knockout, by use of a straight right-hand punch. Not until the sixth round, when it was evident that the local lad would lose, was he told to fall back on his left, the best blow in his repertoire.

Louisiana, bewildered and anxious for a decisive victory, instigated by the instructions received in his corner, forgot about the 11th-hour coaching—that of using his left—and again started shooting straight rights at Brandt. It proved his undoing and there was little doubt as to the Dutchman's slight advantage at the final gong.

No doubt Louisiana is anxious for another crack at Williams, and with fight fans here willing to turn out to see the battle another Williams-Louisiana fight would prove the runner-up feature encounter to the bout staged between Williams and Johnny Kilbane.

Fans Also Anxious for Another Moore-Heffernan Match

Another bout which would prove a good attraction as a repeater, and probably would draw a capacity house, is one between Joe Heffernan and Willie Moore. Fight fans are divided into two classes—some enjoy encounters between boxers who depend on their cleverness to win, while others prefer battles between fatigued fighters of the fighting type, who rely on their punching ability.

Moore and Heffernan are powerful punchers. They are the two hardest hitting welterweights in the city. This was proved conclusively in the first meeting, when Moore dropped Heffernan and Joe almost knocked out Moore two rounds later.

The question of weight arose when the boys were about to be rematched. Moore's manager, Billy McGonigle, insisted on Heffernan weighing in at 142 pounds, ringside. Anyway, Matchmaker Jack Hanlon could not make arrangements for the bout and it fell through.

Nevertheless, fight lovers want to see another Moore-Heffernan battle, and the supporters of the game should get what they want. There should be some way to overcome the obstacles now preventing the match.

Famous Fighting Moores Will Make History

On Friday night, May 21, Philadelphia will go down in history as the first city to stage a boxing program with principals in each fight represented by a member of the same family. The show will be put on at the National A. C. Opponents for the Moore maulers have not been selected as yet by Matchmaker McGonigle. Willie, the sensation of the Miracle Moores, is the leading boxer of the quintet. He added much to his prestige when he knocked out Young Jack O'Brien, accomplishing the feat for the first time in Little Jack's career. Wilhelm will pair off with the best welterweight McGonigle can get for him.

Pal, who also has been fighting in fine form this year, will show his ability with the mitts in the semi-final. Frankie and Reddy, at one time championship contenders, will appear in two of the other bouts, while Al, the youngest of the battling brothers, will make his professional debut, after annexing an amateur tourney championship recently.

Willie Ritchie, former lightweight champion of the world, now star actor-dancer and incidentally after welterweight prestige, will stay away from the spotlight next Tuesday night. He will write away 36 minutes of the evening accommodating Matt Baldwin in a 12-pound bout at Boston.

Gunner Smith May Retire From Ring

Admirers of Gunboat Smith, Philadelphia heavyweight, are speculating whether he has actually retired, as he has so often threatened to do. Little has been heard of the once popular "white hope" for some time now, and though Gunboat Smith himself has made no formal announcement of his permanent withdrawal from the ring, fight fans fear that is just what has happened.

It is no news to followers of the flat fight heroes that Smith desires to withdraw from active work in the ring, for he has often said he felt his best days were over. Yet he still has his youth and should be in prime condition to meet all comers of his class. Despite this, many straws point to a lack of confidence in himself. This is the only logical explanation of his recent poor exhibitions.

Nothing definite can be ascertained as to the contemplated bout between Smith and Mike Gibbons, of St. Paul, in New York. The figure Gibbons set as to what he thought should be his end of the purse was, of course, far beyond what even he expected to receive. It was $10,000, and before he meets Smith inside the ropes he will probably have revised that sum downward. Gibbons is a good fighter, but a mill with Gunboat just now is not worth that money or anything near it.

But this schedule is, of course, subject to change, for should Smith make a public statement that he is through with the fighting game the St. Paul boxer will have to look over the field again for an opponent in his class. And such an announcement by the former sailor would not surprise any one from his recent record in the fighting arena. His silence gives color to the oft-repeated report that the one-time sailor fighter is through forever with the boxing game.

Sure, Coffey Will Fight; for $10,000

Will James Coffey fight? Sure he will, if he gets his price! What is his price? Ten thousand dollars in hand paid for ten rounds with Middleweight Jimmy Clabby! Will he get his price? He will not. Will the two brawlers meet anyway? Probably not, because Clabby is an exceptionally clever chap with his hands and there is no particular use of Coffey going out of his class to meet a master boxer when Jess Willard and that crown are in the offing.

Since Jim Coffey knocked out Al Reich several big fellows are just itching for a bout with the Dublin Giant. Among his recent challengers are Battling Levinsky, Jack Dillon and Young Weisner, who trimmed Coffey to a finish late last year.

A match between Coffey and Levinsky would make an interesting marauder, and it's a flimsy gold piece to a buffalo one that Bat will reach the age first.

FAST PACING HORSES LIKELY TO RACE HERE

Belmont Driving Club Stockholders Suggest Holding Big Contest.

An effort on the part of the Belmont Driving Club stockholders is being made to stage an open free-for-all pacing race at the Narberth track for July 5 with a purse of $1000 as the inducement.

Yesterday at the clubhouse the proposition was suggested, and it was met with almost unanimous approval. In addition to the guaranteed $1000, an entry fee of $500 from each starter would bring the purse to large proportions, to be divided $300 to winner, $100 to second horse and $50 to third.

JOE BUSH TO PITCH IN ST. LOUIS BATTLE

Athletics Playing Better Ball in West, But Are Facing Stronger Hurling.

ST. LOUIS, May 13.—Joe Bush, one of the heroes of the 1911 world's series, is slated to make his first appearance of the season in St. Louis this afternoon, and as Joe has been rapidly getting back into shape the Browns are likely to have their hands full.

Manager Rickey intends to send Grover Loudermilk in to oppose "Bullet Joe" provided the big Southerner's hand is in good shape. Grover was slated to start the series against the champions, but had his hand hurt by a line drive in practice and it put him out of commission temporarily.

Loudermilk is generally wild, and the injury to his hand is not likely to help his control any, so the Athletics are confident that they will take today's game. In the two games played to date the Athletics have looked good, though they are not hitting as they should. The feuding yesterday was high-class, despite four errors, two of which were excusable.

With the pitchers showing more consistency Manager Mack expects the team to start climbing before it returns home. On the present trip the Athletics have faced better pitching than they saw in the East. Morton, Hoch and Weisman are all going in mid-season form now, which is more than the Mackmen say for the Eastern pitching.

NEW YORK BOXERS SUSPENDED

Three Amateurs From This District Under Ban on the Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Arthur Kaufman, of Brooklyn, national amateur champion middleweight boxer, and Matty Herbert and Arthur Neck, of New York, were suspended yesterday, by George James, local representative of the Amateur Athletic Union Registration Committee.

James has begun an investigation of an alleged demand for money for the appearance of the men at an exhibition here. The three boxers were competitors at the recent national amateur championships.

POSTPONED POLO MATCH WILL BE PLAYED TODAY

Country Club Team to Clash With Bryn Mawr Squad.

On account of the grounds being in bad shape the polo match scheduled between the Philadelphia Country Club and Bryn Mawr on the latter's grounds yesterday afternoon was postponed until this afternoon, provided the grounds have sufficiently dried to allow the game being played. So anxious were the players to mount their ponies that it was not until the time for starting the match that it was decided to call it off. Both teams have been in practice since the beginning of the season. Bryn Mawr, although not having played in any of the tournament games so far, have kept in shape through some of their players assisting other teams.

The teams will line up this afternoon in the following order: PHILA. C. Club: Bryn Mawr: 1—Chas. Frick, 2—Wm. Frick, 3—W. S. Stokes, 4—W. E. Stokes, 5—Victor Mather. Total 12. PHILA. C. Club: 1—C. Yarnal or Hill, 2—Wm. Frick, 3—W. S. Stokes, 4—W. E. Stokes, 5—Victor Mather. Total 12.

PHILS PLAY PIRATES IF WEATHER PERMITS

George Chalmers Slated to Oppose Harmon in Ball Game This Afternoon.

Weather permitting, George Chalmers will offer his assortment of moistened slants for the Pirates to swing at this afternoon. George likes plenty of work, and the postmen and switching of Alexander and Mayer into the box out of their turn has "peevish" the big fellow. He thinks he should be pitching twice a week regularly, and no doubt he is right. Chalmers always did work better when he was sent to the mound often.

The lay-off may not have done George any good, and if he falls to show anything warming up Al Demaree will have a chance at Chalmers' men. Al has a fine curve ball that should prove troublesome to the Pirates, who look especially weak on that kind of pitching.

Manager Clarke stands pat on Bob Harmon, his most effective trailer to date. Harmon has won his last three games and seems to have luck breaking with him at last. Throughout the 1914 season Harmon pitched fine ball, but the Pirates never hit or fielded well behind him, and as a result he had the worst season of his career, barring his first year in the big show.

SURPRISES CONTINUE IN INTERSCHOLASTIC BASEBALL CAMPAIGN

Northeast Now Looks Like League Champion, While West Philly Is in Slump. Central May Capture Runner-up Position.

The uncertainty of baseball has made the present campaign in the interscholastic league one of the most interesting and dopamine-setting races since the inauguration of the circuit. The last few games have recorded surprises the most unexpected, with the result that West Philadelphia High School, preferred an easy winner, still lingers more than a week ago, has dropped into second place.

In fact, with the Speedboys down in the rut, the finish of the schedule may find Coach Alker's boys in third place, with Central High School, last season's champion, in the runner-up position. West Philly leads Central High by a game and a half. The former has three more games to play, while the Crimson and Gold is scheduled for four frays.

With the 8th street and Lehigh avenue boys playing their present article of the national pastime in their remaining three contests, they give promise of annexing the fourth championship this year. To date, the Red and Black has won football, soccer and basketball titles honors for the 1914-15 season.

Four sets of games are scheduled still in the league, as follows:

TOMORROW Catholic High vs. Central High, Northeast High vs. West Philadelphia High. MAY 18 West Philadelphia High vs. Central High, Southern High vs. Northeast High. MAY 21 Catholic High vs. West Philadelphia High, Central High vs. Southern High. MAY 24 Catholic High vs. Southern High, Northeast High vs. Central High.

If Coach Alker can catch up his line-up and steady his associates with 22 breaks in the bat, has been playing in fine form, and his stick work has been the feature of whatever little showing the Southwark nine has made this season.

Coach Doctor O'Brien, of Central High School, is preparing to select a track team for competition at the Lafayette College interscholastic games, May 22. The Crimson and Gold field and track athletes romped off with high scores in the recent Southwark interscholastics.

Robinson, Catholic High School's pitcher, is proving himself a worthy batsman as well as a moulder. In the opening inning of the match with Northeast High School, the Purple and Gold twirler clouted a homer.

Although Southern High School is in the cellar position of the interscholastic league, the downtown team has several individual stars. Gordon, at first base, accepted 11 chances without a misdeed in the West Philly game. He struck the bat, has been playing in fine form, and his stick work has been the feature of whatever little showing the Southwark nine has made this season.

Delaware Man Makes Good Run in Memphis Shoot. MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 12.—J. I. Chipley, Greenwood, S. Austin, Monroe, La., won second place by breaking 19 out of 20 targets in a shoot-off with six other contestants who had scores of 17. L. Andrews, Spartanburg, S. C., who broke 14 in the shoot-off, was third.

Federal Judge Hough Rules Against Admission of Ritchie-Welsh Pictures. NEW YORK, May 12.—Federal Judge Hough handed down a decision yesterday holding that the admission into the United States of the moving picture film of the lightweight champion Freddie Welsh in London, England, last July would be a violation of the Federal Censorship Act.

Judge Hough held that, although the fight may have been classified a boxing match in England and this State, it was a technical meaning of the term "prize fight" and that the admission of such a film was within the scope of the Sims law excluding moving pictures of such content.

DROP OF SWEAT COST BILLY KEISTER HIS JOB. When Billy Murray first took up his job as manager of the Phillies, Billy Keister, a hard hitter, but a miserable fielder, was playing right garden. Murray was a manager who paced and stormed on the bench, a la Stallons, and after Keister had thrown away a game by missing an easy fly, Billy went after him hard when he returned to the bench. Imagine the surprise of Murray and the rest of the players when Keister replied: "Bill, I couldn't help that. I had just wiped the perspiration off my forehead when the ball came to me, and a drop of sweat on my finger caused the ball to slip away from me." Keister was sent to Jersey City of the Eastern League about a week later.
