"Whatever Else I May be, First, Last, and All the Time, I am an American Girl."—Geraldine Farrar.

Geraldine Farrar's Story of Her Own Career

It is the intensely human story of a modern American girl's conquest of the world in the most exacting of all the arts—a story of romance and adventure, peopled with the famous men and women of America and Europe today. Millions will see Miss Farrar this autumn on the moving-picture screen; other millions have heard her golden voice from the records; vast audiences have been swayed by her magic personality in those great operatic roles that she has made her own. Everyone will want to read her story now for the first time told with perfect frankness by herself.
