

ILLUSTRATED
Evening Ledger

SATURDAY
 August 26, 1916

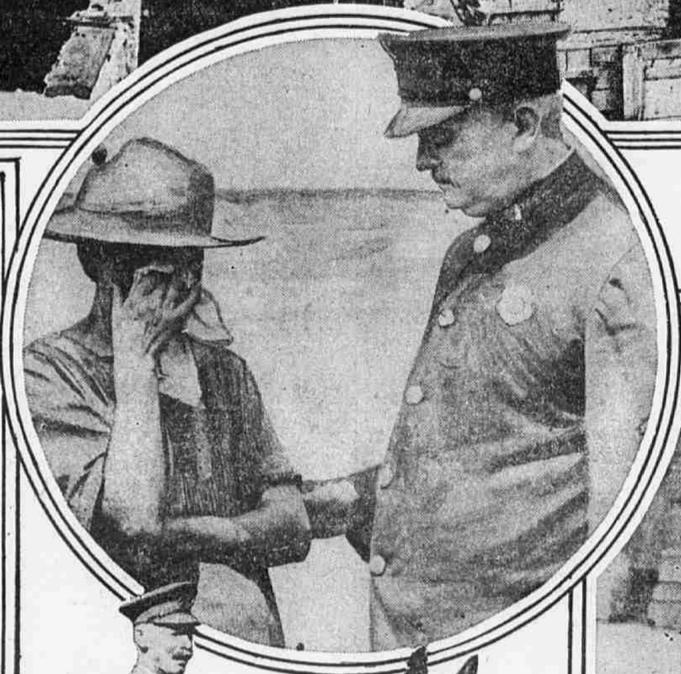

A DAY'S ACTIVITIES IN A BUSY WORLD GRAPHICALLY PORTRAYED BY THE CAMERA MAN

SANITARY SQUAD DESTROYS OFFENSIVE PIGGERIES IN PORT RICHMOND
 W heatsheaf lane was the scene of this raid under Chief McCrudden, who ordered the insanitary pens razed. The sight was too much for the wife of one of the owners, as shown below.

"FUTURIST" SHOES FOR THE FALL
 Something startling in black and gold to match a variegated gown.

ONE REASON WHY GERM-LADEN DUST FILLS THE AIR
 Dirt being swept across the pavement into the gutter without being first sprinkled — an offense of which some storekeepers are often guilty.

Photo by International Film Service.
LEADER IN THE BIG PUSH ON THE WESTERN FRONT
 Lieutenant General Sir Henry Rawlinson is commanding one of the British armies which, with the French, is pounding at the German lines on the Somme.

WORLD'S SMALLEST MOTORCYCLE
 Young George Dalbeane, of this city, is riding this new invention, which recently has been put on the market.

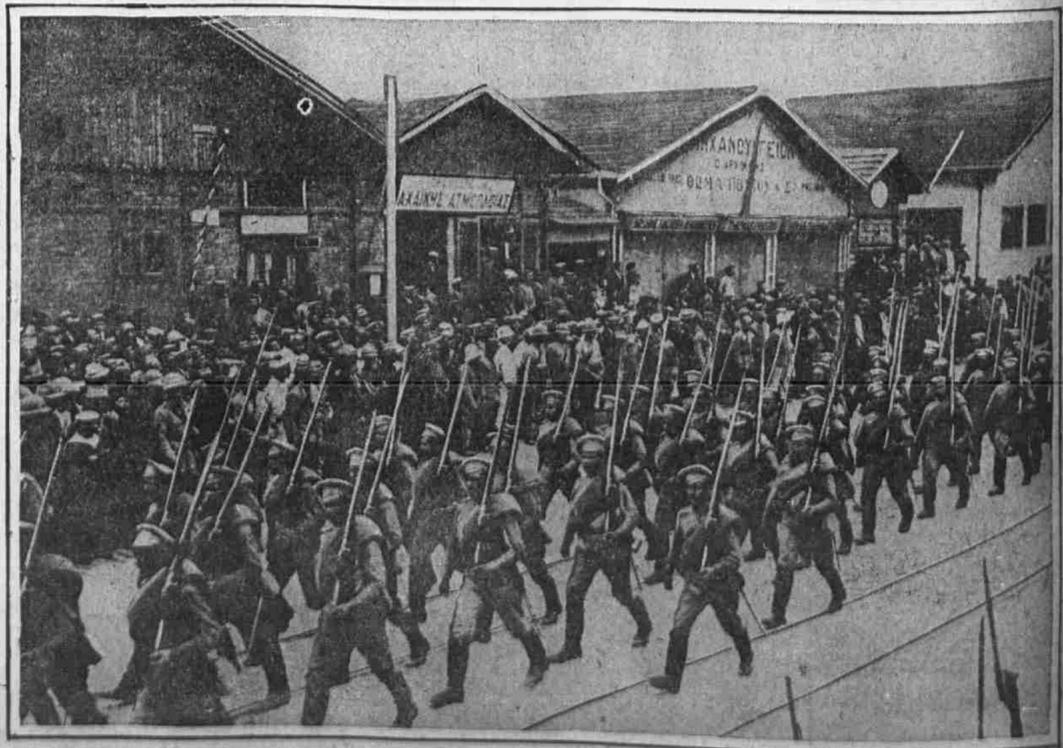

Photo by Underwood & Underwood.
RUSSIAN TROOPS LATEST TO JOIN THE MEDLEY OF NATIONS AT SALONICA
 Here is pictured the arrival of the Czar's contribution to the drive on the Balkan front. The Slavs are passing between lines of British, French, Serb and Greek soldiers, who are looking on with interest.