

THE SHIFTING SCENES OF PEACE AT HOME AND WAR ABROAD CAUGHT BY THE OMNIPRESENT CAMERA

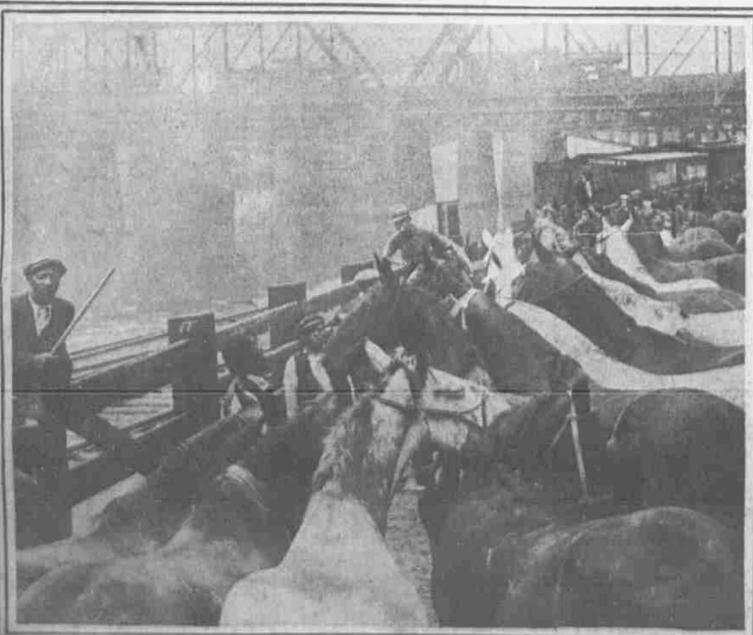

PANORAMIC VIEW OF THE COURTS AT ST. MARTIN'S, WITH THE CONTENDERS FOR TENNIS GLORY IN ACTION
The play for the woman's national tennis championship title is absorbing the interest of all tennis fans today. It is generally expected that Mrs. George W. Wightman, formerly Miss Hazel Hotchkiss, and Miss Molla Bjurstedt, the Norwegian champion (seen in the far corner above), will play in the finals.

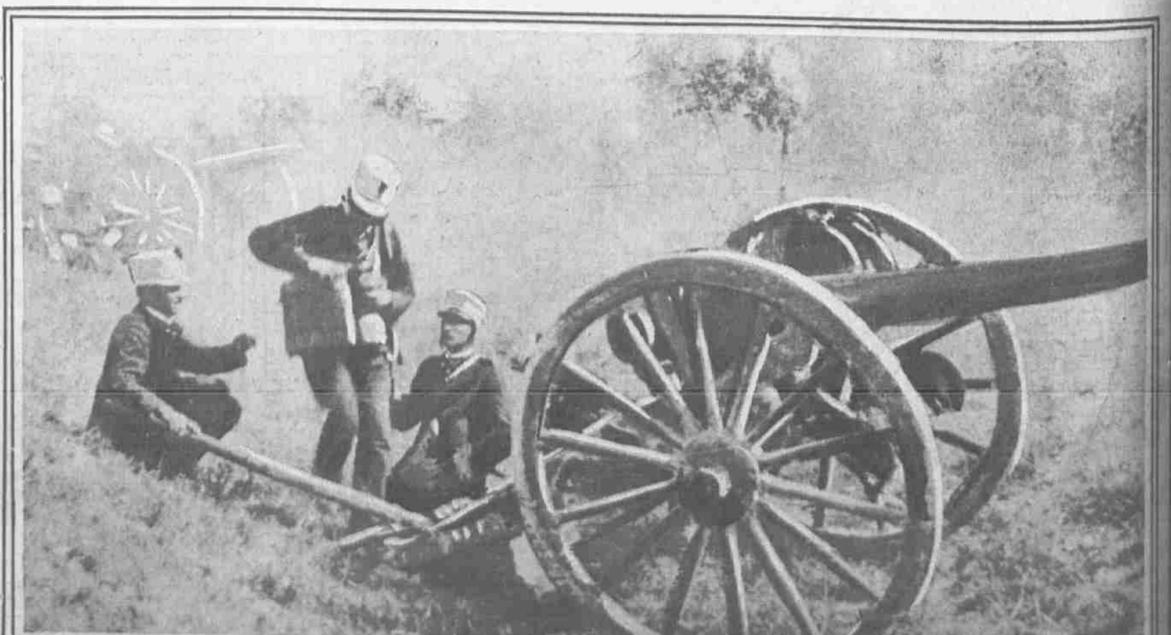

HARD GOING IN THE EASTERN THEATRE OF WAR
The German cart is in obvious difficulties, and the drivers are probably blaming their enemies, who haven't kept the roads in good repair. The picture gives a vivid idea of one of the minor discomforts of war.

"HITTING THE TOBOGGAN" WITHOUT ILL EFFECTS
The children having the time of their young lives are from the orphanages of Philadelphia. Yesterday they were the guests of honor at Willow Grove, where this picture was taken.

LOADING HORSES FOR SHIPMENT ABROAD
The Allied armies are heavy buyers of horses in the United States. The horses shown above were being loaded on freight cars; their ultimate destination is the Western battle-front.

AN ITALIAN BATTERY IN ACTION
One of the batteries which are now being trained against the Austrian forces. The march of the Italian army seems to have been virtually unopposed up to this time.
