

ONE DEAD, 7 INJURED IN MOTOR ACCIDENT

Man Killed as Cycle Hits Carriage—Mr. and Mrs. James F. Lucas Hurt

One man is dead today and six other persons are suffering from injuries received in motor accidents.

The dead man is: G. H. Bunting, thirty-two years old, of West Collingswood, N. J.

The injured are: James F. Lucas, 2018 Wallace street, Mrs. James F. Lucas, 2018 Wallace street.

Miss McFillen, Earl W. Batten, Audubon, N. J., Elmer Dayton, ten years old, of 3405 North Eleventh street.

Mrs. Hannah Beck, sixty-three years old, of 2447 North Lawrence street.

A motorcycle ridden by G. H. Bunting and Earl W. Batten, collided with a carriage on the White Horse pike at Oaklyn, last night.

Bunting was thrown from the machine and was so severely injured that he died on the way to the Cooper Hospital, Camden.

Batten is in the hospital with a fractured skull. Physicians say his condition is critical.

The occupants of the carriage, which was wrecked, escaped injury.

The automobile of James F. Lucas, of the paint firm of John Lucas & Co., was overturned a half mile from the Buena Vista hotel, near Vineland, yesterday afternoon.

and the three occupants were stunned and out. The wife of Mr. Lucas, and another woman, said to be a Miss McFillen, were in the machine.

All were caught under the car, which fell into a ditch. Miss McFillen was the most seriously hurt.

After treatment by a physician they were able to proceed to Cape May.

An automobile struck Mrs. Hannah Beck yesterday afternoon as she was crossing Germantown avenue and Dauphin street.

She was taken to the Episcopal Hospital suffering from cuts and bruises.

The car was driven by George Oberholzer, Ontario street near Kensington avenue.

Elmer Drayton was run down last night at Germantown and Allegheny avenues by an automobile driven by Aaron O. Wagner, of 630 Hermitage street, Roxborough.

The boy was taken to the Samaritan Hospital suffering from internal injuries.

Wagner was arrested and will have a hearing today.

SHADLESS DELAWARE LOOMS TO FISHERMEN

Government Must Restock the Stream With Young Fish, Assert Rivermen

Shad fishermen along the Delaware fear that unless the government takes some action toward restocking the river with young fish, the shad will disappear entirely from the waters.

They assert further that the sewage and pollution of the river is driving the shad from their old haunts into clearer waters.

They point out that not enough fish have been caught this year between Philadelphia and the Breakwater to provide sufficient spawn to keep the hatchery at Torresdale busy, and say spawn will have to be obtained from southern waters.

Fishermen are powerless to supply the increased demand for shad, which is now up to $3 per plate at Jersey planked shad dinner hotels.

Fishermen operating nets at Camden, Gloucester, Billingsport and other nearby places said today that the run of shad this season is the poorest they have ever known.

At Bayside, Penseville and New Castle fair catches have been made, but not enough to meet expenses or to supply demand.

The fish are bringing high prices and no run shad can be obtained under $2 or $2.50.

John McLaughlin, of Gloucester, said today he has not caught a shad this week.

SEES LABOR SCARCE WITHIN NINE MONTHS

Curtis Employment Manager Blames Influenza Epidemic and Immigration Restrictions

That a serious labor shortage will probably strike this country within the next nine months or a year was the prediction made by Earl R. Morgan, manager of the employment department of the Curtis Publishing Company, at the banquet of the Philadelphia Club of the Printing House Craftsmen in the blue room of the Bingham last night.

The predicted shortage, according to Mr. Morgan, will be due to our losses in the war, the deaths caused by influenza and the loss of 2,000,000 immigrants who formerly came to our shores each year.

Modern methods and common sense in the relations between employers and employed were discussed by Mr. Morgan last night.

He sketched the development of business organization from the time of the one-man concern to the modern corporation with its numerous specialized departments, including the bureau of employment.

"Hiring and firing has been the cause of a great deal of expense to business concerns. The mere machinery of putting a man's name on the payroll and taking it off costs the average concern about $6," he said.

"Employers expect executives under them to appreciate the value of men, to have some knowledge of costs, to be willing to accept suggestions, to be loyal, to be able to organize their department so as to run without them, and to train men in self-expression.

Executives expect of their employers, continued Mr. Morgan, "that they be open-minded, that they consult them in things affecting their departments and that they equip their plants with the best machinery and hire the best men available."

Taft Speaks: $14,000,000 Subscribed New York, May 9.—Before midnight last night $14,000,000 in subscriptions had been taken at a Victory Loan mass-meeting at the Metropolitan Opera House, at which William Howard Taft was the principal speaker.

WEATHER Rain

Good Saturday News From Wanamaker's Down Stairs Store

May Hats Are as Varied as May Weather

There are dark little sailors of navy blue taffeta or hats with upturned brims embroidered with wool or straw braid. Then the sun breaks through with a glow of color in the form of Georgette hats and hats of hemp in pink, rose, orchid, French blue, lemon, orange and green. Real sun hats are the broad-brimmed, floppy hats of rice puff straw in gay shades of emerald green, poppy red and henna wreathed with field flowers.

All of these hats are as fresh as sunlight and their prices range from $3.75 to $8 (Market)

Silk Moire Handbags, $3 are in a half dozen styles and you will search far to find better bags at this price. They are generous, pretty shapes and the linings are good. They have little purses and mirrors inside; the frames are silk or metal and there is a large tassel dangling from below. In navy, black and taupe. (Central)

Charmeuse—A Delight to the Touch Every thread silk and in the loveliest shades of sapphire, Copenhagen, brown and taupe and in black, charming for trousseaux. It is 56 inches wide and $2.10 a yard. (Central)

Little Girls' Princess Slips Frilly little underthings of white nainsook are trimmed about the tops with lace or embroidery and the skirts are edged with gay little ruffles—some in frivolous scallops. They are sizes 4 to 16 years, and range in price from $1.25 to $2.50. (Central)

652 Spring Capes and Dolmans Reduced A clearing away of all the little lots that a busy Spring has left in our stock. Sizes are incomplete, but in such a big collection no one should have trouble getting a smart wrap to fit and getting it at a big saving.

At $10.75 Serge and poplin capes in navy blue and bright colors. One model which comes in both materials is sketched. The throw tie ends in a tassel and the cape is yoke lined with silk.

At $12.50 Capes and dolmans of serge, poplin, velour and burella. Some show contrasting vests and pipings, others are trimmed with braid and lined throughout with silk.

At $14 and $15 These are quite remarkable values that include capes and dolmans, mostly of serge and many lined throughout with silk. The model sketched at $15 is in navy or tan serge; the jacket front is lined with peau de cygne and the throw tie is faced with bright silk.

At $19.50 A poplin cape from this group is sketched. It is in tan, Pekin or rose and has a shawl collar of contrasting color. At this same price are other capes lined with silk and topped with hood collars of satin or tricolette, and dolmans of tricolette, half-lined with silk.

At $23.50 Here are fine serge capes with tricolette coat fronts and silk linings and dolmans of silvertone, jersey capes, too, for sports wear.

At $25 to $38.50 This is a wonderfully interesting collection of delightful wraps. They are of serges, silvertone, bolivia, evora, silvertip and such soft materials, beautifully lined with silk. Other beautiful wraps at $45 to $125, all very much reduced in price. (Market)

Summery Frocks by the Hundred Arrive for Maytime Gaiety and Confirmation Organdie dresses in all white are made with broad tucks and pleated frills for trimming and have sashes that tie in big bows in the back. $10. Frocks of white net are made in several ways, one has an Alsace bodice and an embroidered net skirt. Others have various sorts of overskirts and are trimmed with imitation flit lace. $15 and $16.50. Dresses of Georgette crepe trimmed only with broad tucks or with beads are $23.50 and $25. White crepe de chine dresses are embroidered about the bodice with heavy silk thread and small white beads. $23.50. (The last two are also in flesh pink.)

Dresses of Colored Georgette Crepe These start with figured Georgette dresses made in five different ways. Nearly all of these are in dark blue-and-white combined with navy blue taffeta. $16.50. Also in this group are plain flesh-colored Georgette trimmed with hemstitching or broad folds and embroidered Georgettes in apricot, rose and blue. At $17.50 there are two models. One is pleated from neck to hem and softly belted. The other is made with an overskirt and both bodice and skirt are tucked. In navy, black, Copenhagen and beige, over silk foundations.

In tea rose or flesh there are simple, youthful Georgette dresses at $23.50. Beaded Georgettes in a number of models, one embroidered in heavy silk, another trimmed with pleated frills, are made over silk. In gray, white, flesh, tea rose, deft blue, $25. At $32.50 a collection of very lovely Georgette dresses; some are quite simply made with flowing sleeves and broad folds. Others are handsomely embroidered with large and small white beads. The third model has a printed border on the overskirt and bodice which is outlined with small white beads. There is a saving of $10 to $20 on these dresses.

Dresses of Voile and Organdie At $10 are some very pretty organdies in rose, pink, orchid, French blue and white. These are made with a fichu which is edged with two rows of lace to match the square pockets. A deep hem makes the skirt almost double. Voile Dresses at $10 are in navy, Copenhagen and black-and-white combinations with rings, dots and scrolls. The roll collar, bodice and overskirt are trimmed with taffeta. At $13.50 there are several unusual models in voile. One has an overskirt with inset bands of Georgette crepe trimming which is repeated on the sleeves. These are in rose, navy and black. Another dress has a narrow pinked ruffle of taffeta on the overskirt, bodice and sleeves. Two more models at this price show overskirts heavily embroidered in white. Many other beautiful Summer frocks at $5.75, $7.50, $8.50, $10, $12 and upwards. (Market)

Never Has There Been Such a Season for Pink Silk Envelope Chemises In crepe de chine or in shimmering satin they are equally lovely—and a real economy, as the silk wears so well. The tops are charmingly adorned with bands of creamy lace and blue ribbon, with tucked yokes of satin or Georgette crepe or simply with hemstitching. Between $2 and $3.85 there is a wide variety. Pink or White Nightgowns at $1 Dollar nightgowns have been very rare for the last year, but they are coming back. Here are pink ones stitched with blue and white ones trimmed with colored stitching or cut with points on the shoulders and adorned with lace and organdie medallions. A New Satin Camisole is of the slip-over type with two rows of elastic around the top. The shoulder-arms are of blue ribbon, and the price is $1.25. Pink Bloomers, 50c Excellent bloomers of soft pink batiste, well re-enforced and finished with ruffles at the knees. (Central)
