

NEED OF 6 AND 2-CENT PIECES

Rise in Prices of Certain Articles and War Taxes Cause Demand

Due to the great demand for pennies caused by the need of them for paying war taxes and the increase to six cents of many articles that formerly cost five, 116,136,511 were made at the Mint here last year. This represents an increase of more than 28 per cent.

The demand for the small coins fluctuated during the year. At times the market seemed over-supplied, while at other times hardly a sufficient amount for transacting business was available. This, it was explained, was caused by the fact that the supply of coins is not uniform in quantity and sometimes in other ways.

The necessity of combining a penny with a five-cent piece to purchase a commodity has caused business men in this and other cities to start an agitation for the issuance of a six-cent piece. Superintendent Adam Joyce, of the Mint, said today that the minters here could not supply a little difficulty to turn out such a coin, a change in dies only being necessary. An act of congress, he explained, would be necessary to authorize the change.

The same problem confronts those who are agitating for a renewal of the old two-cent piece. Congress must authorize it before it can be turned out.

HATCH GIVEN NEW VICE JOB

Government Law-Enforcing Officer Ordered South

Lieutenant Colonel Charles B. Hatch, U. S. M. C., Government law and order officer in this city, will make a "flying visit" to New Orleans next Saturday in an effort to rid that city of vice.

Colonel Hatch, who is on a special mission to New Orleans, was accompanied by Secretary Daniels, who also announced that Colonel Hatch, on a three-day visit to New Orleans, will be in the city in planning up the city, a feat which the city authorities had been unable to perform.

Colonel Hatch today denied that he was to leave this city definitely. He declared he would return here after his visit to New Orleans.

His secretary, Sergeant J. E. Schreiner, will accompany him to New Orleans, where a conference will be held with Mayor Behrman in regard to vice conditions in the southern metropolis. Colonel Hatch decided today to say what action he contemplated in New Orleans, saying all information must come from Secretary Daniels, who had ordered him South.

OH THANKS, MR. POTTER!

Darker Nights on George's Hill Appreciated

To the Editor of Evening Public Ledger:—I do not care how dark the nights are, but I do care how light the days are. Bright and sunny days do not make me feel any better than the dark nights. Very truly yours, Mr. Potter.

Dear Mr. Potter:—I am glad to hear that you are enjoying the darker nights on George's Hill. I am sure that you will find them very refreshing. Very truly yours, Mr. Potter.

CLASH OVER SCHWAB

Shipping Board and War Department at Odds—To Confer Tomorrow

By the United Press Washington, July 31. A spirited fight is on between the shipping board and the War Department over steel.

Director-General Schwab and Chairman Hurley, of the shipping board, will appear tomorrow before the representatives of the War Department and the war industries board, demanding priority steel service.

Shipping board's needs, it is stated, demand an additional reserve of 250,000 tons, while the War Department insists that the 1,000,000 tons of steel now distributed to the various shipyards is sufficient to meet present requirements. Schwab is coming with the announced intention of demanding the extra steel needed by the fleet corporation.

Schwab has been quoted as declaring that the War Department should not ask for more steel until it has taken an inventory of the steel now on hand and has ascertained definitely what its needs for the future will be. Frequent requests for these figures have been made by the War Department, but so far no figures have been available.

The shipping board also seeks to obtain about 150,000 tons of steel, 45,000 of which is for China and the rest for Japan, in order that Oriental shipyards may go forward with their work. This has met opposition from several quarters, on the ground that the steel is not needed by the fleet.

War officials say that inasmuch as the board's demand is for ships it should matter not where they are constructed.

Death to Foes

Aim of Battle

Every Man in "E. S." Army

The chief of staff said that, in carrying out the new policy of "every man in the War Department," the letters "E. S." heretofore reserved for the regulars, on the collar of every man serving in the military forces of the United States.

The redesignation of "N. G." for National Guard, and "N. A." for National Army, will be abandoned. In the same connection, General March announced that the twelve major generals and the thirty-six brigadiers necessary for the new divisions will be selected from all elements of the service.

This statement was taken to mean that both National Guard and National Army officers heretofore will be eligible for promotion to the rank of general officers, even in regular army divisions.

In response to a question, General March said that where a division commander was selected to be a temporary corps commander, the senior brigadier division passed to the senior brigadier. He had no information as to the location at present of the eighty-ninth National Army Division.

Nothing on Casualties

General March had nothing to reveal as to the extent of the casualties suffered by the American forces in the recent fighting. He said, however, that General Pershing had been ordered to submit the casualties as received, and that these would be given out here at once. He added that there would be no distribution of casualties over a long period hereafter.

CUT SUGAR USE, COOKE'S APPEAL

Don't Help the Kaiser, He Asks, Urging Greater Economies in Homes

Mr. Cooke also appealed to the retail grocers, asking them to cooperate so that an equitable distribution of Philadelphia's sugar allotment be made. He urged that no discrimination or favoritism be shown.

Can Be Bought for Canning

Sugar for canning and preserving can still be purchased in quantities up to twenty-five pounds, the food administrator announced, but only with the special certificates provided for that purpose. The purchaser must not use the sugar for any other purpose than canning, Mr. Cooke warned.

In requesting that the people of Philadelphia confine their sugar consumption to the amount of their special certificate, Mr. Cooke said, "I do so with supreme confidence that they will answer my appeal willingly, as they have done so many times before."

Food Administrator Lloyd Camden, today introduced a record of sales system in all Camden stores dealing in sugar.

Every purchaser of sugar will be required to fill out report blanks, giving name, address, date of purchase and quantity. These reports will be collected from the dealers, turned over to the food administrator and tabulated. In this way violators of the sugar restriction will be exposed, and prosecutions will follow.

Today fifty pounds of sugar were found in the home of Mrs. Emma Miller, 221 North Thirty-seventh street. Camden, Mrs. Miller was ordered to give the sugar to the Cooper Hospital.

PIE MAY BE SERVED WITH VICTORY BREAD

Beginning tomorrow one slice of victory pie may be served in public eating places in addition to the two ounces of victory bread which will be served to one person at each meal.

This announcement was made today by Howard Heinz, food administrator for Philadelphia.

"No immediate change in the amount of cereal substitutes in bakery products is contemplated by the food administration. It is safe to say the 25 per cent substitute rule will remain in force for at least the remainder of the year, but in order that bakers may adjust their stocks a notice of sixty days will be given in advance of any change in the present arrangement."

Mr. Heinz also announced rice flour may be used by bakers as a part of their substitute up to 5 per cent. Thus a baker may now bake bread composed of 20 per cent wheat flour, 5 per cent rice and 75 per cent other cereal substitute. The most advantageous use of the surplus of rice flour on hand, where rice flour is not used as a part of the substitute the usual 25 per cent of other cereal must be used.

It is permitted to use any kind of shortening, including animal fats, vegetable fats, oils, compounds, hydrogenated oils, and lard, in the conservation of all fats still exists, which economy in their use will be given in advance of any change in the present arrangement."

Bakers may continue the use of leavings on their products, but since they are limited to 10 per cent, they are limited to 10 per cent of their total supply. The need for sugar conservation is exceedingly urgent and the supply is decreasing rapidly. It is necessary to reduce their consumption of sugar to a minimum.

EXPLOSION UNDER STREET

Flame Leaps From Manhole at Sixth and Chestnut Streets

For more than twelve hours a sheet of gas flame shot up from a manhole, following three heavy explosions at Sixth and Chestnut streets early last night. The gas ignited under the street, rattled windows, directed electric lights and blew off manhole covers.

For more than half an hour trolley traffic was delayed as sheets of flame arose from manholes on either side of the track. Firemen removed other manhole covers, but the inferno will be difficult to check.

Reports from the E. G. I. and the Philadelphia Electric Company, aided by firemen, worked all night to locate the cause of the explosion. Eventually it was found a short circuit of an electric light cable had set fire to the covering of the cable itself. This covering is made of canvas, soaked with creosote and rubber.

MOTHER OF JUDGE DEAD

Mrs. Mary Morris Patterson Dies at Langhorne at 72

Mrs. Mary Morris Patterson, mother of Judge John M. Patterson, died last night at the summer home of her son in Langhorne.

Mrs. Patterson was seventy-two years old and was a native of Philadelphia. She was the daughter of Mrs. F. S. Barber. The funeral arrangements have not been completed, but the interment will be at Westminster cemetery Friday.

Judge Patterson received many messages of condolence today.

TO REAPPOINT THORNTON

Postmaster to Be Named for Another Term, Is Report

Postmaster Thornton will be reappointed in the next few days for another term of four years, according to reports from Washington. His commission of his first appointment expired last October, but his reappointment was held up pending the investigation of the affairs of the Philadelphia postoffice.

Postmaster Thornton explains, in similar scores of others which are made in all large post offices at the expiration of an incumbent's term. No nominations for reappointment are made until the investigation is completed.

THREATENS WIFE OF RIOT VICTIM

Anonymous Person Writes to Mrs. Lavery Commending Husband's Slayer

Alarmed by an anonymous letter to Mrs. Hugh Lavery, wife of one of the white men shot and killed in the downtown race riot, the police have placed guards around the house at 1229 South Twenty-sixth street.

The letter, after commending the person who shot her husband, threatens the life of Mrs. Lavery and other whites in the vicinity for their attitude toward the negroes.

Since receiving the letter Mrs. Lavery, who was already ill, has taken a turn for the worse. The letter was held by the police.

Assistant Superintendent of Police Mills said the letter would be held in an effort to locate the sender.

The funeral of Lavery will be held from his home at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. A special detail of police will be there and at St. Anthony's Church, Gray's Ferry road and Fitzwater street.

Negro families are reported to be moving out of the downtown district affected by the riots.

William Douglas, twenty-three years old, 38 South Fifty-seventh street, who was badly beaten downtown on Monday, made an effort to start a riot in a theatre near Fifty-ninth and Market streets last night. It is charged, but was unsuccessful.

The funeral of Douglas will be held tomorrow morning from his late home, 2748 Oakford street, at 9 o'clock. Lieutenant Harry Meyers and a detail of police will be in attendance.

Mass will be celebrated in St. Anthony's, Roman Catholic church Gray's Ferry avenue and Fitzwater street.

RAIN WORTH ONE MILLION DOLLARS

Value Placed on Showers by Farmers Throughout This Vicinity

One million dollars worth of rain fell on Philadelphia and vicinity during the twenty-four hours ended at 8 o'clock this morning, according to farmers throughout this section today.

According to announcement of the local weather bureau, this valuation is not too high. The rainfall was one inch and eight hundredths of an inch and it went to waste.

"Ideal rainstorm," the weather bureau said, but it is virtually over for the time being.

Prospects for today are indefinite. Cloudiness is scheduled. Cooler weather, naturally, as in with the rain and will likely stay for a while, according to the weather bureau.

"These showers," said Forecaster Bliss, "have been general all along the Atlantic coast, and westward to the Ohio Valley, reaching also to the St. Lawrence Valley. The rains have been sufficient in quantity to be of immense value to farmers and truckers everywhere, and will be most important factor not only in assuring heavier crops, but in actually saving crops in districts where the recent dry spell—practically a drought—had almost burned or wilted the plants and endangered growth to such an extent that many farmers feared short crops."

500 CHILDREN BRAVE RAIN AT PARK PICNIC

"Angel of Kensington" Gives Kiddies of District Animal Outing Despite Storm

Five hundred children from Kensington today were the guests of Mrs. M. W. Ketchum, the "angel of Kensington," in Fairmount Park.

Large motor trucks at 8:30 o'clock took the children to the Smith Memorial playground, where Mrs. Ketchum held her annual picnic.

"I wouldn't let them interfere with the outing," Mrs. Ketchum said. "I did believe it would be necessary to postpone the picnic, but rather than disappoint the children I decided not to."

In previous years Mrs. Ketchum has entertained more than 1000 children at her outing, but the high cost of everything this year cut the number to 500.

The cost of the outing is met by merchandise sold at the picnic. Mrs. Ketchum obtained enough money to hire trucks and buy food for the picnickers.

"This is one day when all receive enough to eat," she said.

War's influence was felt in the menu. Where large sandwiches made of wheat once were seen, there now were jam and preserve substitutes in the food hamper.

The lunch was prepared by Mrs. Ketchum and ten aides. Each of the aides was in charge of fifty children.

The ages of the guests varied from twelve to thirteen years among the girls, and from ten to seventeen on the boys' side. There also were fifteen elderly women, only two of whom had ever seen Fairmount Park. The start was made from 3088 Frankford avenue.
