

LATEST CAMERA NEWS 'FROM DISTANT ANTIPODES TO OUR OWN CITY'S CENTRE

INCIPIENT COAST TERROR CAPTURED

Captain Wilson, of the Atlantic City Beach Patrol, is determined to maintain that bathers' paradise safe from man-eaters, great or small. He proudly exhibits the trophy of his first skirmish with the finny enemy.

KEEPING OUT THE MAN-EATERS

Bathing at Durban, South Africa, is rendered shark-proof by the wire-netted enclosure that offers suggestion to Jersey resorts.

ENTENTE CORDIALE ON THE BORDER

In the park at El Paso regular and National Guard khaki-wearers find themselves in high favor with the populace.

Photo by Staff Photographer

CRIME IN THE SHADE OF INDEPENDENCE HALL?

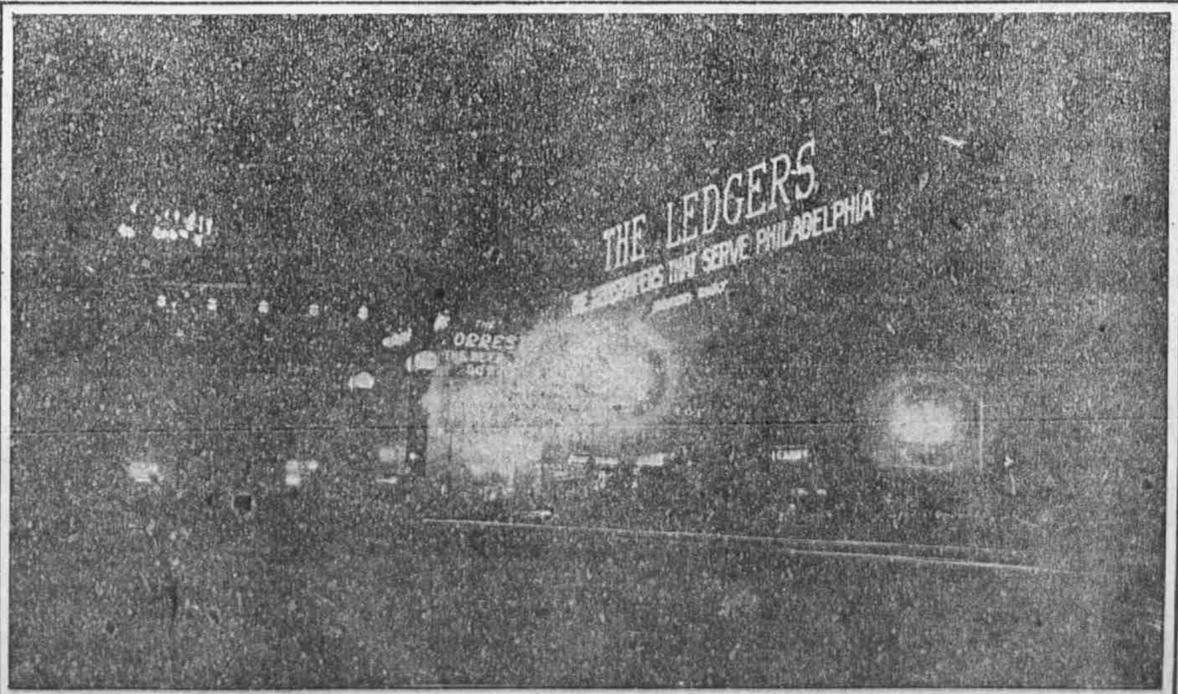

No, just two EVENING LEDGER men giving an idea of what some of the scenes round town may look like in the scenario that wins the EVENING LEDGER prize.

A GARRISON WIFE AND AN ARMY BABY

Mrs. Frederick Funston, wife of the American commander on the Mexican frontier, and Baby Eleanor, who have just returned from a visit to the turbulent borderland.

Photo by International Film Service

A CENTRE OF ENLIGHTENMENT

A bright spot in the central district that is illuminating in the darkest hour and carries a burning message to all.