Additional Arrests in Fifth Ward Plot Promised by District Attorney Rotan

Fresh evidence poured in today to show that "men higher up" hired a gang of New York gunmen to murder Mercantile Appraiser James A. Carey, McNichol leader of the "Bloody Fifth" Ward, with the result that a Philadelphia detective who sprang to his rescue was shot and killed.

Henry de Inrao, alias John Costello, the prisoner who named "Little Nick" as the "go-between," made a virtual confession late this afternoon, according to Captain of Detectives Tate, which confirms the signed confession in New York of Ruggiero Falcone, alias "Jimmy the Flash," self-confessed member of the gang.

His "mate," Samuel ("Butch") Scelgino, alias Jack Mascia, who fired the shot that killed Acting Detective George A. Eppley, also "opened up" this afternoon.

"We know almost everything that we want to know," said Captain Tate. "The men 'edge' when it comes to names, but they are trying to beat each other away from the electric chair."

William ("Whitey") Burkhart, another member of the band under arrest in New York, also confessed this afternoon to Detective Callahan, of Philadelphia. He told everything, according to a dispatch, when promised that he would be protected from his "pals" for "squealing."

The names of the men who authorized, contracted and paid for the hiring of the band of thugs are known, according to former Judge James Gay Gordon, who is pressing the prosecution.

More arrests were promised today in Philadelphia by District Attorney Rotan.

A man suspected of being the much-sought "Little Nick" in the Fifth Ward political murder was taken to detective headquarters this afternoon by Detective Thomas Walsh, who found him in an eating place on Winter street near Tenth.

The police of the entire city were ordered to recall today to arrest James Clark, a Vase-Smith worker, of De Lancey street between Fifth and Sixth, on a murder charge, and Mike O'Sullivan or Sullivan, 6026 Market street, a private detective, on a murder conspiracy charge.

Clark is the "Man with Eyeglasses" who gave the gunmen their instructions, according to detectives, and Sullivan or O'Sullivan brought six of the thugs—as yet uncaptured—to the Keystone Hotel, Fifteenth and Market streets, the day before election. Their names were made public.

Evidence that gunmen were seen in an automobile with Isaac Deutsch and Constable "Eddie" Abrams, of Magistrate Imber's office, the day of the killing, if substantiated, will result in the murder conspiracy charge against Deutsch being charged to murder, it was said. Deutsch, with Mayor Smith and Lieutenant David Bennett, Vase-Smith-Deutsch police commander in the Fifth Ward, now is under $10,000 bail for a trial on a murder conspiracy charge.

D. WEBSTER DOUGHERTY

JUDGE DOUGHERTY DIES AT CAPE MAY

Former Member of Common Pleas Bench Victim of Heart Disease

END WAS UNEXPECTED

Webster Dougherty, former Judge of the Common Pleas Court and a widely known corporation lawyer, died suddenly at his summer home in Cape May today. Heart disease, superinduced by a heavy cold, which confined him to bed last week, is believed to be the cause of his death.

Mr. Dougherty, who would have been sixty years old on the 27th of this month, had been failing in health since January, 1916, when he left the bench. He was in this city last week and went to Cape May on Monday to bring his family back from the shore, according to his business associates, when he was stricken with a heavy cold. This confined him to his bed a day or two ago, and yesterday he suddenly took a turn for the worse and died this morning.

Mrs. Dougherty and their daughter Marion was at his bedside when death occurred.

Mr. Dougherty, who was a Republican in politics, was one of the judges appointed by the governor of 1913 under the act of the Legislature authorizing the appointment of an additional judge to each of the Common Pleas Courts, which was subsequently declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

On January 27th, 1918, he was appointed a judge of common pleas court No. 2, by Governor Teller to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Wittbank. He was defeated in the primaries for re-election in 1916 and retired from the bench in January, 1916.

Mr. Dougherty was a son of Daniel Dougherty, the noted orator, who plied his trade in nomination for President at Cincinnati in 1880.

The Dougherty family were all Democrats, Webster being the first to break away and go over to the Independents, later becoming a full-fledged Republican when Bryan captured the Democracy.

His wife was Miss Anna Wilcox, member of a wealthy family. The Doughertys have cottages at Chelsea and also in the mountains.

HEFLIN'S CHARGES STIR IRE OF HOUSE

Wild Scenes as Author of Slush Fund Accusation Defends Himself

GREETED WITH CATCALLS

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 21. "It is highly regrettable that the American Government, God knows how, has been able to obtain apparently a whole collection of German diplomatic documents," declared the Cologne Volkszeitung today in commenting on the Bernstorff intrigue revealed by the Washington State Department. "If the affair is true," the newspaper added, "it is of the most disgraceful character."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. Scenes of wild excitement broke out in the House today when, in response to a demand from Representative Norton, of North Dakota, Representative Hefflin, of Alabama, arose to explain an interview he had given to a newspaper charging that members of the House were in the employ of the German Government. Representative Hefflin was hunted and beset and frequently interrupted by hostile questions as he spoke.

"There are spies every day in the galleries," declared Hefflin amid catcalls. "I have in mind members of this House who have not been loyal," shouted Hefflin, amid shouts from the Republican side of the chamber.

"Who are they? Name them," members on both sides were now demanding. "I don't have to name them. I will not yield," retorted Hefflin.

"There was rumor of a gambling place in this city," persisted Hefflin. "I am a German where gamblers and slackers and members of this House loafed around and loafed."

"I protest the gentleman is out of order," shouted Representative Gordon, of Ohio, Democrat.

OFFERS TO NAME DISLOYAL. "If an investigation is ordered," said Hefflin, "I'll name these members who are disloyal."

"Yes," members screamed in derision. "I can't prove what I say."

"Oh, no," yelled the floor. "I don't count publicly," said Hefflin. "Oh, no, no, no, no," screamed his hearers, while Speaker Clark sought vainly to restore order.

Explaining his published interview, Hefflin said he had been talking of woman spies and male spies, when he was interrupted by Representative Gordon, of Wisconsin, one of the leading pacifist members, on a point of order.

Cooper read from Jefferson's Manual to support his statement that the Alabama Congressman had no right to interrupt the motives of members without naming them. "I did say," said Hefflin, "that there is a rumor that there was a gambling place here where slackers and gamblers and members of this House loafed around and loafed."

"Name them," yelled scores of members. "I dedicate myself on the altar of my country," screamed Hefflin, while members roared. "I'll stand any test. I have no

PLOT TO HINDER REGISTRY OF BOYS

Safety Committee Believes Sinister Influences Are at Work in State

EVIDENCE OF PROPAGANDA

Another plot to embarrass the Government and hinder the successful prosecution of the war has been discovered by the Committee of Public Safety, with offices in the Finance Building, according to an announcement made today.

Three weeks ago the Department of Civilian Service and Labor of this committee began the registration of the boys of the State. A quota of 25,000, of which 5000 was to come from this city, had been requested. To date this registration has not been a success, and its failure is attributed to a real organized propaganda which is doing everything possible to prevent success of this project.

"We are planning to register all of the boys in this State," said John C. Frazer, vice director of the department. "However, we have encountered a treacherable and dastardly organized attempt to frustrate this plan. Under the plans we had laid within two years there would be an army of several million trained workers among the boys of the country. Any one disloyal to the Government would naturally wish to frustrate this attempt."

Mr. Frazer has recently returned from a tour of the State. The registration was proceeding so slowly that it was desired to determine the cause for its failure. He has made a thorough survey of the field. Parents and boys have been closely questioned, and objections throughout the different parts of the State carefully compared.

"EVIDENCE OF PLOT POINTS. "Recently a large and well organized plot to prevent the registration of the boys of Indiana was unmasked," Mr. Frazer said. "The persons responsible for the propaganda were discovered. We face the same condition here. In all parts of the State the objections of the boys and parents have been classified and standardized. So far we have been unable to discover any circulars. However, there is no doubt that there is a well-established and financed resistance to this registration."

"The movement has been most grossly misrepresented. Any one reading our literature and the card that each boy is asked to sign would soon realize that the movement is one beneficial to the boy as well as to the Government. We are offering to give the boy work. If they don't want to take a position after having it offered to them, even though they have registered, they are under no obligation to take it. Even after they accept the position they are not obliged to remain in it one minute longer than they want to."

"The propaganda in this Government is distorted by its opponents into a caricature of the boy power of the State. This is not the case. We will make every effort in our power to overcome this propaganda. The first step is to put into the hand of every parent our literature on the subject. We also want the agents carrying on the propaganda to know that we are on their trail."

When asked if he anticipated turning

MOTORTRUCKS COLLIDE; 20 HURT

Rear-End Smash on Walnut Lane Overturns One Vehicle

FIVE ARE IN HOSPITAL

A rear-end collision between two motor trucks on Walnut Lane below Roaneta street early today injured twenty men when their machine overturned, five of whom were taken to St. Timothy's Hospital.

Those taken to the hospital were: NICK SKAZOTZ, forty-two years old, 1284 Carlton street; broken collar bone and bruise of the leg. NICK BASSO, forty, 213 Cedar street; broken left arm. LEON YELLO, forty-two, Girard avenue, West Philadelphia; cuts of face and legs. NICK DOVLY, thirty-nine, 4222 Marion avenue; cuts of face. JOHNNY ROBERTS, twenty-three, a negro, 1441 1/2 S. 10th street; probable fracture.

The machine which overturned was the property of Thomas Riley, a contractor of Bala, and was taking the men to a building operation in Manayunk. Roberts was driving it. According to the police, Thomas Addition, of 543 North Felton street, driver of the other truck, attempted to pass Roberts on Walnut lane and collided with the rear wheel of the big truck. The machine overturned and all the men were hurled out.

Addison, who drives the truck for James X. Mitchell, of Forty-sixth and Market streets, was held in $500 bail for a further hearing, when arraigned before Magistrate Price at the Manayunk police station.

Roberts, who was also arrested after the more serious of the injured men were taken to the hospital, was released in his own recognizance.

Two Women Scalded by Steam A deluge of scalding steam from a boiler in the pure food department of a Market street store seriously scalded two women. The victims, who are in the Jefferson Hospital, are Nina Shipley, thirty-six years old, 1466 North Nineteenth street, and an unidentified negro. Neither of the women is in a serious condition.

Delaware Infantry Ordered South WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 24.—Governor Townsend today received an order from the Department of the East, directing that the First Regiment of Delaware State Militia depart for the National Guard cantonment at Annapolis, Md., as soon after September 22 as it can be made ready. The regiment, numbering 1200 men, is now encamped at the State rifle range below New Castle.

RUSSIANS STRIKE HARD ON DVINA LINE

Advance South of Riga-Pskov Road and Recapture Positions

INFLECT HEAVY LOSSES

PETROGRAD, Sept. 24.—A Russian advance south of the Riga-Pskov road and the occupation of German positions near Sel Zemi were reported by the War Office today. The Russians inflicted heavy losses, more than 4000 captured being counted, and, in addition, captured about sixty prisoners and a dozen machine guns.

The scene of the Russian counterattack is north of Jacobstadt, which the Germans captured Saturday and is east of the Dvina River.

GERMANS TAKE PRISONERS IN FLANDERS RAID

LONDON, Sept. 24. German raiders penetrated British trenches early last night near La Bassueville. Field Marshal Haig reported today. They were driven out with losses after a short fight, after a few British soldiers had been taken.

On both sides of the Scarpe the British Field Marshal reported the enemy's artillery active during the early morning. The War Office reports that the British batteries Sunday four German machines were shot down and two driven down out of control, while only two British machines were lost.

Detailed accounts of the fighting in the new British offensive emphasize two points: First, the severity of the German losses; second, the effects of the British artillery.

German prisoners taken in the struggle along the Menin road were so dazed from the British bombardment that it was many hours before they could talk intelligibly. The German losses at Inverness Copse, just north of the Menin road, were frightful. Great mounds of dead Prussians, with arms, legs or heads shot away, blocked the progress of the advancing British. British surgeons who followed the advance established temporary hospitals in shell craters and dented wounded Germans as well as their own men.

An Australian, who took part in the fighting at Inverness Copse said that in all his career as a soldier he had never heard such terrific din. Soldiers could not hear the firing of their own rifles and machine guns.

Iron and Steel Prices Approved by President

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. Steel prices are sharply cut by an agreement reached by President Wilson with the big steel producers of the country.

The announcement came from the White House early this afternoon, accompanied by an official statement that the new prices were to take effect immediately. Prices on steel bars are dropped 47.3 per cent, on shapes 30 per cent and on plates 70.5 per cent.

At the same time prices on iron ore were fixed by agreement at $2.05 a gross ton, the new price being identical with recent market quotations. Prices on coke are reduced by 62.5 per cent and on pig iron 43.1 per cent.

The steel prices are fixed with bases at Pittsburgh and Chicago. Iron ore prices are based at lower lake ports and coke at Connellsville.

Should changed conditions justify a revision during the next three months, new prices will be set by President Wilson at the beginning of the new year.

While the prices are set today by agreement with the steel men, the President under the food control bill is given authority arbitrarily to set such prices should the steel men show any inclination to balk.

The steel men agreed not only to the prices set by the President but in addition, that wages shall continue at present standards.

That the prices shall apply to the Allies and the public as well as to the Government.

That every effort shall be made to increase production. Prices in detail are: Iron ore, basic lower lake ports—Price agreed upon $2.05 gross ton; recent price, $2.05.

Coke, basic Connellsville—Price agreed upon $6 net ton; recent price, $16; reduction, $10; per cent reduction, 62.5. Plates, basic Pittsburgh and Chicago. Price agreed upon, $22.5 hundredweight; recent price, $11 hundredweight; reduction, $7.75; reduction in per cent 70.5.

Steel bars, basic Pittsburgh and Chicago. Price agreed upon, $22 hundredweight; recent price, $5.9 hundredweight; reduction, $2.60; reduction in per cent 47.3. Shapes, basic Pittsburgh and Chicago. Price agreed upon, $3 hundredweight; recent price, $9 hundredweight; reduction, $5; reduction in per cent 55.6.

Plates, basic Pittsburgh and Chicago. Price agreed upon, $22.5 hundredweight; recent price, $11 hundredweight; reduction, $7.75; reduction in per cent 70.5.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

The official announcement said: "It was stipulated, first, that there should be no reduction in the present rate of wages; second, that the prices above named should be made to the public and to the Allies, as well as to the Government; and third, that the steel men pledge themselves to exert every effort necessary to keep up the production to the maximum of the past, so long as the war lasts."

"Measures will be taken by the War Industries Board for placing orders and supervising the output of the steel mills in such manner as to facilitate and expedite the requirements of the Government and the Allies for war purposes, and to supply the needs of the public according to their public importance and in the best interest of all, as far as cooperation was manifested by the steel men, and no doubt is entertained that every effort will be made to bring the production as nearly as possible up to the extraordinary demands resulting from the war."
