

Evening Public Ledger

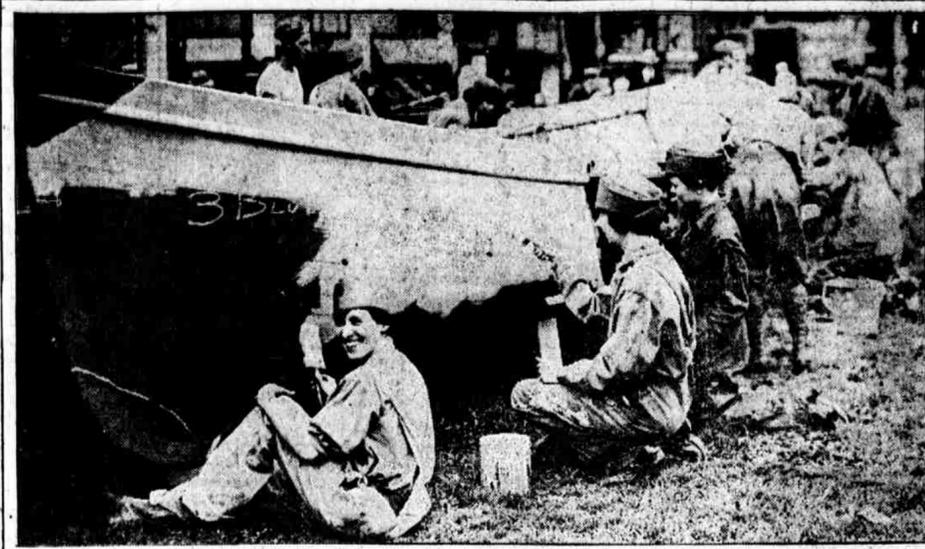

and
THE EVENING TELEGRAPH

Philadelphia, Monday, July 15, 1918

A RESUME OF THE DAY'S INTERESTING NEWS HAPPENINGS VIVIDLY PORTRAYED BY PHOTOGRAPHS

ATLANTIC CITY BATHERS were thrilled when a giant dirigible appeared over the beach one day last week, reminding the pleasure-engaged throng that these are war times.

SHIP CAMOUFLAGE is more worth while than lip camouflage, because in the first instance your enemies can't see, while in the latter case they can. Woman's Camouflage Corps working on whale boat in Union Square, N. Y. Underwood & Underwood.

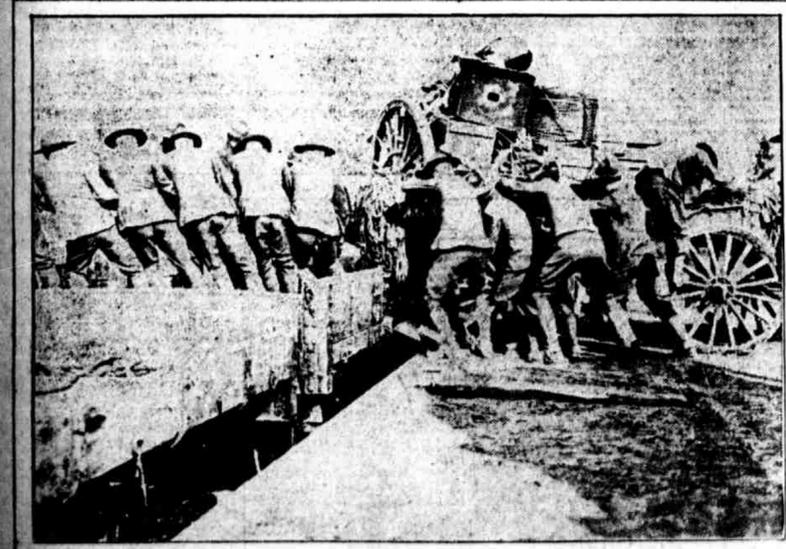

SINCE THE GIRL USHERS put in their appearance at the baseball park of the Chicago Cubs the management has not complained about the attendance. Underwood & Underwood.

SOME JOY RIDE these British munitioners are having, for those boxes are filled with dandy TNT for high explosive shells.

WHILE FLYING VERY LOW this French airplane struck a tree. Notwithstanding that one wing was left behind, the machine continued its journey. International Film Service.

BROAD-SHOULDERED MARINES loading their equipment aboard flat cars preparatory to moving up to the battleline. Committee on Public Information.

WOUNDED IN ACTION, this American soldier is watching a doctor and his assistants bandage his injured leg. Committee on Public Information.

SUFFERING FROM GAS, these Yankee soldiers are arriving at a base hospital in France. Committee on Public Information.