PHILADELPHIA'S "BAKERETTE," Miss Lena Ford, serving a West Philadelphia section with bread

THE GERMANTOWN CRICKET CLUB'S MILITARY ORGANIZATION in final drill. This organization has been well drilled in the military manual by army instructors and will pass out of its military existence next Saturday

NOT "SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE," razed by the fire of the enemy's heavy artillery, but Philadelphia's own City Hall courtyard during the Broad street subway construction

BRINGING IN a hand-picked Christmas tree or two—a sign of the times along a Jersey road

THE SKYLINE OF BREWERYTOWN with its long, lean smokeless stacks. The neighborhood of Thirtieth and Thompson streets, the home of Philadelphia's brewing industry, wears a deserted aspect with the closing of the breweries on December 1
