

ILLUSTRATED Evening Ledger

FRIDAY
December 31, 1915

NOTES AND NOVELTIES IN THE NEWS OF THE DAY AS CAUGHT BY THE CLEVER CAMERA MAN

CAMDEN TROLLEY MEN GIVE PARTY FOR KIDS
Santa Claus was a trifle late in reaching the Newton avenue car barn, but held a reception there yesterday and provided many good things for the children of the conductors and motormen.

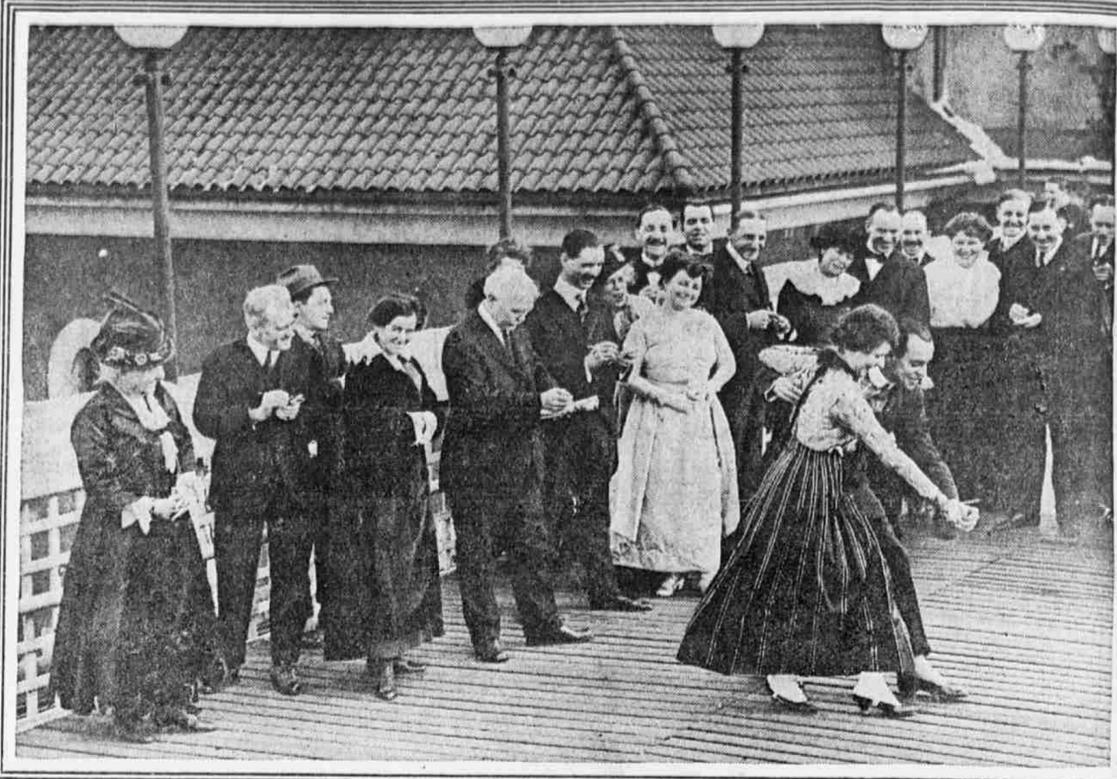

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.
TEACHERS OF DANCING TAKE A TURN AT BEING TAUGHT
The masters and mistresses of the art of Terpsichore's latest novelties in the way of tango and fox trot have been holding a convention in New York, where Maurice, the professional, put them through some of the paces that fashion now approves of.

IT WILL TAKE PICTURES ON THE FLY
This novel car was built exclusively for the use of the Ledger staff of photographers and is equipped for high speed and fast work. It will be seen on the streets for the first time tomorrow. It is the only car of its kind in the country.

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.
BEACH COSTUME FOR THE SOUTHERN SANDS
A novel arrangement for Palm Beach wear—gold colored velvet brocaded chiffon, with touches of Mattier blue and green on scarf and cushion.

READY FOR THE MUMMERS' PARADE
Frank Carter, many times a prize winner as a female impersonator, will wear this magnificent costume in tomorrow's New Year procession. He will march with the Lobsters.