PRISONED "PICKETS" SUFFER HARSHIPS

Mary Winsor's Mother and Sister Visit Suffragist in Washington Workhouse

By M'LISS

When you read about it in the papers, it sounds as though the life of a suffragist picket must be a grand and glorious one, with the police department of the nation's capital at attention and a good-looking collector of the country's largest port resigning all because of a mere banner flaunted in front of the President's house.

CALLS CHARGES ABSURD

It is absurd for the Government to charge that Mr. Werner had published false news by which the enemy was aided. Before he came to the United States Mr. Werner was arrested several times in Germany for assaulting the father of the present Kaiser and Kaiserin in general.

Doctor Darkow refused to see callers today at his home, where his wife said that she was being visited by a woman who she said was a German spy.

The raid is regarded as the most important made in this city since the Government's work of stamping out all opposition to this country was begun.

LITTLE MOTHER SHOWS EFFICIENCY IN PERIL

Seventeen-Year-Old Girl Carries Brother and Sister From Burning House

Regina Shanley, seventeen years old and pretty, is the kind of a girl who can best be described by one word—efficiency.

She acts as a little mother to her brother and sister not only while they're awake, but during the night as well.

Her father, James Shanley, is employed at night, so Regina must also act as guardian of the little home at 2836 Cedar street.

Today's morning she saw a thin cloud of smoke streaming through the door. She found her clothes quickly and found the hallway clogged with smoke. Groaning her way through, she reached the children's rooms of her sister and brother.

They were in bed. She found them one by one at a time to the street and then led them to the home was on fire. While a kind-hearted neighbor watched the children, the little mother ran to the fire station at 28th and Chestnut streets.

FIRST DRAFT CALL NOW 45 PER CENT

Crowder Increases Allotment for Units of Quota to Go to Camp Meade

3 APPEALS TO PRESIDENT

Provost General Crowder today notified the State registration headquarters at Harrisburg that the quota of drafted men from Pennsylvania to be sent to the Camp Meade training camp, starting September 19, has been increased from 35 to 45 per cent.

In the midst of the extra spur of speed under which the two district draft boards are working today to enable the local boards to comply with the order of Provost Marshal General Crowder that 45 per cent must be started for Camp Meade and Sherman on September 19, three appeals to the President of the United States were filed today.

FIRST APPEAL TO WILSON

The first direct appeal to President Wilson was a personal one, from John H. Vane, living in the Lincoln park section of the city. The second is an industrial appeal for Rudolph B. Ditt, Jr., of 4531 York road, at a Kleider & Co. dressery street and Montgomery avenue, maker of fine woollen, and coat and over suits, and the third is for the manufacture of clothing for the United States army.

In his appeal to the chief of last resort, Vane states that upward of 3,000 eggs a week, besides other poultry products and produce from the 100-acre farm that he manages as an expert farmer, for H. Milton Duffield, of Edge Hill, would be lost should the war supply to the nation "at this critical time," if he should be drafted into the national army.

Brooks Greenwood, chief clerk of the District Board that rejected Vane's appeal, said that the papers would be sent to the adjutant general at Harrisburg, who would in turn transmit them to General Crowder in Washington.

Chief Postal Inspector James T. Cortright cooperated with United States deputy marshals and special agents in the Department of Justice. An automobile load of documents was seized. All were turned over to United States District Attorney Francis Fisher Kane.

SHIVERY SEPTEMBER NOW WITH US! BR-R-R-R!

Straw Hats Out of Sight as Coal Goes Up and Mercury Goes Down

Somewhere back in the days of long ago a wise man decreed that September 15 was the day to ring the death knell for all straw hats be it put on or be it cold. But shivering Philadelphians, who awoke early today to find the thermometer hovering around the 43 mark, disregarded the old custom, and many a battered felt or derby came to light.

Last night was colder by two degrees than any on record for Philadelphia and vicinity for the first three weeks of September. The minimum temperature was 32. Unofficial thermometers in the suburbs, however, were reported nearer than Harrisburg, to the west or Clementon, N. J., to the east.

Much damage was done to crops in the central and western sections of the State, where light frosts of frost were reported. Crops were also damaged in the suburbs. New England and the Middle West.

Today's minimum mark of 43 was recorded at 6 o'clock this morning. By noon the official mercury had jumped to 57.

It will warm up still more during the day, the weatherman said, but will be cold again tonight. By tomorrow, however, there should be a return to more normal temperatures.

The average temperature yesterday was only fifty-eight degrees, which is eleven degrees below normal for September. This for the first time since the beginning of the year, the average has been three and five-tenths degrees below normal.

One of the unusual turns of the cold weather yesterday was that the highest temperature for a day—sixty-three degrees—was recorded at midnight. Under the noon-day sun it registered but fifty-two.

At 2 o'clock it had risen only to sixty-two. Then began a gradual drop, which lasted until midnight.

Garbage Concern Controlled by Downtown Contractors Punished for Neglect

Fine totaling $167 has been imposed upon the Penn. Rebuilding Company, the Vares controlled concern that has the garbage collector contract for the entire city, for failure to live up to contract during August.

An unusually large number of complaints have been made of neglect by the company. The complaints, which came from all sections of the city, were investigated and in many instances were found to have been made by residents having good ground for complaint.

Similar conditions prevailed in July and the fine for that month totaled $486, which was more than had been imposed during all of 1916 for neglect of duty.

CAPT. MAX THERECHENS HELD ON NEW CHARGE

Commander of Eitel Friedrich Accused of Sending Obscene Letters Through U. S. Mail

For the third time, Captain Max Therechens of the German cruiser Eitel Friedrich, interned here and later seized by the Government, has been charged with a violation of a Federal law. Indicted previously on charges of smuggling and violation of the Mann act, Therechens was today arraigned before United States Commissioner Long in the Federal Building, accused of sending obscene letters through the mail.

United States Postal Inspector Furness testified that the captain had written four letters to a woman in Saginaw, Mich., while interned in the Eitel Friedrich. Miss Anna Vondran, who came to this country in 1912 from Germany, teaches in a kindergarten in Saginaw. She is about forty years of age.

At the hearing, Timothy McCoy, captain of police of Saginaw, testified he had seized the letters and a picture of the German Emperor and one bearing a resemblance to Therechens in the attic of the home where the woman lived.

Miss Vondran, acting upon the advice of Gray, refused to state whether she had received the letters. Therechens, for fear of incriminating her, said that she had not. Under cross-examination, Mr. Kane, she admitted that she had written to a man named Max Therechens.

Therechens is a prisoner of war. Commissioner Long held him in $2000 bail for court.
