

ANYWAY, LES DARCY IS NEUTRAL; HE APPEARED ON THE SAME CARD WITH A PAIR OF GERMANS

BRAVE SOLDIERS OF GEN. FULTZ MUST STARVE IN TRENCHES WHILE THE MAGNATES CHORTLE IN GLEE

Big Boss Ban Knocks Props From Under Fraternity With Announcement That Players Must Deal Direct With Owners or Nothing Doing

All is sad and quiet in the baseball trenches today. The pathetic state of affairs was brought about when Big Boss Ban, the American League chief, took the bit firmly in his teeth, emitted a few laconic, guttural sounds and conveyed the idea, through the use of numerous and highly descriptive adjectives, that the recalcitrants—meaning the strike-threatening players—could hold themselves off the dock or chase themselves around the block. Furthermore, H. B. announced with his usual brass band accompaniment that from now on the soldiers following the banner of General Fultz would be permitted to do as they pleased and allowed to starve to death while the magnates looked on and chortled with excessive glee. Also, continued Ban, any agreements or papers or anything else existing between the Fraternity and organized baseball are null and void as the Belgian treaty when the Germans started their march on the ruins of the war. From now on they are only scraps of paper, with the words on the scraps. All of which means that the brave soldiers now in the trenches starve there and perish. There will be no compromise. No money will be given. Application will not be considered. The flag of peace will be ignored. The only thing left is to allow the Big Five to take the Fraternity out for a walk some fine pleasant morning and have it shot of snuff.

Players Now on the Defensive With the Magnates in the Ring

AFTER making its strike threat and following up with the announcement that the Fraternity was seeking and probably would get recognition from the American Federation of Labor, Dave Fultz and his 1216 followers felt that they had put over on those well-known magnates. This will be proved if with the magnates issued their ultimatum, which was that if they now in the Fraternity were concerned, it was their own fault and will not be recognized. If the players desire to do anything they must deal with their managers direct and the Fraternity will be conspicuous by its absence. This was a far-reaching blow and left the erstwhile strikers, hitherto on the offensive, in a lurch. They quickly saw that it was the beginning of a game of hide-and-seek with Dave Fultz and the Fraternity. So we must have the brave soldiers starting to dig trenches and Praxie Fultz contemplating Admiral Peary when he discovered the North Pole and the magnates secretly signing all of the papers available and the strike-down comes next month. Then we shall see what we shall see.

Darcy Has Missed His Chance to Make Big Money

LES DARCY'S apparent reluctance to fight, even in the arena, has cost him a killing in a drawing card in those "lucky" states. A month or so ago he made his sensational entrance into New York and was given the customary respectful and enthusiastic reception by the natives of that city. He was given the greatest battle since the days of Billy Pegg, and had a chance to win his own ticket for the next battle. He probably would have received from $25,000 to $40,000 for his share, but he failed to do so. He was the only one who joined a show and now he has to do so. He has been defeated by a professional wrestler, as was proved on Wednesday night when he lost to an unknown wrestler. He needed the performance. No longer is he an attraction. The fact would be to see him in the ring with some worthy opponent, but this year's exhibition staff cannot be put together. The day old public inquired, "Who will he fight?" Shortly afterward, this was followed by "When will he fight?" and now we have the insistent query, "Can he fight?" You cannot give it to him. We saw him in action, but it is hard to get a line on a commitment athlete.

Australian Must Box Now or Go on Short Rations

DARCY'S theatrical tour is ended, so far as his own show is concerned. After the frost at the Olympia his managers said that in the future he would not come here unless he had some money to spend. He has no money. His dream of big money has been shattered, because the public refuses to fall for Jimmy Langford's act. "Les made enough money with his special show in Philadelphia to purchase a couple of second-hand Christmas trees." This has proved to Darcy that he must get big and fight in the near future or he will starve to death. But he will not get an enormous purse. Last week Dick Corbett, who represented Jim Buckley, of New York, was prepared to give him as much as $25,000 for a ten-rounder with Levinson, at McCoy or Billy Shiano in Brooklyn. Yesterday Corbett said that he would be glad to give $10,000 for the bout, but the price was decreasing every day. Tex Rickard is out of it and Tom O'Rourke is offering large wads of conversation money. It looks as if Mr. Darcy will have some good sledding if he doesn't show his ring ability real soon.

And Lester Said He Wanted Money for His Parents!

WHEN Les arrived here he said that he was not escaping military duty, but came to America to make enough money to send to his parents and keep them in comfortable circumstances after he had enlisted. Oh, yes, Les said he would join either an English or Canadian regiment as soon as the tankard was healthy enough to exist a few years without any outside aid. This was a great little story, but Darcy has failed to remember his lines. When he was in Philadelphia he saw an automobile in the lobby of the Bellevue and when he learned that the price was $4500, decided to buy the car as soon as he had the money. In the meantime, we suppose his parents can wait. Anyway, Les is a neutral guy. He appeared on the same bill with a couple of Germans.

Boxing May Be Resumed in Illinois This Year

IT IS possible that the boxing game again will flourish in the State of Illinois. A bill has been introduced in the Legislature, and judging from reports it has a good chance of going through. The Seventh Regiment, Illinois National Guard, is behind the measure and, it is believed, will exert enough influence to convince the legislators. Pugilism will get a big boost if the bill goes through, as Chicago will support the game better than any other city. There are several big places to stage important matches, the Coliseum and Dexter Pavilion being almost as large as Madison Square Garden. There seems to be but one drawback, and that is the appointment of a commissioner and the issue percentage to go to the State. Politics will play an important part in the making of the commission, and twenty-five per cent of the receipts are supposed to go to the State after each show. Some percentage.

Princeton Declined Earlier Football Date With Harvard

IT HAS been learned that Harvard wanted to meet Princeton on the gridiron on November 3 this year instead of November 19. This would have given the Tigers two weeks in which to rest up for Yale, but the Junctioners refused. From whom we are sitting, this looks like a poor move on the part of Princeton. The coaches should have welcomed a chance to take a couple of weeks' holiday after the grueling battle with the Crimson, for it would give them a better chance to beat Yale. However, Harvard knew what was at stake when the earlier date was offered, because it would have given the team three weeks instead of two to get in shape for the Bulldog. Once more, Yale was selected to be the goat, but Princeton prevented it.

President Scheffer Has Something to Say

WILLIAM J. SCHEFFER, president of the Eastern Basketball League, denies that he refused to pay Referee Maddock's expenses to and from his home in Coatesville. The president writes as follows: "I wish to deny the statement made in the Evening Ledger of Tuesday, January 16, to the effect that I refused to pay his railroad fare to and from his home in Coatesville. I would add that I have nothing to do with the payment of the salaries of officials, but am in a position to know that Mr. Maddock did get his railroad fare to and from his home. Referee Maddock has no complaint against his treatment from the Eastern League or myself. As evidence of this, I have a letter from Mr. Maddock explaining that his business affairs make it impossible for him to continue as referee and thanking us for our treatment of him. Kindly give this space in your columns and oblige, respectfully.

Houghton Declares War on Strikers

PERCY HAUGHTON'S statement that "Babbi" Maranville, generally the most valuable member of the Boston Braves, must sign his contract or quit baseball created a sensation in Boston. It was believed that Maranville's demands would be met by Houghton if only for the effect it would have on the other members of the team. It was thought Maranville's declaration at the time he returned his contract that the threatened strike of the Players' Fraternity members had nothing to do with his hold-out and that he really was not in sympathy with it would induce Houghton to sign him at once and then use him as a missionary pitch and does not intend to meet the demands of any of his players, as Maranville could have been the last player on his team whose displeasure would be incurred. It has been said by Boston players that Maranville can make or break the Braves, and there is sure to be trouble if he continues to hold out, whereas if the brilliant shortstop weakens and signs his contract there probably will be a mad rush of others to fall into line.

Charles Werghman, of the Cubs, declares that his team is being made the "goat" of the Players' Fraternity. He insists that Fultz's action in calling the strike on the day the Cubs are scheduled to depart for Pasadena is a rank injustice, as he has gone to great expense to make this trip a pleasure jaunt for his players, and that even the members of his team who are strong for the players' cause appreciate the spirit of the Chicago club in making such elaborate training camp plans.

IN THESE moments, what has become of Bob Felsold and his 1917 contract out at Trenton? Can it be possible that Robert is asking too much money for his services?
