Provost Marshal General Asks State for Additional Selectives

13,000 GO THIS MONTH

Boards Prepare for Action in Case 18-to-45 Selection Is Adopted

Pennsylvania was today called upon by the provost marshal general to furnish almost 14,000 men to be sent to Camps Dix, Sherman, Meade and Greenleaf in the first six days of September.

The new calls are for entrainment on September 1 of 749 negroes for Camp Sherman and for entrainment between September 3 and 6 of 8,000 men for Camp Greenleaf, Ga., and 1,500 for Camp Meade, all white; 3,200 for Camp Dix and 500 for Camp Sherman, white, for special or limited service. Warnings are given that special and general service men are not to be entrained together.

Commencing Thursday, 749 negroes are to be started for camp in the five-day period commencing August 25; 16,000 white men are to go to Camp Lee. At the end of the month 1400 special service men are to go to Camp Greene.

In addition 669 grammar school graduates are to go to three colleges and there are calls out for court stenographers and draftsmen.

Pennsylvania draft headquarters in preparing to send to local draft boards throughout the State 13,000,000 blanks to be used in the registration of men between eighteen and forty-five, when Congress shall have passed the necessary legislation and the date of registration is fixed.

Major Murdock, State draft debarring officer, in charge of the work, is determined to have Pennsylvania among the first to complete the work of enrolling its men for military service under the act now being considered at Washington.

State to Prepare

The whole machinery of the State draft is to be set ready for the big enrollment whenever the time is announced, and there will be none of the confusion incident to the first registration on June 5 of last year.

Clerks at State draft headquarters and chief clerks of local district and medical advisory boards are to be inducted into the United States service, either as privates or noncommissioned officers. This was announced today by Major Murdock. It is estimated 425 persons will be affected.

Persons qualified for special or limited military service, or from the deferred classes in some instances. State draft headquarters has issued instructions to the local draft boards of Pennsylvania to exercise the greatest care in determining what are useful employments and to report to headquarters "the names and addresses, present occupation and classification of any registrants who, having been notified, neglected, refused or been unable to obtain such employment."

To List Classes 2, 3 and 4

The boards are directed to carry out the orders to list men of Classes 2, 3 and 4 and decide which are engaged in useful occupations. Notice being given that local boards will be held to a strict interpretation as to what are regarded as nonproductive occupations and should exercise the best judgment in compelling changes.

COW IN THE SUBWAY

Groans Alarm Travelers and Police Make Struggle Find

Groans, deep and sepulchral, filtered through the south side entrance to the subway, Fifteenth and Market streets.

Many persons on their way to work paused and stared. Instinctively they tried to wreck the subway? Were they discovered? Was the one who made the discovery being choked to death?

Word of the discovery was flashed to the Fifteenth and Vine streets police station.

Policemen Lenahan and McCarter rushed to the scene and stealthily descended the steps.

They had their clubs and revolvers ready for action, but suddenly came to a halt at the foot of the stairway.

Facing them defiantly was a determined cow which was tied to a post. It demanded to be released, and did so in honorous tones. The cops agreed with the cow, but as it could not explain itself it came to be in the subway.

The animal was taken to the Fifteenth and Vine streets police station.

There is no truth in a rumor that the Rapid Transit Company placed it in the subway that the motormen and conductors could have fresh milk for breakfast.

PRAISE FOR LABOR SCHOOLS

Fleet Official Predicts Training Departments in All Industries

Predicting every factory and industrial plant in the United States would install training schools to prepare unskilled men to fill skilled labor positions, F. F. MacNary, superintendent of training for the Emergency Fleet Corporation, today detailed the plans of the training school shipbuilders in an address at the Engineers' Club.

"The principle of training men in schools advances efficiency," he said, "by relieving half of the responsibility resting on the shoulders of the production department of a plant."

"The training school plan has been successful in shipyards, like Hog Island, for example. The most of the men were trained before they went to work, and who came from lines vastly different from shipbuilding."

"LOST" WASHINGTON STATUE ARRIVES; UNVEILING TONIGHT

Figure With Sword on Right Side at Destination and P. O. S. of A. Committee's Worries Over—Ceremonies at Camden County Court House

A statue of George Washington en route to the Patriotic Order of Sons of America in Camden, which was lost for several hours today between Jersey City and Camden, arrived safely at the latter place shortly after 2 o'clock.

The delay was caused by a troop train, which had the right of way. The statue was to have been unveiled to mark the opening of the State convention of the order by Miss Gertrude Baker, daughter of East District President Edwin V. Baker.

Five hundred delegates from all parts of New Jersey attended the opening of the convention this afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. The delegates were welcomed by Mayor Charles H. Ellis and the response for the order was made by Judge F. C. Waddington, State president of the order. The gift of Camden County Camp to Camden County. The convention will be addressed tonight by Governor Edger.

It had been planned to unveil the statue in the grounds of the Camden County Court House at 4:30 o'clock, but the unveiling ceremony will be delayed for several hours.

The base of the statue was already in place, also a number of derricks to swing it on to the pedestal. As it will require several hours to assemble the statue, it is possible that it will be placed about 10 o'clock tonight. Large arch lights have been erected on the courthouse grounds to give necessary light for the belated ceremony.

S. O. S. calls for the monument which came from Barrie, Vt., were sent from Camden this morning by Samuel Y. M. C. A. The delegates were welcomed by Mayor Charles H. Ellis and the response for the order was made by Judge F. C. Waddington, State president of the order.

LIBERTY BONDS TAKEN BY TIRE STORE THIEVES

North Broad Street Robbers Also Get Cash and Certified Checks

Burglars jimmied open a safe at the Philadelphia Tire Company, 268 North Broad street, during the night and obtained Liberty Bonds, thrift stamps, cash, certified checks and other papers valued at $2500.

To make their way into the building the thieves broke into the establishment of J. Patterson & Co., 1406 Vine street, climbing to the roof through a skylight, then walking over to the top of the tire company building and descending through another skylight.

Virtually every paper of any importance in the safe was removed, according to the firm. Alongside the safe the burglars left their tools.

While in the place the robbers attempted to smash their way through to the establishment of the Times Square Auto Accessory Company, 260 North Broad street, but never completed the work. Part of the wall was demolished. The accessory company was robbed in a similar manner about two months ago.

The Liberty Bonds and thrift stamps stolen amount to $1200. About $200 in cash was taken and $500 worth of certified checks.

AGAIN MARINES PROVE VALOR

Told French They'd Show Them How—And They Did

The French in a certain sector were unable to hold the ground against the Germans. They broke and fled to the rear, and a mile back of their original line the British and the Marines of the "Ban for your lives" yelled a French major. "The boche is coming."

An American major, smashing down his trench hat, yelled back: "Get the hell out of here, then; we'll show you how to fight them."

A half-minute later and the fight was on. The marines fought the Germans so savagely that the French, who had nine kilometers and after making a woods, captured machine guns and many prisoners.

This story, which throws a little light on the fighting in France, is contained in a letter received today by Major S. W. Patterson, in charge of the marine recruiting station at 1409 Arch street.

It was written by a high-ranking Captain Patterson who knows how the soldiers of the sea are fighting.

BAIL PUT UP FOR ALLEN

Policeman Accused of Jury Tampering Quits Jail

Bail for Patrolman Charles Allen, under arrest in West Chester on charges of trying to tamper with the jury in the Fifth Ward case, was entered late last night. The accused policeman was released from the Chester County jail and left for this city. Bail was entered by a security company, the same which furnished bond for the defendants in the Fifth Ward conspiracy trial.

Earlier in the day the Chester County Court had refused a plea for the reduction of the $5000 bail, under which Allen was held. Argument for the reduction was heard in chambers by Judges Butler and Haase, the latter the trial judge in the Fifth Ward case. It was said last night at the office of District Attorney Wade, of Chester County, that Allen probably would be brought to trial next week.

PHILADELPHIAN WINS CROSS FOR BRAVERY

Private Theodore Pisticoudis Rescues Comrades as German Shells Rain

The distinguished service cross, the highest honor for bravery awarded by the United States army, has been conferred upon Private Theodore Pisticoudis, 402 South Sixteenth street.

A story of his bravery was announced today in the communicque from General Pershing. Private Pisticoudis fearlessly left shelter and ran out into shell-swept "No Man's Land" in the vicinity of Chateau Thierry and rescued three infantrymen who had been buried by an exploding shell.

Private Pisticoudis, member of a machine-gun squad, was treated to an inclosure protecting the position of the machine gun. Shells were exploding all about the Americans as the infantrymen advanced in the direction of the trench. A shell larger than those that had been falling nearby suddenly exploded, tearing a big hole in the ground and burying the three advancing infantrymen in earth.

For several moments they lay out in the open, unable to move and exposed to the grueling fire without any position. Private Pisticoudis left his station, and crawling carefully on hands and knees to the imprisoned men, liberated them.

Shells were bursting about him and several times he narrowly escaped being hit. He finally managed to return to the dugout leading the infantrymen, who had been dazed by the exploding shell.

CONFER ON CURB MARKET

Plans Considered for Bringing in Food Products

Plans for conveying food from nearby farms to the proposed curb market here were discussed this afternoon at a conference between farmers of Wyndwood Valley, Pa., and representatives of the food administration at the Finance Building.

No definite plan was decided upon. J. B. Haines, representing the farmers, said that the farmers could double production if some plan were adopted by which they could get the food into the city. He said that large quantities of vegetables and fruit were going to waste for lack of labor.

The curb market will be open on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Twenty loads of foodstuffs have been definitely promised for this first market, and it is probable that there will be considerably more. The customers will be supplied with baskets at cost.

The idea, a novelty here, has long been in effect in Portland, Ore.; Seattle and other western cities.

PRISON FOR JAIL DELIVERY

Six Philadelphians Sentenced by Gloucester Judge

Six Philadelphians, who attempted a jail delivery at Woodbury on July 10 were sentenced to imprisonment this afternoon by Judge Davis, of the Gloucester County Court.

Callahan, Weiler, Sommers and Kelly were sent to the New Jersey Reformatory while Boyne and Kerns were sent to the State's prison at Trenton for two years.

Ellis Gimbel, Jr., a lieutenant at Camp Taylor, Kentucky, officers training camp. Lieutenant Gimbel, enlisted before his twenty-first birthday while he was still a student at Yale. WOMAN WHO KILLED CHILDREN IS INSANE

Mrs. Gertrude Powell, Found in Cornfield, to Be Sent to Asylum

Mrs. Gertrude Powell, who yesterday killed three of her four sons, at her home near Pittman, N. J., was today declared insane by County Physician H. H. Clark and two other doctors who examined her.

As soon as the necessary commitment papers can be made out the women will be taken to the State Insane Asylum at Trenton.

Mrs. Powell was arrested late yesterday afternoon, several hours after the crime had been committed. Deputy Sheriff Frank Frederick and a posse of farmers located her in a cornfield near her home.

She was dazed and recognized no one. She was so weak that instead of removing her to the county jail she was taken home, where she spent the night under guard. Coroner Elwood Downs, when he saw the woman's condition, stated an inquest would be unnecessary.

Mrs. Powell crowned her twin sons, Samuel and Augustus, four months old, in a vat of water behind the house. Her other son, A. Stewart Powell, two years old, was taken by the crazed woman into a nearby field and shot in the left side with a shotgun.

OLD FIRST'S LEADER KILLED

W. W. Fetzer Commanded Philadelphians at Camp Hancock

Lieutenant Colonel William Wallace Fetzer, of Milton, Pa., the first soldier of that rank in the old National Guard of Pennsylvania to be killed in action overseas, was, for a time, in command of the First Regiment, of this city, when it was under training at Camp Hancock, Pa. His name appears in today's casualty list among those of the Twenty-eighth Division.

Colonel Fetzer was transferred to the engineers when the old First Pennsylvania Cavalry was broken up and its men scattered in the various Federal units. Colonel Fetzer was a member of the First Cavalry for several years, and commanded the second Squadron and major when the regiment went to the Mexican border two years ago.

At Camp Hancock many of the officers were honorably discharged for physical reasons, and Major Fetzer was promoted to be second in command of the First Regiment, now part of the 103rd Infantry. Lieutenant Colonel Fetzer was at the head of his men in the 103rd that he was killed.
