

NANCY WYNNE IS INTERESTED IN VARIOUS CHARITIES PLANNED

Junior League Will Give Ballet Performance on February 2 in Ballroom of Bellevue-Stratford—Matinee and Evening Affair Also

EVERY day some new affair for charity crops up, and now the Junior League is hard at work on a performance to be given on the afternoon and evening of February 2 in the ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford. It will be called "The Ballet of Orlando," and will be given for the benefit of the Allied Relief of the Emergency Aid. About 40 persons will take part in the entertainment. There will be two ballets of 10 girls each, and throughout the whole performance a word will be spoken and sung. Pantomime and dancing will be the only features. Georganna Brown will lead the ballet, and those of us who have seen her can expect a treat, for she certainly can dance.

The costumes and effects are being carefully planned, and will be more elaborate than anything seen here in the amateur line for some time. The scenes, which will be painted especially for the occasion, will represent Florentine gardens; soft Italian skies and subtle music will beguile the beholder and entrance him almost to the point of returning in the evening should he have ventured out for the afternoon.

Quite a number of the younger girls have undertaken the affair, and it is about sure to be a success. Rose Dolan is busy as a bee over the publicity, and some of the others interested are Eugenia Cassatt, Mrs. Arthur E. Newbold, Jr., Mrs. Francis V. Lloyd, Mrs. R. Gilpin Ervin, Sylvia Barnes, Owen Martin, Emily Fox, Adeline Pepper, Katharine Chambers, Nancy Scott, Sydney Ellis, Gertrude Henry and Miss Henrietta Ely.

A number of very good-looking posters for the show are being prepared by a number of local artists, including Alice Biddle, Christine Chambers, Mrs. Frank Lloyd and various others.

Do you know, in spite of all that has been said this year about the manners of the male creature, awful and horrible are the tales which come to me of the rudeness of the younger members of that kind in answering their invitations, and not only that, for some of them have mothers and sisters who look after such things, but when the dance does come to pass they do not appear on the scene of action and never send a word of explanation for excuse? If only the various hosts and hostesses would give them a lesson such as I heard was given by the father of one of our charming debs not long since. He waited until within 10 days of the dance he was giving, the invitations having been sent out two months before the party, and then he sent to some dozen young men who had not answered, a note which read, "In view of the fact that you have not answered my invitation for a dinner-dance on 'such a date,' your place has been filled." This note was signed by the gentleman in question, and I feel sure the young men (in fact, they should be relegated to the boy class, even if they do go out with older people) were taught a good lesson. Still, only the other day I heard of a bill given at a hotel where no fewer than 140 guests failed to answer their invitations and there were not enough men for partners, and the ball was a fearful frost. However, in that last case I believe the invitations themselves were mixed up in the shuffle.

Of course, Mrs. Scott's Supper Club at the Bellevue-Stratford is its usual great success. Miss Fontaine, who dances much at various New York affairs, gave four specialty dances and was greatly applauded. There were more than 300 guests Saturday night. The George D. Rosengartens gave a party of 32 for Sarah Neilson and Mrs. Edmund McCullough entertained as did the Sam Reeves and the Alfred E. Norrises. The Craig Biddies who are stopping with the G. W. Childs Drexels came to the club, and Beth Scott gave a party of 25 guests. The Plunkett Stewarts were there, and the Richard Parkes also entertained. Mrs. Scott tells me she will start her second series of dances on January 29. I understand there is quite a large waiting list, for these dances are very exclusive and only a favored few may join.

GERRY

ALAN

Two boys, Gerry Lansing and Alan Wayne, are brought up together at Red Hill, the summer home of their people.

Gerry, who has wealth, becomes a conventional repetition of the man of his class, and falls into a lethargy of effortless living.

Alan plays fast and loose with his guardian's money (which he supposes is his own), and wins the affections of many women. When he learns that the money is not his own he takes a bridge-building job in Africa and is known as "Ten Percent Wayne."
